Fourth Annual Convention of the Pennsylvania Union, Y. P. S. C. E.

A RECEPTION AT THE CHURCH.

Visiting Delegates Given a Warm Welcome

ELOQUENT AND INTERESTING TALKS

"Coward, Christian soldiers nual convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of Pennsylvania, at its opening session last night. The Fourth avenue Baptist Church was well filled with the delegates and their friends of this city, showing that this sort of Christian work meets with the approval of the average left is another motte, "One is Your Master - Even Christ, and All Ye Are Brethren." Always facing these mottes, and working under them, this organization of young people can do great work in the Christianization of the world.

According to the address of Mr. J. W. Baer, of Boston, general secretary of the United Societies, Pennsylvania stands second in the list of States as to the numerical strength of the order. The workers in vania, and in fact all over the world.

Last night was a night of welcome and the local committees made the visiting delegates feel that they are truly welcome to he city, and the convention gives promise of being a most pleasant as well as profitable one Rev. H. C. Applegarth, Jr., of the Fourth Baptest Church, made an eloquent address of welme on behalf of the churches of the city. During the course of his address he said:

Christian Emileavor:

It is my privilege to address words of welcome to you. It is a noble honor. It is a coremony not devised to set a gloss on scant deeds, but a real hearty welcome. You are welcome to our hearts and to our homes, and to every mode and cramp of this section of the earth.
It is now a place beautiful for location and magnificent to look upon. It is the joy of every This house.

You are Endeavorers, and as such we wel-"You are Endeavorers, and as such we welome you. The time was when the denominations looked askance at each other, but now all is beautifully harmonious. You illustrate a optendid phase of applied Christianity. Theoetical Christianity has taken its place. You are welcome, but words should be the least excession. This city and this church should two you a sple-did welcome for the work you all die white among us."

On behalf of the Allegheny County Christian adeavor Union Rev. F. R. Farrand, its Presiwelcomed the visitors in a manner that ande them welcome. In his address he said,

From the shore we see ocean's billows and from, and many looking upon it imagine that that is all there is. But down below can be found the secrets of Old Ocean's power. So in the Christian Endeaver movement. Many see only the flourish, but deep down in our hearts can be found the true spirit of the work. We thank you for what we have received and the much more that we exceet."

Mr. J. W. Bear, the General Secretary, proved an elequent talker, and his address on the status of the work at large proved the decident feature of the evening's most interesting secreties. He said that the Christian Endeaver novement had started mine years age in Maine, and now it has engineded the globe and has reached Maine again. The movement emittaces societies in 22 evangelical churches. The Presisyletians lead, with the Emptists and congregationalists having a close race for second place. It now reaches every civilized downtry, and is sending out missionaries to the brathen lands.

son why Marbury street, the only thoroughfare that connects Oakland with the river, should be vacated at its entrance. Somebody, he thinks, wants this strip of ground, 40x105 feet, now a street, for building lots.
"If Marbury street is vacated," said he, there is a large tract of building property, yet unimproved, that will not likely ever be worth much, but which is now fairly valuable. Marbury street could, with reasonable expense, be made one of the best streets in that part of the city, and there is no truth in the statements made by those who wish it vacated that it is not and cannot ever be a good thoroughfare. I think as long as there is any property to be injured by it a street should not be vacated because a few abutting property holders desire it. There are a number who object to this vacation."

Almost the same sentiments were expressed by President Holliday and Councilmen Bigham and Perry at a, meeting of the Committee on Surveys yesterday. The committee had several ordinances contemplating the vacation of streets before it, among which was one for vacating Junilla street from Center avenue to Elba street. E. B. Gardener and R. B. Petty each own houses fronting on Center avenue, and Junilla street passes between their lots, which are on a steep hillside. Junilla street has never been opened to travel, but when Messrs. Petty and Gardener purchased, it was with the understanding that there was a 40-foot street between them, and this strip was used by each for a spiral roadway to their separate home. Recently they have decided that the street should be vacated, and that they should have the 40 feet divided between them and 20 feet added to each of their properties. An ordinance was presented to Councils, where it was referred to the committee which met yesternance was presented to Councils, where it was referred to the committee which met yester-

ANOTHER FALSE RUMOR

Started About the Brosi Forgery Case on the

It is now confidently expected that Brosi, the alleged Southside forger, will be brought back from Canada within the next few days. As stated in these columns on Monday, the final argument in his case was made last Saturday, and it was reported on the Southside last night that the officials here had been notified to go after the prisoner.

The rumor was denied, however, at the Twenty-eighth ward station house, the officials there saying there was nothing new in the case. They admit, though, that they may be called after the prisoner.

THREE MORE FIRMS SIGN The Salesmen's Scale, but the Old Stores Are Still Doing Business. The salesmen yesterday added three other stores to the list of houses recognizing their assembly: Goldstein's, of Sixth street: Wagner's of Wood street and Fourth avenue, and Caskey's, of Smithfield street. The remaining six firms, which have hitherto accepted the terms laid down by the Salesmen's Assembly, have now cast loose from the union. They have obtained sufficient men from outside points to enable them to run their business, and as far as the buying public is concerned the strike is over, as the routine of the stores yesterday proceed as usual.

On the other hand, the labor organizations have taken up the cause of the strikers, and have promised them support. This means that they will help the salesmen now out of work, financially, until they obtain employment in another direction, and that they will recommend their members not to patronize those stores which elected to dispense with organized assistants.
