Allegheny Republicans Appeal to Blains for One Speech Bere This Week.

Among the many callers at the Independent Republican headquarters, Bissell block, vesterday was W. C. Haus, a prominent attorney of Sharon. Mr. Haus has been a litelong follower of the G. O. P., but this trip he is out for Pattison and is sanguine in his predictions for the success of the ex-Governor. During a long talk he predicted that Pattison would carry Mercer county, and he also has strong hopes for Beaver and Butler counties going the same way. He said the disappointment among Republicans throughout the entire western part of the State was remarkable. When asked about the McDowell Conpressional fight in the Twenty-fifth district, he said the gentleman would be elected in spite of all opposition. He added shat the Republicans of Beaver and Butler counties were inconsistent in their repudiation of McDowell. They had turned him down on charges that had not been established, and in fact disproyen. On the other hand, many of them still clung to Senator Delamater, when he stood convicted in the eves of the public of the charges that had been made by ex-Senator Emery. There were many more enthusiastic Pattisou people at the headquarters during the From Indications the Record Will be day, and the feeling of confidence in his election is growing hourly. The officials state that they are completely overrun with

Mr. Dablincer then made a motion that here-after the hall be refused for political meetings, but the members present thought it best not to act peremptorily in the matter and considered that it ought to be discussed before the full committee at a regular meeting. The motion was then withdrawn. The meeting next Saturday will be addressed by Hon. T. M. Marshall, C. F. McKenna, Esq., Hon, Morrison Foster and a Philadelphia gen-tleman, probably Mr. Blankenburg.

We did not build any bridges at all, nor did we pur-chase any fire engines at a cost of $40,000. If the Johnstown Finance Committee did this they did it with money sent to them which did not pass through the Relief Commission. For instance, there were $259,540 $2 sent up by different secret societies and beneficial organizations. This money was not given to us, but was sent direct to the Johnstown representatives of the different so-cieties for distribution. We had no official cuitous route. The street has been torn up for paving, and has been a mere quagmire for weeks. Penn avenue has been a chaotic terri-tory of paving stones and mud for months, although there is some hope of the work on that street being finished soon. As for Wood street, the indications are that if will remain as it is all winter. All the contractors can do now is to curb it. MILLS CLOSED DOWN On Account of an Almost Unprecedented Demand for Natural Gas.

> Preparations Made for the Benefit of Private Consumers. WHAT THE COAL MEN NOW HAVE TO SAY

> On account of the increased consumption of gas by private consumers yesterday, and interference of pressure by new connections being made, about half a dozen mills throughout the city were seriously inconvenienced by a shortage of natural gas, and had to shut down several departments in consequence. The puddling mills were all thrown off during the day and could not get any gas until supper time. One of these is the Moorhead-McCleane Company's, on Second avenue, and it will try a new scheme rather than go back to the use of coal. The main objection to the latter is on account of the furnaces being made so that coal cannot be burned. When the company first introduced the gas into its furnaces it had reason to suppose that it could use gas for years and, Whereas, Since the adoption of the resolution the Congress of the United Biates has exacted laws and fixed penalties for infringement on any of the navigable waters of the country, and has authorized, the Secretary of War to establish horbor lines when, in his opinion, such lines are essential to the preservation and protection of the harbors; therefore, in view of such assumption of authority by the general Government, be if without any danger of being compelled to go back to the use of coal. In view of this, the turnaces were remodeled to allow a better usage of the gas, and coal cannot be substituted without loss of time and at considerable expense. COKE EXPERIMENTS TO BE MADE. The company is now fixing up one furace to experiment with gas run from their coke ovens on the river bank. It is thought the coke gas can be utilized if it can be run into the furnace in sufficient quantities. An experiment with the gas at the ovens shows it is very heavy and while burning does not throw off an intense heat. However, it is thought that with a little mixture it can be made boil The ovens are only 250 or 300 feet from the

The ovens are only 20 or 300 leet from the pudding furnaces and the gas will not have to be piped very far. The pipes are now being had to a "pair" furnace in the sheet mill, and if it works successfully in this furnace it is claimed that it will do so in others. A retort will have to be built at the ovens in which to when the gas The committee appointed to prepare the bill to be presented in the next Legislature for an appropriation for the Southside Hospital are now at work on the bill. The present building has become inadequate to the needs of the institution, and some changes must be will have to be blift at the ovens in which to gather the gas. The pudding department has been shut down during the day for about a week on account of no gas. The men qui: work in the morning about 7 o'clock, when the pressure begins to de-crease, in order to allow enough gas in other departments of the mill. There is much dis-content and grumpling in consequence from THE H. J. HEINZ COMPANY WINS. The Supreme Court of the Eastern discrease, in order to allow chough gas in order departments of the mill. There is much dis-content and grumbling in consequence from the men who are losing considerable time. If the coke gas scheme works, the firm will be so much ahead of other companies that do not own any coke ovens. The gas goes to waste now, and if it can be used, it will cost the com-pany very little. The Philadelphia Company's gas was also shut off in the Southside mills yesterday morn-ing. In consequence the puddlers dud not go to work until the night turn. The gas will be turned on at night, and hereafter the night turn will only make four heats. What ar-rangements will be made in the future are not definitely settled on, but it is possible that coal will be used in the daytime and gas at night. EXPECT TO BAISE THE PRICE.

EXPECT TO RAISE THE PRICE. Following in the wake of the announcement that puddling furnaces will be cut off from their gas supply comes the statement-long ago an-icipated in THE DISPATCH-that the price of gas to private consumers will be raised 50 per ent. On investigation it has been learned that cent. On investigation it has been learned that though neither the Philadelphia Company nor the Allegheny Heating Company have yet taken definite action to raise the price, such is the general sentiment of the men composing the companies, and the announcement is sure the companies, and the announcement is sure to follow at an early date. Mr. James McCutcheon, of the Board of Di-rectors of the Allegheny Heating Company, and a stockh ider, more or less, in the different gas companies, was interviewed at his home last evening. He said that the Allegheny Heating Company has not taken direct action yet to increase the price of gas to consumers, nor could it do so until the Philadelphia Com-pany, which furnishes its gas, first takes such action. The Philadelphia Company, as well as the Allegheny Heating Company, has for some two been considering the move, but it has passed beyond that point. He was shown the announcement that the increase in price had already been decided upon, and said that, though it was not true, it is, in all probability, but anticipated. It has been decided that the price is too low, and that a 15-cent per 1,000 feet rate would not then make gas more thau on a par with coal. In Buffalo 20 cents is charged, and in many places the people do not object to a higher rate.

Postmaster McKean in-sists that he will he in the new house by Febru-ary, but Colonel Swords says it can't be done. He will meet the heads of departments in the postoffice to day to see what they want. The office will be fitted up in elegant style. When Colonel Swords reaches Des Moines he will post Clarkson on the Congressional sitta-ation in Pennsylvania. Clarkson, as a member of the National Republican Committee, has been delegated to look after this business, and the Colonel has kept his eyes open in all the States ine has been in, and he has been in most of them recently east of the Mississippi river. He says the elections all over the country will be full of surprises, and nobody knows how the cat will jump.

York papers call us to account for money spent before there was any commission appointed. It is unnecessary to go into an explanation of the temporary relief afforded for the first week or so after the flood. This cost considerable money of which we have no account. We had no authority to ask for the money in the hands of the different committees and could only get what was given us. The item of $30,000 is all right, but when you take ip to consideration the fact that this covered the cost of half an acre of ground, the burial of about 750 bodies, marker for each, transporta-tion, coffins, exhuming and other expenses, it is not so much. It was about $30 per body and nobedy objected to the payment. Two robbers secured a gold watch and nit gold rings by a most daring piece of work yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock. They entered the Italian tenement house in the rear of 123 Third avenue, and as the men were all away from home, the men walked uostairs without ceremony, and, ordering Mrs. Antonio Boranio to vacate, they opened a chest and secured the DONE FOR DECENCY'S SAKE.
