Are Still Light, but the Finished Produc is in Good Demand.

REPORTS FROM THE LEADING CENTERS

There is practically no change in the situation of iron and steel markets the past week. The financial depression may in time affect iron, but so far there are no impressions visible. Prices had touched hard pan before the drop in stocks, and hence there was no room for a drop in pig iron. Ocean Products Scarce and Firm-Poultry Transactions in raw irons are still light, and there are rumors of concessions the past few days, but bolders of standard brands report prices unchanged. Manufactured iron is the article most likely to be reached by the flurry in stock markets. So far demand is good, and manufacturers of finished products have all true of game. With the near approach of

There is no inclination on the part of manufacturers to lav in stock ahead, as is natural in the present drooping condition of markets. All finished irons are in good demand at quotations. Structural iron, wire reds and wire mails are quiet the past week. The financial furry has a flected steel rails, and while prices are nominally the same, there is little doubt that the cash customer would find manufacturers ready to concede a little on our quotations. following are latest quotations:

apparent, and will probably depend to a large extent on the outcome of events in the money market. Up to this date, notwithstanding the severe strain in financial circles, the prices of iron do not appear to have been affected. Naturally there is some besitancy in entering into new engage-ments, but as nearly the entire output of mills and furnaces is being taken on old contracts there is no necessity for forcing sales at lower prices, especially as there is at this time practically nothing to be forced on the market. Fig. iron shows no material change either in output or consumption. As a rule, the asking prices for lots delivered in consumers' yards are as follows: Standard Pennsylvania No. 1, $18,918 50; No. 2, $17,951, and No. 2 is $16,256,261 75; ordinary forge, cinder mixed, $14,914 50, and charcoal car wheel iron, $22,926. Bessemer pig is rather quiet. Prices are nominally firm at $18,918 50 at furnace. Muck bars are quiet and the demand irregular. Quotations range from $20,00429 50 for free offerings at sellers' milk, but buyers do not seem inclined to pay more than $29,00 delivered. Bar iron is steady, though not active, and for the present manufacturers maintain prices at about 1,858,195c. at city milks and 1,806,185c at outside points.

No Effort at Business is Being Made at Cincinnati. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

CINCINNATI, November 2L-Rogers, Brown & Co. say: By common consent there has been gractically no effort at business in crude iron week past. Furnaces and their representatives have felt that no cood can come of efforts tives have left that no good can come of efforts to make sales on account of the widespread feeling of uncertainty and apprehension. Quietness and Demoralization the Leading Features of the Chicago Market.

PETROIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATOR. Chicago, November 21,-Rogers, Brown & Merwin say: "Quietness and demoralization are the prominent features of the iron market here. The financial disturbances in London nd New York have produced their natural effect in from as well as other circles, and for the time being there is almost a total lack of confidence on the part of consumers. Many large contracts for raw material, which were under contemplation late in October, have been either dropped or indefinitely postponed, the result being a flat market with sales nearly restricted to carloads. A few large buyers have seized the opportunity, however, to pies up jobiets, and in certain cases to make running contracts. These are the exceptions, most consumers preferring to take chances and wait till the first of the year to cover the balance of the season's needs. Many leading furnaces North and South have practically witndrawn from the market, being unwilling to sell at figures made by some of the smaller companies pressed for money. These latter have succeeded in breaking the market, assisted by the financial flurry, but the result has not been to force prominent standard brands to the same level, instead, a large pumper have decided to held their unsold output by the financial that unsold output by the standard that a large pumper have decided to held their unsold output by the standard that sacrifice. effect in fron as well as other circles, and for have decided to hold their unsold output lefinitely rather than sacrifice. In the line of Sunday dinner materials there are few changes in the week past. Poultry is coming in freely, and prices are a shade lower in a jobbing way, but retail prices are substanover turkey that beef, mutton and pork are forced to the rear in the latter part of November. In the line of lake and ocean products demand is in excess of supply. Supply of choice cysters is short, and prices are almost as high in Baltimore as in Pittsburg. Prospects are that there will be an advance in prices at an early day. The time is near waen the catch of fish will terminate for this season. Supply of white fish, and in tact all kinds excepting herring, has bren below demand for some time past. There is little doubt of an advance in the line of all ocean products in the near future. Vegetables are dull and slow. All garden products have been begging for buyers in the past week. The only article in country produce line that is active and strong is hen fruit. Fresh nearby eggs are very scarce. Florists report an active demand and upward movement of prices for their goods. HOW A LUMBER KING LOST HIS GRIP

No Material Changes in Stock Values, but the Feeling Less Bearish.

A bank cashier said yesterday: "We have had no business panie, and will not have. Conditions are not favorable. Capitalists will no doubt grip their pocketbooks a little tighter, but there are so many opportunities for profitable investment that they will soon come around all right. A few banks which have been free lenders on stock collateral may have to hustle for money to supply their customers, but they will pull through. Pittsburg was never in better shape to resist financial pressure. All of her industries are driving ahead day and Thanksgiving, poultry and game is booming at the expense of the old reliable meats. It has become so much the fashion to give thanks the few creditor cities of the country. Her products are bringing in money all the time. This will soon relieve any stringency that exists or may arise in the money market. There is no cause for alarm."

One Thing at a Time.

A fruitful source of business embarrassment is the attempt of individuals and firms to do too much. In other words, they put so many irons in the fire that some of them are overlooked and ruined. This is a good time to institute a reform in this matter. If every business man will attend strictly to his legitimate calling, no matter what it is, he can bid defiance to financial flurries and whistle panies down the wind. Indeed, it will be impossible for such things to occur.

The danger incurred by attempting too much is forcibly illustrated by an incident in the career of R. G. Peters, the Michigan lumber king, who failed for a large amount not long ago. It is well known that Peters had many trons in the fire, that he had interests and partners in nearly all parts of the country, and that it was impossible for him to give personal attention to all branches of his affairs. Some of his partners were the souls of honor and looked after his interests with the same carefulness as their own, but all of them were not built that way. One of the partners, it is un-necessary to state where located, apparently made up his mind to get all he could out of Peters, and he had a nice plan formed to that

A Much Better I'my All Around in Wall Street, Owing to Easier Money-Railroad Bonds Higher Than for Weeks Heretofore,

NEW YORK, November 21.-The stock market to-day was quite active again and at the same time decideely strong and even buoyant at times, and the improved temper to the specu-lation was continuous throughout the day, the upward movement being subject to only slight interruptions. The street was certainly more cheerful to-day than it has been in weeks and the improvement was general, extending to all classes of securities, both stocks and bonds. The bulls, for the first time for months, reemed to have complete control of the market. There was increased buying of both stocks and bonds, and the improved condition of financial affairs in London, together with the positive easy tone given to the motory market here, which was expected. cheerful to-day than it has been in weeks and the improvement was general, extending to all pecially noticeable, as to-day was Friday, ac-counted largely for the prevalent disposition to lt was a notable fact that there was scant It was a notable fact that there was scant supply of securities for the first time in months. Money was relatively cheaper than stocks. The news of the day was very favorable, and the utterances of a noted broker, who is supposed to be close to Mr. Gould, on the position of that gentleman upon the market caused a general increase of confidence in the situation, and from those utterances and the news from the West to-day, the next upward movement, which seems to have already begun, will be based upon an advance in railroad rates. A report from London that there is a likelihood of an increase in the circulation there hased upon silver deposited, attracted considerable attention and had a good effect. The better feeling was apparent at the opening, which was made at gains at last night's figures of from to purchase for the short account by domestic operators.

buyers, while there was a marked disposition to purchase for the short account by domestic operators.

There was only one weak point in the market, and that was Rock Island, which was savagely attacked and depressed from 64½ to 61½, the attack being accompanied by a reiteration of the trouble at the passage. The pressure was removed shortly before noon, however, and it later made a sharp advance, leading the entire list, giving the whole affair the look of manipulation upon which to cover shorts in the general list.

The latter did not sympathize to any extent in the drop in Rock Island, but as soon as the pressure was removed from the latter it began to advance immediately. The Gould stocks, the Grangers and specialties of all kinds showed the lead in the upward movement, and there was no real interruption of the advance until the close of business. Slight reactions were frequent, but each advance carried the final prices are generally at or close to the best of the day.

The market closed active and strong. The final changes are invariably in the direction of higher figures and the gains are all large in the active stocks. OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, FRIDAY, November 21, 1890. Country Produce-Jobbing Prices.

and our prices are advanced in accordance with actual sales. Fresh nearby stock can hardly be secured at any price. Eggs that are above suspicion are in demand at more than outside quotations. The approach of Thanksgiving makes extra demands on hen fruit. Creamery butter is in full supply, and present prospects are for lower prices. Price of country butter is only nominal. Nothing but fancy rolls can be sold. There is an improved demand for New York cheese and prices are firmer. General produce trade shows improvement in the past few days. Potatoes are very firm and choice few days. Potatoes are very firm and choice stock readily sells at outside prices. Fancy apples are also good stock. Notwithstanding the beavy failure at Philadelphia, which proved to be more serious than was at first thought, there was more serenity in the financial skies at London and New York than had been seen in a week, and the stock market, while not strong, was devoid of panicky features. The unexpected heaviness of the parket sone created.

There was but one sale on call at the Grain Exchange, viz., a car of sample new ear corn, 58c, spot. Receipts as bulletined, 32 cars, of which 21 were by Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railway, as follows: 8 cars of oats, 2 of rye, 2 of hay, 1 of corn, 1 of middlings, 3 of barley, 1 of meal, 3 of flour. By Baltimore and Ohio, 1 car of oats, 1 of corn. By Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis, 5 cars of oats, 2 of corn, 1 of middlings, 1 of bran. The cereal situation continues in favor of buyers. Ear corn and millfeed are steady by reason of scarcity. Hay, oats and flour are weak with tendencies toward lower prices. There is no question that the late financial flurry has unfavorably affected grain and hay markets. Retailers are disposed to pursue the hand to mouth policy in present drooping condition of markets and tightness of money.

Some sales of December were made in the list, and of May l.

The opening price of corn was very much mixed. There were sellers at 51c, with no buyers in the neighborhood of such offers, and while buyers and sellers were trading at the same moment at 51½c across the pit. There was a sale or two at 51½c, but the great bulk of the business at the opening was at 51½c. It immediately advanced to 52c, and during the first half hour moved up and down several times between 51½c and 52c. The market strengthened in sympathy with wheat and under the action of the shorts, who came in very freely, more especially toward the close. The highest figures of the day were made close to the end of the session. They soid at 52½6. 52½c. The closing price shows an advance of le since yesterday. The buying of Pardridge and Hutchinson was the most noticeable feature at the start. Pardridge was supposed to be covering shorts. Hutchinson became a seller on the first advance, but changed from one side to the other many times in the course of the day.

Oats were strenger and higher. Opening sales were at ½6%c decline. Prices soon began to move us, and advanced 1½61½c, yielded a little, but closed strong at full outside figures, and at an advance of ¼61c over yesterday.

Pork—Quite a good trade was reported, and prices ruled irregular. Opening sales were mea-

Pork—Quite a good trade was reported, and prices ruled irregular. Opening sales were meager at 2½@5c decline, but prices gradually advanced 33@35c. Later a drouping feeling set in, accompanied with a reduction of 15@30c, but rallied again and closed firm.

Lard—Considerable interest was manifested and a larger business was transacted. Early in the day the feeling was stronger, and prices rallied 7½@10c, but later declined 2½@5c. Near the close the feeling was stronger, and prices advanced to outside figures and closed steady.

Short Rib Sides—Trading was quite active and prices fluctuated considerably. Early in the session the feeling was stronger, and prices gradually advanced 10@12½c. Later prices settled back again 5½% with fair trading. Toward the close the feeling was firmer, and the market closed at about outside figures.

How Leap Year Makes a Big Difference in the City Appropriations.

Superintendent Weir was figuring yesterday on the appropriation needed next year for the Police Bureau. He was getting slong well, when it suddenly struck him that next year might be leap year. He looked at the calendar, and found that there were only 365 days in 1891.

Leap year makes quite a difference in the appropriations. For the patrolmen's salar-ies alone it costs an additional $615 for the extra day.
