GEN. GORDON CHOSEN SENATOR FROM GEORGIA

CAPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE.1 WASHINGTON, November 18 .- The an nouncement sent out from Pittsburg that Senator Delamater had decided to enter the list for the United States Senatorship is received among Pennsylvania Republicans here with many grains of allowance. It is believed by them that the Senator is as well aware of the situation and the odds that would be against him as any one, and therefore that he will not be so foolhardy as to attempt to defeat one who has the Senatorship already in his pocket.

Not one of the many sagacious Pennsylvania politiciaus who are in office here, so far as THE DISPATCH correspondent has been able to discover, believes that Delamater has any encouragement from Senator Quay in such a candidacy, and they feel assured that he would not take such a step without Quay's support. It was conceded during the campaign that Cameron should employ his time and money in looking after the election of a Republican Legislature and leave the State campaign to others.

Cameron's Claim Upon the Place. In this work, and to make sure that he would succeed himself in the Senate, Cameron spent tens of thousands of dollars to assist candidates to pay expenses in working up their districts, and it is not to be expected that any of the men so assisted would wote for Delamater, or for anyone else than certain that Cameron will have the support

Pattison as Governor of Pennsylvania he received a personal letter from ex-President Cleveland, congratulating him upon his victory. Yesterday a Philadelphia newspaper published an ed-itorial headed "Pattison Was Forgotten," in which it was made to appear that Mr. Cleveland had slighted Mr. Pattison. On the contrary, a pleasant interchange of courtesy had occurred, as shown by the occurred, as shown by the following letters: NEW YORK, November 7, 1890. MY DEAR SIR-Though I know that you are Happily, the people here were really aroused and desperately in earnest and inspired by intelligent and fervent patriot-ism. The news throughout the country demon-strates that our party generally is in touch with the people-with their intelligence and moral sentiment-and 1 pray that no unwise counsels may divorce this irresistible union. ernor-elect Pattison has appointed Humphrey D. Tate, of Bedford county, as his private secretary. Mr. Tate arrived in this city early yesterday morning, add after a chat with the incoming Governor, said that he will immediately arrange his affairs for the acceptance of the position. He is a native of Bedford county, and was ad-mitted to the bar in 1870. In 1876 he was elected a District Attorney of his native Cameron. It is considered to be absolutely certain that Cameron will have the support of Quay in his contest. Their relations have always been of the most amicable char-teter, notwithstanding the frequent reports of coolness and disagreement, and Mr. Quay

Men ever, is that if Parnell does not make any statement to vindicate himself he will be compelled to resign the leadership of the Irish party and will be succeeded either by Commander of the Department of Dakota, Justin McCarthy, John Dillon or William

Sexton. There are some prominent men in the Irish movement, however, in favor of retaining Parnell, even though he is found guilty, and say that great political leaders have been accused of similar crimes in the past, and that such charges did not hurt their public life.

WILL NOT AFFECT THE CAUSE.

Maurice F. Wilhere, national delegate of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, in speak-ing on the Parnell-O'Shea scandal, said:

ing on the Parnell-O'Shea scandal, said: So far as the cause of Ireland is concerned I do not think that the rurdiet in the O'Shea-Parnell case will affect it in the least. Mr. Par-nell has been the recognized leader of the Irish people for several years past in their heroic struggle for home rule, liberty and justice, but the great cause for which the people of Ireland have contended for centuries does not depend on the faithfuluess or character of one man. It is the cause of justice for a great, though impoverished people, and they have the sym-pathy and support of the civilized world in their fight, and their fight will be surely won, it matters not who may fall by the wayside. Men may betray or fall away or may be unfaithful to their trusts, but the principle of liberty lives forever and the cause of Ireland will go on to a sure success.

forever and the cause of Ireland will go on to a sure success. Should Mr. Parnell resign, the mantle of leadership will undoubtedly fall on the shoul-ders of Justin McCarthy, who is now Vice Chairman of the Irish parliamentary party, or on John Dillon or William Sexton, either of whom are well fitted to occupy that responsi-ble position. I do not think it will injure the prospects of the Irish delegates now in Amer-ica. The Irish-Americans and the American, people are generally the best friends of Ireland. They have given their aid and sympathy to the great cause for which the Irish people are struggling, and their sympathy and practical aid will not be affected in any way by the ver-dict against any one man's personal character. O'Shea's conduct is not that of an honorable man who believed that the betraver of his wife was stop-ping under his roof and did nothing. TROOPS IN MOTION TO PROTECT NORTH DAKOTA SETTLERS. Military Authorities Make Light of the Threatened Outbreak, but Are Straining Every Nerve to Meet It All the Same-Refugees in Mandan. ST. PAUL, November 18 .- General Ruger, accompanied by his aide-de-camp, Lieutenant Woodruff, returned this morning from their tour of inspection among the various posts of the Northwest. General Ruger was busy with accumulated work, but got the floor with a more scorching reso lution than that offered by Mr. Mercer: Licutenant Woodruff said the reports of trouble were more or less exaggerated. Regarding these reports he said that some of the statements made are peculiar, particularly those with reference to the belief that Mandan is threatened by an armed force.

The Indians located nearest to Mandan are about 35 miles away, on the Cannon Ball river. They are thriity, industrious, peaceable people, who have taken up claims, built huts and houses, own cattle, ponies and wagons, and are in good circum-stances. The danger arises, not from these Indians, but from the red-skins in the neighborhood of Standing Rock, who have a wilv and dangerous leader.

Troops from Fort Omaha, Fort Robinson, Fort Niobrara, Nebraska, and a pack train from Fort Russell, Wyoming, have been ordered out to hold the Indians in check at the Pine Ridge and other agencies on the Dakota frontier. Some of the companies left for Pine Ridge agency at 4 o'clock this alternoon, and will be provided with rations for 15 days. The marching column will be in command of Major Butler. Troops at Fort McKinney will also be ordered out, and leave in the morning for Douglas, Wyo., with Colonel Guy V. Henry in command. The march is about 125 miles. The troops at Forts Niobrara and Robinson, which are not far from the scene of the difficulty, will march to-morrow. At Mandan an easier feeling prevails printed and will be considered later. owing to the receipt of arms and ammunition by the citizens. Settlers are coming in from all directions. Every house is full of refugees from the country. Major McLaughlin, agent at Standing

Rock, admits that he has lost control of the Indians. Nevertheless, no outbreak is expected until spring. General Miles deprecates the attention newspapers are bestowing upon the move-ments of troops, saying that the news will reach Indian camps within 24 hours. He says the failure of crops is the real cause of the threatened outbreak. The Indians are getting their rations now. It is apparent that the General regards the situation as very serious.

A later examination of the body shows the General to be still alive at this hour. The wound is a deep one, back of his right ear. NEW YORK, NOVEMBER 7, 1894. MY DEAR SIK-Though I know that you are overwhelmed with congratulations. I cannot re-sist the temptation to express to you my delight upon your election as Governor of Pennsyl-vania. I have felt the most intense interest in the contest in your State, and have had great sympathy with the good people there, con-fronted, as they were, with everything that was bad, and this indersed and supported by a party claiming an immense majority of the voters, it seems to me that the condition was almost piti-able, and that the struggle between right and wrong, at such olds, ought not to have been forced upon your graad old Commonwealth. But when it came-precipitated by the arro-gauce of bose accustomed to deceive and be-tray the people with impunity-I almost held my breath, and, as an American citizen, proud of his country, prayed God for the people's safe deliverance, and for a demonstration that they had not lost their love for honesty and right. The demonstration came, and I am glad now that issue between right and wrong was made so clearly, and that the wrong so impudently displayed the banner under which its forces were gathered. I want to thank you, as a citi-zen, and as one of the people, for the gallant fight in this trying hour to save the American character. And I am so glad that this thing was done under Democratic auspices-though I think every man who voted for you deserves the gratitude of his fellow-countrymen. Yours very sincerely. If there is a famine, why was that committee juggled out of existence? If there is no famine, then there is nothing to relieve. The whole trath of the matter is that those fellows are after money for political purposes. They have more than $100,000 now, and will probably get more. The League will use it, although it was collected ostensibly for the starving peeple of Ireland. LOCKPORT, N. Y., November 18 .- Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ames, hailing from Round Hill, Ont., who blew out the gas at the Grand Hotel last Saturday night and narrowly escaped suffocation, have separated. Ames left his bride at the hotel this morning and went out. He has not returned and it looks very much like a case of desertion.

His footsteps were heard by the Mother Superior, Sister Julia and her associates. They arose and went down stairs, confronting Buzzell at the foot of the flight. Several of the teachers in the school surrounded him and held him in spite of his desperate struggles to get away. The Mother Superior went to the window, and, raising the sash, called loudly for help.

A man who was passing heard ber cries and ran to the police station, from whence Offi-cers Carroll and Flynn were promptly dis-patched. When the police arrived they ound Buzzell kicking and striking at his detainers, but unable to escape their grasp.
