A Picked Football Team to Tackle the Allegheny Athletic Club To-Morrow.

CHICAGO KICKERS ARE COMING.

Director H. B. Rae, of the P. L., Makes an Important Statement About Baseball Affairs.

PAST TROTTING AT INDEPENDENCE.

Record -General Sporting.

Local football players are getting ready for what promises to be one of the most interesting matches of the season. The contest takes place to-morrow at Exposition Park, and is between the Allegheny Athletic Association eleven and an eleven Pittsburg players; that is, the latter team will be made up of gentlemen selected, residents of Pittsburg. Such a contest cannot fail to be of exceeding interest to lovers of the sport in and about Pittsburg. Every day the fact is becoming more and more apparent that Pittsburg and vicinity is crowded with football players, and it is only by contests such as that of to-morrow that the good ones will be brought to the front. As a result it is not too much to hope that tere long Pittsburg will have a football team that will merit a national

LIVELY PLAYING EXPECTED.

To-morrow's contest will commence at 3:45, and if the weather is fine there is sure to be some lively playing; at any rate it is presumed some lively playing; at any rate it is presumed that the Athletic team will have a tougher lot tackie than has been the case so far this season. The achletic team will be: John and Harry Oliver, J. C. Davitt, J. Hammond, C. Townley, and Messrs. Moorhead, Valentine, Fry. White, Brown, Brainard, and Thompson extra man. The All-Pitt-burg eleven will be: Messrs. Davis, Martin, W. J. Barr, Aul, Stein, Diebert, Vaic. Neil, Proctor, D. Barr, Mack. Secretary Dawsen, of the Athletic Association, expects to arrange a match with the Chiion, expects to arrange a match with the Chi ago team to-day or to-morrow. It is generally es red to have the Chicago kickers here on Thanksgiving Day, because the team is probably the best in the West. It is made up entirely of old Yale and Princeton players, and doubtless an aggregation of that kind would be a great attraction here.

NEW CLUBS ORGANIZING.

Young men employed in the local mills and workshops are beginning to organize teams, and one good team has already been organized at the works of Hussey, Howe & Co. There is a growing desire to have a match or two played under Association rules, and it is likely that the working men aggregations are more in-clined towards the Association rules than toward the Rugby code. Effor a are being made to have a contest under the Association rules, as the Arbietic Association has an eleven that can pla under them. Secre ary Dawsen will likely try and arrange a match under the rules in question during the next few days. Speaking of no-thail yest-row, a well-known

Speaking of so-thail yest-roa, a well-known university player, now in this city, said:

"The article in the papers lately, stating that Yale and Princeton are at ite on championships won is not correct. Yale has won six and Princeton practically only three championships—in '78, '88 a d '89. Princeton, however, claims a champion hip in 1879, owing to the game being a tie. Safey touch-downs did not count that year. Princeton, owing to having an count that year. Director H. B. Rae, of the local P. I. club, returned from New York yesterday, where he had been attending the baseball meetings. Mr. Rae talked freely ab ut the situation yesterday and talked in way worthy the attention of all people directly in ...ted in the trouble. During a long conversati a, Mr. Rae said: "I am for consolidation, and there will be ation. When I arrived in New York found at once that everybod; of importance wanted consulidation; but a few hot-heads on both sides toiled everything. It will come out all right just as soon as these hot-heads have had their kicking spell over. The New York clubs have settled their trouble, and with the clubs have settled their trouble, and with the exception of a kicker or two, the Brooklyn clubs are all right, and we will all be all righ after awhile. The consolidation plan was sprung too soon, but perhaps it is better that we have the little explosions now and get through with them.

Western Amateur Rowers.

Speaking of the amsteur rowers in the South and West, James A. St. John says: "There are several very promising men, and there is a great deal of interest shown in amateur boating around St. Louis. We have the Missonri Row. ing Association, which is composed of six different clubs. I think that there is as much interest shown in rowing in the West as there is in the East. There would be more but for the fact that our taces are held on Sunday, and some people do not approve of that. It is neces-sary, however, on account of the nationality of our population. Our best amateur sculler is Fred Gastrich, who made the fastest time for a Fred Gastrich, who made the fastest time for a mile and a half ever made on the Charles river by either professional or amateur at the last time the national regatta was held there. He will probably enter for next year's national regatta, and I don't see any reason why he should not win the single event. He is as good as anybody. Lavey is building a new boat for him Gastrich and Malcolin won the pair-pared race at the Northwestern and Mississippi Valley Rowing Association regatta. In fact, they have never been beaten in nair-pared racing. There are no others who can compare with them, Grumbling at Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, October 28 .- There has been some grumbling at Harvard lately about the football team, and even Captain Cummock has football team, and even Captain Cummock has come in for his share of blame. The work of the eleven has been anything but satisfactory and has not improved during the last two weeks. The men who have been laid up are all at work again now. The great weakness of the eleven at present is in the center men. In the Williams game on Saturday Shaw. Bi, was the snaptack, and the Williams center rush did about what he pleased with him. Shaw began plaping only three weeks ago. If Cranston were at center he could not be improved upon, but he is badily needed at ruard. Heard, who is at the other guard, and likely to stay there, is slow. There are rumors, however, that Finday, 'Bl, and Trafford will soon have a place on the team, programme. Guy was brought out to beat his record. He failed to make a new mark, however, recording the mile in 2:13%.

The next performance was Allerton, who started to beat his record of 2:15%. He was in prime condition, and after a warming up, he was sent off with a runner. The great Jay Bird coit stopped the watches at 1:07% at the half mile, and the judge hung out 2:14 as his time for the mile, reducing the time made by Alabaster on this track in August by 1½ seconds, and praclaiming himself the king of 4-year-old stallions.

The first of the regular races was the 3-year-old trot for horses eligible to 2:35. There were ten starters, Gameleon selling favorite. Mark Sirius won the first two heats handliy, and then went so badly lame that he could scarcely get to the stable and was drawn. After Sirius was drawn the fight was between Crayon and Gameleon, and was finally won by the latter. Best time 2:23%.

The hird and concluding heat in the 2-year-old trot, carried ever from yesterday, was won by Bamboo in 2:23%.

The 2:30 pace, with seven starters, was one of the most hotly contested of the day, two heats going to the credit of Crescent, one to Joe L and two to Midnight, when darkness interfered and it went over. Best time 2:223%.

Opinion to the Effect That the Basebal War Will be Settled.

NEW YORK, October 28.-It was thought that when the National Baseball League closed its meeting last night that the pro-pects for a settlement of the baseball question looked further off than ever. Chris Von der Ahe was at the Fifth Avenue the city to see how things were going. The Players League, he said, 'might' be in session and 'might' withdraw the players from a committee. Then, he said, every hing would run

THE BATTLE WAS A LIVELY ONE.

Prominent Sporting Men at the Fight and Some Big Betting.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., October 23 .- Fifteen hundred men struggled and climbed over each other to-night to gain admission to the amphitheater of the Gladstone Club for the purpose of witnessing the boxing contest between George Dixon, the colored lad, bantam weight champion of the world, and young Johnny Murphy, of Boston, for a $2,000 purse and a wager of $1,000 side. All the prominent sporting men of ton, for a $2,000 purse and a wager of $1,000 a side. All the prominent sporting men of the Eastern States were present. The betting stood 2 to 1 on Dixon. In the thirty-ninth round Murphy's backers threw up the towel, their man being badly used up.

Murphy weighed in at 11½ pounds, and Dixon at 115 pounds. The colored boy was seconded by Hoye Holske and Thomas O'Rourke, while Danny Gill and John Powers, of Boston, performed the same service for Murphy, Dan Coakley, of New York, was referee. It was 9 o'clock when Murphy, clad in blue tights and a footman's coat; made his appearance. Rousing cheers greeted him. Ten minutes later the colored youth appeared, wrapped in an ulster. The greeting he received was more enthusiastic, if anything, than for Murphy. At 920 Referee Dan Coakley called the spectators to order, and said: "Now, geotlemen, you are about to see probably one of the greatest boxing matches of the age. I hope nobedy here will ask more than a square deal." [Applause.]

Dixon wore trunks of white, tied around with American colors, Murphy wore blue trunks, held up with black nash. After the fighters had been introduced to the crowd, Referee Coakley said: "There are some members of the Puritan Athletic Club, of New York, here to-night, who will challenge the winner of this contest to meet Cal McCarthy, and they will put up a purse of $2,000 for such a contest." Then at 9:36 the fight began.

Round 1—After cautiously spatring, Dixon proceeded promptly to draw first blood from Murphy's face. Murphy played for Dixon's stomach, while the latter struck the former in the jaw. Dixon missed his aim and Murphy's nose, but he was a good dodger, and thus avoided punishment. The men clinched and had to break away. Murphy got in one on Dixon's cheek, and there was considerable rushing and clinching.

Round 3—$500 to $100 was offered on Dixon. Murphy feinted and missed, and Dixon landed ing and clinching.

Round 3-$300 to $100 was offered on Dixon.

Murphy feinted and missed, and Dixon landed on Murphy's neck. Murphy chased Dixon around the ring and the round closed with slugging.

Round 4—Both boxers did good execution,
Dixon having slightly the better of it. Murphy threw Dixon on the floor, striking the colored lad, when he had him close. They clinched on the ropes and there were hisses and cries of foul.

Round 5—Opened with close work, each landing on the other. Dixon hit Murphy twice in the mouth. There was a good deal of siugging and Dixon dodged a good one.

Round 6—Each was cautious, Murphy chasing Dixon around, hi ting him twice.

Round 7—Honors were quite easy in this lnning, Dixon avoiding punishment. Murphy landed once on Dixon's lip.

Round 8—Dixon got in two heavy blows and Murphy rab.

Murphy ran.

Round 9—Murphy landed a few times on Dixon's face, but the punishment seemed to have no effect upon the colored boy. Three times Dixon found his mark on Murphy's side.

There was not much force in the Boston boy's blows.

Round 10—100 to 50 was now offered on Dixon. The champion seemed to be playing a waiting game. Every time he struck, he carried the weight of his body with the blow.

Round 11—Murphy's left eye was beginning to close, still he was very prompt and plucky, several times tapping Dixon on the face and chest.

several times tapping Dixon on the face and chest.

Much close work inaugurated the twelfth round, in which Dixon's ready left hand began to get in its famous stomach blows, while Murphy's sallies lacked strength.

Round 13—Again the colored boy's left hand blows told on Murphy's stomach, white he skillfully avoided punishment by ducking. Twice Murphy gave Dixon as good as the latter sent, but the colored youth did not mind them.

Round 14—Both were cautious. Murphy's arms appeared too short. Dixon hit Murphy four times while bis enemy hit him once. Then he chased Murphy into a corner. Blood streamed down the right side of Murphy's neck. Four times nore did Dixon's left reach Murphy's stomach, amid cries of four, hissing and protests.

From the fitseenth round to the finish Dixon had all the best of the battle. He punished Murphy so terribly that the latter's seconds saw it was impossible for their man to win, and they threw up the sponge,

The Ladies' Auxiliary concluded its business yesterday, but will be in session to-day for the consideration of some minor matters. Dr. Frances Dickenson, Dr. Lucy Walte and Mrs. Corinne S. Brown, Chicago ladies who represent the Queen Isabella Association, were accorded the privilege of addressing the convention on the question of woman suffrage. The association is seeking to interest all national bedies on this question as the only means in its opinion of obtaining the abolition of child labor.

The ladies experienced a very friendly reception, and while not being successful in at aining a direct indorsement from the convention of their mission, they were successful in that several of the delegates warmly seconded their efforts. Pier as the speaker of the occasion.

Mr. Pier was warmly greeted when he stepped out on the stage. He opened his address by saying that he would tell why he intended to support Mr. Pattison for Governor. He then outlined the character of the Democratic nominee, which, he claimed, was as pure and unblemished as that of any man in the country, his term of office before had proven his honesty and integrity of motive in all of his I gislative career. The speaker then said that Delamater's character was entirely dissimilar; that Delamater was comparatively unknown: he had been chosen against the wishes of the people of the State. Major Montooth, General Hastings and Charles W. Stone, men of known and recognized competency, sought the nomination, but the will of the people, the speaker, "that brought Mr. Delamater before the public, was his prominence in attempting to strangle a bill while he was in the Stare Senate, which made for the producers in this State a possible competition against that enormous monopoly, the Standard Oil Company. The Republican party represents the strength, nationality and solidification of the country; the Democratic party represents the strength, nationality and solidification of the country; the Democratic party represents the strength, nationality and solidification of the country; the Democratic party. Three Wind Storms From Different Point Moving in This Direction

PREPARED FOR THE DISPATCH.1 The Southern cyclone that was central in the East Gulf States on Wednesday divided as it traveled northeast yesterday, and one section was central on the Atlantic coast about North Carolina, while the second section passed more to the north and had its cente near Louisville. The storm from the Northwest transferred its center from Montana to Minnesota. All three storms appeared to be increasing in intensity, the one on the coast being most powerful and dangerous. The winds from North Carolina to Maine were blowing from the northeast, with velocities from 26 to 45 miles an hour, and the danger to vessels was greatly increased by a dense fog all along the coast line. All three storms were moving toward this vicinity, and the chances are favorable for their uniting as the Western
