Mayor Gourley Considers the Advisability of Calling a Citizens' Meeting to Extend an

The Mayor was yest arday approached by sympathizers with the Irish cause, and requested to take steps toward sending such an invitation and organizing a committee of reception. Mr. Gourley expressed himself as deeply interested in the project, and promised to consult upon its advisability with several prominent citizens this afternoon. In discussing the matter, he said

APPOINTMENT OF THE PENSION AGENT

The inauguration of Governor Pattison at Harrisburg will be attended by a large number of Pittsburg Democrats and Independent Republicans. They will have plenty of company from East and West. The Randall Club will be there in all the glory of black Mackintoshes, white plugs and red umbrellas. The County Democracy is making preparations to attend, and while the Independent Republicans are not organized, it is expected that many of them will attend the inauguration of the Governor of their making. The Randall Club opened the ball last evening by appointing a committee to make arrangements for the trip to Harrisburg. This committee consists of Messrs. A. F. Keating, J. E. McCrickart, S. A. Duncan, J. P. Fleming and B. J. Foley. The gentlemen who will take charge of the financial end of the affair are Messrs. T. J. O'Leary, Jr., H. T. Morris, Thomas McBride, S. F. Mr. O'Leary said last night: "This in auguration will be the greatest ever held in Pennsylvania. It is impossible to estimate the number of persons who will go from Pittsburg. An Allegheny Council Committee Wants Fully That Amount

TO MAKE GOOD STREET PAVEMENTS A Special Meeting Called to Devise Means of Raising Funds.

ORDINANCE FOR SPECIAL TAXATION

"We must stop first and devise means of raising funds. Why refer ordinances for paving streets, when the treasury is empty. There is no other city in the United States that has as poor streets as Allegheny. I do not believe it advisable to discriminate in favor of Rebecca or any other street, until first some way is found of raising funds, And then let a general crusade of street improvements commence, taking the worst first, and keeping at it until Allegheny has better streets throughout.

"Mr. Chairman, I move that a special meeting of the Street Committee be called to devise means of raising funds. Then the Finance Committee can meet with the Street Committee and come to an understanding before the new Councils are organized. I believe we should raise a fund each year, by taxation, to improve the streets. An ordinance to that effect should be passed by Councils."

contended that when it was finished there would be no further complaint on the part of consumers of a deficient supply of gas.

The importance of this connection was never more fully recognized than during the recent gas famine in Pittsburg and Allegheny. People who were out of patiunce and who suffered much inconvenience through the falling off or total stoppage of the fow were assured that they would have no cause for complaint when the new main was in operation. STARTED THE BALL ROLLING. The above quotation is from the lips of Charles Hartman, at the Allegheny Street Committee meeting last night. The words when the new main was in operation.

Superintendent Wilcox said last night that there would be no more grumbling about shortage of supply, or defect in pressure, as the new main would not only furnish all the gas needed in Pittsburg, but there would be an abundant supply for the Allegheny Heating. are significant as the keynote of a very important movement in Allegheny. Mr. Hartman but expressed the opinion of others of the man but expressed the opinion of others of the committee, and set the ball rolling. As a result, a special meeting, as suggested, was called for November 20.

The appropriation necessary to meet the demands will not fall below $500,000, and some of the committeemen think it will take $1,000,000 to fix Allegheny's streets. The members are thoroughly enthused over the subject, and say that they propose to have Allegheny's streets in good condition just as soon as possible. The improvements will be made on a systematic plan, the most important streets taken first, and as much done at a time as the funds will allow.

This sudden resolve to better Allegheny's This sudden resolve to better Allegheny's streets was brought about in an unexpected manner, but it was by no means spasmodic. The committeemen had been reading a good deal of the poor streets. The subject has been talked over in Allegheny, with great interest, for months, and though rather unexpected just now, it was not strange that the committeemen should fall in with the move with such street.

CAUGHT A QUORUM AT LAST. The Street Committee held its first full meeting for a long time last night. At a prior meeting a quorum was not present. Allegheny meeting a quorum was not present. Allegheny politicians have been busy attending to waterworks and lighting, and finally the election, and the streets were forgotten. As a result, when a full meeting was obtained last night, the table in front of Chairman McAfee was piled up with work.

The committee waded through some of the minor ordinances and other business in a sort of a sleepy way, until the Federal street paving ordinance came up and was finally passed. Then the committeemen worked along again, until the air in the room seemed drowsy. C. W. Neeb called up an ordinance to pave Rebecca street, from Craig street to Western avenue.

nue. Chairman McAfee said: "Pardon me, but we Chairman McAfee said: "Pardon me, but we have do funda." It was at this juncture that Mr. Hartman arose and spoke as quoted.

Mr. Neeb wanted to get his ordinance through before the storm came, and though the others generally seconded Mr. Hartman's remarks Mr. Neeb kept pecking away, insisting on the ordinance, until at last it was allowed to pass.

Mr. Knox wanted to include all the streets. Mr. McAfee said: "I believe that we must first adopt a plan and get funds. I don't believe in discriminating between the streets when all are in such need of improvements. Rebecca street needs paving, but so does Ohlo street, and so do many others. I see the papers have taken up this cry of poor streets, and I think that it is about time Allegheny awakens to the stuation."

The father of the child made affidavit ed in the advocacy of better streets and a ance. The father of the child made affidavit to the Coroner, yesterday, that he had been ill for several days with a bad coid. At 5 o'clock yesterday morning the symptoms grew serious, and an Allegheny physician was sent for, but refused to come without being paid in advance. Dr. Bloome was next called, but the child died before his arrival. The Coroner will investigate further to-day.

joined in the advocacy of better streets and a meeting to devise means of raising funds. The others did not object.

Before Committeman Neeb could leave the room he was button-holed and the matter placed before him. Mr. Neeb had got his ordinance through the committee and, having won, was not inclined to kick about plans for a general street-paving crusade.

It is expected that the matter will be pretty well talked about before the special committee meeting. A plan of raising the money will by that time have been formulated, and the first installment necessary decided upon.

NOT ROOM ENGUGH.

Increasing Necessity of a New City Hall in Allegheny.

Mayor Wyman, of Allegheny, said yesterday that something must soon be done to relieve the crowded condition of City Hall. The departcrowded condition of City Hall. The departments have no room to work in, and there is no way in sight of increasing the capacity.

The scheme to build an addition to the City Hall has hung fire, and many are now of the opinion that an addition is not what is wanted. They think it would not be advisable, but instead the old building should be razed and a new one erected, from the ground up. Under the present status of affairs the authorities fear that the building scheme cannot be pushed before another year. In the meantime, it is possible that some of the offices may be rearranged, to use every bit of space to the best advantage.

After Being Out of Work for Five Days the Salesmen Get Nearly All They Went After - A Compromise Effected as to Christmas Eve.

The Building Trades Council has been accessful in bringing about a settlement of the salesmen's strike. Committees representing the council and the Salesmen's Assembly had an all-day conference with the store proprietors yesterday at the Hotel Schlosser, with the result that the merchants practically yielded all the demands put forward by the assembly in its new scale.

The salesmen conceded one holiday, and fur-o'clock, if they were allowed to close at 7:30 o'clock instead of 8 o'clock through that week. The main point, that of closing the stores one hour earlier on Saturdays, was acceded to. It was agreed last night that the proprietors would not have so soon abandoned their position if it had not been for the backing given the salesmen by the Trades Council and other organizations. That the organizations at large so readily acquiesced in a movement for the shortening of the salesmen's hours is regarded as an outcome of the general feeling in that regard pervading labor bodies.

This is a stipulation made by the store-keepers, and it is has been recognized as a fair one. So far from the storekeepers concerned in the strike being affected by their tilt with the labor bodies, they will profit by the additional amount of trade which will be thrown into their hands through this sentiment. A united more hands through this sentiment. A united move ment against non-union employes and non union stores is well on foot, and the merchant and traders who are perspicacious enough to see the trend of events will be the earliest to profit

THE KNIGHTS' CONVENTION.

Delegates Leaving To-Morrow for Denve for the General Assembly. Two of the Pittsburg delegates to the 1800 General Assembly of the Knights of Labor will leave for Denver to-morrow. Joseph will leave for Denver to-morrow. Joseph Evans will represent District 3, and George A. Kamback the green bottle blowers' assembly. Louis Arrington was originally elected as the blowers' delegate, but he has decided not to go, and his alternate will represent that body. It is believed that Powderly will be re-elected if he seeks the office. There is known to be a strong feeling against him, but the Master Workman is credited with the power of making the delegates turn at his will. The feeling against him is still strong, and there are those in this district who maintain that even should he run again for office that the Knights will have no more of him. John B. The American Window Glass Compan About Ready to Do Business.

H. Sellers McKee said last night that the Eastern window glass men were forming a com pany on the same lines as the United Glass Company. He believed that they would be absorbed by the American Window Glass Company in time. He thinks that the final arrangements fo launching the company will be perfected by the next meeting, which will be held on the 25th. Everybody recognizes it to be a good thing for the trade that this plan was brought about. Jobbers would be benefited in getting goods under some degree of warranty, and would buy on discounts according to the extent of their purchases. Every manufacturer will still retain his individuality, and obtain such prices as will follow on the quality of his output.

Penn Avenue Residents Kicking Before the Board of Viewers-The Latter Exhibits the Cost of Paving the Thoroughfare With Asphalt.

The proposition submitted was that the Duquesne Traction Company pave between its rails with Belgian block, the rest of the pavement to be of asphalt, the cost of the latter to be equally divided between the city and the abutting property.

The Board of Viewers submitted the following statement of cost of the asphalt: Paving 16,875 yards, at $3 45..... Curbing 483 lineal feet, at 75c..... Re-setting 10,412 feet of curb, at 25c . $58, 218 7

After talking the matter over for a time it was decided that a meeting should be held on Monday evening at the rooms of the Linden Club.
