A Pittsburger Returns From the East and Talks About Fitzsimmons, the Pugilist.

HE IS TOO STRONG FOR DEMPSEY.

Deminick McCaffrey Gives His Opinion of the Battle Between Dixon and Murphy.

PLAYERS' LEAGUE MAGNATES MEET.

Cary Fails to Break Any Records-General Sporting News of the Day.

A local gentleman who is an ardent admirer of sporting events, particularly boxing, returned from a visit to New York yesterday. He had much to say regarding sporting matters generally, and made a few interesting remarks about the opinion of the Eastern talent concerning Dempsey and Fitzengmons. He said: "It is the general opinion in the East that Pitzsimmons is a much superior man to Dempsey. The former is one of the nost remarkable minitle-weights there has been for years. Dominick McCaffrey told me that Frasimmons was a powerful man and does not earry an ownce of superfluous flesh. He mot earry an ownce of superfluous flesh. He considers her better than Goldsmith Maid, who so long reigned queen of the turf in his stands about 5 feet 11 and his chest, when expanded, measures 43 inches. He is always as panded, measures 43 inches. He is always as leard as nails and his advantage in reach and height over Jempsey is probably more than the latter can overcome. Fitzsimmons must be a powerful man, because he knocked a heavy man like Arthur Upham down six times in one round. This would containly remained to engage a pitcher and each for the last secured Jack Sharrott, who pitched for the South to-day. like Arthur Upham down six times in one round. This would certainly require more power than Dempsey is likely to possess. From what I could learn down East Fitz-sammons is something of the build of McClelsimmons as something of the build of inciden-land, the pedestrian, but of a larger type, Certainly, Dempsey has a lost of followers, just as Collier had when he met Edwards. The victories of Dempsey have won for him thou-sands of admirers and many of them will back him against noybody his own weight. He is one of those gental men that almost all of us would like to see win but our sympathies and could like to see win but our sympathies and would like to see with the soft sympathies and his ablitties are two different things. "Bonninek McCaffres," continued the speaker, "gave me his opinion of the Dixon-Murphy battle. Dominick was a spectator of the battle and be told me that Murphy had no nance to defeat Dixon. The latter was so much inerior in reach and height that Murphy outdoot touch him. Dixon had he hands on himphy's face mimost all the time. There is so much talk going on in New York about a still be setween Corbett and Slavin. Jack Haverly Tells How Reenan Did Not Kill Tom Sayers.

"In 1860," said Jack Haverly, "I made a pilgrimage to England to witness the fight beto see Heesan win; I felt that he had to win or I'd go like Diogenes and live in a tub. THE Hamilton eleven is a sad disappointment, topened the season with the dash of a champion, ut is rapidly losing ground and games. YALE evidently is doing more punting than either Princeton or Harvard. In fact, it seems as though it was the only way in which she is able to gain ground.

THE U. of P. eleven is broken up, the disabled men being Dewey, Schoff, Watkins, Church, Camp and Griffiths. All can play, but have to exert themselves with care. It is claimed for it that it is much lighter, that it is claimed for it that it is much lighter, that it is used a longer, and that split hoods are never known in horses using it. It is perfectly smooth at the bottom, no calks being required, the shot adhering firmly to the most polished surface. Its classicity prevents many sprains, the horse's steps being lighter and surer.

FELLOW-SPORTSMAN'S HAND. The Sad Fatality That Marked the Opening Day of New Jersey's Deer-Hunting Season-A Man Named Hoffman Shot in Mistake for a Deer.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) MAYS LANDING, N. J., November 2 .-Atlantic county's greatest sport, the season for shooting deer, came in yesterday, and from early morning until late at night the woods were full of hunters. On Friday RECORD OF EVENTS IN THREE STATES night several hundred sportsmen arrived in the county from Philadelphia, New York and Camden, ready to try the shooting on the first day of the season. For the past three years it has been unlawful to hunt or shoot deer in New Jersey, and this has been the cause of making deer plentiful in the lower counties of the State. Atlantic county's greatest shooting ground is the large belt of land known as the Jersey Pines, which is one long range of pines for many miles. In the midst of this dense wood is situated a small tavern, known as Doughty's tavern, where lives Uncle David McClure, the most famous deer hunter in New Jersey. Here many deer are killed each year. Hunters congregate here during the season from all parts of the country to hunt under the guidance of Uncle Dave and his four sons. Yesterday morning several parties of hunters started from the point, and succeeded in killing several deer dur-ing the day. David Ford and Joshua Smith each killed a deer about three miles from this place. A party of Atlantic City gun-ners also killed two deer. Andrew Bozarth, an old hunter of this place, and a party of other gunners started six deer in two hours at Catawba, Atlantic county, and killed one

The opening day of the season was unfortunately marked by a fatality that has cast a gloom over this locality. OLD SHOPLIFTER NAILED.

One of the Members of the Notorious Rensch Gang Caught. CHICAGO, November 2 .- Matilda Naylor, one of the boldest and most successful shoplifters in the West, was caught at the fair vesterday while transferring a valuable plush cloak from the counter to a large pocket in her dress. To give her an air of respectability, she carried a child in her arms, and when the special policeman at the store arrested her she uttered an agonizing shrick and fell to the loor in a faint. Water was dashed in her face and she soon recovered. The woman made such a touching appeal for mercy and clung to thechild so lovingly that the fair people were inclined to be lenient with her. She claimed to be the wife of an honest, hard-working mechanic, and that she was driven to commit the theft through want and sickness. While explaining her queer conduct she kept edging toward the door, and when she had nearly reached it made an effort to escape. The Central police station was notified, and Officer Thomas brought her to headquarters. Some of the old-time detectives identified the woman as a member of the notorious Rensch family. Six years ago she was ar-rested for shoplifting at Mandel Bros. The police found nearly $1,000 worth of silks in her room on the North Side. She was not prosecuted at that time. A woman answering her description has been stealing from the big downtown stores of late,

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS.

The President Reported to Have Decided to Call it for November 10.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR ! WASHINGTON, November 2.-The talk in regard to an extra session of Congress is revived to-night by rumors that the President will call a session, beginning about November 10. The legislation in contemplation is the same that has been already and repeatedly announced, and the main reason for calling an extra session would be to gain two or three weeks of time. The shortness of the regular session is worrying the Republicans not a little, as they do not see how they can push through the Federal elections bill, the re-apportionment bill and the other special measures which they have on the carpet, together with the necessary appropriation pills and other routine business between December and March.

Three additional weeks in November yould be of great advantage to them. The President has been in favor of an extra ses-sion from the first, and although it is not positively known that he has decided to call one, the probability that he will do so has become much stronger within the last 24

MR. MARSHALL JOHNSTON

The Well-Known Attorney, Had Dyspepsia 35 Years.

Cured at Last by the Physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institue.

Probably no member of the Allegheny County Bar is more favorably and widely known than is Mr. Marshall Johnston, and whose office is at the corner of Cherry and Diamond streets, this city. He says:

"I had been afflicted with dyspepsia for about 35 years. My stomach became very sore, and tender, and troubled me much in the night Even the weight of any clothes pressing against it would cause it to ache and pain me. I had to be very careful of my diet, as many kinds of food would sour on my stomach and cause eructations of gas. I had a catarrhal secretion of mucus, dropping from my head into my throat, which caused me considerable annoyance. Also had pain in my chest, and I felt a tired, languid feeling.

"Not receiving lany real" benefit from any doctors I had tried, I called upon the catarrh specialists at 323 Penn avenue, and was told that my trouble was all caused from a catarrhal poison in my system, but that I could yet be cured. I began treatment and improved from the first. In two months I felt entirely cured. I now weigh more than ever before, and my stomach has not felt so well in 35 year."

"MARSHALL, JOHNSTON.

TESTIMONIALS SHOWING THE PER-MANENCY of the cures made by the catarrh and dyspepsia specialists will from time to time be published. Mr. Fred Hahn, a resident of Sharpsburg, was one of the greatest sufferers that ever applied at the Catarrh and Dyspepia Institute for treatment. A history of his case is now published again to show how complete and permanent is his cure. He had for years been a victim of catarrh and dyspepsia. His stomach gave him an endless amount of trouble. He had belching of gas from his stomach after eating, sour taste

Mr. Fred Hahn. and often felt like vomiting his food. His appetite was poor, and as his liver was much en-larged it gave him great pain. In fact, he would often be taken with such sharp cramps would often be taken with such sharp cramps and pain across his stomach and lowels it seemed as if he could not live. He had palpitation of the heart, dizziness, weakness and pain across the small of his back, and a numb, lifeless feeling in his limbs. He could get but little sleep, and as every change of weather gave him a cold, he took on a lingering cough. His breath became short and he felt pain and soreness in his lings and under his shoulder blades. Night sweats weakened him very fast, and he gradually grew worse until he lost 30 pounds of flesh.

Having a wife and two small children, whom he dearly loved, depending on him for a living, and having spent all his money in dectoring to no avail, not being able to work, he became discouraged and disheartened, and ofter became so melancholy that he would feel tempted to jump into the river and thus end his suffering. One day he noticed in the paper an account of a patient who had been cured by the catarrh specialists at 323 Penn avenue of conditions that seemed similar to his own. He resolved to call on these specialists. He did so, and was told he could yet be cured. Although he had but little faith, he resolved to try once more, and after taking a A width of Reed street, from Soho to Center avenue.
