The Unward Movement of Tea Has Been Arrested and Prices

DRIFTING BACK TO THE OLD LEVEL.

Pittsburg Salt Manufacturers Going From Gas to Coal.

THANKSGIVING TURKEY IN DEMAND.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATOR, Tuesday, November 25, 1890. Tens on the Decline.

In the early autumn tess advanced sharply, particularly those of a low grade. Some grades advanced as much as 6c per pound. The upward movement was due largely to speculative influences. Speculators made the most of the increase in value of silver exchange. The higher grades of ten were *lightly affected by the advance. The recent financial flurry has upset calculations of speculators and jobbers here are now able to buy their teas at a very slight advance on lowest prices of last summer, when prices were unusually low. Present price of teas varies very little from rates of this time a year ago. The crop this season is a full average, both in quantity and quality. There are no reports of shortage from any of the tea-producing countries. Within the next month all the tea crops of this season will be mouth all the tea crops of this season will be cured, and from present indications the yield will be a full average. The products of India and all the British possessions are received through London. When the McKinley tariff bill was before Congress, importers of Janan and China teas made a strong effort to have a outy of 10 per cent ad valorem placed on India teas, but the effort proved abortive. Working on the fear that this move would prove successful, speculators managed for a time to stiffen prices. But dealers who lanked on the advance ces. But dealers who banked on the advance were doomed to disappointment, since prices are now down to almost their lowest price for us year. Said one of our leading dealers whose trade s confined exclusively to tea: 'I recently ought a very large quantity of India teas in New York at prices as low almost as prevailed ight a very large quantity of India tens in a York at praces as low almost as prevailed one the advance of last August. There was the advance in high grade tens, and the ad-ce in low grades is now almost wiped out, ishing's tea trade calls for more varieties in any city on the continent, owing to the at variety of our population. The Irish and ish are great consumers of the plant that ers but not inchriates, as we have a large diation of races in Pittsburg and surround-country, the consumption is very large. from 1,500,000 pounds annually. In ac-o this there are a number of companies bick represent Eastern firms. Pittseng ten trade extends as far east as Altoona and Cumberland, and as far west as Corumbus. Through this territory we have no onger, as in former years, any serious compe-tation outside of New York and Philadelphia

The Salt Industry.

The salt manufacturers of Pittsburg and Allegheny, with one exception have recently bandoned natural gas and gone back to coal. The change has curtailed output, and if demand had been as brisk as it sometimes is at this enson, it would have been impossible to fill orders. The condition of country roads through Pittsburg's bail-wick for the past mouth has made it next to impossible to deliver goods to country stores off the line of railroads. The time for changing from natural gas to coul has therefore, been propitious. Demand for salt cannot very much decline. Not less than three-quarters of a milhon barrels are called for from Pittsburg manufacturers, and a slack time, such as we have been paying for a slack time, such as we have been paying for a slack time, such as we have been paying for a slack time, such as we have been paying for a slack time, such as we have been paying for a slack time, such as we have been paying for a slack time, such as we have been paying for a slack time, such as we have been paying for a slack time, such as we have been paying for a slack time, such as we have been paying for a slack time.

lectine of $40 from yesterday's closing figures. Corn was easy toward the close after again touching high water mark; it closed be under vesterday's prices. Oats made a slight advance and provisions were dull and lower.

There was a general feeling among the local speculators previous to the opening that wheat was a safe. That opinion was based upon news of a desiressing character, but simply because since Frindsy last, there will be an advance of the per bushel. Frequently a rise so sudden and material is an irressivable temptation to those inving bought near the bottom to accept the good fortune so quickly placed within their locate, and enough selling fusually takes place in such cases to cause the reaction which was expected to materialize to-day. The news was certainly indicative of strength, rather than weakness, in the situation. The mixed character of the news was immediately reflected in the course of the market. The prices were regular, May wheat selling from $1.02\cdot 0.25\cdot 0.2 ouching high water mark; it closed 14c under 11 %. The second decline was caused by the report The second decline was caused by the report of the closing of the Exchange at Euenos Ayre, owing to the demoralization of the finances there and an advance of 25 per cent in the gold premium. There was another gradual recovery, and the price had worked up to 81 02% when a telegram was received from Minneapoins quoting cash wheat as selling there at 8%, compared with 82c on Thursday last, upon the showing around of which message the price shot up at once to 81 65. There was still another such rise in store; this time in favor of the short sellers on grain, the price dropping very suddenly to $1 02%. These changes were crowded into the first half of the session, and about 12 clock the price had again recovered to $1 02%. The December delivery was difficult to trade in, a seller having as a rule to keep offering it down 3/2 below the issual spread, and a buyer, on the other hand, had to bid it up about 3/2 before finding customers. The failure of an important cotton hou: e do-

Ream, Cudahy and Linn were disposed to have sold very heavy on every hard spot, and Hutchisson was buying openly in small lots and selling in wholesale parcels through trukers. Closing prices were 5c over the low-est prices of the day.

The corn market was fairly active, and dur-ing the greater portion of the day it was stone.

The corn market was fairly active, and during the greater portion of the day it was strong and higher. There was considerable nervousmen in the trading and the fluctuations appeared governed in a great measure by the changes in the price of wheat. The opening price for May could not be exacely determined except by triking an average, which was taken as being 55%c. The range in the pit at the moment of starting was from 55%c to 55%c. It advanced to 56c and December ended to 55%c at one time, but very little was sold under 55c at one time, but very little was sold under 55c antil near the end of the session. There were sellers at 55c as trading ceased.

Outs were moverably active, but without features of importance. After opening ½c higher, prices advance of $6c, and the market closed quiet at about inside figures.

People Who Show Confidence in Business by Helping It Along.

Speculative Commodities Down to Bed-Rock on Account of Tight Money.

THE NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE CITY

That moneyed men have faith in the continued prosperity and progress of Pittsburg is shown by the large investments they are making in various branches of trade. They know the people are not speculating, but transforming natural products into shapes and forms which render them absolutely indispensable to civilized man. Railroad companies are not apt to be deceived in business matters. They take no important step without good reason for it. That they have confidence in the stability and expansion of the business interests of the city is clearly shown by the preparations they are making to handle a volume of truffic much larger than their present capacity. They are enlarging their yards, building new freight houses, improving their roadbeds, adopting improved methods for running trains so as to reduce time and expense to a minimum, and adding largely to their rolling stock. They would not do this if they thought there were breakers ahead. But confidence in the uninterrupted development of the city is not restricted to any particular class of business men. They all share it and show it. Occasionally an individual or a firm may get into trouble as the result of having too many irons in the fire, or of attempting to do a large business on a small capital, or of operating on borrowed money, and there is no inherent weakness in any of the local ac-no inherent weakness in any of the local activities, and where business methods are pursued profitable results may confidently be depended upon.

It should be remembered also, as furnishing an explanation for much of the pessimistic talk and feeling of the past few weeks, that the end of the year is almost in sight, when business must be evened up and balances s-ruck. This is always a trying period. It brings weak spots to light. Concerns which seemed to fly high when the year was young, but were really operating on wind, are brought up with a sudden turn when required to square up at the end of turn when required to square up at the end of the last quarter. To ascribe these fatalities to the last quarter. To ascribe these fatalities to business depression, and argue thence that everything is going to pieces is neither just nor reasonable. They are speculative ventures in which the promoters had nothing to lose and everything to gain. The success of some enterprises would be far more surprising than their failure.

While this is a time to watch every step and grand every point to make assurance doubly guard every point, to make assurance doubly sure, nothing can be gained by indulging dolor ous ferebodings of imaginary disasters. At the battle of Trafnigar Lord Nelson signaled to his fleet: "England expects every man to do his duty." If every member of this community will do this there will be no serious trouble, It will be time to talk about a panic when it comes.

MONEY RULES CLOSE

But Financiers Take a More Hopeful View of the Situation.

There was a more confident feeling in local financial circles, yesterday, than for a week or two, and although money was close, practically beyond the reach of outsiders, the regular trade was promptly supplied on the usual terms, 6@7 per cent.

The business of the Clearing House was again large, the exchanges footing up $2,798,783 58 and large, the exchanges footing up $2.798.783 58 and the balances $341,192 28. These figures are not manufactured for the purpose of misleading the public, but are authentic, and show a healthy condition of general trade.

Advices from London were more reassuring. Americans were strong and advancing at the close, and even Argentines were steadier. The money market was easier than for several days. In New York money ruled at $405 per cent.

Money on call at New York yesterday was easy, ranging from $405 per cent, last loan $4, closed offered at 4. Prime mercantile paper, $6509. Sterling exchange quiet but strong at $4 81½ for $60-day bills and $4.87½ for demand.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Market Opens Irregular and Final Prices Low-A Broader Market May be Looked For-Probable Changes in Management of Union Pacific.

NEW YORK, November 25.-The stock mar tet to-day was less active than usual of late and there was a reaction of material proportions all along the line. Many evidently felt that the pace of the improvement in values of late has been too rapid, and were prepared to take profits already accepted, while the same sentiment gave the bears courage to again try their hands. The London market reports showed that there was an abundance of money at low rates there, and the market for Americans of the same showed that there was an abundance of money at low rates there, and the market for Americans of the same showed that there was an abundance of money at low rates there, and the market for Americans of the same showed that there was an abundance of money at low rates there, and the market for Americans of the same showed that there was an abundance of money at low rates there, and the market for Americans of the same shows the showed that there was an abundance of money at low rates there, and the market for American stocks was reported to be higher, but the news from South America was not so encouraging, the premium on gold in the Argentine being up to a very high figure again, and that was expected to be the possible cause of a decline upon this country for gold to supply the want by England. There was a decided weaknesstin sugar on the decision yesterday, and these causes operated with the fact that day after ignidation on both sides of the account, to cause a recession in values for the time being. The opening was irregular, as usual, and the early trading even developed some strength, especially in the grangers, after the first de-cline. There was a marked absence of the supfor $30,000. Railroad bonds were quieter, but the number of issues traded in exceeded those of any day for the same time, while the market failed to respond in any manner to the weakness of the share list. There was a fym tone throughout the session, and while the final advances are not large, they are general and important. The sales of all issues reached $1,618,000, with such issues as the Northern Pacific 5s, the Texas Pacific incomes, the Kansas and Texas 4s, and the Atchison incomes specially prominent. Among the advances were Northwestern consols, 2½ to 1½. Government bonds have been dull and steadysto firm. State bonds have been dull and steadysto firm. State bonds have been dull and featureless.

The Post says: It is known that for some time persons going to Europe have taken United States Treasury gold certificates instead of bills of exchange for traveling purposes. They find that these certificates circulate about as freely as Bank of England notes, in many parts of Europe. This known fact makes it a reasonable suggestion that in the emergencies of the last few weeks much larger amounts of gold certificates have gone abroad than ever before, and that this may have helped to keep the rates of exchange down and to at least defer the export of gold. For the purposes of bank reserves the United States Treasury gold certificates are just as good as the metal itself, because, the actual amount of the gold itself is held against every certificate issued. The certificate is to all intents merely a warehouse receipt for the metal which is deliverable on demand, and in the present scarcity of gold in Europe, it is not impossible that they might temporarily be regarded as such.

Grain, Flour and Feed. There were no sales on call at the Grain Exchange. Receipts as bulletined, 56 cars, of which 34 cars were by the Pittsburg, Cincinnati which 34 cars were by the Fitzourg, Chainnan and St. Louis Railway, as follows: 17 cars of corn, 9 of oats, 1 of middlings, 6 of hay, 1 of bran. By Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago, 1 car of bran, 2 of corn, 9 of hay, 1 of feed, 5 of flour. By Baltimore and Ohio, 1 car of hay, 2 of oats. By Pittsburg and Western, 1 car of wheat. The stock of flour in hands of our local jobbers is very large and competition is sharp. Spring patents have been advanced 10c per barrel at Minneapolis within a day or two, and jobbers here will not be able to replace stock so as to sell at present prices. Choice hay is firm, but low grades are weak. Corn and oats are in liberal supply and markets are quiet, with situation in buyers' favor. The tone of cereal markets shows some improvement, and had it not been for the late financial flurry, there is little doubt that prices would have found a higher level before this time.

Prices are for carload lots on track:

extended to his lungs, causing a lingering cough, which increased in severity until he coughed day and night, and during his severe coughing spells he put up blood. Day by day he felt his strength gradually failing until he fully realized that his disease was becoming deeper seated.

In this condition he began treatment with the physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute at 232 Penn avenue, and in speaking of his subsequent cure said: "My disease continued to grow worse until I became afraid I had consumption. I now feel like a new man, and am glad to testify to my complete cure by these specialists.
