HAVE YOU EVER SEEN A VOLCANO

That for ages slept in silence, suddenly bursting forth in its awful magnitude? Or a dam that has for years withstood the pressure of the tide give way without the slightest sign of warning, unchaining the furious element to erase with one mighty sweep what it took human hands a century to accomplish?

But listen: Owing to the exceedingly warm and wet Fall, coupled with the recent tightness of the money market, Eastern manufacturers of clothing have from time to time offered us the very finest clothing at prices so temptingly low that we bought about $250,000 worth. Now that we have it, we find ourselves with a "white elephant" on our hands. True enough, the clothing was bought at next-to-nothing-prices, but as there has not (up to a few days ago) been any marked change in the weather, the demand for heavy goods has been exceedingly light. Two vast floors literally packed with Men's Finest Overcoats and Suits! Sighing and thinking of what might have been will do no good. Hourly the burden has become heavier, until now THE VOLCANO IS BURSTING FORTH! THE DAM IS GIVING WAY! During the next six days a flood of Fine Clothing will pour out of the doors of

KAUFMANN'S GRAND DEPOT,

That, like a tidal wave, will sweep everything before it. The prices will be so low that no human agency will be able to resist them.
