THE BALM OF GILEAD

Poured Upon Some Blasted Political Hopes and Ambitions in

A SERMON BY REV. E. R. DONEHOO.

Some Bible Lessons Drawn From the Late Cyclone of Surprises.

REV. S. W. M'CORKLE IN HIS NEW FIELD

"Disappointments in Life," was the sub ject of Rev. E. R. Donehoo's sermon at the Eighth Presbyterian Church, yesterday morning. The text chosen was from Proverbs xv. 22: "Without council, purposes are disappointed." The sermon was a sort of balm of Gilead to those whose hopes had been blasted in the late election. The following were made a good introduction to

However we trust to mortal things.
Each bath its pair of folded wings:
Though long their terrors rest unspread,
Their fatal plumes are nover shed;
At last, at last, they stretch in flight,
And blot the day and blast the night.

After moralizing to some extent on the vanities of life, Rev. Mr. Donehoo said: "Disappointments in life" is a practical theme as suggested to me at this time by the feelings to which multitudes have given expression, and other multitudes have secretly felt, over the surprising results of the political conflict which ended on the evening of November 4

THE WORK OF ONE DAY.

On that day the great party which has domtuated the fate of this nation for well nigh 30 years went forth to the strife with a confidence begotten of past successes, which gave no begotten of past successes, which gave no augury of the fate which was in store for its disciples. Without a single misgiving, when the day's work was ended, they retired to rest, confident that the morrow would only bring a repetition of past triumpbs.

That man who pretends that he was not surprised at the issue of this conflict no matter what may have been his private preferences in the matter, must either have been endowed with a prophetic ken such as would have shamed the Seven Wise Men of Greece, or else he is rickly worthy of a position in the front rank of Dixmont's most hopolessly visionary lunatics.

The disappointment of the many who stand The disappointment of the hany wo stand appalled before what they regard as a calamitous defeat, their tongues paralyzed to explain the course of this studen and momentous political upheaval, is only surpassed by the imperturable complacency of a lot of small-beer politicians who appropriate to themselves all the credit of having brought about the result.

Mr. Doosbor and it was not but our ones. Mr. Donehoo said it was not his purpose to point out the cause of the overthrow of party and triumph of another. Continuing, he said: STRUCK AS BY A CYCLONE. All I know is that the purposes of many were sadly disappointed by this astounding political cotland's bard said a long time ago:

This much also do I know, that disappoint ments, however distasteful they may seem to us, are not without their salutary lessons, which, it rightly improved, will eventually re-sult in far greater good to us than if we had ever met them. Some of the greatest geniuse n the world's history have risen to fame and ortune on the stepping-stones of disappoint

Heferring at another time in his discourse to the late election, Rev. Mr. Doneboo said: We forget that our loss of times is some-ody's gain. While it is true that 340,000 citizens this Commonwealth were sadly disappoint d over the issue of the late election, and are ceply grieved that their leader has met with deeply grieved that their leader has met with defeat, it should not be forgotten that 380,000 other citizens are as happy as can be that they have succeeded in their desires.

Whenever it comes to this, that a man feels that nobody but himself is to have his own way, it generally happens that something intervenes to bring him around to a sudden realization of the fact that this world is not run for his special benefit. The moment that Napoleon came to think that he was master of his own destiny, and that everything must give way to his schemes and ambitious, that moment St. Helena hegan to loom up in the distance, toward which, despite his temporary triumphs and illusive dreams, he slowly drifted.

THE TIME FOR A BERBUKE.

THE TIME FOR A REBUKE.

The moment you grow so selfish as to fee that it is a calamity if everything does not move to your personal advantage, that moment you are getting into shape to receive signal reouke from Him who overrules the greater events in our several lives for the working out of His inscrutable plans and the chastisement our selfish schemings. It is a fact, which the individual experiences

It is a fact, which the individual experiences of multitudes will abundantly confirm, that the disappointments which befall us in life often prove to be blessings in disguise, disciplining us for future usefulness, renewing us for more earnest efforts and paving the way for future triumphs, before which the things which we vaiuly strove for in the past seem utterly trivial and valueless.

Make a study of your disappointments as they befall you; accept them with intelligent resignation, not with stoical indifference, or as the result of a blind fate, but as sent upon you for your training for better things yet in store for you. And, God's word for it, all these things will work out for you a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory" in His own good time and pleasure. Ask counsel of God, why all these things have been visited upon you, nocept the lessons, which He thus sends to you, and then shall it eventually fall out that you will have abundant reason for exclaiming: you will have abundant reason for exclaiming: "Blessed be this disappointment which overturned all our plans and brought our purpose

ENTERED UPON HIS WORK. REV. S. W. M'CORKLE'S FIELD OF LABOR

IN ALLEGHENY. The New Pastor of the First Congregational Greets His Flock and Preaches His First Sermon-Sketch of His Ministerial Career.

First Congregational church, corper of Franklin and Manhattan streets, Allegheny. The Rev. Mr. Hills, the former pastor, has accepted a call to Olivet, Mich. Mr. Mc-Corkle was educated at Ft. Wayne, Ind., and graduated Fig. from Union Theological Seminary, New York. Then

Her. S. W. McCockle, he pursued a postgraduate course at Lane Theological Seminary, Cincinnati. After a four years' pastorate at Springfield, O., he went to Ironton. where he spent three years as pastor of the First Congregational Church.

When Mr. Hills resigned a unanimous call was extended to Mr. McCorkle, and it was accepted two weeks ago. During his stay at Ironton be received 100 members into his church and was instrumental in you of their instruments will convince you of their superiority and excellence. D into his church, and was instrumental in having built an elegant parsonage. There is no parsonage attached to the Allegheny church, and for the present the new paster and his wife-they have no children-are stopping with friends. The membership of the First Church is 350,

There was a large congregation present at the services yesterday morning, and at its conclusion Rev. Mr. McCorkle baptized three children. Before the sermon the new pastor addressed his audience in the following sponsibility which I feel at this moment is so great as to be oppressive. When Paul said to the Corinthian Church: "I was with you in weakness and fear and much trembling," h simply attered the genuine experience of a day gospel minister. No man with any true realiza-tion of what it means can enter upon such sacred work and service without such feeling, no matter what may be his intellectual and other qualifications. The reason is, it is God's work. The minister's hand takes hold of humanity and divinity. His work and words have eternal consequences, His leadership is followed and imitated by the young growing life of the community. If for any cause his life becomes dim or uncertain, somebody's eternal wreckage is a certainty.

My whole being cries out at this moment that God, who years ago commissioned me to preach the gospei, may so commissioned me to-day, and that I may feel afresh the baptism of that spirit which gives the heart of fire and the tongue of fiame. I need not ask you to give me your undivided moral, spiritual and social support, for you will give me all that and more without the asking. Nor do I need to remind you that the success which we mutually seek cannot be attained except by the hearty, constant and unswerving co-operation of all, for that is too well understood to need a statement.

BELIEF OF ALL CHRISTIANS. and now I wish to say that we all believe in the God that reigns and directs in the world and in the church. May we not therefore believe that he has brought us together in these sacred relations? If that be true, then it is for sacred relations? If that be true, then it is for a purpose. Upon this the Scriptures are emphatic, for it says He "gave some churches apostles and some prophets, and some evangelists and some pastors and teachers for the perfecting of the saints, for the edifying of the bedy of Christ, the church." Permit me to say in closing, you have greatly honored us in calling us to live and work among you. Your kind expressions and earnest prayers break us down. May God bless you a thousand fold. At the earliest possible moment we hope to locate among you and assist in carrying on the work which you have already in hand so thoroughly and grandly.

and grandly. It being communion Sunday Mr. Mc-Corkle took for his text the first chapter of Collossians, fourteenth verse, his subject being "Redemption." He discussed the source of redemption, which, he said, was the black of Children The Control of the State of t the blood of Christ. The fruitage he divided into four propositions-forgiveness, peace and joy, moral effect on the intelligence of this and other worlds, and the bringing of God's people into the open vision.

ST. PAUL'S NEW CHOIR

Reaped Golden Opinions Yesterday by Its Rendering of Haydn's Second Mass. Very deserved encomiums were passed yes-terday afternoon on the first performance of the new choir at the Cathedral. Haydn's Second Mass was rendered in a manner which was surprising, considering that but one rehearsal of the score was had. Miss Alice Carter, formerly of St. Peter's Allegheny, was the organist. Signor Gaetano Gilli sang a new hymn, "Angel's Prayer," composed by Signor S. Ro cereto, of this city, who also played the accomcerete, of this city, who also played the accompaniment, and George E. Williams, who will be remembered as a member of the Casino company, the "Ecce Deus." The quartet is composed of Miss Grace Miller, soprano; Mrs. William Loeffler, alto; Mr. Siedle, tenor, and Mr. L. L. Ricketts, basso. Miss Donnelly sang in Mrs. Loeffler's stead yesterday, owing to that lady's indisposition. Mr. William Loeffler also assisted.

also assisted.

The choir had yesterday an aggregate of 25 voices, but Mr. T. F. Kirk, on whom devolves the onerous duties of leadership, will try to raise the number to 50. The organ has been overhauled and newly refitted. A water motor for pumping dispenses with the manual exercise heretofore necessary in that direction, and disgeneral satisfaction was expressed at the initial performance under Mr. Kirk's able leadership, and the indications are toward a choir which will make St. Paul's celebrated for the quality cyclone, and that it strikingly illustrated what on the 7th of December. Special services will be held in St. Paul's Cathedral on the first Sunday in December, the 7th, on the occasion of the formal re-opening of the church. Many high dignitaries from of the church. Many high dignitaries from various parts of the country will be present. Pontifical High Mass, of which Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, will be celebrart, will be held. The sermon will be preached by Archishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, remarkable as one of the foremost pulpit orators of the country. Bisbon Keane, of the Washington University, is also expected to be present.

This will be Cardinal Gibbons' first visit to Pittsburg, and it will not be allowed to pass unnoticed. The celebrated divine seldom leaves his diocese, except when journeying abroad or on some very special occasion, and his visit to on some very special occasion, and his visit to this city will be an event in Catholic circles. Mr. T. F. Kirk is preparing a programme for the services of unusual excellence. The church has now been thoroughly re-embellished, and the formal re-opening is already looked forward to with much articipation.

AFTER A MINING COMPANY.

Uncle Sam's Agents After the Home-State Concern in the Black Hills-Charged With Taking Timber Against the Government Rules-No Indian Scare.

George C. Smith, a special agent of the located in the Black Hills, was at the Union depot last evening. He is a colored man from Mississippi, and was conspicuous on account of the fine astrakhan overcoat he wore. Mr. Smith had been called to Washington by the Commissioner to furnish information about the Home-State Mining Company, of which Senator Hearst is President. He has been engaged for the last eight months investigating the operations of this gigantic concern. He finds they have cut down about 200 square miles of timber belonging to Uncle Sam, and used it in their mines. As soon as the loss can be determined the Land Com-missioner will bring suit to recover, The Government gave the company, permission to cut down trees for mining purposes, but nothing under eight inches was to have been touched. Mr. Smith claims that this rule was violated.

"There are from 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 acres of land in my district yet to be taken up" he said. "The climate is too dry, and settlers go by the country. The people are putting down artesian wells and are meeting with some success."

"How about the Indian scare?" "The newspaper reports have been exag-gerated. The Sioux and Cheyenne tribes, with Sitting Bull, live on a reservation 50 miles from me. They are not thinking of going on the war path, and the settlers in the neighborhood are not frightened. The The Rev. S. W. McCorkie, of Ironton, O., assumed the pastorate yesterday of the the whites steal from them."

It is very important in this age of vast mate rial progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diurctic known.

Purchasing a Piano. In the purchase of a piano the best and most durable is the one wanted, but, do you always manage to get such a piano? Often does the purchaser get misled into getting an inferior instrument where the case shows resplendant, but where the interior, the action, the most important part, is very imperfect, gets loose, rattles, and becomes absolutely worthless in a short time

Such pianos are not found at the old and famous musical establishment of Mellor & Hoene, but only the best and most reliable instruments, such as have built up solid iminstruments, such as have built up solid, imperishable reputations for their worth and standard excellence, viz., the Hardman, Krakauer and Vose pianos. These are examples of absolute perfection and beauty.

Wilkinsburg Methodists Take a Vote on the Woman Question.

THEY DECIDE IN THE NEGATIVE.

Opposed to a Representation of the Fair Sex in Conference.

PASTOR CORE'S VIEWS ON THE SUBJECT

Wilkinsburg has expressed its opinion as to whether women should be allowed to go as representatives to the General Conference of the Methodist Church, and has pronounced in the negative.

The General Conference meets once in five years, and hitherto only men have been allowed to represent the different congregations of the country. It was thought that perhaps women might be eligible for this work, and it was decided to leave the question to a vote of all the Methodist congregations of the United States.

Although but little has been said about the controversy in the world at large, the matter has been discussed on all sides in the church papers. It was, therefore, expected that a great deal of interest would be manifested in the vote. This expectation was not realized in Wilkinsburg, at least. A meeting was called for Saturday evening in the Wilkinsburg Methodist Church, to vote on the question. Rev. J. L. Core, the pas-tor, presided, but only 23 members of the congregation were present, most of them ladies. After the president had explained the object of the meeting, a ballot was taken. It resulted in 13 voting against the admission of women to conferences and ten for it. Most of the negative votes were cast by ladies.

Mr. Core, in conversation with a DIS-PATCH reporter after service last evening, said:

said:

There are three reasons against women being admitted to the conferences of the church as active members. The first is that it seems to be in opposition to the teachings of the Scriptures. While women should do good work in the church in their proper sphere, it was evidently never intended that they should take part in legislating for the church. This we consider an insuparable objection in the light of Biblical teachings. The second reason is that the most desirable women for representatives to the conference would not be likely to go. The quiet, earnest, modest woman who would do effective work in the conference would not be likely to leave her home and household duties to go to a strange city for a month or so, and be among a lot of people she did not know. Hence, women unsuitable to the work would go, and the main purpose of the innovation would be lost. Finally, it would not answer from an executive point of view. You see, if women could be representatives to the conference and could have an equal voice with men, there would be nothing to prevent their becoming officers. They might be elected bishops even. In fact, there is no end to the complications that might arise.

A lady of the congregation said afterward

A lady of the congregation said afterward to the reporter that she could not see any reason why women should not be bishops.

TILELAYERS REUNITE.

They All Come Under the Wing of the Mosaic and Encaustic Union. At a meeting of the Mosaic and Encaustic Tilelayers National Union to-night, the few members of the trade who still remained within Local Union 2711, of the marble and slateworkers, and Tilelayers Union will join the former body.

This disposes of the contention which has existed in the trade. The Mosaic and En-caustic men withdrew from L. U. 2711 about a year ago, and despite the hostility of the others, increased and multiplied until they now have absorbed the parent body.

MACHINERY TRADES

Have a Council to Promote the Welfare of the Affiliated Trades.

The Machinery Trades' Council will hold its usual bi monthly meeting this evening overnment in the land department and at the usual place. This is a council similar in its purposes to the painters, carpenters and other trades councils already existing. It is composed of machinists, molders and patternmakers.
Other kindred trades will be admitted to representation as fast as organized. The blacksmiths, who held a meeting to effect an organization on Saturday, will have a delegate therein.
