The Local Consolidation Deal Means That Famous Second Baseman Will be Ours.

Mr. Addison, of Chicago, Makes a Fair Offer to Sell Out, Which Will Likely be Accepted.

PLAYERS FOR THE NEW LOCAL TEAM.

Proceedings of the N. L. Annual Meeting -- General Sporting News of the Day.

At this stage of the change of the complexion of things as far as baseball is concerned it may not be out of place to state a fact or two that has been agreed upon by the local magnates of the consolidated clubs. To say that Fred Pieffer will be second baseman here next year may cause doubt in many minds; but so far as arranged he will be here, and when the fact was stated to the writer last evening by a man who knows a by-stander remarked:

"And more power to Fred."
The truth is that one of the features of consideration, as far as Mr. Auten, of Chicago, was concerned, was that Fred Pfeffer would play second base in the Pittsburg club, Mr. Auten said: "I have a friend whom I wish to protect in this breaking up. "Who and what is your man?" said Mr. O'Neil. Mr. Auten replied: "I want Mr. Pfeffer to be in this team." Why, everybody agreed to that and after Mr. Auten had mentioned Pieffer's figure everybody agreed to it, so that Mr. Auten went home to tell the genial Fred that he can play here. There is no doubt whatever but that Mr. Auten knew his business in talking about

Mr. Auten knew his business in talking about Pleffer's engagement, and certainly in Pleffer Pittsburg will really have the best second that has ever been in a Pittsburg club.

The filea and the determined intention of the local consolidates is to have a team that will for once be 'in it,' It is known that Mr. Spalding will waive all claim on Pleffer, in fact, Mr. O'Neil's late visit to Chicago means that all that has been fixed. Annon has a team that he does not want to change, and he wrote to Pittsburg a day or two ago to the effect that any city could have all the 'great' players, but he wanted only his lot of last year.

Many rumors have been floating during the last day or two about whose 'head would fall' and such like. Hanlon will be here as center fielder, and Beckley will be on first base. Staley and Galvin will be among the pitchers, and a fielder, and Beokley will be on first base. Staley and Galvin will be among the pitchers, and a successful effort will be made to retain Tommy Quinn. Corcoran will be on the team just as sure as Hanlon is there, and that is sure enough. Mr. Auten will get one or two good men and so will Hanlon, and altogether there is for once a prospect of Pittsburg having a real good team.

For a time all the efforts of the new concerted power will doubtlessly he descried by some people whose wishes of seeing people and the game going to ruin have not been fulfilled. But depend upon it that there will be a startler or two made known as far as the make up of the local team is concerned. It is now no longer a question of P. I. or N. L., but a question of getting one good team for Pittsburg. Those who try to prevent it are no friends of the game or of the patrons of the game in this vicinity.

THE JIG IS UP.

That's What the Eastern Authorities Say About the Players' League-Players Rushing to the Old Fold, Where They Were Protected.

PETECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCE. NEW YORK, November 12.-Like a dying man, the P. I. has clutched desperately at the last straw. The League has already sunk twice, and has come up again for the last time. The cry of help goes up, but not a soul who hears it will go to the rescue. Not a millionaire is in sight. They have all disappeared and the big ship which threatened to float in triumph before the American public has struck a rock, and for days has been floundering about with-out a hand at the tiller,

The National League magnates held their regular annual meeting to-day at the Fifth regular annual meeting to-day at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. More of them were present than have been at any other meeting they ever held. They had not been called to attend the wake of the Players' League, but they did to-night. That body is dead, but the last said obsequies have been put off for a couple of days, when the corpse will be laid away forever. Before the week is out no talk will be forthcoming from minor individuals and paid shunters of the Players' League as to that organization keeping on next season. The National League magnates are preparing to throw a bomb that is entirely unexpected. The players are already beginning a stampede back to the National League magnates. Those back to the National League magnates. Those who are coming are doing it quietly. They

e that the jig is un.
hight Mike Kelly had a secret talk with A. G. Spaiding. Kelly waited around the entrance of the Fifth Avenue, hid in the darkness, until the meeting of the League was over. He sent word to A. G. Spalding that he wished to see him as soon as possible. Spalding was away before anybody realized it. A Disparch away before anybody realized it. A DISPATCH reporter found them in the outside vestibule stowed away in a dark corner. Nothing of special interest was done at the N. L. meeting. The magnates met at 12:36. The session lasted until 4 o'clock. Reports were adopted, committees appointed officers elected and some minor alterations made in the rules. Then the meeting adjourned till 7 o'clock and at 8 o'clock it adjourned till 17 o'clock and at 8 o'clock it adjourned till to-morrow.

J. Palmer O'Neil showed the signed consolidation papers of the Pittsburg clubs to a Dispatch reporter to-night, and also told how the consolidation took place. He said that at the Philadelphia meeting the Pittsburg P. L. delegates were insulted by the Boston people, who told the Pittsburg men that if they could not put up money for next season they could get out. They came back to Pittsburg and notified Mr. G'Neil that a settlement might be effected.

out. They came back to ritisping and mounts.
Mr. O'Neil that a settlement might be effected.
All came together and Mr. O'Neil told them and came together and Mr. O'Neil told them that a settlement could be made on a 50 per cent basis, but that it must be made then and there. There was no discussion at all, but before half an hour was up the agreement had been signed. The Pittsburg team, Mr. O'Neil states, will next season be as follows:

Fitchers—Maul, Galvin, J. Smith, Staley, Canders—Mark, Decker Berger.

Catchers-Mack, Decker, Berger, Infielders-Beckley, Pteffer, Miller, T. Cor-Gran, Charlielders-Burke, Hanlon, Fields,

The move that is to be made is to buy out all the P. L. clubs, excepting the Boston and Phil-adelphia clubs. A very bitter feeling exists adelphia clubs. A very bitter feeling exists against Al Jelinson, as he is the one who started the Brotherhood, and is called the "Mether" of the P. L. But it is possible, in order to please the players, who think much of Joinson, that an offer will be made to him for his player. He may be given the Cincinnaticlub. The way things are Johnson's club is decomed anyway, and if he gets a cent it will be only because the N. L. desires to act in a perfectly honorable way. John B. Day was saked if the Cleveland N. L. people would be allowed to make any offer they saw fit.

"I don't think they will have the say," said Mr. Day.

Mr. Day.

"It may be left to a third party to appraise the value of Johnson's baseball belongings."

Johnson had a chance to make a compromise, but at the last minute he went back on it. This monthing, just as the League met, a telegram was received from Pittsburg, stating that Addison, of Ohicago, would dispose of his club for $25,000. He had been offered by Spalding $15,000. The price will probably be paid. In Philadelphia the Players' League club will be given a chance to join the American Associagiven a chance to join the American Associa-tion. The only club that will be likely to suf-fer or, in fact, frozen out, will be the Beston Players' League club. There is no place for it

In any League.

The last grand "bluff" of the Players' League will be played-to-morrow. When the news was received from Pittsburg that the new conference committee made up of Prince, Johnson and Ward' was on the way to this city to confer with the National League, a smile went 'round the circle of magnates. This committee will never have an opportunity to say anything as a body to the National League. "We might treat with such a committee if there was not a member of the Brotherhood in it," said John B. Dag.

A DOLEFUL ENDING.

The P. L. Delegates Adjourn and Resolve to Talk With the N. L. People. There are few things to say about the last day of the Players' League annual meeting. The delegates resolved yesterday to adjourn subjective to the call of the Chairman or any official who has the authority to call another The Players' League has been the recipient of an awful thump and that thump has been administered by its very best friends. The latter discovered that yesterday when the resignations of the Pittsburg and New York Clubs were presented and enforced. Of course officials of the P. L. denied that these resignations had been tendered. But they were.

To make all stories and conflicting statements clear, Colonel McAlpin said yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Duquesne:

"I represent the New York club, and I say that we are just as we have been. If the other clubs do not come to terms with their rivals we can and we have tendered our resignation to the Players' League. If the other clubs don't make matters up so as to end this fight, why we reserve the right to leave the organization. We are not going to make fools of ourselves and the public any longer. That's how New York stands."

The meeting resumed proceedings at 10 A. M. yesterday. There was little done except what is stated above. The conference committee were instructed to consult with the representatives of the N. L. to-morrow. That committee, Messrs. Prince, Johnson and Ward, will be in New York to-day. There was no news of interest about the P. L. annual meeting.

PRPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WILCOX, PA., November 12-There was a lively wrestling match last night between Sheriff Woodward and an unknown at the Hyde Park Opera House, in Ridgeway. The stake was for $1,000, and Woodward was thrown with ease by the alleged unknown, who was known to but a few present as redoubtable Tom Conners. There were about 800 people present at $1 per head, and Conners secured the two falls in a very few minutes, though he made an apparent effort.

Chicago Shooters Won. KANSAS CITY, November 12.-The contest between the Chicago and Kansas City teams ended to-day in a victory for the Chicago team by two birds. The totals are: Chicago, 442; Kansas City, 440.

IF l'fesser retains his intention of coming here we'll have a second baseman. THE Old League, or as general citizens would call it, the "Old Guard," is still in it. A DISPATCH from New York last evening stated that M. J. Kelly had signed with the Boston N. L.

JOHN QUINN, the well-known local sporting man, returned from the East last evening. John is a good winner on the season as far as turf in-vestments are concerned.

Most of the witnesses, against the defendant were negroes, and on the plea that the State | Fayette law did not permit blacks to testify against whites, the defense had the case removed to the United States Court, which was about to sit. At its session Blyen was convicted and sentenced to hang on January 22, 1869.

At this point the State's Attorney inter-ered and appealed the case to the United States Supreme Court. Three years passed before that body acted on the matter and ordered a new trial in the State court. In the meantime a new Prosecuting At-torney and a new Judge had been elected, and the case was postponed time and again. By and by it was dropped altogether.

THE CASE ENTIRELY FORGOTTEN. Then it was forgotten and for years has Then it was forgotten and for years has been as though it were not. It was not long until the townspeople forgot Blyen's existence. Until within 24 hours there were young men and women who had never heard Blyen's story. His family has about disappeared. It is doubtful it two living witnesses can be be found. It is said that even the present Judge did not know of the case, though it was no fault of his.

It has been determined to try Blyen at the next term of court. He has spent so many years in prison that he thinks of no other home and has lost all interest in outside affairs. He has seen two mobs attack the jail, and, gaining entrance, lynch three persons. He has seen half a dozen men go out to death on the scaffold, or a life sentence n the penitentiary.

Now, after 22 years in a county jail, a resurrected man as it were, he is to face a judge and plead to the charge of murder. It is doubtful if he can be convicted, and many believe he should go free.

Barnhart, of the Reading Railroad, adopted a brilliant and successful scheme to rid the road of that well-known pest, the train-jumper. All efforts to stop the practice were useless until that officer took a hand, and now train-jumpers are very scarce.

There is a high and long bridge out of town, and when the officer saw a crowd climb on a freight train, as usual, he determined to make an example of them. He quietly took a seat in the caboose, and when in the middle of the bridge, the train was brought to a stop. The train hands then went along the cars, and picked up a round dozen shivering culprits, who were either obliged to eubmit to capture, or jump into the river, and the former aiternative was adopted in view of the fact that the latter meant a long and cold swim. The culprits were all hauled up into Court and fined $10 and costs, and sent out as a warning to others.

UNLOADING FALL OVERCOATS

This fiery and untamed steed is engaged in the business of unloading Fall Overcoats. Jackson's are engaged in exactly the same occupation. This spirited animal is a high stepper, and to that extent therefore may be called a high charger. In this respect he fails to resemble Jackson's, whose charges are moderate to the last degree. There is also another great difference between the steed and the great clothing house of Jackson's. They have an infinitely larger variety of Fall Overcoats on hand than any animal could be expected to carry at one time. Those who purchase one of them will never be anxious to unload it. Note our prices for this week:

$10, $12 and $15, For choice of fine Cheviot, Kersey or Melton Box Overcoats.
