Railroad Passengers Saved From Death by a Plucky Agent.

RECORD OF EVENTS IN THREE STATES

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. SCOTTDALE, November 10 .- The Arbitration Committee, consisting of Messrs. W. R. Funk, J. C. Morrow and J. L. Loneks, all citizens of this place, to which the Tip Top miners' troubles were submitted for a settlement, rendered their final decision of the difficulty this afternoon.

The arbitrators weighed carefully every point of the testimony presented to them, and it was some time before a decision could be reached. Their verdict gives universal satisfaction.

The excitement over the case has been great, and miners from all parts of the region were here to-day to learn the result. Labor leaders are jubilant over the decision, and say it has been a decisive victory for them, but the decision, as submitted by the ommittee to General Manager Lynch, of the Frick Company, and Master Workman Kerfoot, of the K. of L., speaks for itself. Following is a copy:

We, the committee to decide upon the discharge of Andrew Verostic, which occurred October 14, 1890, at the Tip Top mines of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, do say: First, we believe Andrew Verostic was wrong; second, we believe the wrong not intentionally done: third, we, therefore, decide in favor of his reinstatement.

W. R. FUNK,
J. C. MORROW,

SCOTIDALE, November 10, 1890.

Scottdale, November 10, 1890.
Trouble, however, is still brewing at the works in this region, and there is a prospect of another strike of large proportions. The labor officials to-day gave the operators of the big Morrell and Wheeler works six days' notice to adjust some grievances of the employes of those works. It at the end of this time the coubles are not settled, a strike will follow.

TERRIBLE DISASTER AVERTED.

Bailroad Passengers Saved From Death by Charles Rodebaugh.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. MCKEESPORT, November 10,-A number of people, while en route from this city last evening on board the west-bound Baltimore and Ohio mail, due here at 7:08 o'clock, had a narrow escape. Prior to the arrival of the train a long freight train passed Shaner. Just beyond this point two cars leaded with armor plate oke down, and one portion of the train passed. while the remainder was left to be run into on while the remainder was left to be run into by the west-bound express, which was due.

Taking in the situation in a moment, Mr. Charles Rodelaugh, the Shaner station agent, hurried from the station and ran up the road. When the mail came in sight the agent signalled with his lantern and succeeded in stopping the train within a few feet of the wreck. Mr. Rodebaugh received the heartfelt thanks of the passengers.

PREFERS DEATH TO HOME,

A Pretty Sixteen-Year-Old Girl Runs Away, Threatening Suicide.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCE.1 BEAVER FALLS, November 10.—One day last week Etla Donovan, a very pretty girl aged about 16 years, whose home is in New Brighton, was severely whipped by her father because she persisted in running out at night and keeping improper company. The girl took the whipping so much to heart that she ran away from home.

Saturday night her sister found her employed as a domestic at a boarding house in this place, and after much persuasion induced her to accompany her home. When they arrived near the house the girl ran away. She has not been seen since, and as she has repeatedly avowed her intention of committing suicide scoper than return home her relatives are afraid she has carried out her intentions.

of White Hall, is no longer a faster. She has taken nourishment every day during the past week. The food consisted of toast, the juice of an orange and other liquids. She canjunce of an orange and other liquids. She cannot partake of any solids and receives only the neurishment from the toast.

She complained to-day of considerable pain in the throat and chest, yet conversed quite treely. She said that during all the past months of suffering she has continually prayed that she night be able to swallow at least a few drops of liquid, and God has answered her

FEELING OF UNEASINESS. REASONS GIVEN FOR THE DECLINE OF PETROLEUM.

Some Think the Standard Oil Company is Trying to Get Square-Unprecedented Rush for Territory-Reports From the Various Fields.

The recent decline in the oil market has created a feeling of uneasiness and distrust among the producers, and to them it foreshadows a gloomy outlook for the future. ome ascribe the depression to the Standard Oil Company, who, they assert, is getting even with them for their support in the election of Mr. Pattison to the Gubernatorial chair. Others take a different view of the cause and effect, but all agree that there is something wrong, and are looking about for a remedy. Yesterday the situation was freely discused by the producers, and in oil circles was the principal theme of conversation. Mr. George H. Torry, a prominent producer, of Oil City, was seen at the Hotel Schlosser and in an interview delivered himself in the following manner: "I think that the producers are largely to blame for the present depressed state of the market. With an era of good prices the rush for good territory since the shut down movement has been unprecedented in the history of the petroleum industry, and as a result the production has been increased from 49,000 barrels at that time to practically $2,000 barrels at that time to practically $2,000 barrels a day at present. When the fact is considered that this increase is almost wholly from white sand territory it is truly a marvelous state of affairs. I have heard oil producers who have been in the business from the time of the old Sringpole days on historic Oil creek say that it was impossible to increase the production, and yet the figures conclusively show that the production has increased $5,000 barrels from this character of territory in about two years. With the present production of $0,000 wells in Pennsylvania, New York and West Virginia, and only from 10,000 to 12,000 barrels of infiated production from such districts as Wildwood, Belmont and other impromptu pools, how can we reasonably expect a decline of production during the winter months of more than the infiated output. To look ahead another year with the start of 78,000 or 80,000 barrels, which we will undoubtedly have with the advent of spring. I am of the opinion that we may reasonably expect production to approximate 100,100 barrels a day for the next year, provided that the prices are sufficiently high to enable the producer to make a monkey of himself. It is high time that the producers consult their own interests, call a halt, look the situation squarely in the face, and deal with facts as they find them. It is simply folly to assert that with the defining of the present prolific pools that there is no more territory to operate. Experience has taught us that this old stereotyped story has led us into many blunders. West a prominent producer, of Oil City, was seen at the Hotel Schlosser and its allies is to shut down the drill as far as surrounding circumstances will permit. We are getting too much oil, and there is no use denying the fact, and the sooner the producer realizes the true situation the better it will be for his bank account."

WILDWOOD—Guff; & Queen and the Forest Oil Company's Governor Pattison well, on the Rolshouse, according to an hour's gauge tonight was producing at the rate of 1335¢ barrels an hour. Grifflith and the Forest Oil Company's Ringheisen well is holding up at 30 barrels an hour, while their No. 7 whitesell made three feet and four inches in 19 hours from the first pay. The Roth Oil Company's No. 5 Harbush will most likely find the sand to-morrow, and their No. 7 should reach sand by Thursday or Friday. Byrne & Company's No. 3 Simpson is reported as doing 400 harrels a day. Greenler & Forest will in all probability tap the sand in No. 3 Rolshouse to-morrow.

BUILER—There is considerable comment and speculation among producers concerning the BUTLER—There is considerable comment and speculation among producers concerning the recent strike of Wahi & Bishop on the Jacob Dambach farm, four miles southeast from Evans City, It is the most important well in Butler county, owing to the extent of new territory the well has apparently opened up. As yet there is no way to arrive at the caliber of the well, as it was drilled wet and the well is flowing oil and water together on the ground. The rig which was destroyed by fire was completed to-night and in a few days the well will be cased and put in order, when its true status will be known. The strike has stimulated new work in this vicinity, Guckert & Steele, who have over 1,000 acres in this section, located a well to-day on the adjoining farm from the well, and will commence work at once. There is nothing particularly new to report from the Rough Run well. An operator said to THE DISPATCH scout that he visited the well Saturday, which is drilling in open sand but slightly off color. The sand was strack at 1,682 feet, which he thinks is the regular Butler county third.

1.682 feet, which he thinks is the regular Butler county third.

OARDALE—Patterson & Co.'s well, on the McFarland farm, about three miles northeast from Oakdale station, on the Panhandle Railroad, is being watched with interest. They have been fishing for a set of tools since the let of last January, and Saturday had the good luck to clear the hole; the well is 1,700 feet
deen, and is a wildcat.

BELMONT—The Brow. Oil Company have drilled in their No. 5 Jones, which is doing 400
harrels a day, and is the best well in the field;
this rate of production, however, will not hold up long. The St. Mary's well put ten inches in a 250 tank during the past 24 hours; they are still drilling.
