SENTENCES FOR THE CRIMINALS.

Justice Dealt Out in Small Quantities by Judge Stowe.

THE WEEKLY TRIAL LIST NOW ISSUED

As a rule politicians, before they die in the last ditch, compromise, and, pooling their issues, form new schemes for the working of their common heritage, the masses; but religionists are not usually built that way, and in the case of the fight between the "ins" and the "outs" in the Ebenezer Baptist Church it looks as though the contest will go on until the breeching breaks.

As noticed before in THE DISPATCH, the 'ins," finding the church charter defective, applied for an amendment, and now comes James W. Prescott, Esq., attorney for Isaac Morton, Isham Carter and W. I. Johnston, the "outs," and Frank Thomson, Esq., attorney an answer objecting to the amendment asked for and setting forth that the church's sup-posed charter isn't a charter at all. Messrs. Prescott and Thomson have filed their excep-tions in Common Pleas No. 1, December term, hey refer to the organization as the union corporated congregation known as the Ebenezer Baptist Church. They say that the allegation of the petition for amendment of charter that the petitioners is a corporation created and existing under the corporation act of 157s and its supplements, is untrue, and that the charter is invalid in that it fails to comply with the provisions of the Seventh sec-tion of the act of April 25, 1885, regulating the manner in which property, real or personal, of religious societies shall be taken and held or ndly-The charter being invalid, it con-

Secondly—The charter being invalid, it conferred no power upon the alleged corporation to do any act and it cannot in its corporate capacity legally petition this court.

Third—A void charter cannot be amended; the proceedings must be de novo.

Fourth—The proposed amendment simply provides that property, real or nersonal, of the corporation "shall be taken or held, or inure to it, subject to the control and disposition of the lay members," thus ignoring and evading the imperative command of the act of 1855, that such property should not be otherwise taken or held or inured. The amendment further provides that the limitations imposed by statute as to the manner of holding property by religious societies should apply to property which shall have the helmosthal decrease a convariant. ereafter be bequeathed, devised, or conveyed the corporation, thus exempting from its rovisions property now and heretofore other rise owned and held by said alleged corpora on under the charter sough; to be amended. Fifth-The proposed amendment to section of the original charter is illegal for the furroperty (including franchises), is too compre-ensive, not being limited to the needs and ourposes of the corporation, as provided in the conseral corporation act of 1874 and its supplein view of all these objections the Court is asked to deny the request of the Ebenezerites, and the case may get into the Supreme Court before it is finally disposed of.

SENTENCE DAY IN COURT. Judge Stowe on the Bench to Ladle Out the Medicine.

Yesterday was sentence day in Criminal There were several persons present to testify to his previous good character, among them a minister. Judge Stowe held however, the provious good character, among them as far as Pittsburg and Chiral passed them as far as Pittsburg and Chiral passed. estimony was swept away and availed nothing then his character was shaken at its foundation by the conviction of his guilt. A WORLD OF TROUBLE.

Elliot Smith, His Wife and Nine Small Children Lose Their All in Mississippl-Civic Honors Wrecked Him-Chief Elliot's Song of Sadness.

A handsome man wearing the name of Eliiot Smith, the air of one broken by fortune, and followed by a wife and nine small children, entered the Department of Charities. As he seated himself in a chair and the numerous little Smiths gathered around him, it was a perfect reproduction of the scene in Tourgee's novel, "Bricks Without Straw," and one could almost bear the old negro say, "Heah we is, Lawd; bag and baggage, traps, chillen and culamities."
Elliot Smith was not a colored man, but a white engine builder. His home was in Philadelphia. Some years ago his brother, Robert Smith, had gone to a farm near Jackson, Miss. Two years ago Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith were drowned in a flood leaving behind them a heavily mortgaged farm and eight small children. Seventeer months ago Elliot Smith and his wife and child went to Mississippi to look after their relatives. Mr. Smith tried to larm but failed. He was elected Justice of the Peace, but did not get enough business to repay him for taking out his commission. Finally Court, and Judge Stowe was on the bench. The everything was sold over their heads, and first case called was that of George Reinner, since that they have been trying to reach ing Roasting Each Other. Mayor Gourley and Councilman A. F. Keating are enjoying a little difference of opinion, or rather a misunderstanding caused by reports of interviews which look particularly ugly when reduced to cold type without the coloring and shading of the eloquent chest tones of these estimable gen-

FIGHTING AT LONG RANGE Gourley and Councilman A. F. Kear

Mr. Keating first took offense at somebody's suggestion that the Mayor was pre-paring an appropriation bill of his own. The Chairman of the Finance Committee intimated that His Honor was trying to run Councils, that his reform ideas were fallacious, and concluded with a reference to demagoguery.

The Mayor came back at Mr. Keating, still at the same long range. He laughed at the idea that he would step outside the limits of his office to offer the Finance Committee an appropriation ordinance. Anything he might say to Councils would be merely THE regular meeting of the Prison Board in the way of suggestion. He intimated that Mr. Keating's financial ideas were not always supported by the courts, and insists that he does not seek to divide with Mr. Kesting the honor of being a demagogue.

Playing Grandmother

This is the pleasing title of the new panel picture to be given this Christmas by The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company to their patrons. It represents a little tot dressed up as grandmother; she pretends to sew, but the eyes brimiul of mischief peep over and not through grandmother's spectacles. It is essentially a home scene, one that every one has experienced, and it will meet with an enthusiastic welcome-and the point is, that 40 years ago, when the grandmother whom the little one is imitating was a young and attractive maiden, the goods sold by the A. and P. Company were known and appreciated the length and breadth of this land. Those purchasing one pound of tea or two pounds of coffee will get a picture on December 15 to 25.
