DABBLED TOO MUCH IN GREEN GOODS

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) INDIANA, Pa., October 23 .- One hundred and six of the delegates to the first annual meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Alliance of Pennsylvania were in their seats this morning. The continued rain has had the effect of keeping from the meeting many of the members, among them Mrs. Williams, of Tioga, the wife of the distinguished Supreme Court Justice.

The election of officers took place this atternoon, The former State officers were reelected, namely: President, Mrs. H. C. Campbell, of Allegheny; Vice President at Large, Mrs. Harry White, of Indiana; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Ellen Watson, of Pittsburg; Recording Secretary, Miss M. Shepherd, Mansfield, Tioga county; Treasurer, Mrs. G. M.

Phillips, Westchester, The reports of State Superintendent Mrs. C. R. James, on juvenile and Sabbath work; Mrs. J. D. Weeks, of Pittsburg, on scientific temper ance instruction; Mrs. M. H. McDowell, literature and press work; Mrs. M. M. Hulings, work for soldiers and sailors; Miss S. S. Robinson, work among foreigners; Mrs. W. In. Williams, work among foreigners; Mrs. W. h., Williams, work among foreigners; Mrs. W. h., Williams, temperance parlor socials, were read and commended. Reports of other superintendents will be presented to-morrow.

Two young men from New Castle, representatives of the Temperance Enights, spoke from the platform this afternoon. They were bright and pleasing lads, and said that in addition to taking the total abstinence pledge, their order required them to pledge themselves not to use tobacco, or use profane or obsecce language. As their statements were concluded, Mrs. Ellen Watson came forward, and placing her hands on the shoulders of the manly young fellows, asked God to strengthen them in their resolves. The incident was dramatic, and the sobs of mothers were heard in every part of the room, and the boys themselves were melted to tears. Resolutions of sympathy were pasted regreting the sore illness of Mrs. Harry White, which has prevented her from appearing at the convention. Greetings of a fraternal character were sent to the U. P. Symod in session at Greensburg, and to the members of the State Law and Order Society, which convenes in Putsburg next mouth The Secretary was instructed to send greetings to Mrs. Ellen Swift, now traveling in Europe for her health.

Article 8 of the constitution provides that the State convention shall be composed of one delegate from each local alliance, with one additional delegate for each 50 paying members thereof. The officers of the State Alliance and superintendents of the State departments shall be wembers ex-office. Mrs. Williams will nove to amend this article by dropping the additional delegate for each 50 members Another, to create a department for special labor among the colored people, was defeated.

Another, to create a department for special labor among the colored people, was defeated. Mrs. Ellis, of Philadelphia, stated that the colored people were opposed to any distinctive work of that amd. She gave her own experience in this field, and cited the fact that only a ence in this field, and cited the fact that only a short time are an intelligent colored minister told her that his people wanted to be recognized equally with white people; that a drunken negro was no worse than a drunken white many both were on a par, and drunkenness, no matter what was the character or color of the unfortunate, was the disease and evil to be remeiled by the Alliance. The new department was not adopted.

The United Presbyterian Synod Decided

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. GREENBURG, October 22,-At the United Presbyterian Synod to-day the election of directors for the Allegheny Theological Sem-inary resulted in Dr. D. N. Carson, Rev. James Given and Hon. James D. Gill beinglehosen. A mittee reported in favor of memorializing the General Assembly to ask the directors of the Columbian Exposition to close their gates on Sunday. The Synod united with the Presbyterian Presbytery of Carlisla in opposing the byterian Presbytery of Carlisia in opposing the holding of camp meetings on Sabbath. This closed the work of the session, and the Synod adjourned to meet in Pittsburg next year.

The decision in the case of Rev. Dr. Ewing last night was that, according to the United Presbyterian Confession of Faith, the clergyman's marriage to his deceased wife's sister was not allowed. Dr. Reed, Dr. Ewing and the other ministers defendant gave notice of appeal to the Assembly, previous to which, however, Revs. Boyd and McCrory made strong addresses in justification of Dr. Ewing, insisting that there was not scriptural warrant for the position taken by the other side.

HOW THEIR HANDS ARE TIED. Allegheny's Street Commissioners Look t

Councils for Aid in Their Work. The Allegheny sub-Committee on Highways for the Western district last night decided to move the yard from its present location on Irwin avenue to a plot of ground just opposite. The rental to be paid is $150 per year. It was thought the matter of better streets would come up, but it did not. Commissioner Messe said he could do nothing. The streets occupied by the Manchester street car line are torn up said he could do nothing. The streets occupied by the Mianchester street car line are torn up but are being put in shape agair as fast as possible. A resolution had been presented in Council to pave the streets in question from the tracks to the curbe, but nothing had been heard of it since it was referred to a committee.

The Pleasaut Valley lin; is bound by its old franchise to keep the street used by it in good condition from curb to curb and well paved with cobble stones under direction of the Street Commissioners. Mr. Meese said he had been instructed four months ago to notify the Pleasant Valley people to put the streets, on which tracks are placed, in condition, and repave where necessary, but they have so far done little, if nothing. His instructions were to repave the streets himself, if the company did not do it. This he is unable to do, as it would necessitate an expenditure of something like $25,000 and the funds are not forthcoming. If the county does not pave the streets it remains with Councils to find the money to do it before the Commissioner are warranted in going ahoad with the work.

It is known that there are streets in the Second ward that a wagon can hardly be drawn over, but in a measure. Commissioner Meese's hands are tied and he is doing the best he can and that the same can be said of Mr. Maul, Commissioner of the eastern district. It now remains with the city to look after the street question, which for some time has been lost track of in the whirl of discussion about the new water works and other public improvements.

THE DISPATCH has secured Budyard Kipling's first Serial. The opening chapters will appear Sunday, November 9.
