BRUNDAGE CASE BEFORE THE JURY

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE BEDFORD, November 20 .- For the past two months Bedford has been annoyed by burglaries, the thieves invariably selecting private residences to carry on their operations. In one week five complaints were made to the police, who failed to run down

A story came to light to-day which it is thought will put an end to the business. Monday night Rev. Father O'Connell was awakened by the barking of his dog. He awakened by the barking of his dog. He picked up his gun and wakked to the head of the stairs. An electric light was burning in his study and the door leading from that room to the hall was open. By the light he saw a man standing in the hall.

With leveled gun he descended the stairs and cornered the intruder. The fellow begged piteously for mercy, saying that his family was starving, and, after talking to him a white, the priest allowed him to go. Father O'Connell recognized the thief as an acquaintance who lives in Bedford, but he refuses to make his name public.

FOUND HIS LOST PARENTS.

A Young Man Learns the True Story of His Early History.

SPECIAL TRIEGRAM TO THE DISPATORA WHEELING, November 20,-A remantic story is told here to-day. About a score of years ago a baby boy was taken from the Children's Frome of this city by a member of the West Virginia Legislature, who lived near Huntington. The boy was brought up by his adopted parents, who always told him his father and mother were dead. His name was Williams. His father and mother quarreled. His mother married again, her second husband being Andy Holmes. They desired to retain the boy, but were told that he was taken away.

When young Williams grew to manhood, his dopted father dropped some remarks which ed him to suspect that his real parents were ret alive, and in or near Wheeling. He regived to set out on a search for them. Com-ng to Wheeling, he found Williams, his ather. He told him that his mother had been father. He told him that his mother had been dead for years, but one day he heard him say something that made him suspect that his mother was not dead. He made secret inquiries and flually learned that his mother was alive and lived as one Mrs. Holmes, near the Fulton village line. He at once sought her, and is now living with her. Young Williams says he always thought his mother was alive, for his first memory was that of being in some sort of an institution and of his mother bringing him things go d to eat. The impression was very slight, but it was there, and needed but a hint to make it certain.

Rob a Slav. SPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCILL

BRADDOCK, November 20.-George Wor-shinck, the Slav who was found lying on the Baltimore and Ohio track at Rankin last night, with a severe wound in his head, is reported by the physician at the West Penn Hospital in a much better condition, and will recover. Worshinck, who is only recently arrived in this country, is reported by his brother as having on his person at the time he was attacked a rog on his person at the time he was attacked a considerable sum of money, and asserts that George was robbed. 'Squire Glunt, who at his own expense had the man sent to the hostital, stated to-day that after investigating the aftair he concluded that an attempt had been made to murder the man, as the Slav, after having been struck in the head by what was evidently a large rock, was placed with his head upon one of the rails of the east-bound track, with his body lying across a siding. His pocketbook was found in his pocket, which contained $1.50.

an hour, which it was still doing this evening when the reporter left the well. Byrns & Co,'s No. 4 Simpson has declined to 480 barrels a day, but the owners are confident that with deeper drilling its production will materially increase. Greenlee & Forst's Ice Pond well No. 2 is 48 feet in the sand and no improvement. The present status of the well indicates a 25-barrel producer. The same company tapped the sand this morning in their Bide Keeper well, located 500 feet northeast from their Ice Pond No. 1 and about midway between the old Young 1 and the Menke well. This venture is regarded as important and by Saturday its history will have been told. The Smith Farm Oil Company got started to drill this afternoon in their No. 4 Smith and by tomorrow or the next day they will be deepenough to find the pay streak. The gas in this well is not as strong as yesteday.

The Hoth Oil Company also struck the sand to-day in their Kretzer, but are not in far enough for the pay. Their No. 5 Harbush is through the bowlder, and, with no mishap, will find the sand to-morrow. This conypany have a production in the Wildwood field of $500 barrels a day. The Fogle well made another flow yesterday, and by to-morrow they will mish drilling the sand. The Finegan & Downing well on the Wallace farm is drilling at 1,550 feet. This is an important well. The Forest Oil Company are nearing the sand in Young No. 2.

HULTON—It is reported to night that a gas well was struck yesterday a mile north of Hulton station, Allegheny Valley Radiroad, on the Lee estate. The reporter was unable to ascertain just what pressure the well has, but was informed it was 2800 feet deep, and by practical operators it is thought that the caloric fluid comes from the Speechly sand.

Approximately, the daily production of petroleum outside of the Ohio field was, in August, 83,710 barrels, in September, 83,781 barrels, and in October, 92,150 barrels, which is a daily increase from August to October of 8,440 barrels. According to the Standard's last monthly report of field operations, they, together with their allied forces, completed 50 wells. A conservative estimate puts the production of these wells at 1,500 barrels a day. The report also shows they have 100 rigs up and wells drilling, which is about one-tenth of the entire operations. It is estimated that the Standard have expended about $12,000,000 in the purchase of producing property, in which is embraced the Union Oli Company, the Forest Oil Comhave expended about $12,000,000 in the purchase of producing property, in which is embraced the Union Oil Company, the Forest Oil Company, the North and South Penn Oil Companies, the Associated Producers, T. W. Phillips and other incividuals and firms, A conservative estimate of the aggregate daily production of the Standard is about 12,000 barrels, or a little less than one-eighth of the entire production.
