NEW YORK, October 23.-The Iron Age of this date quotes the American metal markets as follows: American pig iron-During the week under review no sensational or disturbing events have transpired, and the little furore occasioned by the break made a short time ago by the local agents of a prominent Southern company seems to have died out. At present there is merely the routine demand, yet prices are firm. Current. production of high grade foundry pig seems to be closely taken up in meeting deliveries on contracts in hand. ANOTHER COKE DISORDER.

The Scarcity of Motive Power Added to Laci of Transportation—The Demand is Still Active-Over 1,000 Idle Ovens. PETECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1

SCOTTDALE, October 23.—The same features as set forth last week, with a few additions, are noticeable in the coke market. The disorder continues in transportation and now has a con soling companion in the scarcity of moti power. The scant car supply, coupl continues in transportation and now has a consoling companion in the scarcity of motive power. The scant car supply, coupled with insufficient motive power has served to further demoralize shipping facilities. The scarcity of motive power is rather alarming, and the railroad people will immediately devise means to remedy it. The absence of engines last week materially assisted in the retarding of shipments. A railroad official, who understands his business, spoke in the following strain to The DISPATOH representative. "There is a deficiency in motive power, which, or course, serves as a preventive to our means of transportation. The deficiency is only slight, though, and we believe that everything as far as that is interested will be speedily restored to normal condition. The car dearth is as bad as ever and we entertain but slight hopes for immediate improvement. At this juncture of the year the volume of general business is extensive all over the land and whenever a railroad company gets hold of a car it generally helds to it as long as possible. Until there is a sutsidence in business an improvement cannot be looked for, although nearly all the railroad companies are equipping themselves with more cars."

Operators are utilizing all precautions to guard against coke accumulation. The number of days operated is arranged according to the number of cars received. The demand is still active with production about equivalent. Furnace consumers by greatly economizing on their receipits succeed in Keeping their plants in operation. No shut-downs among the furnaces are reported on account of lack of fuel. Many-of them escaped a suspension by the opportune arrival of coke. The works of McClurc, Rainey, Taylor, Sonthwest, Schoonamaker and Frick, continue to run six days a week, while a few independent companies observe the Wednesday or Thursday shut-downs. The fide list of ovens in the region is estimated at 1,550. The Heela Company have their 500 ovens at Trangers, on the Sewickley branch, about on oppleted. It is sai

The Bank of Commerce Has a Sure Grip on the Kelly Property.

FACTS AND THE LAW IN THE CASE. Light Trading in Stocks and Oil, With

Nothing Strange in Figures. THE NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE CITY

The talk of contesting the right of the Bank of Commerce to the Kelly property in Sterritt township, the bulk of it being in Wilkinsburg, seems to have no substantial ground to rest upon. The circumstance out of which it grew is this: John McDevitt cought from the Bank of Commerce a lot in the Kelly homestead plan, which he afterward sold, but, after the lapse of some time, the buyer refused to complete the purchase on the ground that the bank having held the property more than five years, in violation of law, as alleged, could not make a legal deed to the lot. McDevitt now sues the purchaser to compel compliance with his contract. This suit is pending.

Owing to the importance of this matter to almost every person in Wilkinsburg, THE DISPATCH representative yesterday sought information at the bank, and was told by the cashier that, although under the law they are not allowed to hold real estate longer than five years, set that does not prevent them from years, yet that does not prevent them from making a perfect title at any time, any question as to the infraction of the law in such cases being between the bank and the Controller only.

The Cashier added: "This question has been The Cashler added: "This question has been occasionally brought up by young attorneys examining titles, but has always, until now, been decided as a point of no value. The bank, in correspondence with the Controller, has his approval of this view. The object of the law is to prevent the accumulation of bad assets, and so protect the public: and although national banks are required to dispose of real estate promptly, the Controller can exercise a proper discretion so that such property need not be unnecessarily sacrificed. There need be no alarm on the part of those who have purchased from the bank. It appears to be a difference of opinion between attorneys."

This seems to effectually settle a story which, if left uncontradicted, might prove an obstruc-

There was no scarcity of loanable funds for business purposes, but occasionally outsiders were refused accommodations. This was to protect the regular clientage, who have the first claim in the dispensation of favors. They stick to the banks and the banks stick to them. Rates ruled steady on the 6g7 per cent basis.

Mr Henry Clews, in diagnosing the financial situation, says: "The currency movement with the interior for the week shows a net loss to the banks of about $2,250,000, which indicates the beginning of the cessation of shipments of money to the West that usually sets in after the middle of October, and is a welcome symptom. Taking the situation as a whole, I incline to the hope that the worst phase of liquidation has been passed, and that we may now expect sufficient recovery in prices to warrant moderate buying of the better class of stocks."

MARKETS BY WIRE.

Break in the Grain Pit, Due to Statistics of Supply, Easier Cables and Free selling-Pork Active at Inside Figures.

CHICAGO-Wheat-Only a moderate business was transacted to-day in the aggregate, though at times trading was quite lively. Sudden sports occurred all through the session. Trading was chiefly local. The market was weaker, feeling tame and prices ruled lower. Easier cables, a decline in silver in this country and an article in the Price Current estimating the world's wheat crop as equal to the average were held directly responsible for to-day's decline in price. This news induced arge relling, and as prices weakened more wheat was brought out from parties, who feared a further break. More or less long wheat came out during the entire session. The feared a further break. More or less long wheat came out during the entire session. The opening was 1/20/10 lower than yesterday's closing, and with only slight finetuations prices declined 11/20/10 lower than yesterday.

Corn was fairly active, a good business being transacted on local and outside account. Feeling developed was easier and lower prices were established. The weather and larger receipts induced longs to sell and offerings were liberal; the country also sold freely. First trades were at 1/20 decline, and under free offerings gradually sold off, with some reaction, 1/20, rallied 1/20 loss.

Oais—There was a marked failing off in the trade in this market and a weaker feeling prevailed. Longs have realized for several days, and were at it again to-day to a moderate extent. There was no especial support to the futures, and prices ranged lower, a decline of 11/20/11/20 being recorded and fairly established. Mess pork—A fairly active trade was reported. Prices ruled irregular within ranges of 27/10/200. Opening sales were made at 5d decline, but this was quickly recovered. Later, prices receded 27/10/200, and the market closed quiet at inside figures.

Lard—Rather more doing. Prices declined 7/20/200, and the market closed rather easy at inside figures.

Bhort rib sides—Only a fair business was transacted. Prices ruled slightly higher early, but receded again 10/20/22/20 and closed rather quiet at inside figures.

The leading futures ranged as follows, as corrected by John M. Oakley & Co., 45 Sixth street,
