Post Office at Pittsburgh, Pa., established July 16, 1879. Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Act of October 3, 1879, authorized on July 16, 1879, and approved July 16, 1879. Diamond Street. News Rooms and Publishing Office—75, 77 and 79 Diamond Street.

spring last year the wholesale ice men affected by a terribly fearful shortage in the ice supply. To calm their souls they put up the prices of the cold commodity, and talked of organizing expeditions to the North Pole and other cool localities to replenish the stores. In some places people had to pay fabulous prices for the ice, and the dealers shed tears because they had to charge so much. Not so many tears were shed and prices were not so high where the manufacturer was a competitor.

improvement, the farmers, to-wit, know by much more cogent evidence than pictures can furnish. They have learned the badness of the roads by actual experience. What this class needs is demonstrations of the gain to be secured from good roads and evidence that this boon can be obtained without too great an increase of the burdens of taxation. In that line of effort the Wheelmen's League might do very valuable work in furnishing actual illustrations of success, showing the existing highway, such as demonstrating the actual economy of power to be attained by them, might furnish to the farmers convincing evidence of the gain that can be gotten from improved roads.

going to be elected. Judge Gilkeson seems to have a clear idea of what he is there for, but he omits to reply to the assertion of the Republican paper of that county, that "intelligent citizens of this county, who are Republicans cannot endorse, and are true to Republican principles, a man with such a record as Delamater's."

SNAP SHOTS IN SEASON. Don't place tin wreaths on the graves. They keep the green grass from growing.

ALL SORTS OF PLAYS. Roland Reed as A Woman Hater—Kiralfy's Around the World—Inshavogue—Whalton & Martelle's Variety—The Flying Machine and the Chinese Dwarf.

RECIPROcity AND RETALIATION. The policy of reciprocal concessions in the tariff toward different countries with which we desire to increase our trade has already produced decided results.

As "Authority on Etiquette" is quoted as declaring that a peach should be picked with the fork, quartered and eaten piece meal. This may do for this year. The old-fashioned way of eating peaches is to eat them with the proper care in years when there are peaches to eat; but this year when there are none, etiquette can make the process of eating them as long and painful as it chooses.

CAMPAIGN FLAPDOODLE. The very severe straits to which the Republican managers in this State are reduced for political arguments have been remarkably illustrated in their recent attempts to manufacture campaign ammunition.

IDENTICAL INTERESTS. The same arguments which commend Major McKinley to the Republicans of Pennsylvania and Ohio should insure for him a large vote from the Democrats of his district, no matter how violently the professional statesmen of the Ohio Democracy oppose him.

ALASKA'S LOFTY IMPOSTOR. A serious charge has been made against Mt. St. Elias, in Alaska. For some time ugly rumors have been current about the Alaskan mountain's lofty claims, but now the official figures of the United States Geological Survey's explorers prove beyond doubt that instead of being anywhere from 10,000 feet to 19,000 feet high, and therefore the real height is no more than 13,500 feet.
