M'CLELLAND AND M'CABE TO RUN.

Dedds Defeats a Man in the Billiard Teurnament-General Sperting News.

"I think it safe to say that we'll get the new club organized on Monday" were the words of Manager Hanlon last evening, at the close of the meeting of the local P. L. stockholders. The meeting was held at the Hotel Duquesne, and lasted about two hours, and although every detail was not series of 300 in 99 innings, averaging 312-96, while Levy got together only 190. In the evening game Campbell with a handicap of 185 in 400 gave McLaughlin a good game, but was finally deteated by a score of 400 to 387. hours, and although every detail was not definitely settled, the business transacted warranted the assuring statement of Mr.

Director H. B. Rea was also extremely cheerful at the prospect, and said: "Everything is in first-class shape. There are two stockholders yet to hear from, Fred Carroll and one in the East. The latter, however, and Will McConnell, who for two years have is willing to forfeit his stock it he does not pay the 30 per cent assessment. However, we are all right."

According to the opinion of the stockholders tast evening no more meetings of the P. L. stockholders will be necessary, and the next meeting will be to organize the new club. At last evening's meeting the plan of dissolution agreed to was for each stockholder to pay his share of the club's debts. This most assuredly is the best way, and one that will be in the long run the most harmonious. At any rate, it is less open to objections than any other. Satisfactory arrangements will, at once, be made with the creditors, and, as Manager Hanlon soid, the new club may be formed on Both parties are unxious to have the new club organized so that definite and safe nction can be taken in the way of signing new players. Mr. Hanion is exceedingly muxicus on this point, as it is probable that after Monday clubs can commence signing players. On Monday the Conference Com-mittee is expected to meet in New York, and that body has the power to say that everything between the N. L. and P. L. is settled or declared off. In either event it is likely that permission will be given to clubs to sign players. In anticipation of this Mr. Handon desires that the Pittsburg club be in a position to be in the field as soon as anybody else.

Of course, Mr. Hanlon is not yet elected manager, but it is certain that he will be, judging from the general opinions of stockholders. Mr. O'Neill will be elected President of the club. The experiences gone through of late will certainly cause any man appointed to the office to be very cautions and fair to everybody concerned.

The debts of the P. L. club amount to $9,600, and all of this amount, except $600, is due one gentleman. He is interested in the club and has made very generous terms

At the same time he fails to tell that he poid his own salary promptly, and that an office favorite, solary unpaid, was allowed to dipose of 14,000 copies of unsaid guides in order that he might not be forced to walk to his Missouri house. Everybody connected with the defunct Players' League has suffered in pocket except Brunell, who, as Treasurer, looked out for his self. When the big fellow read lie story of the benefit performances in New York and saw the announcement that he had subscribed $500, his astonishment was so great that he came near having an apoplectic fit. It was announced in big letters, and there seemed to be no opportunity for mistake. Then the champion cot mad and nearly smashed the electric call in his haste to get a messenger boy. It took but a minute to write a despatch to Pat Sheedy, and then the boy actually ran toward the telegraph office with this message: "The $500 don't go. Thought the benefit was for you. Don't care anything about this man Coburn." There was no mistaking the tenor of that despatch. Pat Sheedy would not accept it as final, for he immediately telegraphed this demand to the champion: "For the sake of your reputation pay the money, whether it is $600 or $100,000." Sulfivan has not yet made up his mind whetner to lose his reputation or pay up.

THE SEVERE CENSURE

Of Minister Mizner for His Part in the Barruudia Killing

GIVEN HIM BY SECRETARY BLAINE.

Official Correspondence of the Case Eent to Congress.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 .- The President to-day transmitted to the House of Representatives the correspondence growing out of the killing of General Barrundia by Guatemalan officers on board the Pacific Mail steamer Acapulco in the port of San Jose. The correspondence was called for by resolution of September 21 last, declaring that Mr. Blaine, in his letter laying the correspondence be ore the President, says: "It will be observed the last report of Minister Mizner contains matter essential to a full and accurate understanding of the case," and was dated September 23, and not received at the department until October 9. several days after the adjournment of Con-

The correspondence consists of ten inclosures, the first of which was a telegram from Mr. Mizner to Mr. Blaine, dated August 28, and the last a letter from Mr. Blaine to Minister Mizzer, dated November 18, announcing that he can see no justidcation of Mr. Mizner's course, that this Government disayows his action, and directing him to turn over the affairs of the legation to Mr. Kimberly and return to the United States.

In his telegram announcing General Barrundia's death, Mr. Mizuer says he had advised the steamship officers that he guaranteed General Barrundia's personal salety, and that he had joined the United States Consul General in advising the Captain to permit the arrest, on the charge of being an enemy, martial law being in force. Under the date of August 30, Acting Secretary Wharton telegraphed Mizner regretting that he (the Minister), had advised or consented to the surrender, as no specific charge of violation of the ordinary law of Gustamala appeared.

Minister Minner's first letter to Secretary Blaine with regard to the killing is dated August 29, and was received September 18. He relates the circumstances already stated and then quotes a communication to Captain Pitts dated the 27th stating that Guatamala, like any other nation, has the right to arrest a person on a neutral ship in its waters in time of war for any cause deemed an offense under international law.

In a later telegram to Captain Pitts, Min-In a later telegram to Captain Pitts, Minister Mizner says:

If your ship is within one league of the territory of Guatamala and you have on board General Barrundia it becomes your duty under the law of nations to deliver him to the authorities of Guatamala upon their demand. Allegations having been made to this legation that Barrundia is hostile to, and an enemy to this Republic, guarantees have been made to me by this Government that his life shall not be in danger or any other punishment inflicted upon him other than for the causes charged.

safety, Mr. Mizner says, were at his request promised the night before by the President. Subsequently he received a telegram from Commander Reiter, of the pavy, acknowledging Guatamala's right over the steamer, and requesting the Minister to obtain per-mission from the Government to return Barrundia to Mexico in the Thetis. with our two war vessels.

This, he said, would have been in the exercise of the undoubted right of his Government over its own waters, in which he was confident the law of nations would have sustained him. Mr. Mizner says he had never heard of these orders before. He then gives the decision of Secretary Bayard in the Gomez, Mexican, case in support of his action, and concludes: "I confidently add that nothing will tend so much to the establishment of a permanent peace in these republies as a plain declaration that our flect of steamers cannot be used in local, waters as an asvlum for revolutionists." Blaine Censures the Minister. The correspondence closes with a letter from Secretary Blaine, to Mr. Mizner, dated November 18th, in which he reviews the case at length in all its bearings, and says that "the more the question is examined in the light of important facts, tardily disclosed, the deeper becomes the regret that you so far exceeded your legitimate authority as to sign the paper, which in the hands of the officers of Guatemala became their warrant for the capture of General Barrun-The Secretary contends that the claim that the Government of Guatemala had the right to arrest Barrundia under its con-tract with the Pacific Mail Steamship Company is untenable, and attacks each of the specific demands of Guatemala upon the representatives of the United States in this case as improper and illegal. The case of Gomez, which Mizner offers as second floor. an excuse for his conduct, the Secretary discusses at length and fails to find in it any support of Migner's action.

Secretary Blaine then continues: Mizner Wholly to Blame. I am aware that it may be said that after all you merely advised the Captain of his duty. But the Captain did not simply seek advice. But the Captain did not simply seek advice. In his telegram from Champerico, he says that op his arrival at San Jose he will place himself "under the orders of the American Minister." He again telegraphed to you later from Champerico that he was "awaiting your instructions," and that at San Jose he expected "your written orders." In his last telegram to you, dispatched from San Jose on arriving at that port on the evening of August 27, he categorically inquires: "Shall I deliver General Barrundia to the authorities here? If so, please send me a letter with your signature to that effect."

please send me a letter with your signature to that effect."

There is not here the slightest suggestion that Captain Pitts proposed to act otherwise than by your orders, and under your responsibility. It was under these circumstances that you wrote the letter which became, in the hands of a Guatemalan official, the pretext of the attempted seizure of General Barrundia.

The naval force of the United States in those waters thus became an acquiescent spectator of events, although a merciant vessel of the United States was then lying under the muzzles of guns manned by men who, as you state, you had every reason to believe were prepared to resort to any act of violence, "even," as Senor Angulano has since declared to you, "to sink the ship, notwithstanding it might have involved a conflict with our two war vessels then and there."

Little Regard for Threats. I am not disposed to pay undue regard to these post facto threats, which are now rethese post facto threats, which are now reported to the department. I prefer to think that by extravagance of language, uncontrolled by the actual presence of the problem which he was permitted to solve so much to his satisfaction, Senor Anguiano has done this injustice to his own sense of humanity. To have sunk the Acapulco, with her freight of innocent lives, in the execution of a purpose for the accomplishment of which nothing but unlawful and invalid excuses have so far been advanced, would have been an act of warfare, and of savage warfare.

And I am instructed by the President to say that he earnestly trusts the time will never come when the course of events in Gnatamala or the declared purpose of her rulers will con-strain this Government to insure the safety of its merchant vessels entering the waters of Guatamala, by stationing naval vessels along the coast and opposite the ports of that country.

Secretary Blaine informs Mr. Mizner that if, instead of screpting the lawless and tur-bulent condition of affairs as the ground of his advice and consent to the surrender of General Barrundia, he had made it the basis of a suggestion to Commander Reiter to offer him hospitality on board of the Ranger, within or without the waters of Guatamala, and with or without the consent NO EXCUSE FOR THE MINISTER had the sanction of humane and recognized offer hospitality to political refugees. This is done from morives of humanity. Its views would not have been less pronounced if, in addition to the humane aspect of the subject, it had also been confronted with the duty of greventing the decks of its merchant vessels from being made the theater of illegal violence, upon groundless and unlawful excuses, and without even the pretense of legal formality.

For your course, therefore, in intervening to permit the authorities of Guatamala to accomplish their desire to capture General Barrundia, I can discover no justification. You were promptly informed that your act was regretted. I am now directed by the President to inform you that it is disavowed, The President is moreover, of opinion that your usefulness in Central America is at an end. hospitality to political refugees.

THE WEATHER.

FOR WESTERN PENNSYLVA-NIA AND WEST VIRGINIA: LIGHT SNOWS, NORTHEAST-ERLY WINDS, SLIGHT CHANGES IN TEMPERATURE.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 5, 1890.

The United States Signal Service officer this city furnishes the following:

SPECIAL WEATHER BULLETIN.

The Storm Threatening the East is Driven to the South.

PREPARED FOR THE DISPATCH.1 The storm on the coast of Maine had entirely disappeared into the Atlantic yesterday, and the one which was central near Cheyenne, and which promised to move eastward with great energy, had moved southward, spreading over a large territory with decreased energy. A high pressure area of vast proportions appeared in the extreme Northwest, extending to the lake region and moving southward. It caused A the storm to recede to the dry lands of the A North American plateau, where an unusually A beavy rainfall occurred. Light snow fell in the lake region and the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys. From New Orleans to Duluth there was a decided rise in temperature of from 10 to 20 degrees. Elsewhere slowly rising | Fi temperatures prevailed, except in the extreme
