ONE DAY IN SEVEN.

Objects and Aims of Another Convention Being Held in This City.

Opening of the World's Fair on Sunday Discussed at Length.

PITTSBURG BETTER THAN MOST CITIES

Three sessions of the annual meeting of the Western Pennsylvania Sabbath Assocition and the Sabbath Reform Convention were held vesterday at the Eighth Street Reformed Presbyterian Church.

Among those present were Rev. I. N. Hays, Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts, the founder of the American Sabbath Association; Rev. J. S. McKee, of Butler: Rev. W. J. Graham, Rev. D. S. Littell, Rev. D. McAllister, Rev. W. J. Robinson, Captain Wishart, Rev. D. S. Kennedy, Felix R. Brunot, Rev. E. R. Bell, Hon. Charles Carroll, President of the Illinois Sabbath Association, and Rev. George T. Purves. Altogether less than one-balf of the 200 delegates expected to be present were in attend-

Rev. W. J. Robinson, of the First U. P. Church, Allegheny, presided. At the morning session the first subject for discussion was "The World's Fzir and the Sabbath." Dr. McAllister said the resolution to close the gates of the World's Fair was offered to the Executive Committee.

Dr. Crafts said the only action taken by the World's Fair was to refer the question. He added:

lesser of two evils. They want to open one door, the door of the art gallery or the door of the machinery hall. We don't want one door open. I believe the commission will vote against the opening of the doors on Sunday. All the States from which the commission comes have Sunday laws, and I do not believe the commission will dare to break the laws.

Rev. Dr. McAllister favored the appointment of a county committee to get a protest from each business firm and every citizen in the respective counties in the Western dis-

Rev. Dr. I. N. Hays favored issuing a circular to the people who intended to exhibit, calling on them to refuse to exhibit if the gates were to be open on Sunday. Another plan was that the Christian people had this question in their hands, and that if they let it be known that they would refuse all aid to the fair if the gates were open on Sunday, this would settle the question, and the gates would remain closed.

FIRST RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED. This ended the discussion, and a commitpointed. Dr. Crafts offered a series of resolutions covering the points raised in his remarks, which were adopted. Rev. Mr. Crafts offered a resolution that the Legislature be required to pass a resolution for the punishment of all public officers who fall to cause the arrest of all breakers of who fail to cause the arrest of all breakers of the Sunday law.

The discussion of "Pennsylvania Sabbath Laws and What They Ought to Be" was then taken up. Captain Wishart said the Sunday law of Pennsylvania was founded on the fourth commandment, and that only work of charity and necessity were excepted, and the carrying on of any other kind of work was a breach of the law. The Captain said there was no need for change in the Sunday laws. They were good enough, and only needed enforcing.

It was resolved that the convention was satisfied that the laws were efficient, and the Committee on Resolutions was instructed to formulate a plan to carry them out.

A delegate from Washington, Pa., desired to reach the railroads. He said they were much annoyed by the railroads on Sonday by reason of Sunday excursions. In discussing this question Captain Wishart said the great trouble was that many steekholders of the railroads are members of churches.

Rev. W. J. Robinson, the Chairman, appointed

The first topic for discussion in the afternoon, The first topic for discussion in the afternoon, "Labor's Right to the Weekly Rest Day," was opened by Rev. I. N. Hays. His remarks were brief, and he only referred to an instance of an acquaintance of his who had been laughed at for refusing to run a canal boaton Sunday and a cement mill on the same day, but in the end he became rich as though he had operated both institutions like similar operators.

Rev. D. McAllister followed, and spoke of the particulations.

constitutional right of civil and religious lib-erty to every man. Rev. W. F. Crafts closed the discussion. He confined himself to the argument that the closing down of employment on the Sabbath would not affect the business of the nation. RESPONSIBILITY OF THE CHURCH.

Rev. J. T. McCrory opened the discussion on "The Responsibility of the Church for the Civil Sabbath." He said the day was made for man, and he had a right to it. One-seventh of his time was given him for rest, which it was the pends on the Christianity of a community for proper observance. He then compared Germany and the United States as almost two extremes in the observance of the day. He said the laborer had the same right to go into a saloon for his beer as the other man had to go next door for his soils water. The coursel, he thought, was responsible for all reforms in good government, and was looked to for improvement. The combined action in this city of, say, 10,000 voters could produce better laws and see to their enforcement. In fact, it had but recently been done. Christian people had seen things going from bad to worse, and had combined to enter into the recent election.

Lev. D. & Kennedy next spoke on "Works of Necessity and Mercy on the Sabbath." Mr. McMilana and Mr. McCrory followed him briefly.

Dr. George said the first place to begin the agranton for all these reforms was in the hurch, which, he said, was too prone to wink at violations of the law.

Captain Wishart said it decidedly was any Captain Wishart said it decidedly was any sitizen's place to enforce the law wherever he found it violated. He asked where Pittsburg would have been had it not been for the Law and Order League. He believed in arousing the church in the matter, but he held that every citizen of the land had a right to see the law autoroad.

ommittee, with the exception of T. P. Day, reasurer, who resigned, and W. W. Watres exceed in his stead. Rev. D. F. McGill was table Secretary of the Events. add H. K. Porter was dropped. SCHECTS OF THE EVENING.

The evening session was the best attended of all. After the devotional exercises, the meeting was addressed on the Sabbath question by the Rev. Dr. Crafts. The speaker referred to the laws in the various States in the Union, and how they were observed, relating instances of the difficulty met with in enforcing the laws. Connecticut, he said, is the best conducted State in the country on the Sabbath. Its laws are observed, and after 10 o clock in the morning not a wheel turns on a railroad in the State on the Sabbath. The law provides that only such trains as are necessary shall be run. The question as to what trains are necessary was left to a railroad commission, and it decided that the only ones necessary were the milk train, to carry food to the babies, and the one to carry the Sanday newspapers. Speaking of Pennsylvania, he said that while in some portions of the State rapid strides have been made in the matter of Sunday observance, yet it is not doing what it should. Pennsylvania has the best Sunday laws of any State in the Union, if they were only observed. They should be enforced, and national laws passed to control the railroads and mail service and inter-State commerce matters.

Rev. Dr. Robinson followed Dr. Craft, and e Rev. Dr. Crafts. The speaker referred t

Rev. Dr. Robinson followed Dr. Craft, and made a few remarks on Sabbath reform. The mies, and they should make determined effort to overcome them. He referred to the great benefits to be derived by the workingmen from mulation and good effects in the cause of Bristianity. Rev. E. K. Bell, of Cincinnati, who was to have addressed the meeting, did not arrive.

MR. A. CLARK BANE.

He Opens Up an Exclusively Wholesale Wall Paper House on Second Avenue.

A. Clark Bane, a well known wall paper man, has opened up a large house at Nos. 60 and 62 Second avenue, this city. Mr. Bane has had an extended experience in the wall paper trade. For a number of years he was connected with the wall paper department of the establishment of C. M. Reed & Co., at Washington, Pa. For nine years he was connected with Pusey & Kerr, of this city, and for 18 months was in the firm of Crumrine, Bane & Bassett. He retired from that firm last July, and since that time has been making arrangements to open up his new house, which was done on the 15th of October. This is the only exclusively wholesale wall paper house west of New York. Paper shades are also handled. The building is new, five stories high, and each floor and the basement is filled with a com-plete line of the best and latest designs of patterns and colorings of the leading manufacturers. Mr. Bane is well known to the trade in Western Pennsylvaniu, West Virginia and Eastern Ohio. He is courteous, affable and obliging, and does business in a business way. Those who know Mr. Bane will patronize him when they learn he is in the business again, and those who do not will find it to their advantage to become acquainted with him.

was not decided. In reply he said:
"The question was not raised because it was not necessary. That matter has been settled, and there will be a reduction to 3 cents within a few weeks."

"How were the receipts of the company the past year, compared with the year previous? past year, compared with the year previous?"
was asked.

"The receipts were somewhat increased and we attribute it in the main to the reduction we made from 10-cent to 5-cent fares. The general affairs of the company are in excellent shape, and, on the whole, better than ever before."

This shows wherein the last reduction proved say that they expect the next reduction to prove equally as successful.

Mr. C. L. Magee, President of the Duquesne Traction Company, did not appear surprised when tola that the Fifth avenue line would show fight, but said positively that it would be entirely one-sided, as the Duquesne will not go below the 5-cent rate. Mr. Magee expected to leave last night for the East, but it is not known whether on business connected with the affairs of the Duquesne Company or not. Both the Vice President and Secretary of the company are already in New York, and there may be a meeting there to further the success of the new enterprise.

"We don't consider the Fifth avenue line rivals of our line," said that gentleman yesterday. "Of course, we start at the same place, and in the end get to the same place, but we go over entirely different territory, and their reduction of fares will not affect us. I don't see how we could afford to reduce fares. Do people want to ride for nothing? The fact that we increased our earnings by a reduction Do people want to ride for nothing? The fact that we increased our earnings by a reduction to 5 cents does not prove that a still further reduction would benefit us. So far as I know tion; at least, not in any of the board meetings. Some of the members of the board might have discussed the matter privately, but it has never been mentioned at an official meeting of the stockholders or board of directors."
