PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. UNIONTOWN, Dec. 7 .- The strange advertisement in a local paper last week, in which a life prisoner in the Moundsville (W. Va.) penitentiary asks for the address of a butcher here who was helped out of the mud by two tramps, attracted a great deal of attention at the time, and will probably be answered. Sam Carter, a butcher of Uniontown, recalls a circumstance similar to that mentioned in the advertisement of the prisoner, one T. B. Kelly. Mr. Carter says that a short time after the 1st of January, 1888, he was taking a load of meat to Leith, and while passing along the old Barton road his horse stumbled a fell into a pit. Just as the secident occurred two tramps came along the road, and throwing off their coats worked like beavers, until the wagen was extricated. Air. Carter says he gave them 50 cents and some meat, and they went on their way to town, while he proceeded to Leith. He says, also, that he can probably verify the date by referring to some business transactions while he was in Leith on the same trip.

The man Kelly is a life prisoner, sentenced for the murder of a policeman in Wheeling, and should he be able to establish the date when he assisted Mr. Carter he claims it will prove beyond doubt that he was many miles away from the scene of the murder at the very moment it was taking place. The gentleman above alluded to says he will do all in his power to make the exact day when the two tramps were encountered. bled a fell into a pit. Just as the accident

Last night James Secor, a man who has been conducting a saloon and gambling room, was arrested on susuicion, and when his house was sourched, four large trunks containing nearly all the articles taken from the Kammell residence were found. A further search of the premises brought to light many other articles that have been taken, not only from other resident. that have been taken, not only from other residences in the city, but from neighboring towns as well. meter Drops at the Sunday Morning Hearings-Kate Slater's Troubles-A Runaway Boy in Hard Luck-A Forgiving Friend-Christmas at Clare-

Saturday night must have been too warm for whisky and too cold for beer, judging from the small number of penitents at the Police Magistrates' hearings yesterday morning

The thermometer took a tumble during the night, and when the Magistrates took their seats it fell below zero, and the culprits felt like Arctic explorers without any messmate in the larder.

Rained by Her Lover's Murder. Kate Slater, the young woman who was in company with Edward Krameron the night he was murdered by two colored men on the hill above Twenty-eighth street a few months ago, is for the second or third time since that sad event a prisoner in Central station, and will go to the workhouse this morning for six months. She was arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct in the Seven-teenth ward Saturday night, and given her sentence yesterday by Magistrate Leslie.

The girl was in great distress of mind over her long sentence last night. She is a very respectful and tractable person when sober, and has the reputation of being an excellent worker, but she says she has had bud luck are rejucted the girls of her lover's murder. ever since the night of her lover's murder, and she broods over the terrible scene of that evening until she cannot resist the temptation to drown her trouble, at least temporarily, in the cup of intoxication.

Was Wearing the Stolen Coat. Magistrate Gripp dealt out justice to 23 delinquents at the Central station, but only five got workhouse sentences. George Bindley, a boy of 15, from New York, acknowledged that he ran away from home four years ago. He said he came to Pitts-burg six weeks ago, but only last Saturday he was released after a 30-days' sentence to the workhouse for larceny. He had hardly reached the city on Saturday when met by J. S. McKelvey, who had him rearrested for stealing an overcoat. The boy was wearing the coat at the time, and Mr. McKelvey testified that it had been stolen about a month ago, or just before Bindley had been sent to the workhouse. Bindley had no defense to make, and the Magistrate gave him a fourmonths' sentence to the same institution.

The six men arrested in the gambling house, 141 Water street, were each fined $10

Paid the Fine and Forgave Him. Magistrate Succop gave four prisoners a hearing at the Thirty-sixth ward station. One case was peculiar. John Gewitz had Andrew Madder arrested Saturday night on the plea that the latter had robbed him of $180 and was starting to Germany to enjoy his plunder. At the hearing Gewitz modified his statement. He had not been robbed of $180, but he had lent Madder $1 80, and the latter intended to go to Germany with-out repaying him. Madder was fined $5, but as he didn't have it Gerwitz paid the money, and the two men walked out arm-in-

They had deserted the old place on River avenue, and taken up quarters at 22 Lacock street. A disturbance there last night, which awak-ened everybody in that square, betrayed their whereabouts. Mrs. Painter, the pro-prietress, Gracie Painter, Harry Painter, Lizzie Butler, a girl named Morrison and George Morrison were the members of the happy party. Each one was sent up for 30 days except Gracie and Harry Painter. The

ONLY ONE CHANCE LIKE THIS THIS WINTER

It will pay any man in this city who has any thoughts of buying an Ulster or Cape Overcoat this season to take advantage of this offer. We shall not make another like it this winter, and the garments we now sacrifice on won't last long. Come quick if you want any of these.

HERE'S A SNAP!

Now we are going to give you what we will call not the chance of a lifetime, but certainly the chance of this winter to provide yourself with an Overcoat. To-day we will give you the choice of any Ulster or Cape Overcoat in our entire stock at $15! $15! $15!

This is an absolute offer of any garment of this description in the house without regard to its previous value or price. In the lot are many coats that we have been selling for $20, $25 AND $30.

Not a single garment has been laid away or taken out of the stock as, we regret to say, is sometimes the case when such offers are made by some firms. Come in and select any coat of this description that suits you, and $15 pays for it, no matter what it is marked. About a year ago we made a similar offer, and, after a few days, people came round expecting to find them still here. They were disappointed, of course. Such snaps don't lay around loose waiting for takers; they are grabbed quickly. Don't get left this year.

MORE PRESENTS THIS WEEK!

We had intended that the first lot of the Powderly books should be all that we would give.
