Alexander Killian's trial before Judge

D. W. Borton, a hardware dealer, who identified Killian as the man who had purchased 32-caliber cartridges from him. William Dunlap identified the satchel as one he had seen in the defendant's boathouse. Captain E. Y. Breek identified a paper submitted as the confession of Killian, and it was read to the jury. In substance it said:

About two weeks before the murder the prisoner saw Peter Griffin and another man across the river from his boat, and as they were beckoning for him he went over to them. He at first thought they were Belgium glassblowers, but soon recognized Griffin as a man be had seen in the penitentiary. Griffin said he had escaped by playing craxy and being sent to Dixmont. Killian took them to his boat and afterward loaned them his skiff. They returned next morning for breakfast and then went away. About two weeks later Griffin returned and went to John Thomas' house and asked for "Frank Clark." Killian took Griffin house, and about dark the two mon and the prisoner's wife went to Thomas'shouse, where they left the woman. They took the skiff to bring two men from the other side of the river. One was a negro Griffin called "New York Shine," and the other was a German, but bis name was not mentoned. The latter, he said, had been shot in the said left the tools in the Bear Creek Refining Oil Company are three or four bits in the sand. Killiau leaned the men his skiff and has never seen it since, but about 11 o'clock that night Griffin returned to the boat. He had left the negro and the German at the rallroad, and Killian went up to see them. Griffin rattled some jeweiry in his pocket and gave Killian a watch and braielet for the use of the skiff. These Killian buried in the hilliside, and about it minutes later was arrested. After Griffin gave Killian the jewelry the three men started toward Pittsburg. When Killian was arrested he says he knew it was all up with him on a necount of his previous had reputation, although he knew nothing of the murder.

Continuing the trial, Jacob King was put on the stood, and testified that he was present when Killian was arrested. Mrs. Magge Inman, testified that she had been at Rudert's since on the night of the shooting, and she saw two white men standing outside. She identified a pecture of Griffin as one of the men, but wasn't sure as to whether the other was Killian. H. Grant Miller, the Coroner's clerk, testified that Killian had said to him that he was innocent of the charge. Constable Finney was called, and identified a suit of clothes which was offered in evidence. James Adams, a private watchman, or Tarentum, testifica to having locked Killian hy, and to the latter having secured a charge of clothing from his wife. Detective Gilkinson identified the watch and bracelet as ones be had dug up at Tarentum. James Smith was the last witness heard. He testified that he saw Killian and two other men pass his place on the morning of the marder carrying two kegs of beer. He identified Griffin's pic are as one of the men. Killian leaned the men his skiff and has

Youthful Prisoners Who Had Been Initiated

Into the Mysteries. "Seven up" in the prisoners' box was one of the novelties presented in the criminal Court yesterday. In Judge White's branch of the court four boys were omong the prisoners in the box awaiting trial. They were rid Christ, Albert Harvey, John Harvey and Guy Allen Albert Harvey, John Harvey and Guy Allen. They ranged in age from 7 to 10 years. W. B. Dickson had charged them with the larceny of three gold rings, a chain and a purse from his house. Their youthful and innocent looks attracted some attention for awhile, but finally when the observation had ceased one of the youngsters produced a greasy pack of cards and they were soon busy turning jucks. The game proceeded for some time, but finally the toe eagle eye of the Deputy Sheriff caught them and the cards were confiscated.

Judge White was attracted by the appearance of the youngsters, and he called them up to the bench. A few kind questions and they had old him all about their taking the articles.

THE WILDWOOD WELLS. PRODUCTION CONSIDERABLY DECREASED IN THE LAST FEW DAYS.

rogress of Work on the Ringheiser Venture-Important Wells Due at Coraopolis-Notes of Operations in Various

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCELL WILDWOOD, October 15.-At last the necessary fishing tool has been obtained wherewith to clear the important and much talked of Ringheiser well. It is said tonight that everything is in readiness to take COURT CULLINGS IN PARAGRAPHS hold of the tools in the morning, and it is not expected that much trouble will be encountered in getting them out. The Marshall Oil Company and Harley well reached Magee for the murder of Mrs. Rudert was continued yesterday, the first witness being D. W. Borton, a hardware dealer, who identified Killian as the man who had purchased Creek Refining Oil Company are three or four is producing 15 barrels a day. Barnsdall & Co. switched off the rope this morning in Zeigenheim No. & and left the tools in the 30-toot. The Forest Oil Company and Griffith's No. 2, Whitesell, its making 240 barrels a day, while No. 3, Whitesell, has made 1,000 barrels in the last 24 nours. Barney Forst and Greenle have put the last string of casing in No. 12, Rolshouse, and by the last of the week or the first of next will most likely tap the sand. Tinker & Kiskaden, on the Bryant lot, put in their last string of casing to-day. The well is due in eight or ten days.

Important Wells Due.

CHARTIERS-Four Important wells on the south and east lines of the field are due to-morrow or next day, and by the last of the week there will be two more due, which are inside wells and of no particular importance. The production here is slightly on the increase, and the daily production is now about 2,000 barrels. The Combination Oil Company struck oil Saturday morning on the Schlushlein farm, and the well was finished to-day. It is making 100 barrels a day at present. Fisher & Laninger, on the Crawford, got the sand Saturday, and on Monday found first pay. The well the first 21 hours made in the neighborhood of 80 or 90 barrels; it will make a 50-barrel pumper. The Huffnagle, on the Huffnagle, is making between 50 and 60 barrels. Fisher No. 2, on the Crawford, is down 1,100 feet, and the Young well, on the Taggart, is through the 100-foot. Fred Laninger, on the Caughey, is down 1,500 feet, and may get the sand by Saturday. Bryan & Zinkham, on the Bryan, are drilling at 1,400 feet in No. 3, while Humphrey, on a town lot, has a fishing job at 1,500 feet. The Fisher Oil Company, on the Dickson No. 3 are through the 100-foot and expect the sand to-morrow or next day. Their No. 1, on the Painter, is down 1,100 feet. No. 2, Painter, caught fire from the gas in the Squaw sand yesterday and burned the rig to the ground. Mower & Co., on the Johnson, are drilling at 1,300 feet. Snyder & Co., on the Hartman, found the bottom of the 100-foot, but they may get the sand by Saturday. Leeman & Co., on the Kreiswell, on the Guthrie farm should come in shortly after. Kennedy, on the Laninger, 500 feet mortheast from the McKee well, will, with groud luck, tap the sand to-morrow night. The Fisher Oil Company resumed drilling to-night on the Spence well, and Robison & Co., Fisher & Co. and Zinkham & Co. are each starting wells in close proximity to the Steinmiller well. Robison & Co. are building a rig on the Mower farm, located on the advance south and east lines of the field are due to-mor row or next day, and by the last of the week risner & Co. and Zinkham & Co. are each starting wells in close proximity to the Stein-miller well. Robison & Co. are building a rig on the Mower farm, located on the advance line toward Jack's Run, and the Fisher Oil Company are doing likewise on the same farm; these wells are a half mile northeast of the Steinmiller.

Brief Notes From Various Fields.

BELMONT, W. VA.-The Brown well No. 2, on the Ohio side of the river, which came in last week, is doing 35 barrels a day from the Eureka sand. Ackerley & Sammels, on the Hendershot farm, will find the sand the first of next week, and the Forsha well, on Daney run, Cases to Come Up for Trial in the County

W. D. PORTER,

WOMAN'S INTUITION

Nearly Always Right in Her Judgment Regard to Common Things. An old gentleman over seventy, came into the city from his farm without his overcoat The day turned chilly and he was obliged to forego his visit to the fair.

To a friend who remonstrated with him for going away from home thus unprepared he said: "I thought it was going to be warm; my wife told me to take my overcoat, but I wonldn't. Women have more sense than men anyway.

A frank admission. Women's good sense is said to come from intuition; may it not be that they are more close observers of little things. One thing is certain, they are apt to strike the nail on the head in all the ordinary problems of life more fre-quently than the lords of creation.

"According to Dr. Alice Bennett, who recently read a paper on Bright's disease before the Pennsylvania State Medical Society, per-sons subject to bilious attacks and sick headaches, who have crawling sensations, like the flowing of water in the head, who are tired all the time' and have unexplained attacks of sudden weakness, may well be suspected of dangerous tendencies in the direction of

The veteran newspaper correspondent, Joseph Howard, of the New York Press, in noting this statement, suggests: "Possibly Alice is correct in her diagnosis, but why doesn't she give some idea of treatment? I know a man who has been 'tired all the time' for ten years. Night before last he took two doses of calomel and yesterday he wished he hadn't." A proper answer is found in the following letter of Mrs. Davis, wife of Rev. Wm. J. Davis, of Basil, O., June 21st, 1890: "I do not besitate to say that I owe my life to Warner's Sate Cure. I had a constant hemor-rhage from my kidneys for more than five months. The physicians could do nothing for me. My husband spent hundreds of dollars and I was not relieved. I was under the care of the most eminent medical men in the State. The hemorrhage ceased before I had taken one bottle of the Safe Cure. I can safely and do cheerfully recommend it to all who are suf-ferers of kidney troubles."

KAUFMANNS'

GREAT ANNUAL BARGAIN SALE OF

Before going into details, we want to impress on every lady this most important fact:

WE GUARANTEE ALL OUR PLUSH GARMENTS TO BE BLOCKED, LIKE SEALS, AND TO KEEP THEIR SHAPE. Furthermore, it should be remembered. every Plush Garment, before it can be placed in our stock, must pass a most rigid examination. If there are any defects in it, they'll not escape the critical eye of the examining expert, and back to the manufacturer goes the imperfect garment. By this means we manage to gather and offer to our patrons none but thoroughly dependable garments. Now, as to prices, we'll just say this:

Much sense, but infinitely more nonsense, has been printed lately by Pittsburg and Allegheny drygoods houses. When they say that, owing to the McKinley Tariff Bill, you must pay 25 per cent more for Plush Garments than last season, they may tell the truth as far as their patrons are concerned, but grossly misrepresent matters when it comes to our customers. Having anticipated the passage of the new tariff legislation, we bought a tremendous stock of Plushes many months ago, and are now prepared to supply our customers with these garments FOR LESS MONEY than the sleepy drygoods dealers had to pay themselves later on. So, during this entire season, at least, you will find the same old, low prices at our store.
