SPEAKER HYSELL MAKES A BRIEF STATEMENT

PRETECTAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. COLUMBUS, October 24.-Governor Campbell has been the recipient of a flood of telegrams this evening congratulating him upon his victory against the Cincinnati delegation in the Legislature and a large lobby from that city, intent on saving the Board of Improvements. Among the telegrams is one from the Rundal! Club, of Pittsburg, and Democratic clubs in this and other

In referring to the passage of the nonpartisan bill and a new Board of Improvements for Cincinnati, which will be appointed within a day or two, Governor Campbell said: "I look upon the victory as one in behalf of good government and honest administration. I don't put it in The Light of a Personal Triumpl.,

but am well pleased over the result. I think the people will be satisfied with the exception of a small proportion who help to make up every city, and who are opposed on general principles to any reform in Government. I believe the entire genuine people are with us. As to the Investigating Committee appointed to look into the affairs at Cincinnati, I do not think they will find anything. Legislative committees seldom do, and then Mr. Gever has been placed upon the Investigating Committee, while in the House he appeared as the principal champion of the corrupt officials on the board of Improvements. It required just ten days to relieve Cincinnati from the dishonest board, and it ought to have been accomplished in one day as stated in my first

Bad Feeling in the Party.

The sentiment is quite general that the Governor has won a substantial victory. though there are many members of his party who left for their homes refusing to be con ciliated. Many threats were made last stand in the presence of 10,000 people, Rev night, but both sides to-day seemed willing to transact their business quietly and get away. The Legislature adjourned to January 6.

There was much in the discussion of inand against the Governor. The House was unusually quiet and the lobby was crowded. Speaker pro tem Robeson, who has been one of the leaders against Campbell, speaking on the bill said that they were asked to make a radical change in the government of Cincinnati on the ground of alleged corruption. He heard nothing to substantiate these charges. The whole affair was based on newspaper reports and clippings and elaborated rumors. Yet they were asked to condemn certain officials on rumor.

An Attack on the Governor. He held that the principle of home rule has been violated in the suggestions contained in both messages of the Governor. His nets were open to criticism. The present bill, at the furthest, would only furnish temporary relief. He scored Democrats who proposed to join the minority for voting against their party and party success. The majority were working for party advantage and he

Mr. Robeson went over the story of how the Governor's message was refused by the House and censured the Governor for the manner in which he undertook to learn the secrets of the House through a page boy. The appeal of Robeson was to defeat the present bill and give Cincinnati a new plan of government at the next session.

indorsed their course from a party stand-

Mr. Wiggins, of Ross, made a long speech defending the bill because it tended to home rule and the Federal form of govern-

A Statement From the Speaker

There was much interest exercised when Speaker Hysell took the floor and order was restored. He wanted to place himself right before the General Assembly and the public. The men opposing this bill had been charged with being controlled by a gang at Cincinnati. He said the only thing that controlled him in the present case was n sense of justice to his fellow men. The session resulted from alleged corruption of the boards at Cincinnati, and not because the law was wrong. He wanted to know how the Legislature could honestly avoid giving the accused members of the boards a hearing. As for himself, he would never convict a man without a hearing. Personally, headmired Governor Campbell, but not well enough to indorse him at the sacrifice of principle.

Another Opposition Speech. It was understood that Mr. McDermott of Muskingum, would make the speech of the day in opposition to Governor Campbell, and he followed Mr. Hysell to fill his mission. It was a long talk, in which a review of the attempted legislation was gone over and an effort made to apply each point to WANTS of all kinds are quickly answered through THE DISPATCH. Investors, artisans, bargain hunters, buyers and sellers closely scan its Classified Advertising Colthe idea that the dishonest members of the CAMPBELLCONQUERS boards at Cincinnati were about to be subjected to a great wrong.

He reviewed the various charges against the members, and all the reports which have been in circulation leading to the presen session. He claimed the whole trouble had grown out of the demands and influence of corporations at Cincinnati. The speaker had met no Democrat outside who said the bill was honest and just. He did not blame the Republicans for voting for the bill, though he did not think they ought to do so. It was rather a good point from a Republican standpoint to gain a Congressman over Cosgrave because of changes in the employment under the Board of Improvements.

The Foraker Board Revived. He prophesied that Mayor Mosby, a practical politician, would appoint the two members of the Foraker board, T. W. Grayden, and Thomas G. Smith. These are the men whom Campbell, in his campaign speeches, charged with being corrupt. Mr. McDermott touched upon a number of inside matters, among them the reasons why certain Democratic Senators voted for the non-partisan bill, the point being that certain of the Democratic Senators voted for the bill with the understanding it was to be used as a club over the heads of Bamilton county members in the House, and force them to vote for a compromise bill. The speaker created the first enthusiasm of the day when he said, in referring to the present situation, they had found it was an easy matter to call up the devil, but hard to manage him thereafter. They now found themselves in that position. One of Campbell's Supporters.

Mr. Benz (Democrat), made a speech in support of the position of Governor Campbell. The charge had been made that the Democrats supporting the Governor are not stanch Democrats. This ne scornfully denied as unworthy of notice and characteristic of the ward and boodle politician. He deplored that the Mayor of Cincinnati was not a Democrat, but not being such could not change the justice of the of the present legislation. If he proves unfaithful to the trust he will have to answer at the spring election. If he will again install the Coxes and the Graydons the swift retribution of these people will follow.

The purity of Campbell's intentions is not questioned by his political enemies. He has the moral courage to right and correct a mistake when made by him. The call for the extra session marks the day when no more ripper legislation will be had in the interest of the winning party. No party will forget the lesson of the special session of dare disobey its teachings. The days of ripper legislation are over. The name of Campbell will stand for fair and honest government and against corruption and boodle

A Republican Expression.

Ex-Speaker Hodge, Republican, reviewed the effort of the Democratic Legislature last winter to raid all the State institutions and turn Republicans out. He complimented the minority Democrats for standing by the

The opponents of the bill were thoroughly surprised when it was forced to a vote on passage under suspension of the rules and received 71 for to 33 against. Of the affirmative vote 21 were Democrats, the balance Republicans. There were 33 Democrats voted against the bill and no Republicans.

It is expected Mayor Mosby will appoint the members of the board to-morrow, and they will assume their duties in ten days. The Republican members of the board, it is thought, will be T. W. Graydon and Thomas G. Smith, who were members of the Foraker board. About a dozen names were men-tioned for the Democratic appointments.

Harrisburg Makes the Grandest Demon tion in Her History-The Ex-Governor as Hearty as Ever-Large Demonstration at Various Points.

SEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

HARRISBURG, October 24.-The campaigning tour of Governor Pattison to-day culminated in this city to-night in the grandest political demonstration in the history of the State capital. Arrangements had been made for two meetings, but three had to be held to accommodate the crowds that turned out to see and hear the Democratic candidate. One hour before the time for the calling of the meeting in the Court House to order persons were unable to gain admission, and when Governor Pattison made his triumphant appearance over a thousand people had been crowded out of the building, necessitating the holding of an overflow in front of the Court House. Governor Pattison's reception in the Court House was an ovation which never had a parallel in this city. As he entered the hall the audience rose as one mass and the hall the audience rose as one mass and again, when introduced to the throng, he was cheered long and loudly. The Governor's voice, although severely taxed during the morning and afternoon, did not show any sign of weakening, and his words could be distinctly heard by all his listeners. The veteran Democrat, Hamilton Alricks, presided. The opening address in the Court House was made by W. S. Stenger, who, in the main, repeated his Waynesboro bribery speech of last evening. He was followed by Governor Pattison, Captain Barclay, W. W. Carr, F. H. Keenan, and O. C. Bowers, of Chambersburg. As soon as the ex-Governor had completed his speech he was driven to Kelker Street Hall, where he addressed another large audience, and was given another great reception.

Before the meeting in this city a large demonstration was had at Steelton, over which L. S. Bent, President of the Pittsburg Steel Works, employing over 4,000 hands, presided. At the meetings at Cham-bersburg, Shippensburg, Newville, Car-iisle and Mechanicsburg 5,000 in the aggregate were present. Chairman Hamilton, of the Dauphin County Democratic Committee, says the majority of 3,200 for Harrison for President in this county will be reduced considerably more than half. Harrisburg, which gave over 400 majority for Harrison, will, he thinks, give at least 250 for Pattison.

Sarrow Escape From the Sinking Vessel-Hard Struggle in a Fierce Gale Off Matinacock Point - Nothing Heard of a Missing Crew. HE HAS BECOME A MONOMANIAC, ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1

HEMPSTEAD, L. L. October 24.-Edward D. Morgan, Jr.'s steam yacht Catarina, is aground on the rocks of Matinacock Point and the heavy sea is slowly but surely breaking her to pieces. The yacht left Newport at about 8 o'clock Thursday morning, bound for New York, having on board a crew of 15 men in charge of Captain Harry Craven, as well as Mr. Morgan himself. The Catarina had in tow a small cat boat belonging to Mr. Morgan which they were taking to New York for repairs. The weather was bad and a gale was blowing when the start was made, but no danger was anticipated until the yacht was about ten miles south of Clencove, when the wind blew a veritable cyclone. The sails of the cat boat were carried away and the boat was rapidly breaking up.

One of the crew who lives in this place in telling the story to-night says that when the news that the small boat was breaking up reached the Captain, he sent some of the en on board to try and save them. They worked hard, and after a few moments gave it up. They were returning when a huge wave broke the cable connecting the two boats, and the smaller one was carried away. In an endeavor to save her the atarina twas tossed on the rocks and was rapidly breaking to pieces. They managed to launch the boats and get ashore with their ives, but it was a narrow escape. There was no one hurt, but all were drenched.

The boat went on the rocks at about ? clock this morning, and no effort has as yet been made to save her on account of the ough seas. She will be a total wreck by to-morrow morning, as the heavy surf is dashing her against the rocks at a tremendous rate. Up to 5 o'clock to-night nothing had been heard of the catboat and her temporary crew in this town, and unless they have managed to reach the shore at some point distant from here they have probably been drowned. Mr. Morgan and Captain Craven left Oyster Bay for New York this morning and the crew followed them on the 2:30 train this atternoon. Mr. Morgan's mansion at this place is closed up, and no one is living there but an old watchman. The yacht will

The demonstration of the superiority of the nickel-steel alloy and the immediate appropriation by Congress of $1,000,000 for the purchase of a quantity of nickel with which to alloy naval steel, had the effect of stimulating the nicket market to an unusual degree. The Navy Department had hardly begun to inquire into the amount of nickel on the market before it was found that the results of the tests had been seized upon abroad with remarkable celerity and that there was to be keen competition in a market already noted for a vigorous and steady demand. In addition there were rumors of "corners" that were discomforting to the officials who had expected to get an adequate supply of the metal at fair prices. TBY DUNLAP'S CABLE COMPANY. WARSAW, October 24 .- A party of Rus sian emigrants, numbering upward of 300. and holding tickets for transportation to Brazil, left the village of Ricszaera to cross the West Russian frontier. When they reached the frontier post in the night they were stopped by the frontier guards, who demanded to see their ticket permitting them to leave the country. Upon learning that the party had none such, they we forced back at the point of the bayonet. Upon receiving such treatment so unjustifiably, numbers of them protested, whereupon the guard fired on them, killing two baby in her arms, which was wounded.

London, October 24.—At the mio

House to-day George Johnson, aged 10, an artist, and John Phillips, aged 70, a picture lealer, were brought before Alderman Hart, charged with forging and uttering a number of letters of credit and circular otes with the intention of defrauding Drexel, Morgan & Co. The prosecutor said the prisoners formed a part of a considerable gang of notorious forgers who had onceived the plan of forging letters of credit in the name of Drexel, Morgan & Co., which were presented simultaneously at the offices of these bankers, in Madrid, Marseilles, Liege, Coblentz and other cities on the continent where the firm had corres-

The prosecutor claimed that he could show these two prisoners to be the real leaders, and promised that evidence should be jorthming connecting them with the ordering of the types and perforating punches used in the manipulation of the letters of credit. Detective Child produced five pieces of gelatine found in Johnston's house and which he explained were used in the printing. Joseph Tragheim testified that he had met Phillips in Rotterdam, and was asked by him whether he would like to make some money by getting some Bank of England notes made. He subsequently saw both Phillips and Johnson in London, and by their direction procured several perforate stamps and various types and afterward saw a circular note printed for £1,000, the note purpoting to be signed by Drexel, Morgan & Co. LONDON, October 24.-The "Jack the Ripper" scare has again caused a sensation among the police and the residents of the South Hanstad locality. To-night, in a seciuded part of that neighborhood, passersby were shocked by finding in an obscure alley the dead body of a woman whose head had been very nearly severed, while her body showed evidence of kicks and bruises in themselves sufficient to cause death.

While up to the present time no knowledge has been obtained as to who the victim was, it seems very evident that she was a woman of low repute, and this was sufficient to start the cry "Jack the Ripper has been at work again." The police actively began operations in a search for the mur-

PARIS-In an interview to-day, William O'Brien said Mr. Dillon and himself would be guided by circumstances in regard to whether they would visit Canada. It was not likely that they would be arrested, but they were unconcerned about the matter, because their American mission would then be concluded, and their arrest would save them from paying their fares home. If their absence from Tipperary, that would constitute grounds for a case of appeal. The news from America was very favorable, and the success of their mission bid fair to surass their highest expectation.

MORE MONEY IN SELLING TO PAMILIES

The Philadelphia Company took an impe an. tep yesterday that will result disas rousl to iron and steel manufacturers using to s company's gas. Notices were sent to a g or seven mills to the effect that after next Tuesday the supply of gas will be discontinued in the puddling furnaces,

The notices were sent to the heaviest consumers, and the gas in other smaller mills will also be shut off as the cold weather increases. The cause of the action is not be cause gas is getting scarce, but the company derives more revenue from private consumers, and before the winter really sets in there will be few manufacturing plants that will shortly begin the manufacture of illuminating gas, and will compete with the four Pittsburg companies to supply the demand for artificial gas. The officials are now looking for a site; upon which to erect their illuminating gas plant. They say they will supply light at considerably less than consumers are now paying, and if such is the case, the public will be benefited.

The notices that the gas will be shut off on Tuesday were sent out by Mr. M. J. Bigger, General Agent of the company, and a representative of THE DISPATCH. Mr. Bigger said: "We notified six or seven mills to-day that the gas would be shut off until further notice in the puddling departments.

"The action is taken for business reasons, The demand for gas from private houses has so increased that we decided to shut it off in the big mills and sell it to the consumers who pay us the most money. Our rates for a puddling furnace are $2 per net ton on the smount of muck har turned out in each "When will the gas be turned off, and do you contemplate making the order gen-

"After next Tuesday the mills that received notice to-day will be shut off and others will be served with notice as the consumption from private houses increases among our heaviest consumers.'

WILL MAKE ILLUMINATING GAS. 'Yes, we propose to put up an illuminating gas plant some time in the near future, but as yet there has been nothing definite done about it. There are four artificial gas companies now doing business in this city, and we think we can compete with them by furnishing a better quality of gas at a lower price than is now being charged. It is not our desire to injure the business of the illuminating gas companies, but it is a matter of business. We have kept out of that branch of the gas business until now, when we think there is money in it. The process we will use we have experimented with in the Electrical Engineering Company, and it is a success. We are satisfied we can furnish artificial illuminating gas almost as cheap as the natural product.

ROMANCE OF A CHICAGO WIDOW. She Hunts for Her Husband, Whom She Was Accused of Murdering.

SEPRCIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCELS DENVER, October 24.-An extremely interesting romance comes from Leadville. Early in the week Mrs. Ryan and daughter, of Chicago, registered at Hotel Kitchen. The same day she sent word to a prominent citizen to call on her, which he did. He promised to call again the next day, only to find that both Mrs. Ryan and daughter had left for the East. Previous to leaving Mrs. Ryan visited the police officials and told this

"A little over 15 years ago I and that man who came to see me were married in Chicago. About a year afterward he suddenly disappeared, My family and myself were suspected of being his murderers. Shortly after he left a girl baby was born, which the same with me. I need every the child I have now with me. I used every effort to find my husband. His neglect and desertion has caused my love to grow cold toward him. I was accompanied by two Chicago officers, whom I brought here to help vindicate my name from the infamous charges brought against me. The man refused to give any explanation for leaving me. He is reputed as having married another woman, but of course I will not prosecute."
