CANDIDATE DELAMATER TALKS TO THE MINERS

PETERSAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCELS PHILADELPHIA, October 28.-The following appeal, signed by Justus C. Strawbridge, President, and Herbert Welsh, Secretary of the Lincoln Independent Republican Committee, was issued to-day to the voters of the State:

Final appeal of the Lincoln Independent Repub-Hean Committee to the citizens of Pennsyl-

REFUBLICAN FELLOW-CITIZENS-We speak Our last word upon the eve of election to recall tion to the people of this Commonwealth of to your minds the one great issue in this contest, and to rehearse the evidence developed during the course of the campaign which justi hes the position taken by us in our first appeal. We ask you all on behalf of free institutions, both in the Commonwealth and in the nation to cast your vote on November 4 for Robert E Pattison as Governor of Pennsylvania. We solemnly advecate this step as the rebuke of free citizens to one man, and to the principle of administration which is called "machine" or "boss" rule, of which he is the representa

Other Than Personal Reasons

We ask you to rebuke this man, not for per sonal reasons, but solely because his public record has convicted him of uncompromising hostility to the free institutions which our fathers gave us, which our Civil War was fought to maintain and upon the integrity of which our future safety and happiness depends, The solid and sufficient ground of our opposition to the Republican candidate for Governor is that he stands as the representative of these methods, upon a platform which, with unqualified praise, indorses the record and official character of the innior Senator.

Mr. Delamater, whose candidacy was dictated to the convention in June, has epenly and without reservation accepted this platform. Nor did he or his friends when it was adopted ofer any open protest against this offensive plank. It is true he has given to citizens whose vote he wishes to secure assurance of his disapproval of Mr. Quay and of his intended repodiation of him in the event of his own election, but such promises, in view of Mr. Delama. ter's past relations with Mr. Quay, of the fact that Mr. Quay had determined upon him as his caudidate so long ago as October, 1888, and of Mr. Dela acknowledgement that his non nomination could not have been obtained without Mr duay's assistance is out an evidence of Mr. Belamater's insincerity in making promises o eform and proof that his election will be universally accepted as a signal triumph of machine politics in Penusylvania.

Justified by the Course of Events.

The links which bind these men together are luble; they are united by solemn official party declarations of principles, by close polit affiliations and familiarity with similar political methods. In view of these facts none but the political visionary could expect that a political autocrat would bestow the Govern orship upon a man who would recompense him for the favor by the destruction or the limits tion of his power. The course of events since the first utterane of this committee has further justified, for other and subordinate reasons, the position then taken. More than six months ago Mr. licianiator was charged with serious official delinquencies by a Republican Senator, who chalenged him to bring the case to a test in the

Had this challenge been promptly accepted Mr. Delamater could long since have made his own innocence clear, quite irrespective of the fact whether he could or could not have obtained money damages. The former, not the latter, was the vital point both for himself and

The Real Point at Issue.

Proof of innocence, not money damages, was what the occasion called for, But Mr. Dela mater contented himself with silence and then when pressed by circumstances, entered the plea of not guilty. The public, with a legitimate interest in the record of all aspirants for public office, had clearly the right to demand proof of the fact that charges made by a reponsible person were unfounded. Our ob-ections are confined to Mr. Delamater's poation under the charges, irrespective of the ruth or falsity of the charges themselves.

The validity of the charge brought against Mr. Delamater of having violated the Constitution by receiving State funds in a bank with which he was connected while a member of the General Assembly, is a matter of debate be tween lawyers of eminence. Without pronouncing upon the justice of the accusation we declare that more serious than the charge itself is Mr. Delamater's response to it. He de clared that the "matter is nobody's business." The question of a candidate's obedience to the Constitution is, on the contrary, the business o every one, and such a reply as that publicly given by Mr. Delamater is evidence of a apprehension on his part of his relations to the

The Topic of Ballot Reform.

Mr. Delamater has recently in public declared himself in favor of the Australian ballot system, but his record in the Senate in regard to this matter is singularly unfortunate, At the last session of the Legislature Mr. Delamater had it in his power to secure the passage of a bill embodying in a wholly safe and unobjection shape this important reform. The bill, which had been introduced by a Republicar was delayed in its passage. Those interested in it, upon inquiry as to the cause of the delay. were told that the legislators were waiting for orders and that the bill could not be passed

The friends of the bill were referred to Mr. Delamater as the interpreter of the machinwishes in the matter. Mr. Delamater was persomelly seen by the friends of the bill, and its

Morsever, when this committee urged upon
Chairman Andrews, of the Republican State Committee, joint action with the Democratic Chairman and ourselves looking toward an nmediate practical step in the line of ballot reform connected with the printing of election tickets, the overture received no further response than the contemptaous sneer that Mr. Andrews would not recognize a self-constituted

The Original Objections Sustained. Better evidences than these are required from party leaders of sincere interest in a re-form which is of vital moment to the purity of the ballot and in the protection of the voter. In a word, our original and main objection to Mr. Delamater's candidacy has in no respect been weakened by the bearing of the Republican candidate himself during the campaign.

Our opponents, finding themselves powerless in any way to meet the guarded but convincing objection elted against Mr. Delamater, have declared the issue to be the tariff. We answer that the passage of the McKinley tariff bill has disposed of that subject for at least three years, and that the insincerity of the plea of our op-Third Congressional district the Republican managers have reglected to nominate any candidate representing protection and their own party, but have exerted all their influence to secure the election of a Democrat and a free

Were any further argument needed to justify our revolt it might be found in the character and record of many of the lieutenants who are conducting the campaign in this city and in the expenditure of immense sums of moneyhere and elsewhere for the purpose of exerting a fraudulent influence on the election, Indeed, evidence is already in the hands of this committee showing that fraud to an extent hither; o unknown is in operation for the purpose of securing the election of the Republican candi-

At Work to Prevent Frauds.

This committee is exerting it-elf to the ntmost to prevent these iniquitous measures from reaching success and to bring upon every perpetrator of fraud the heavy hand of the law. Fellow citizens, never was this Common-wealth confronted with a more serious issue. On the one hand stand the leaders of a once great and illustrious party, dead to all sense of honor and of shame, making no defense against the indefensible record of their master and of the machine, but only seeking a continuance of power by misrepresentation and by fraud. On the other a man whose integrity has been tested, whose public record is unblemished, and whose administration, if he should be elected, will reflect honor upon himself and upon our Commonwealth.

Between these two contestants you must judge. We ask you on November 4 to cast your vote for Robert E. Pattison, believing that his election in this crisis means the rebuke their sovereign and long-usurped rights.

Quarryville and Lancaster Give the Demo cratic Candidate Grand Receptions-Houses Packed With Cheering People-Wallace Hailed With Much Applause.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCHAL LANCASTER, October 28 .- The Demo crats had two great meetings in this county to-day. The first was at Quarryville and the other in Lancaster. Candidates Pattison and Barclay, accompanied by Sheriff Krumbhaar, of Philadelphia, and others, arrived here at 9:19 over the Pennsylvania Railroad. They were driven at once to the Quarryville depot, where they were joined by several carloads of Laneaster people. At

The party returned to Lancaster at 4:30 o'clock and was joined by Senator Wallace. The visit to this city was attended with grand demonstrations of enthusiasm. The rooms of the Young Men's Democratic Society were open at 7 o'clock for a reception, and were packed till the line formed and marched to the court house. In a brief speech Mr. Eshelman introduced Mr. Pattison, and the scene that ensued buffles description. Terriflic shouts shook the building, and it was long before order could be restored. The Governor spoke at length, and in excellent tone and spirit. He was followed by Senator Wallace, whose greeting by the audience was no less cordial. Mr. Wallace spoke with great earnestness. He appealed to Pennsylvanians to emancipate themselves from personal domination and the influences of unclean politics. He invoked all his Democratic friends to stand by the ticket and to bring out the full vote, and closed with a thrill-ing peroration which was received with rending cheers. James M. Beck closed th meeting in a telling speech, which was most favorably received.

Reformers Object to the Present Method of Decapitating Postmasters.

NEW YORK, October 28 .- The Special Committee of the National Civil Service Reform League has sent to the Executive Committee of the league its report upon the system of removals of Presidental postmasters upon secret charges. The committee says that "out of 350 answers received to our questions whether or not any cause for the removal was given to the man removed, it appeared that in only 47 cases was such causes assigned. In 10 cases the matter was disputed and in 299 cases it appeared, from uncontradicted statements, that the inbeing given for his removal. The Plumed Knight Deaf to the Appeals of the Delamater Managers to Speak in Pittsburg-He Will Not Discuss the Subject.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

CHICAGO, October 28 .- Complying with telegraphic instructions from Pittsburg, a Purely a Speculative Trip, Without Any representative of THE DISPATCH called at the McCormic residence, on Rush street, where Mr. Blaine is staying while in Chicago, to inquire what prospect there was of his visiting Pittsburg or taking part in the campaign in Pennsylvania. The servant who answered the door bell said that Mr. Blaine was up stairs resting and could not be disturbed, but that Mr. Emmons Blaine, his son, might be seen, if he would do. Being assured that Emmons would answer the purpose if James G. could not be gotten at, the usher retired and presently Mr. Blaine, Jr., appeared. He regretted exceedingly that he knew nothing about his father's plans with reference to the campaign in the Keystone State, and he could not tell whether he contemplated a visit to Pittsburg

When asked if the telegram from THE DISPATCH could be submitted to his father for an answer, he said that it could not; that he had received positive instructions that his father was not to be disturbed to-night, and he said if his father contemplated a visit to Pittsburg he thought he would prefer to say so in a direct communication to the Republican managers. When asked if Mr. Warmeastle, of Pittsburg, had seen his father, Mr. Blaine, Jr., said he did not know. In fact, he was in entire ignorance about the whole affair, and again declared that it was utterly impossible to get any word from his parent to-night, whereupon THE DISPATCH correspondent gracefully

An Associated Press dispatch from Chi-cago says: Secretary Blaine is carrying out his announced programme of rest and quiet during his short stay in Chicago. To-day he took a little outing in company with a party of members of the Commercial Club, visiting Fort Sheridan, the new army post just north of the city. The Lake Shore train leaving at 9:30 to-morrow morning will, it is expected, convey Mr. Blame to South Bend, Ind., to fill an engagement to speak there Wednesday afternoon. From South Bend the trip to Washington will, if all arrangements are carried out, be with out a break, and Thursday evening will see the Secretary of State at his official desk.

SHAMOKIN, PA., October 28,-After eaving Lewistown, at 8 o'clock this morning, Senator Delamater and his party of orators made a short stop at the Logan Iron and Steel Works, where a brief but enthusistic reception was held, and then pushed on to Middleburg, in Snyder county. There they were met by a big crowd of farmers on horseback and escorted through the gaily decorated streets to the center of the city. where a largely attended open-air meeting was held. For two hours the crowd stood Quarryville there was an immense crowd of people and the candidates were given a warm reception, a large number of Pattison Republicans being among those present.

EMIN PASHA WAS IN NO DANGER AT ALL

REPECTAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. Boston, October 28 .- In a lengthy interview with Mr. Rose Troup, of the Stanley expedition, on the charges made by Mr. Stanley against the late Major Barttelot, Mr. Troup says:

"Mr. Stanley has seen fit to specify two things which Major Barttelot did which called for censure from him: One was the shooting of a Zanzibar porter for stealing ment, and another for flogging a Soudanese soldier for some breach of discipline. Now, Stanley has that all mixed. A Soudanese soldier was shot for desertion and for stealing a gun and ten rounds of ammunition, and a Zanzibar porter was flogged for steal-ing meat. Messrs. Ward and Bonny voted in favor of the shooting and Jamison and myself were opposed to such harsh measures. Major Barttelot cast the deciding vote in favor of the execution.

A LEGAL EXECUTION. "The soldier was taken out at 5:30 the next norning and shot by his comrades. I was not present at the execution. I had voted against it because I did not think the occasion demanded it. The others were equally conscientious in voting as they did. It was a legal execution, and if those who condemn were in Major Barttelot's place they might have done the same thing.

"Mr. Stanley accuses me of cowardice in not interfering when I saw Major Barttelot getting into trouble with the natives. He told me that I should have forced my advice upon him. He also told me that I should have put the Major in irons for shooting that soldier and sent him back to England in disgrace. What nonsense. Mr. Stanley knows I had no right to interfere with the commander of the camp. Major Barttelot would have been justified in shooting me on the spot. He was in command, not I.

STANLEY'S LACK OF PHILANTHROPY. "Mr. Stanley is a great explorer, but he went into this for fame and for what he could get out of it. He has no more philanthropy than my boot. I will go fur-ther and say that the expedition was in the nature of a speculation and not a philanthropic relief movement. The capitalists who backed it were after the ivory which Emin Pasha was supposed to have collected. The officers of the expedition had promises of a certain share of the big supply of ivory which was expected as a reward for their services. Emin Pasha's release was a secondary consideration entirely. He did not want to be released. He had been up there 10 or 12 years and had held his own all right."

THE DISPATCH has secured Rudyard Kipling's first Serial. The opening chapters will appear Sunday, November 9.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. GLOUCESTER, MASS., October 28 .- Another outrage on a Gloucester fishing schooner is reported from Canso, Nova Scotia. The schooner Lizzie W. Hannum, of this port, sailed this summer for the North Bay on a seining and netting mackerel trip. About a month ago the owner, Captain Jesse Lewis, not being satisfied with the management of the vessel went to Canso, Nova Scotia, to take charge of his craft. On arriving at Canso, much to his surprise he was informed that he would have to pay $126 license and other fees before he could even step aboard his vessel. Captain Lewis was indignant, but his protests were of no avail. No effort was made in his behalf by the American Consul. The Master Mariner's Association is very indignant about the matter and much dis gusted at the way in which the members and their interest have been so coolly ignored by the present administration, from which they were promised such especial consideration and which they did so much in this district to elect.

IFFECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, October 28 .- Workmen in in the big paper box factory of Leopold Sonn & Brother, at 142 Mulberry street, were startled this morning by a shrick from the basement. They rushed downstairs and Samuel Frohman, a German porter, was found lying with his right leg cut off. The elevator, which was at the top of the building, would not move because the steel rope that was around the drum had slackened, and a coil or two lay on a pile of boxes near the drum. Frohman had inadvertently stepped into one of the coils and shaken the balance weight free. It descended and pulled the coil tightly around Frohman's thigh, six inches from the hip joint. The coil tightened and in a second Frohman' leg was cut off.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, October 28 .- Proceedings were brought to-day in the United States Circuit Court which are calculated to call forth from the Bench an opinion upon the constitutionality of Speaker Reed's rulings on the subject of quorums. They are brought by the importing firm of Ballen, Joseph & Co., and involve the legality of the imposition of duties at the rate of 35 cents a pound and 35 per cent ad valorem on a consignment of cloths which arrived in this port July 10 by the steamer City of Richmond. Under he administration act the appraisers taxed it as above, holding that it consisted of woolens, instead of manufactures of worsteds

The contention is made by the petitioning importers that the goods came under the provisions of the act of March 30, 1883, which placed the tax at 18 cents and 24 cents a pound, according to grade, and 35 per cent ad valorem. It is set forth in the apers that the McKinley administration ct, classifying worsted cloths as woolens, is f no force, as it was never passed, there eing no quorum in Congress at the time when it was said to have been passed. Judge Lacombe granted an order requir ing the Appraiser of the Port and the other Government officials to file in court all the documents upon which they base their action in enforcing the duty complained of by the petitioners.

Romane Leach, aged about 40 years and a batchelor, resided in that village and traveled in the West for a Chicago house. Last Wednesday friends there received word that Mr. Leach's dead body lay at a Chicago undertaker's establishment. Mr. Leach's father telegraphed to friends in Chicago, who identified the remains and they were shipped to Geneseo for burial. The bearers who were all acquaintances o

ARCHDUKE OTTO HUNTED BY A BOAR

LONDON, October 28 .- The row between the Chevalier Scovel and Mr. Sedger, the manager of the Prince of Wales Theater, has caused a great deal of talk in theatrical circles, and it is not over yet. It is difficult to get at the real source of the difficulty, as neither party is willing to tell the exact

The fact, however, is that Mr. Scovel, who boasts it is not his voice, but his figure, which makes him valuable to managers, fancied Miss Geraldine Ulmar, the prima donna of "La Cigale," was "mashed" on him, and every night he played his part of the stage lover with so much passion that he caused the lady a great deal of annoyance, which culminated on Saturday by Mr. Scovel hugging her so tighht in one of the scenes that she nearly fainted. She struggled to get loose from his embraces, and even the audience noticed Miss Ulmar's anger. She left the stage in a high temper, and not only refused to speak to Mr. Scovel, but went to Mr. Sedger and complained of the insult to

Mr. Scovel replied he would leave, but after sleeping over the matter he decided he would make his manager stick to the contract, and he therefore got his lawyer to write a letter to that effect. Mr. Sedger kept him out of the bill for five nights, and then, in order to save a lawsuit and to prevent Miss Ulmar's name being dragged into the dispute, he consented to take Mr. Scovel back on a promise of good behavior. Fighting Reported From the Cantons Ticino and Fribourg. By Associated Press. ]

BERNE, October 28 .- A dispatch from Fribourg, capital of the Canton of Fribourg, 17 miles southwest of this city, states that the result of the elections held there on Sunday last was productive of much ill feeling. The Radicals accused the Conservatives of winning by unfair means. Charges and counter charges were made until to-day, when the trouble culminated in serious con-

Dutch Parliament, all the members of both Houses being present, Dr. Mackay, Minister of the Colonies, announced that in the opinion of the doctors who had examined the King, His Majesty's health was such that he was incapacitated from performing the duties of the Government. HON. J. H. OSMER'S FIRST SPEECH

In Behalf of Mr. Pattison a Hard Hit at Machine Politics.

MANY OTHER MEETINGS LAST NIGHT

Though the weather last night greatly decreased the size of the crowd of Independent Republicans at Lafayette Hall, it could not dampen their ardor, and what at first looked like a meager reception, proved rather to be an ovation. The people were full of enthusiasm for the cause they champion, and cheer after cheer greeted the speakers as they made their most

There was one of Parliament for the Middle Division of man who had never before made a speech in Tipperary, and others, on the charge of as-saulting policemen at the opening of the favor of Mr. Pattison. Then the Montooth Band furnished the musical portion of the programme, "What's in a Name?" This band is composed mainly of Republicans, from Mozambique to the effect that the British gunboats Mosquito and Herald have safely ascended the Shire and entered the Ruo river. Letters of recall have been sent who named their organization after the man they greatly admire and honor. Last night the announcement was made that every member of the band was ready to vote for Pattison, and their little ballets will tell its tale on next Tuesday. The crowd began cheering at the appearance of the first man on the stage, and the applause continued until the last moment, when a grand cheer was given for Governor Pattison, the man they hope to again see seated in the Gubernatorial chair. The mere mention of his name called for the wild applause and enthusiasm of those who braved the elements to come out to hear the issues of the campaign discussed by members of their own party who have refused to obey the party lash and now stand firm for Pattison and reform.

THE THANKS OF MR. PIER. "I thank you for the honor conferred in jail as she feared that her liberty would upon me to-night, and am thankful that we can stand out against the domineering power of bossism. Has the Republican party forgotten how Matthew Stanley Quay betrayed Curtin, whom he had promised to belles of Keyport, eloped with Count De Vere, of Holland. The Count was fabusupport for United States Senator? Have we forgotten how he opened the doors of the lously rich, according to his own computa-tion of his income, but he soon deserted his penitentiary to his partner and his gang who confessed to having bribed a Legislature? Has the Republican party of Pennsylvania forgotten its glorious past? Can she so far forget her self-respect as to overlook these facts? Because these charges are made by persons of responsibility.
"Quay has been challenged to enter suit for libel, and has not availed himself of the opportunity to compel the proof of these charges. Therefore, can the people of Pennsylvania so demean themselves as to elect his creature who was never heard of until Quay thrust him upon the party as the candidate for Gubernatorial honors. If so, it is time to bow our heads in shame. [Some one says: "That's so."] I don't believe this one says: "That's so."] I don't believe this will be the result announced next Tuesday. [A voice: "Not if we can help it."] The great 'State of Allegheny,' as Lincoin expressed it, will give a majority, and a big majority, for Robert E. Pattison.
