SEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. BEAVER, October 28 .- About 150 workingmen, including representatives of the various trades unions in the Beaver Valley, and a few from the Farmers' Alliance met at the Court House here this afternoon and neminated a full Assembly and county S. S. Taylor, of South Beaver township, organizer of the Farmers' Alliance in Beaver and Lawrence counties, presided. Between 1 and 2 o'clock a small body from the Beaver Falls Trades Council, preceded by a band, marched to the Court House. The convention was slow in getting under way owning to the tardiness of the delegates. A report became current that agents of both the leading parties had been sent into the remote rural districts, to circulate the report that the meeting had been postponed until Thursday. When the list of delegates was called there were many districts which falled to respond.

All of the eight alliances, however, were repre-sented. The Chatrman defined the object of the meeting to be to nominate a People's ticket, not made up of politicians, in the interests of their friends, and in some instances in the interests of their families. During the absence of a committee, which

During the absence of a committee, which repaired to the grand jury room to prepare a ticket, a lively discussion waged in the convention over a question as to how the delegates were chosen. One member intimated that the Trades Councils were attempting to run the convention. This was indignantly denied, and the statement made that the people, irrespective of purty, were running it. The discussion in the jury room at times became rather heated, and the sound of continued cheering was heard from the committee.

siring fresh goods at a fair price. Shop-worn and poorly made goods are not desirable at any price. Especially is this true in furniture. We are glad to note that the average furniture dealer in this city, relying, as he does, on the people of this immediate vicinity, has nothing but fresh stock. Not so are certain stores of larger cities, where they sell to outsiders such stock as they cannot dispose of to their own people. Some stores, very few in the furniture business, we are glad to note, speak of nothing else in their advertisements but closing sales, bargains here, bargains there. If these are honest savings, one is led to believe they had nothing else to sell. Do you think such a firm could exist, with all sales made up of goods (at cost?) (and below?) We doubt the truth of such sayings. Right here, we wish to call your attention to a complete assortment of furniture, all patterns new and practicable, not one of which will command any price but the one that is necessary to produce such an article. Respectfully,

This advertisement will not do us one-tenth part of the good that the genuine service you'll get out of the Shoes we have named will when you come to wear them. There are plenty of other Shoes that look as nice on paper and even in the windows of the various Shoe shops about town, but you'll find none at the price that will give you the service these will. We are putting our best apples on top when we call your attention to these Please take particular notice that this sale does not close in three days, but will continue as long as the goods last. We won't deceive you by making you think, that there's any scarcity of goods, either. We've plenty of them.
