AN ESTIMATE OF EXPENDITURES FOR THE COMING YEAR.

More Teachers Employed Than Ever Before-Mr. Trosh's Intermediate Educational Scheme-Corporal Punishment is Generally Favored by the Public Instructors. The Finance Committee, of the Central Board of Education, vesterday prepared an estimate of the appropriation required for all school expenses for the year 1891. It is not necessary for the committee to give a state-ment to the Mayor, but the members author-ment to the Mayor, but the members authorized Secretary Reisfar to prepare one and give in detail an itemization of the amount necessary. On Tuesday night the Central Board will ratify the appropriation asked for. The following is the estimate of expenses:

For the Central Board—Salaries of officers, $6,700; rent, $500; books, stationery and printing, $600; janitor's salary, $120; gas, $10; telephone and incidentals, $200; total, $3,130.

High School—Commencement exercises, $200; repairs, $2,000; stationery and printing, $400; janitor's salary, $1,500; gas, $100; supplies, $300; inbrary, $100; apparatus, $500; janitor's dwelling, $500; fuel, $700; total, $6,300.

Notural School—Repairs, $600; fuel, $200; books, stationery and printing, $125; janitor's salary, $420; gas, $25; supplies, $250; library, $50; total, $1,570.

General Expenses—Teachers' salaries, $300.

total, $1,570.

General Expenses—Teachers' salaries, $350,000; music supervisors, $0.000; evening schools, $4,500; school kitchen, $1,250; total, $398,750.

The grand total is $414,750, against $398,555 which was the appropriation asked to run the schools for the year 1880. This increase of $15,000 is due to the increase in the number of teachers employed. There were $1 andiitonal teachers granted since the last appropriation was made, the largest number ever added in any fiscal year. It is feared the three jodges at Meadville had some of their lodge funds locked up in the de-

Some of the Omissions.

It will be seen by the statement that no provision is made for another music supervisor, though some Central Board members favor the idea of a third one. Then it has been mooted that the next appropriation would call for but the salary of one music supervisor, the residue to be used to employ a drawing supervisor, an apparent necessity in the Pittsburg Schools. But these questions can be brought up in June, when the committee on teachers makes the

But these questions can be brought up to the when the committee on teachers makes the allorment for next year.

No provision was made for intermediate schools, about which Mr. N. F. Trosh introduced a resolution at the last meeting of the Central Board. Mr. Trosh for the first time yesterday explained to a DISPATCH reporter his idea about intermediate schools. His plan The following officers of Iron City Lodge No. | is to have these schools situated in different narts of the city, having the course of study of the first or second year of the present High School course, but the particular aim is to have schools for industrial branches, where con schools for industrial branches, where competent teachers can find out the bent of the boys' or girls' minds for certain industrial work, Mr. Trosh further said:

There are many boys and girls of 14 or 15 who do not care to go to High School, but would g adly avail themselves of the opportunity to g to a school where they can get a practical e lucation that would yield them a competency wen applied to some industrial branch. What was want is practical education. Take my own case for instance: "When I was loyears of age I did not want to go to school any longer. Then the absorbing question arose what was to be done with me. For seven years I worked at a trade for which I had no liking, and I consider those seven years lost. According to my plan At a regular meeting of Teutonia Lodge No. 52, A. O. U.W., held at its hall Thursday eventhose seven years lost. According to my plan boys and girls could easily find out what occu-pation would suit them best in life."

Corporal Punishment Talk. The question of corporal punishment in Pittsburg is becoming of such absorbing interest that there is a possibility of having each local board abolish it. An unprejudiced study of the situation indicates that the majority of the principals and teachers are in favor of corporal unishment as a last resort. Several years ago the Frankiin directors abolished corporal pun-ishment in their district. The teachers after a trial asked that the order be rescheded. At the ishment in their district. The teachers after a trial asked that the order be rescinded. At the time the majority of the board favored the ab-dishment of such punishment. But a new board subsequently came in and rescinded the order just at the time when the teachers had declaied they could get along without the use of the rest.

The Forbes School Board, last year, decided to abolish corporal punishment. After a trial the teachers asked for the old rules again, as the punils knew of the School Board's action and were inclined to be much more badly behaved than formerly. The board rescinded its action. The Third ward school, of which Miss M. J. Graham is Principal, is considered one of the best conducted schools in the State, and yet corporal punishment is in force there to a very limited extent, Miss Graham holding that the fear of the rod more than its application has the necessary effect in curbing unruly scholars. She thinks it better that a boy be punished occasionally than to send him home or out on the streets.

About a month ago an offer was made for a piece of improved property in the Nineteenth rard, involving about $25,000. The owner was willing to sell and was ready to sign the deed, but when he approached his wife on the subject she promptly kicked, and temporarily upset the sale. The would-be buyer then gave the owner a few days' time in which to bring his where a rew days time in which to oring his wife around. This he succeeded in doing; but in the meantime the buyer had changed his mind and invested elsewhere. So the property is still unsold, and its disposition is now strictly a family affair, with which the public has no concern, and the curtain is accordingly let fall.

Market Again Panicky and Closes at Lowes Figures of the Day-Gold Due From Across the Water, but Not Forthcoming. NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The stock market to-day was again panicky, and in the two hours of business there were large transactions and decided losses in all the active stocks, although the market retained its narrow character and the general list was comparatively neglected, and only one of the active stocks, Illinois Cen-A Bad Week for Those Who Were Compelled to Unload.

There was no enthusiasm in the weather yesterday and still less, if possible, among the stock traders. The only sale recorded was that of ten shares of electric as 17, a slight declins.

to the currency. It is true that panicky condi tions when developed are due to a contraction of credit arising from fear, but this fear is frequently engendered by the less of cash which goes out into the interior in busy seasons. This deranges a system of credits in big cities which deranges a system of credits in big cities which is constructed on the accumulation in them of idle funds at a season when business is slack. To invent some expedient that will neutralize this radical defect in our financial situation will distinguish someone above his fellows. The plan for an inconvertible bond would be far better than the present bond plan, but the trouble is that bonds are so largely held as securities for national bank circulation as against insurance companies and against bank investment requirements to secure contracts and by ment requirements to secure contracts and by guardian administrators, executors and old fogy capitalists, that it matters very little how, high money rates may be these bonds will not come out of their hiding places, even if money went to 200 per cent a day.

It may be discovered as possible under proper restrictions for the associated banks of large cities to deposit in some central place their best bills receivable, subject to the scrutiny of some board of currency and receive therefor some board of currency and receive therefor a species of currency, say, to the extent of 60 per cent of the value of the security. This currency, or its equivalent in coin, certificate or Treasury notes, should be returned to the custodian within the limit of a few months, and, in order that this should only be done in times of stress and storm, or when it was actually needed, a tax should be placed on it to go to the State or nation whichever permits its issue. We merely throw out this suggestion for some more talented writer to evolve into a definite scheme.

Now, as to the market: It is very badly demoralized, but we are going to have no panic in Wall street. We believe prices will touch the low water mark that we predicted, but we prefer that our clients should do very little. Don't press the market with short sales, and don't go around preaching panic. Don't be too besty in hiving unless vous can have not retort.

don't go around preaching panic. Don't be too hasty in buying unless you can pay outright for the stocks. Go slow. It is not time to plunge either way. The cloud has a silver lining and will not always lower over Wall street. The winter of our discontent will turn into glorious summer, and it is every man's duty to stand to his colors. Closing quotations of Philadelphia stocks, fur-nished by Whitney & Stephenson, brokers, No. 57 Fourth avenue, Hembers New York Stock Ex-

MARKETS BY WIRE. Financial Situation Has a Bad Effect or

Up Well-An Active Trade in Pork. CHICAGO-The lower prices which were the outcome of the day's trading do not reflect any opinion of distrust in the grain situation, but

Some of the headlines in the morning newspapers were worth thousands to the bears in wheat. This refers to the announcement of a heavy failure in New Orleans, of V. and A. Meyer & Co., a reputed wealthy cotton house of old and first-class standing. It was under the influence of the foregoing item that wheat started very weak compared with the moderate degree of steadiness with which it closed on the evening hefore. The opening prices for May covered a wide range. There were sellers anywhere from 89% to 89%, with a sale or two within a second of the start at 98c. There was a quick reaction to 61%, but those who had covered wheat on the up turn again turned around as seller, and the short-lived strength was replaced by another and a more lasting shell of radical weakness.

Corn was the easis in the Sahara of despondency, which characterized the opening in the or two at 50%c. Under a very active demand there was an advance in the first 20 minutes to 54%c, which latter figure marked the culmination of the advance. The weakness in wheat started the subsequent decline, and caused a slump to 53%c, with 53%c the closing price.

Outs were quiet and without individuality. Opening sales were at slight decline, but became firmer and rallied 1%c in sympathy with corn. Later weakness developed, and prices receded 3%c, and the market closed easy at about inside figures and at a rlight decline from yesterday. Pork—an active business was transacted, prices opened 5%10c decline from Friday's closing figures, and declined with slight fluctuations 2.040c. Toward the close prices railled 5%7%c, and the market exhibited some steadiness, but later prices receded 5%7%c. Before the close prices ralled slightly and ruled steady. Short ribs—Trading was active. Opening sales were made at 2%60 5c decline, and rather free selling caused a reduction of 10%12%c. Later, with a slight rally in prices, the market closed quiet.

HOPE FOR THE FLYING MACHINE. Aluminum Supplies the Long-Desired Lightness and Strength.

New York Times.] Persons who have invented flying machines that did not fly have attributed their failure in part to their inability to obtain a metal sufficiently light and strong with which to construct their apparatus. They said that when they could obtain a metal, and obtain it cheaply, then would perfect their flying machines.

Now here is aluminum, but where are the flyers? A sheet of aluminum 12 inches square and 1 inch thick weighs 14.03 pounds. A bar of aluminum 1 inch square and 12 inches long will weigh 1.17 pounds. A bar of aluminum 1 inch in diameter and 12 inches long will weigh .918 pound. A cubic inch of cast aluminum weighs .092 pound. A cubic foot of cast aluminum weighs 168.967 pounds.

Compare these weights with other metals;
a cubic foot of soft steel weighs 490.450 pounds; of wrought iron, 480.474 pounds; of conper, 554.988 pounds; of ordinary brass, 524910 pounds.
Taking the tensile strength of aluminum The burglars beat a hasty retreat, without securing any money, although it is learned that there was $3,000 in the house. Taking the tensile strength of aluminum in relation to its weight, it is as strong as steel of 80,000 pounds per square inch, ultimate strength. Aluminum has about the tensile strength of cast iron, with only about one-third of its weight, and casts with equal case and success. It can, therefore, be advantageously used to replace cast iron in the parts of moving machinery which have to be reversed or otherwise have their movement.

Mrs. Argyle had been troubled with her head and stomach six years. Pain over the eyes, ringing in the ears, hawking and spitting up a dark colored mucus, constantly blowing crusts out of nestrils, throat dry and always a bad taste in the mouth in the morning. Nover could eat anything in the morning, and after dinner and supper always had bloating up and rifting of gas, shooting pains all through the lungs to each shoulder blade, with sympathetic heart trouble. Her heart would bear rapidly for awhile and then intermit and beat slow and labored, causing such dizzy spells that she would faint dead away. Her sleep was disturbed by horrid dreams and when she awoke in the morning was more tired than when she in the morning was more tired than when she went to bed.

Mrs. Nevin Argyle, Talbot oversee, Braddock After six months' continuous and systematic treatment, which required considerable patience on both Dr. Byers' and Mrs. Argyle's part, he pronounced her cured. A few weeks afterward he was surprised to have her call at his office and say that "she and her husband had been talking the matter over and decided that as sie had received so much benefit from the treatment, that they thought it was as little as they could do for Dr. Byers to have him publish her case as encouragement to others afflicted as she was." It is, therefore, with extreme pleasure that Dr. Byers uphlishes the above testimony in favor of his method of treatment, given, as it is by Mrs. Argyle voluntarily, out of the goodness of her heart and sympathy for suffering humanity. She is well-known in Braddock as an estimable lady.
