

LAUREL ALL OFF.

The Five Young Labeled Pastors of E. P. Churches Suspended.

THEY GET WHAT THEY EXPECTED.

No Contrition Expressed, but the Moderator Weeps Over Them.

TWO MORE CASES ARE LET TO BE TRIED

While it is more than probable that the trouble in the E. P. Church, which has filled Wilkinsburg by center to circumference with orthodox this week, cannot be covered by all the ecclesiastical court-plaster in the world, and while to outsiders, especially worshippers, the difference may not seem much more important than that between tweedle-dum and tweedle-dee, yet there is a grandeur of conviction about the struggle that commands respect, if not admiration.

When strong men lose themselves so far as to shed tears over the dissolution of religious relations, it argues an intensity of belief that must carry with it conviction, unless base motives are imputed, and anyone who has made a few hours' study of the Wilkinsburg gathering will not impute them to all of either party.

As an evidence of this feeling and its intensity, a member of Rev. O. M. Milligan's congregation, Mr. H. H. George, D. D., said that these young men had not shown themselves to be guilty of any criminal act of any kind, and then voted to sustain the label and suspend them from the ministry.

He also said: "They had better stand with him a congregation and his ally, also, for we will furnish neither."

New Rev. H. H. George stands as firmly as a rock, and says that if the E. P. Church is not his mission, and that to force the recognition of Jesus Christ as the head of the nation, it is only a schism, and had better dissolve and lose its identity.

The interest yesterday was more than at any previous stage of the proceedings, notwithstanding the result had been discounted by the friends of the accused.

NO EFFORT TO MINCE WORDS.

As soon as Dr. McAlister, the moderator, had concluded his prayer for divine guidance, Rev. W. H. Temple resumed his rebuttal argument for the defense. It was a powerful effort and elicited ecstasies from the prosecution.

Rev. Sanson, Reed and E. M. Milligan also made no effort to mince words, and the latter said the difference between him and the Synod was that he believed the Bible should be not only the supreme law of the nation, but of the church also. He held that ministers were only bound to obey the Synod as far as they were backed by a "thus saith the Lord."

At the conclusion of his address the court took a recess. On reassembling Moderator McAlister called attention to the fact that the vote was to sustain or not to sustain the label, and told the members that they must rise and vote, and were to vote "aye" or "no," which to give reasons for the same, and with the passing of the vote, Rev. E. M. Milligan moved that the Synod be dissolved.

Rev. Sanson, Reed and E. M. Milligan also made no effort to mince words, and the latter said the difference between him and the Synod was that he believed the Bible should be not only the supreme law of the nation, but of the church also.

THE VOTERS CHALLENGED.

During the voting Rev. E. M. Milligan asked if he be allowed the right to challenge. He objected to the votes of Messrs W. Laird, J. J. Harris, A. S. Bennett, and George W. Frazier, charging with having said there would be no peace so long as E. M. Milligan was a member, and the fact that the accused should have been expelled from the church.

Rev. O. M. Milligan expressed astonishment at the gall of the defendants of Mr. Frazier, who was a deacon of the church. The moderator decided that he could not go beyond the point.

Messrs. Kilpatrick and Wilson asked to be excused from voting, on account of having been prosecuting attorneys, and their request was granted.

Mr. Matthew Steel excited some merriment in the Synod after the reading of the charge, but he was not allowed to speak.

When the moderator announced the vote was a tie, Mr. Reed demanded a statement of reasons, but Dr. McAlister said they were understood and returned.

All the defendants now arose and gave notice of an appeal. Mr. Temple stating that he would not prosecute any of the defendants.

CUTTING OFF EXTRAS.

Judge Stowe Against Lawyers Receiving Fees as Witnesses.

HE SUSTAINS THE COMMISSIONER.

A Southsider Suing for $50,000 to Replace Wife and Property.

NEWS OF A DAY IN THE COUNTY COURTS

The question as to whether or not a lawyer is entitled to witness fees for attendance in court in a case in which he is a witness was decided by the court yesterday. The question was raised in the retraction of the costs in the case against J. A. Rattigan.

Rattigan was tried in the Criminal Court for a misdemeanor and found not guilty, but was ordered to pay the costs. He executed a writ of habeas corpus to get out of jail, and appointed A. C. Herron commissioner to retax the costs.

Among the items excepted to was the fees allowed John F. Cox, Esq. for 12 days as attorney in witness in the case. It was contended that Cox, as lawyer, was an officer of the court, and in consequence not entitled to witness fees for attendance in court.

Commissioner Herron contended that Mr. Cox, being a lawyer, was not entitled to witness fees. Judge Stowe sustained this ruling by a majority of three to two.

LOST WIFE AND PROPERTY.

And Now Wants $50,000 to Replace Both of Them.

Suit was entered yesterday by Jacob Stein against Police Magistrate Charles E. Suceop for $50,000 damages. Mr. Stein alleges that Magistrate Suceop alienated his wife's affection by continuing to live with her and his wife to Anton Stroup in record, but if he executed it he was tricked into it, and he is now suing for $50,000 damages.

Magistrate Suceop received from Stroup $3,000, which he divided between them. He is now suing for $50,000 damages.

Another new idea to be introduced immediately will be the carrying of a gun with sacks similar to those now in use by the carriers, also similar. This idea is borrowed from New York, the only city now using it.

ALVIN JOSLIN'S THEATER CONTRACTS All Made, and Work to Begin the First of April.

Messrs. Straub & Morris, the real estate dealers, have received a letter from Charles L. Davis (Alvin Joslin), stating that the contracts for his new theater have been let and that work is to begin the first of April.
