IRELAND TO DECIDE

The Party Leadership Question Without Interference From America.

PARNELL'S CHANCES VERY SLENDER

CHICAGO, November 29 .- It was to the two big armovies on the Chicago Lake Front, not to the Parliament Houses, that Irish eyes in this city, at least, unanimously turned to-night, At possibly the gravest moment in Ireland's history, the six men who by common consent of the world seemed the arbitrators of her destiny, were to publiely avow their sentiments. Two, at least, of the chosen six men were possible successor's of Ireland's uncrowned King himself. And, to top it all, were either of the two, John Dillon or William O'Brien, to put toot on British soil, that instant would find him, instead of welcomed toward a chair of State, hurried into a stone dungeon.

That every mother's son and daughter was bound to pay admission cut no figure.

DELIA PARNELL PRESENT.

Two hours before the time set for the as-"Garry Owen" and the "Wearing of the Green," cheer after cheer broke torth. Seated in the front of the reserved chairs, next the platform, was a matronly remining figure with snow-white hair they e brushed carefully down in antique (ashion lavor. over her broad temples. On her shoulders was a brilliant colored shaws, and every now and then her down-cast eyes were raised, disclosing the old-time flashing glunce of Mrs. Parnell, the mother of the man still at the belm of Irish affairs. Attention was divided between her and the rapidly arriving Vice Presidents, repre-senting practically every shade of Irish opinion in Chicago.

ILLUSTRIOUS VICE PRESIDENTS. Among them were Archbishop Feehan, Robert T, Lincoln, Bishop Spaulding, Philip D. Armour, George M. Pullman, Carter Harrison, Marshall Field, T. F. Healy, John M. Palmer, Benjamin Butter-worth, Waiter Q. Gresham, Franklin Me-Vengh and many others almost equally

At 8:25, the parliamentary party quietly entered from the rear. The instant Dillon's tall form came into view the audience broke into a wild cheer, which was caught up again and again as O'Brien, Sullivan, T. P. O'Connor, Gill and Timothy Harrington were espied following closely behind.

Mayor Creiger acted as Chairman, and inaudience, cheer after cheer arose. In neither Dillon's speech nor the remarks of O'Brien and his colleagues was the name of Parnel: mentioned or the leadership question re-were passed ununimously: While conscious that the cause of home rule is by no means dependent upon any individual, we should be unitrue to ourselves and justice of the cause did we tail to recognize the splendid services of Charles Stewart Paruell. The Irish neople owe to him a debt of gratitude which can never be fully paid. When all seemed darkness and doubt, he sounded the tocsin thich called in action an army of resolute and eruic men, who for more than ten long years as stood with absolute singleness of purpose, with unquestioned purity of motive and with patriotic lervor almost without parallel in the rid's history. They won for the first time in the century the attention of England and the and the bars proved more potent than their

IRELAND MUST SETTLE IT. In the crisis presented at this moment it does not become us to attempt to dictate to the Irish people as to their course. We recognize that they are upon the immediate field of action, with infinitely better opportunities for forming a judgment than is presented to us. The claim of Ireland's right to home rule presumes the capacity of the people of Ireland for self-gov-canacity of the people of Ireland for self-gov-crament. Hence to them and their authorized spiresentatives we leave all questions of policy and leadership, promising a lasting and hearty support to their judiment and choice. It is our earnest hope that with calmness, for-hearance and exceeding wisdom they will so order the affairs of the Irish Parliamentary harty as to silence all discord, and that hand in hand with the great common people of Ire-land, they may move on to victory, which awaits them in the near future.

MR. DILLON IS NON-COMMITTAL

He and His Party Refuse to Express a Positive Opinion.

CHICAGO, November 29 .- A reporter secured an interview with John Dillon regarding the relations of Gladstone and Parnell and the situation generally, Mr. Dillon said: "We have not yet arrived at the stage where we wish to give an expression on these subjects, and when we do we wish to give it as the sentiments of our entire party six. It is for this reason that we refrain from expressing individual opinious."

A summary of Gladstone's mani esto, just from the wires, was handed to Mr. Dillon He (Dillou) reached eagerly for it, but at the same time saying, "While I am very anxious to read this, I shall probably make no comment whatever." Though jostled right and left by the crowd, Mr. Dillon read steadily on till he had mastered the tenor of the dispatch, and then banded back the manuscript, resolutely refusing to open

BEN BUTLER'S OPINION.

What Answer He Would Make to His

Enemies if in Parnell's Place. BOSTON, November 29.-General Butler expressed himself on the Irish leadership question as follows:

Assuming, as one must do, from Mr. Parnell's character as a straightforward, truthful man, that his statements concerning Mr. Gladstone that his statements concerning Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Moriey, the two leaders of the Liberal party. to be correctly reported, two things very clearly appear—that the whole movement against Mr. Paraeli now is for political purposes only, and that the pretense that the attack on him is founded solely on the objection to him out the ground of personal delinquency, is woully false and hypocritical. That a man is really to be prescribed in English public life because of his supposed moral delinquencies is teo farcical to be credited. If I were in his place, I should go into Parliament, and after stating the accusations made against me in proper language. I should address the members in the language of our Savior to the accusers of the woman who was charged with a

STAND BY PARNELL,

Is the Urgent Plea of Father Cronin to BUFFALO, November 29 .- The following disputch was sent this afternoon to the Rt. Hon. William O'Brien, M. P., one of the Irish envoys now in Chicago, by Rev. Father P. Cronin, editor of the Catholic Union and Times:

MY DEAR FRIEND-In view of the very powerful Irish sentiment prevailing here must impress upon you and your colleagues the pressing necessity of standing by Ireland's greatest benefactor in this hour of his country's peril. Parnell, not Gladstone, has won our triumble. Desertion of him will, I firmly believe, result in ruin of Ireland's hopes during the present generation. Disunion has been ireland's bane. Close up the ranks behind him, who, more than any other man, has united and solidified the now almost victorious nation.

Must be about Kautmanns' merchant tailoring department, for the old names inva-riably reappear in the order book, while many new ones are added daily. It doesn't take a deep student of human nature to find the cause for this. You know it, too, and this is the magnet that attracts the crowds. Where is there a man so rich that the saving of money has no object for him, or so indif-ferent about his clothes that he doesn't desire them to be cut in style and perfect fitting? Here then we have the key for the continuous success of Kaufmanns' merchant tailoring department.

THE REPORTED BREAK

the Naming of Harrity

WILL NOT BE TALKED ABOUT By Any of Those Mentioned in Connection With the Affair.

SOME GOOD WORDS FOR HARRITY

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 PHILADELPHIA, November 29 .- "I prefer not to discuss the matter or to give any public expression of opinion regarding it," said ex-Postmaster William F. Harrity today when spoken to regarding the published statement that there has been a disagreement between Governor-elect Pattison and Judge James Gay Gordon, because of Mr. Harrity's selection as Secretary of State, which appointment the Governor-elect is credited with having decided upon. "The formation of the Governor's Cabinet," continued Mr. Harrity, "in the very nature of things, is in Mr. Pattison's keeping and there I prefer to leave it."

Governor-elect Pattison had just completed his labors for the day and was leaving the bank, of which he is president, for his home in West Philadelphia, when he was asked: "What is there in the story of a break between you and some of your triends regarding the selection of members of your Cabinet?" "I have nothing what-ever to sav upon the subject," was the reply of the Governor-elect. "The article re-referred to was called to my attention by a friend, but I will not discuss it." Ex-Secretary of State William S. Steuger, who is on very close terms of personal and political intimacy with Judge Gordon, was visited in his law office at Fifth and Chestnut streets and asked to verify or deny the STENGER REPUSES TO TALK. "I am very sorry to disablige you," re-plied the genial ex-Secretary, "but I do not wish to say anything regarding the matter." Judge Gordon could not be seen to-day, he having left the city for his country home at Spring Lake, where he is expected to re-main until Monday morning. Should the break between Governor-elect Pattison and Messrs. Gordon and Stenger become an open one, it will not seriously affect the party organization, as Mr. Harrity is ad-mittedly well qualified to fill the position which he has been asked to accept, and even his bitterest political opponents admit that as a party leader he is fairly entitled to the distinction which has been offered him and which he will no doubt accept.

Among the members of his party through-Among the members of his party throughout the State the ex-Postmaster is very popular. During his term of office as Fostmaster of this city he invariably placed in positions under his administration active party workers as a reward for services rendered, and oftentimes he has earned praise by selecting men for places who were not in sympathy with the faction of which he was the acknowledged head. At the same time, while lookedged head. At the same time, while looking after his party's interest, he paid strict attention to the needs and wants of the peo ple, and as a consequence he was allowed to remain in office, despite his bitter partisan-ship, for months after President Harrison entered upon his term of office.

A VERY NICE OFFICE. The Secretaryship of State is reported to be worth from $10,000 to $12,000 a year, and there are a number of nice appointments which are at his disposal. The stalwart workers are confident that the new Secretary will put "none but Democrats on guard."

While the duties of the Governor and those of the Secretary of the Commonwealth are many, yet they are not so exacting, and an intimate friend of the Governor-elect and or Mr. Harrity said to night that neither would resign the position now held by them, Mr. Pattison being President of the Chestaut Street National Bank and Mr. Harrity President of the Equitable Trust Company, because of their acceptances of the new offices which they are to fill at Harrisburg. One of the stockholders of the Equitable Trust Company said to-night:

pany said to-night:

I have been told, but not by Mr. Harrity himself, that he will be named as Secretary of the Commonwealth by Governor Pattison. Should this prove true, as I believe it will, I don't see way it should in any way interfere with his continuance as the head of our company. It is only a few hours from here to Harrisburg and it is only during the sessions of the Legislature that the duties of the Secretary at Harrisburg are so exacting as to demand his constant attention. I do not believe that when a man accepts a public place for a few years he should give up a business which is almost certain to be his during his lifetime.

STILL IN POLITICS. EX-SENATOR EMERY SAYS HE DOES NOT MEAN TO RETIRE,

But Will Continue to Mingle in the Affairs of the State Through the Medium of a Newspaper-Independents Should Keep Up Their Organization. PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR .:

PHILADELPHIA, November 29 .- Ex- Serator Emery and wife were at the Laravette to-day, leaving for home on the 11:25 train. They have been spending a few days at Virginia Beach. The Independent ex-Senator is very much gratified at the result of the election, and says that it is the dawn of a better era in the politics of Pennsylvania. Although defeated for the Congressional nomination in his own district, he does not propose to retire from polities. He is about purchasing a modern press and complete newspaper outfit, and proposes to continue the publication of the afternoon daily paper which he started as a campaign sheet. He says he wants the oil country to have one newspaper that is not run for the sole one newspaper that is not run for the sole purpose of keeping the people in ignorance of the true political situation. When asked as to the policy that should be pursued by the Independent Republicans, he said they should maintain their organization by all means, as their work had but just begun. He said the Independent Republican State nittee should not think of dispanding, but should be ready to engage in future campaigns at a moment's notice it necessary.

There will be State officers and United Senators to be elected in the future, and if the victory just won is to be of any permanent benefit to the public, it must be followed up until the dictation of nominations by political bosses becomes an impos-sibility. Mr. Emery is looking well, his two weeks sojourn at Virginia Beach hav-ing enabled him to recover entirely from the fatigue of the campaign.

ALL FOR CAMERON. C. L. Magee Says There is No Opposition

the Senator. EPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 PHILADELPHIA, November 29 .- C. L. Marce, the well-known Republican leader of Western Pennsylvania, was in a pleasant frame of mind to-day as he walked down Chestnut street. Meeting Collector of Internal Revenue David Martin the two chatted pleasantly together after warmly exchanging greetings. He declared that his visit to this city was in relation to some private matters requiring his attention, and that he was on his way to New York City where he will remain for a day or two.
"What about the fight which is being asked.

"I know of no fight," replied Mr. Magee,
"and I do not think that there will be any.

Of course there are some men who would like to stir things up with the hope that they may be benefited, but you will find they cannot succeed, as almost every Republican in the State desires Mr. Cameron returned." "Have the members of the Allegheny made against Cameron's re-election?" was county delegation agreed upon a candidate for Speaker?" was also asked.

"So far as I know, there has not been a meeting of the members of the House from our county. In fact there has been little discussion regarding the Speakership in our part of the State."

HAMPTON IS DOOMED.

Tillman and His Alliance Party Bent on the Senator's Defeat.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCEL : CHARLESTON, S. C., November 29 .- The Alliance has drawn the lines sharply in the State Legislature, and hereafter all Democrats who are not in sympathy with the Alliance are to be ruled out of the caucus, which will settle everything. Senator Hampton is undoubtedly doomed. Governor Tillman, who was quoted as saying during the campaign that he would not oppose Hampton, is now against him. In an interview, after referring to his statement made in an Aiken and the state of the statement made in an Aiken and the state of the statement made in an Aiken and the statement made in an area of the statem speech, in which he said: "I can even go further than this, and could pray that Senator Hampton raight die in the United States Senate, but he has no business taking part in this family quarrel between Democrats,"

Tillman adds:

Those were my sentiments at the time, and I never expected to change them, but Senator Hampton, in that Aikon speech, offended his audience very deeply by a broad intimation that the State was in danger of Mahonism from me and my friends. Since then one of his friends has actually played Mahone, as far as he was able, and the Senator only had words of praise and commendation for him, and while I have nothing to do with the Senatorial election and do not expect to allow the use of my name as a candidate for the Senate, I no longer have such a feeling as I had at Alken, and our Senator, if not elected, can attribute his defeat to his own acts.

MONEY HELD

By the Firm of Jamison & Co. Secured by Bonds of $200,000

WHICH TREASURER BOYER HOLDS.

Liabilities of the Broken Banking House Amount to $1,000,000.

MOSTLY DEPOSITS OF STATE BANKS ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

PHILADELPHIA, November 29 .- The liabilities of the banking house of B. K. Jamison & Co. have been approximately estimated. They will amount to $1,000,000. Samuel Gustine Thompson says the de-posits of the various State banks and individuals will constitute the bulk of the liabilities, and will reach about $500,000. It is estimated that liabilities in other directions will run up to a like figure. There is no estimate of what will be the amount of the assets. The street is utterly unable to arrive at any opinion of this end of the assignment. While this is true, the prevailing impression is that B. K. Jamison & Co. have suffered a heavy failure, and that only by careful moving of the securities can the firm be able to come out whole.

ARE NOT BEING PUSHED.

The house, through Mr. Jamison, expressed itself as being well pleased with the treatment received from all the creditors.

They have not pressed their claims to secure immediate payment, and the firm is satisfied that they will not. Mr. Jamison asserts that if this good will continues to be shown to the house the creditors will receive all that is due them, and they will probably be able to resume business in a very short time. It is definitely known that the failure of the banking house will not cripple or cause a collapse of any local institution. There are many creditors in the city, but they are mostly private individuals. But there is every uncertainty as to what will be the ontowns of the insolvent firm's connection with 80 or 100 banks throughout the State.

Fears are unwillingly entertained that the Jamison failure may possibly lead to a disruption of some of these.

It has been found impossible to learn from B. K. Jamison & Co. what they owe to these country banks. The firm says it is not in a position to give out the amount of the accounts with any one or all of these institutions.

Mr. Jamison and his colleagues, however, hold the opinion that the accounts are not large enough to produce any serious results, and that there is no reason why a run should be made on the country banks. HELD $25,000 OF STATE MONEY. The news that B. K. Jamison & Co. held $25,000 of the State's money caused considerable interest on the street during the day.

There had been rumors that the firm had some of the Commonwealth's funds, but not much credence was placed in them. When State Treasurer Boyer heard of B. K. Jamison & Co.'s failure on Friday, he immediately bastened from Harrisburg to this city. The State Treasurer held a consultation with Mr. Jamison and Assignce Thompson. Through his private counsel, J. Quincy Hunsicker, the State Treasurer entered a record in Court of Common Pleas No. 4 of the two bonds given to him to secure his deposit of State moneys with the insolvent firm.

Each of the bonds was for $100,000. One was signed by the members of the firm in the name of B. K. Jamison & Co. The other was signed by the members of the firm in their individual capacity.

A FAILURE NEAR BY.

THE EBENSBURG BANKING FIRM OF JOHNSTON, BUCK & CO.

Caught by the Crash of B. K. Jamison at Philadelphia—Prospects of Patrons Go -County Treasurer Howe, of Johnstown, the Heaviest Depositor. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

EBENSBURG, PA., November 29 .- The firm of Johnston, Buck & Co., bankers of this place, failed to open this morning, and the report was soon confirmed that they had been caught in the B. K. Jamison failure, the latter being the Philadelphia correspondents of the local bank. As soon as the failure was known, the officers, when seen, stated that they felt fully able to pay dollar for dollar. They said the first payment of 25 per cent could be made January 1, 1891, and 25 per cent every following three mouths until all was paid. The firm had about $45,000 in outside banks, $40,000 of which was in the hands of B. K. Jamison & Co. Their entire loss, therefore, is not more than $40,000, and reliable business men, who are heavy depositors, say they are confident their deposits will be paid in full. The heaviest man interested is County Treasurer Howe, who has $20,000 on deposit. Late this evening the firm issued the following statement: Assets, $263,680 57; liabilities, $238,448 57. This would give a net loss of $25,232 47, with all assets realized, and is not as favorable as thought at first. This loss is by far overbalanced by the personal property of the members of the firm, which is estimated at being fully $60. 000, and they have the fullest confidence of their depositors that they will pay every dollar owing. Excitement over the failure has died away.

A special from Johnstown says: The failure of the banking firm of Johnston, Buck & Co., at Ebensburg, created much uneasiness here, as it was understood that the banks here also have large deposits with Jamison & Co. The deposits of the First National Bank here were increased over $500,000 on account of the disbursements of flood relief money and the class of people who made their deposits are easily excited, but it is thought there is no basis for their fears. County Treasurer Howe had the county's funds largely in the Ebensburg Bank, and it is feared he will not be able to secure funds to pay court expenses next week. The estate of the late Judge Johnston is involved in the failure.

THE CITY OF CORRY INVOLVED By the Failure of Jamison & Co., who Have

its Bonds in Trust.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCHA CORRY, PA., November 29 .- This city is in an unhappy condition to-night on account of the complications which have again arisen over the action of her Councils. The city issued $110,000 in improvement bonds, and after executing them, intrusted them to B. K. Jamison & Co., the Philadelphia bankers, to place on the market.

The city has no security, and it is not known whether the bonds have been nego-tiated or not. The fact that the city has nothing to show for the bonds will no doubt cause any amount of trouble. SPECIAL attractions in linen table sets, August Belmont's Fine Stable of Hors be Sold at Auction.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR.1 NEW YORK, November 29.—None of the late August Belmont's sous have inherited their father's love for racing, and it is announced August Belmont's sols have inherited their father's love for racing, and it is announced on good authority that the entire stud, including the many choicely-bred sires and matrons in the nursery stud near Lexington, will be sold at anction, and that in the matter of a very short time the marconi and red will be seen no more on the turf. Mr. Belmout was a representative of the true racing gentleman. He did not race for mere sport, but gloricd in the winning of some historic event with a race borse of his own breeding. It was this sentiment that made the Futurity of 1890, when he ran first and second with Potomac and Masher, the crowning success of his life.

It was understood some months ago that Mr. Belmont had asked his son, August, Jr., to take charge of the extensive racing interests at the beginning of the year, but the son's tastes in the horse line ran more to high steppers and hunters, and he was indisposed to accept the responsibility. Now that his father has passed away, Trainer James Rowe has received instructions to catalogue the sires and brood mares in Kentucky and the few mares that remain at Babylon and prepare them for auction.

The Silver Spike Driven by Two Mayors Amid Great Rejoicing.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. STEUBENVILLE, November 28.—The extension of the Wheeling and Lake Eric Railroad to this city, and its formal opening for traffic, was the occasion for a grand demonstration to-day. By the early trains several hundred people arrived. Boats brought large crowds from Wheeling and points below. Vehicles brought crowds from all the country around, and when the special train on the new road arrived the number of strangers in the city was estimated at over 10,000.

The arrival of the trains on the new road was the signal for blasts from every whistle in the

STATE TO MANUFACTURE LYMPH.

It Would Cause More Deaths Than Dread

Consumption Itself,

IF IT IS UNSKILLFULLY IMITATED

COPYRIGHT, 1890, BY THE NEW YORK ASSOCIATED

BERLIN, November 29 .- Dr. von Gossler, Prussian Minister of Ecclesiastical Affairs, replying in the Lower House of the Diet to-day to the interpellation of Herr Graff as to what measures the Government intended to take to promote the adoption of Prof. Koch's remedy, declared that the aspersions cast upon certain physicians engaged in using the lymph had proved groundless. The Finance Minister, Dr. von Gossler, said he had placed at the disposal of Prof. Koch sufficient funds to enable him to continue his inquiries and produce the lymph. There was now good ground to hope that the remedy would be found to be efficacious in the treatment of other diseases than tuberculosis. Care had been taken to make the remedy perfectly accessible to the poor.

THE STATE WILL MAKE IT. In the course of time the preparation of the lymph would be entrusted to competent persons employed by the State. A private centleman had given 1,000,000 marks, the Minister stated, to be used for the benefit of a period of six weeks, it was found that the lymph could be supplied at a cost of 25 marks per 5 grammes. An ordinary phial contains sufficient for 5,000 inoculations, each cost 5 piennige.

Regarding the question of placing the manufacture of the lymph under the exclusive control of the State, Dr. Vou Gossler thought that a feeling of satisfaction would be experienced throughout the world if Prussia should set her stamp upon the lymph; but a guarantee must be given against financial or subsidiary condi-tions. The Government would eventually invite other nations to send representatives to study the use of the remedy in order that they might apply it in their own countries.

FOREIGN PHYSICIANS DISAPPOINTED. Dr. Von Cosslers statement, indicating as it does an intended prolonged guarding of the secret of the lymph, disappoints the numerous foreign medical men assembled here. The English group affirm that it is hopeless to expect their college of physicians to recognize the use of the lymph, as it is against the canons of the college to permit the application of a remedy the com-position of which is a secret.

Dr. Kowakski, a leading Austrian army physician and chief of the Institute of Bacteriology at Vienna, defends the guarding of the preparation of the lymph on the ground that it is one of the most powerful medicines discovered, and cannot be applied too cautiously. Poof. Koch says if it were placed without reserve in the hands of all practitions may deaths result as of all practitioners more deaths would result from its use than were caused by consumption.

Lord Connemara Prevents High Name Coming Out in Divorce Court. IBY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH.1

LONDON, November 29 .- The mention made in these columns that Her Majesty has been doing her best to prevent the explosion of a scandal, gravely involving one of the high officers of the crown, has at last been confirmed by proceedings in a Cured in 8 Weeks. One of the Greatest Cures divorce court concerning Lord Connemars. Lord Connemars, better known for many years as the Hon. Robert Bourke, married the only daughter many years ago of the celebrated Marquis of Dalhousie. Of late years their married life had not been happy, and during their residence in Madras, Lady Connemara made discoveries concerning a tayorite Irish maid of her's which led to a violent rupture and to her ladyship's return to England. The disclosures made by the maid, in-volved not the maid herself only, but some ladies of high position in Englands one of them the widow of a public man now deceased and well known in the United States and Canada. On the failure of the efforts to induce Lady Connemara to forego an open public scandal, Lord Connemara finalty resigned some weeks ago his position as Governor of Madras and came home, resolving to accept the divorce before court rather than expose the names of third parties.

Ever Performed by the Cuticura Remedies.

At the age of three months a rash (which afterwards proved to be excens or sait rheum) made its appearance on my face. Physician after physician was called. None of them did me any good at all, but hade me worse. The disease continued unabated: it spread to my arms and legs, till i was fail up entirely, and from continued in the foot on a pillow, my limbs contracted so that I lost all control of them, and was utterly helpiess. My mother would have to Hit me out and into bed. I could not get my clothes on at all, and had to wear a soil of dressing gown. My hair had all matted down or rather off, and my head, face and ears were one scab. The disease continued in this manner, until I was seventeen years old, and one day in damary, legs, I read an aw account in the Tribuse of your Cuticers a Ren's bles. It described my case so exactly that I thought, as a last resort, to give them a trial. When I first applied them I was all raw and bleeding, from scratching myself, but I went to sleep almost immediately, something I had not done for years, the effect was so soothing. In about two weeks I could stand straight, but not walk, I was so weak that my sores were hearty well. As near as I can judge, the Cutricura Research well in any way, or have had the least signs of the disease reappearing of me.
