Annual Meeting of the Branches of the Pittsburg Y. M. C. A.

A PATHETIC APPEAL TO MOTHERS

Of the Young Men Who Are Wanderers From Home and Friends.

A SONG THAT REACHED THEIR HEARTS

"Where is my wandering boy to-night?" sang an old gentleman at the sixth annual meeting of the East Liberty branch of the Young Men's Christian Association of Pittsburg last night.

The beautiful and imposing East Liberty Presbyterian Church was taxed to its utmost last night to accommodate the friends of the Y. M. C. A. gathered at its sixteenth annual meeting.

Mr. H. Thane Miller addressed the meeting in a manner most impressive, and drew the attention of the young men who walk the streets, away from home and friends and amid the influence of the world was eloquent and carried with it the conviction that the speaker had seen and known the trials of such young men.

"People who live in these elegant suburbs of Pittsburg don't know the temptations that beset the young men," said Mr. Miller. "Look at the saloons, and places even worse than saloons, that are open ready to receive the young men who have no homes to go to."

Music, prayer, the annual collection and the benediction closed a meeting that promises to be productive of much good to the Y. M. C. A. and the homeless young men of the city.

During the afternoon the Railroad Department of the Y. M. C. A. of Pittsburg held its seventh annual meeting at its reading rooms on Twenty-eighth street.

THEIR HAUTE, IND., November 16.—A prepossessing young lady of 18, with long curly blonde hair who registered at the Terre Haute House, as Ethel Towne, of Chicago, coming alone from Chicago on a late train last night, was taken to police headquarters this afternoon, and is detained there a prisoner for passing a forged check for $300, purporting to have been signed by J. H. Walker, the well-known Chicago drygoods man.

This mysterious matter will still the manager refused to cash the check, his next move being to telegraph Mr. Walker at his residence number, a second reply coming that it was a forgery. The girl left the hotel in the direction of the depot this morning, evidently to take a train, but finding herself shadowed, returned to the hotel.

SHORN OF HER LOCKS.

Jack the Hair-Cutter Seems to be Operating in Ohio Now.

MIAMISBURG, O., November 16.—A dastardly outrage was perpetrated this evening about 6 o'clock. As Miss Emma Weidle, a handsome young girl of 16, was walking on Sangar street, near the depot, an unknown man stepped out of a dark alley, and snatched her umbrella out of her hands, drew a long knife, and, as she attempted to pick up the umbrella, the man caught her and cut off her beautiful long black hair, which she wore plaited and hanging down her back.

There is but one Fasso Corset.

Only one, and we are the sole agents for it. For excellence and superiority in all the points desirable to every wearer the Fasso has no peer.

It costs more than ordinary corsets. Why should it? We assure you the greater cost is more than made good by the greater comfort and long wear.

To all who fully appreciate studied and tried qualities we recommend the "Fasso." The cost will not be allowed to stand in the way when its good points are known. Anyhow, the figures are not calculated to awe even modest buyers. Ladies, see the Fasso.

CATARRH

Is a constitutional and not a local disease, and therefore it cannot be cured by local applications. It requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, working through the blood, eradicates the impurity which causes and promotes the disease, and effects a permanent cure.

Thousands of people testify to the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for catarrh when other preparations had failed. Hood's Sarsaparilla also builds up the whole system, and makes you feel renewed in health and strength. All who suffer from catarrh or debility should certainly give Hood's Sarsaparilla a fair trial.

"I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for the past four years at intervals. I was troubled with catarrh, and the medicine effected a perfect cure. I take it now whenever I feel debilitated, and it always gives me immediate strength, regulates the bowels and gives an excellent appetite." LEVI CAMPBELL, Parkersburg, W. Va.

DEED OF A MANIAC.

Strange and Unaccountable Outbreak of a Farmer's Hired Man.

MARSHALLTOWN, IA., November 16.—To-day a bloody affray occurred at the home of Marcena Stone, a wealthy farmer living four miles southwest of here.

This morning, after the chores were done, the farmer and F. L. Pelbeam, his hired man, sat down to read while awaiting breakfast. Suddenly, without provocation or warning, Pelbeam grasped a small blunt hatchet, which he held secreted under his coat, leaped to his feet, and struck Stone a violent blow on the top of his head. The latter fell to the floor, stunned and bleeding. The assailant repeated the attack, dealing six more blows on the head of his victim.

At this juncture, Mrs. Stone appeared from another room. Pelbeam turned upon her, struck her five times with the hatchet, and would doubtless have killed her but for the fact that her husband rallied and seized him by the throat, keeping him under subjection until neighbors, who had been aroused by the screams of the woman and children, arrived upon the scene. Pelbeam fled, but a number of neighbors pursued him half a mile and captured him, but found he had cut his own throat with a dull pocketknife, which he carried, but did not inflict a seriously fatal wound. He was brought to town and jailed. He is evidently insane.

THIRTY BELOW ZERO.

An Oregonian Tells a Remarkable Tale and Points It With a Moral.

PORTLAND, ORE., November 16.—Manager John F. Cordray, of Cordray's Music and "Cheer," returned yesterday from a business trip to Chicago. On his homeward journey Mr. Cordray encountered some very cold weather. While journeying through Nebraska the weather was 37° below zero. The telegraph wires were so frosted that they looked like ropes, while huge icicles hung down from the tops of the trees. The weather was cold until the mountains were crossed, when the transition soon became so marked that it seemed like going into another world. The beautiful weather here, said he, can only be fully appreciated by experiencing the change from the extreme cold of the East to the mild climate of Oregon.
