say this city of Damascus, as I see it now, is not as abaorbung as the Damascus of olden times. I turn my back upon the bizaara, with rugs fascinating the merchants from Bagdad, and the Indian textile fabric of Incomparable make, and see Damascus as it was when this narrow street, which the Bible calls Straight, was a great wide street, a New York Broadway, or a Parisian Champs Elysees, crossing the city from gate to gate, along which tramped and rolled the pomp of all nations. There goes Abraham, the father of all the faithful. He has in this city been purclasing a celebrated DOWN TO DAMASCUS. Dr. Talmage Tells of flis Visit to THE HOME OF PAUL THE APOSTLE.

Some Good Points, as Well as Bad, in the of an army of 85,000 Persians and Araos. There comes a warrior on his way to the barracks, carrying that kind of sword which the world has forgotten how to make, a Damascus 'lade. But what most stirs my soul is neither char-iot, nor caravan, nor bazaar, nor place, but a hirud man passing along the sireet, suisl of stature and inauguificant in personal appear-ance. THE ANCIENT GLORY OF DAMASCUS

BROOKLYN, Dec. 7 .- Dr. Talmage delivered the eleventh sermon of his series on Palestine and the adjoining countries this evening. The text was, Acts 9:3. Dr.

Yet never did the most brilliant botel on any continent seem so attractive to me as that structure. If we had been obliged to stay in tent, as we expected to do that night, we must have perished. A violent storm had ied upon us its volleys of hail and snow and rain and wind. The atmospheric wrath broke apon us about 1 o'clock in the afternoon and we were until night exposed to it.

Talmage said:

That Wonderful Old City,

As the night approached, the tempest thick-ened and blackened and strengthened. Some of our attendants going ahead had gained perfor us to halt for the night in the mud ovel I speak of. My room was without a winan iron stove without any tor in the of the room, the smoke selecting my es in the absence of a chunney. Through an times thrust up to see how I was progressing. ### Saul Secking Further Light.

He was one of that cavalcade coming from Joi usalem to Damascus to kill Christians. Yes, it is Saul of Tarsus now going along this street called Straight. He is led by his friends, for he cannot see his hand before his face, unto he cannot see his hand before his face, unto the house of Judas; not Judas the bad, but Judas the good. It another nart of this city one Anauias, not Ananias the fiar, but Ananias the Christian, is told by the Lord to go to this house of Judas on Straight street, and put his hands on the blind eyes of Saul that his sight might return. "Oh," said Ananias, "I dare not go; that Saul is a terrible fellow. He kills Christians, and he will kill me." "Go," said the Lord, and Ananias went. There sits in blindness that tremendous per-secutor. He was a great nature crushed. He had started for the city of Damascus for the one purpose of assassinating Christ's followers, but since that fall from his horse he has entirely changed. Ana-his horse he has entirely changed. Ana-nias steps up to the sightless man, puts his right thumbon one eye, and the left thumbon the other eye, and in an outburst of sympathy and love and faith says: "Brother Sau! Brother Saul! the Lord, even Jesus that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, has sent me that thou mayst receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost." Instantly something the scales fell from the blind man's eyes, and arose from that scat the mighties of all ages spirit. Sometimes the scales do not all fall at once. When I was a boy, at Mount Pleasant, one Sunday afternoon reading "Doidridge's Rise and Progress of Religion in the Soul," that afternoon some of the scales fell from my eres and I saw a little. After I had been in the ministry about a year, one Sunday after-noon in the village parsonage reading the Bible story of the Syro-Phoenician's faith, other scales fell from my eyes and I saw better. Two Sunday evenings are, while preparing for the evening service in New York. I picked up a book that I did not remember to have seen be-fore, and after I had read a page about recon-secration to God I think the remaining scales fell from my eyes. Shall not our visit to Da-mascus to-day result, like Paul's visit, in vision to the bind, ant increased vision for those who say some what before.

He told a policeman, who had the body sent to the Morrisania town hall, when it was identi-fied by letters found in the pocket of the coat on the body. The police think that Swords was on his way home from the road house when he was attacked by heart disease or apoplexy and tell down the embankment and died. This happened probably on Tues-day night. He was at one time President of the Mercantile Library and wealthy. He lost a fortune on Wall street on "Black Friday," and it is said since that day he had never visited Wall street, was A. T. ### A PAN REPUBLICAN CONGRESS meeting of the Society of the Sons of the bunediction of shower-water, living American Revolution, one of its officers proposed that a congress of delegates from all the republics of the world be assembled in one of the larger cities of this country within the period of the World's Fair, to consider measures "for the welfare of mankind." A meeting was called to consider plans for carrying out the enterprise, which was held Saturday. Secretary McDowell said that a congress will be held, something like the Congress of the United States, with two houses, a Senste composed of representatives of the various nations of America, and a House composed of representatives of various societies.

A CHOLERA EPIDEMIC FEARED.

The Secretary of the Illinois Board of Health Sounds a Warning.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7 .- Dr. J. H. Rauch, Secretary of the Illinois State Board of Health, predicts that unless proper quarantine regulations are adopted there will be a serious cholera epidemic in this country He points out that 10,000 people have fallen victims to cholera in Abyssinia within the last six months; that Spain injected; that cholera is epidemic India, and that $0,000 have in perished from the disease in Japan and Corea and the adjacent Asiatic Provnces of Russia within a short time. He cuphasizes the necessity of protection against the scourge on the Pacific coast.
