Pete McCartney, the Counterfeiter, Passes Away in Prison.

HE FOOLED TREASURY OFFICIALS.

Dr. Ewing's Case Coming Up Before the Pittsburg Synod To-Day.

RECORD OF EVENTS IN THREE STATES

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. COLUMBUS, October 21,-Pete McCartney, the most famous counterfeiter this country has ever known, died at the penitentiary hospital this morning of consumption, in the sixtieth year of his age. He has been a criminal from boyhood, and his name has been a byword in the Secret Service Department of the United States Government for years. It was his rule not to establish any other than temporary headquarters, and he is therefore known in almost every State east of the Rocky Mountains. His last offense was committed in 1888, at New Orleans, where he was caught passing counterfeit fractional cur-rency, such as was in circulation during the war, and sentenced to the Ohio Peultentiary for

Pete once said: "I have not been such a bad man. My worst offense has been to make a lot man. My worst offense has been to make a lot of counterfeit money." When asked what he had done that was especially good, he said: "I saveil two trains from being wrecked by scoundrels. One was the Illinois Central Railroad, near Oiney, liks. I was walking out home early one morning when I saw three men run from the track. When I reached the place I found they had spread the rails, and I walked back, gave the alarm, and thereby saved several lives. The railroad company gave me a pass on the road as long as I lived there."

McCartney was an educated man, and made a study of the principles of engraving and the application of his knowledge toward criminal ends. He was a fine dentist, a skilled chemist application of his knowledge toward criminal ends. He was a fine dentist, a skilled chemist and expert, manufacturer of engravers and dentists' tools, and possessed of a knowledge of making the paper used by the Government for bonds ar money purposes that made him the most dangerous man that ever handled an engraver's tools. His early work was on "wildeat" money before the war, and he gooded the country with his paper. When the State banks were supplanted McCartney turned his attention to the manufacture of State bands but his most successful work was on Government bonds. He made a $1,000 United States bond so perfect that it was redeemed at the Treasury, and the holder of the genuine was later arrested and charged with counterfeiting.

McCartney was never a bad fellow to his acquantances, and he always boasted that be never gave a "nal" away. He has a married daugnter residing in Columbus, who has de-voted her life to securing a pardon for her father.

An Officer and His Prisoner Mortally

"SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR! ERIE, October 21 .- Officer John Doran, of Ashtabula, lies dying to-night, pierced by three bullets received in a desperate battle with burglars last night. Doran had observed three suspicious looking strangers on the streets early in the evening, and as night advanced he caught them in the act of robbing a store. Being suddenly confronted by Doran, they opened fire upon him.

Taking aim Doran brought down the first burglar, and in turn he was shot through the grein. Before he fell he was shot through twice more, and then fell. ### NO FAMINE IN IRELAND.

A Dublin Man Says Only the Potato Crop

Has Partly Failed. William MacKenzie, a Dublin iron man, is at the Duquesne. He is a friend of Henry Hart-man, of Beaver Falls, and spent yesterday with him. Mr. MacKenzie owns lands in the Northwest in this country, but he is not a land owner in Ireland. He says he left Ireland about three weeks ago. Speaking of the crops, he said:
"There is no prospect of a famine in my country. The potato crop in places has failed. I suppose it will be a half crop, taking the aversuppose it will be a half crop, taking the average, but the grain and green products haven't been better for years. Indeed, the crops in Ireland this season are ahead of the English and Scotch. Ireland is also a great country for cattle that are raised for the English markets, and the small farmers have been getting good prices for them. In those places where the land is poor, badly cultivated, and the potato seed is not changed, there may be faiture and some consequent pluching, but nobody will want for food. I think the Irish ought to be satisfied.

"Your tariff bill, by the way, will not hurt us. We will still buy your grain, corn and raw materials, but we can't pay cash for them. If you refuse to take our products in exchange, it will soon draw all the gold from Europe, and the banks of England, Germany and France will put up the rates of interest. We will be forced to put our stocks on your market, and the result will be that the stock market wfil be disturbed."

RELICS OF LOCAL BOOK PRINTING

Being Collected by Librarian Stevenson, of the Carnegie Institution. Librarian Stevenson, of Allegheny, is a very busy man just at present. The 1,000 books received must all be catalogued and their places assigned, and he will hardly get this lot out of the way before another shipment, now en route, will claim his attention. Some of the visits of will claim his attention. Some of the visits of Eastern people and other non-residents of the city have been very fruitful for the library. A number of rare old volumes have been presented to the library.

Librarian Stevenson is particularly interested in collecting books relating to Pittsburg in past times, and obtaining specimens of the early book printing business in this city. Yesterday he received "Sketches of a Tour to the Western Country Through Ohio and Kentucky in 1807 and 1809," by F. Cuming. It was printed in Pittsburg in 1810, and was among the first fruits of the are in this city. Its description of the "town" of Pittsburg at that time is interessing, but not very flattering. Another book, "The Anti-Slavery Almanac for 1837," presented by Mrs. William P. Wayman, of New York, is much prized. It was printed at Pittsburg, and has appended the Franklin Almanac of 1835.

RAILROADS MAKING MONEY.

An Indication That Business is Good, and the Country is Prospering.

The Pittsburg committee of freight agents held a short meeting at the Lake Shore office yesterday. A few corrections in class-fications were made, but the changes were not important. The agents report that the business is very heavy and for report that the business is very heavy and for once the railroads are getting good rates. The roads are making money, and this is taken as a sure sign that the country is prosporing. An agent remarked that there are times when the roads by reason of depression in trade and not from competition are compelled to lower rates, but the people suffer in the end, when railroad managers are satisfied with their profits they are heavy buyers of materials, and a good part of the money earned finds its way back into the trade channels.

ALLEGHENY'S GAS SUPPL'I.

A Scarcity in Some Sections Said to be Due to Local Causes.

The residents of upper Allegheny were very disagreeably surprised when they arose yesterday morning to find their gas fires would not burn enough to take the chill off the room, and having no coal on hand, they were in rather a sad plight. Yesterday afternoon a visit was paid to the office of the Allepheny Heating Company. The secretary said that he was not aware that anyone had been inconvenienced, and that, if there was scarcity in that section, it must be from local causes, as there was pienty of gas. A gas company must regulate its pressure according to the weather, and often when a cold spell comes suddenly more gas is used than was anticipated.

They Paid the Penalty.

NEW CARS FOR THE B. & O.

ncreasing His Hold on the Sleeping Car Business.

Pullman has had a "dead emoh" on the sleeping car business for some time. Having absorbed the Baltimore and Ohio, the Woodruff and the Mann-Boudoir companies, there only remains the Wagner, whose main hold is on the New York Central. The recent decision of the United States Supreme Court denying the Wagner company the right to use the vestibule is taken by railroad men as the death knell of that concern, and its ultimate absorption by the Pullman company. It is conceded that the vestibule as a safeguard against danger is one of the chief recommendations these days of sleeping cars, and it is claimed by Pullman men that as soon as the New York Central realises this fact in its full force the Wagner car will be discarded. A deal between the New York Central and Pullman Companies is looked for in the near future. The Pullman people are building a lot of new cars, each 64 feet long, to run on the B. & O. road. The regular car is 70 feet long, but the new cars will be specially adapted for the B. & O. tunnels. There are 182 cars in use on the B. & O. system, and these will all be replaced. ing Car Business.

The Swallow-tail still remains the only style of garment tolerated by fashion for Evening Dress Wear.

FOR BALLS, THE OPERA. EVENING, WEDDINGS, etc. IT IS THE ONLY CORRECT

ATTIRÉ.

And it is now in the power of every gentleman to have a garment of this style in his wardrobe. Time was, and not so long ago, either, when it was necessary to go to a tailor, leave your measure and presently find yourself presented with a neat little bill never under $50, and generally running up to $75. This has always been a garment where the tailor got in his fine work-in price.

We want you to know that this is all unnecessary at the present time. We carry an immense line of these garments of every size and shape, and we'll guarantee to fit any man, not actually deformed, perfectly. We sell these garments separately, coat, vest or pants. As to prices, we'll sell you an Imported Broadcloth Coat and Vest for $15, and at this price can fit you as perfectly as in the more expensive grades, of which we have a liberal supply. Style doesn't cost here, quality and actual value is all we charge for. Any trifling alteration that may be necessary, our competent tailor makes without extra charge.
