

A GIGANTIC SCHEME.

Thirty Thousand Miles of Railroad Under Control of Jay Gould and the Standard.

EFFECT OF RECENT STOCK DEALS.

A Railroad Combination that Takes in One-Fifth of the Railway Mileage of the Country.

THE VAST EXTENT OF THE PROJECT.

Pittsburg Will Secure Another New Outlet to the Lakes By It.

Along with the breaking of banks and the flurry in Wall street, the Standard Oil party and Jay Gould turn up with the most stupendous railroad combination the world has ever seen.

The last moves in this great game are fresh in the public memory, being the purchase of 100,000 shares Northern Pacific, preferred stock, by the Standard Oil party, and the purchase of a like amount of Standard Terminal by the Jay Gould party.

JAY GOULD'S PET IDEA.

A transcontinental railroad has long been a pet idea of Jay Gould's, and in 1880-81 he had surveys made in this State and Ohio with a view to the construction of an air line road to carry the Washash system into New York.

Western was to have been a link in this system, but the connection with the Philadelphia and Reading. That project, however, went beyond the surveys, and Mr. Gould, busy with the Southwest roads and the Pacific, seemed to have forgotten the transcontinental idea altogether.

HOW THE STANDARD IS INTERESTED.

How much of the Standard party's determination was created by the settlement of damages for the Standard Oil party, and the Pennsylvania road and the payments of large sums to 20 or more firms, which had suffered that the Standard might be favored, can only be told by the principles themselves.

THE MOVE ON RICHMOND TERMINAL.

It was in 1886, too, that the movements of Richmond Terminal first attracted so much attention in Wall street, and it was shown in the financial columns of THE DISPATCH that the Standard Oil party had acquired the terminal.

Closing Out Auction Sale.

Of diamonds, watches, jewelry, clocks, bronzes, silver and silver plated ware, etc. Finding that I cannot give the necessary amount of attention to two stores, I have decided to divest myself of my Smithfield street store and afterward give my entire attention to the store at 36 Fifth avenue.

SMALL FEET.

They Are an Illustration of the Tendency of the Times Toward Little Waists and Weak Bodies.

Anyone who visits the art museums may be struck with the fact that the feet of all the ancient statues seem very large. They do seem so, but it will be found that for symmetrical perfection these feet could not be better, and yet the feet of the average man or woman today are much smaller than in ancient times.
