About 100 packages were delivered yesterday for a single Fifth avenue firm engaged in the Santa Claus trade. It is a low estimate to say that 1,000 packages are daily delivered by this company to East End firms and stores, and yet the big rush is to come as Christmas comes nearer. With 15 teams now engaged and the probability of one or two more being required before the

of one or two more being required before the week is out, it is plain that some lines of business must be flourishing.

The toy firm that sent 100 packages to the East End yesterday, no doubt sent as many more to Allegheny and other sections of the city, not to mention the surrounding towns and cities which receive their supplies from Pittsburg. All signs point to a larger distribution of Christmas presents here than ever before. The recent check to the year's prosperity through financial stringency and decline of stocks will not prevent an extraordinary trade in Christmas goods.

stocks will not prevent an extraordinary trade in Christmas goods. In spite of the stiff Calvinism and Presbyterianism of this section, the Christmas holiday has become the great festal day of the year, and whatever he the need of economy, Santa Chaus is sure to have a fively demand for his goods. The time for economy comes, if it must, after the stockings are filled and the Christmas tree is ornamented with things of beauty.

beauty. Transgressors' Ways Hard. It doesn't pay to violate law, even if the law be obnexious and unjust. The Pittsburg oleo dealers have recently made this discovery to their grief and loss. The Pennsylvania law as to imitations of butter has been a stupendous failure. Designed to protect farmers and get meir votes, it has, from its incipiency, been an their votes, it has, from its incipiency, oeen an uter failure. When six to eight carloads of oleo are weekly sold in Pittsburg, it is evident that the law forbidding the sale in the State is a failure. The countryman and consumer, who were supposed to be protected by the enactment, are proved by results to have been sufferers, since country butter has been knocked out, and the generator has been forced to pay better the consumer has been forced to pay better prices for that which is not from the cow.

Within the past year a syndicate comprising four or five firms in this city joined together to defeat the law, and have been handling from six to eight loads of eleomargetine weekly for mounts past with a comfortable profit. The profits to these firms have, at a low estimate, been $10,000 per month. Some estimates place the profits at double that amount.

Within the past two weeks Uncle Sam's detectives have been looking up these violations of law, and from latest accounts the transgressors will be only too glad to discorge all their profits, if this will save them from a worse calamity.

Said a Liberty street commission merchant Said a Liberty street commission merchant yesierday: "A government detective was in my warenouse a few days ago to ascertain if I dealt in butter imitations. I was happy to tell him that my butter trade had left me, though and that my outer trade has left me, though at had been at a decrease of trade. A few years ago my butter trade was large; but succe oleo came in I have found no profit in handling country butter and so have quit it altogether. The average cousumers seems satflogether. The average consumers and so not desiring fled with the imitations, and so not desiring fled with the law breaker I have retired from the

to be a law breaker I have retired from the butter trade altogether."

It is rumored that a compromise has been made between the Government representatives and the oleo syndroate by which the principal part of the profits is surrendered and further presention ceases. It is understood that the Chicago manufacturers are to bear the losses, according to agreement with dealers in their contraband goods. and the oleo syndicate by which the principal part of the profits is surrendered and further prosecution ceases. It is understood that the Uhicago manufacturers are to bear the losses, according to agreement with dealers in their contraband goods.

Two things have been demonstrated so far by the workings of the law.

First—It has failed entirely in its purpose, Second—Transgressors of the law have been brought to see that it didn't pay.

MONEY MARKET.

A Bank Officer Looks Forward to Easy Sailing-The Worst Over.

As showing that a feeling of confidence is uppermost in financial circles, a bank officer said yesterday: "From the tenor of my advices from the principal business centers, I am satis-fied that the storm has blown over, and that we will have easy sailing from now, on. tion to afford all the necessary assistance to the business in that quarter of the city is only a question of time. Business is increasing at such a rate that better accommodations and facilities for its transaction are imperatively demanded. The buildings destroyed by the fire will be replaced by others of modern design, and this, it is believed, will stimulate other owners to improve their properties. In fact, several owners have already expressed themselves to this effect.

The great fire at Chicago turned out to be the best thing for that city that could have happened, and it is permissible to say that it is highly probable the same favorable result may proceed from the Liberty street consideration, which at the time seemed to have no redeeming quality.

Only Taking in Sail.

Closing Bond Quotations.

There is nothing remarkable in the fact that real estate shows a lack of the aggressive force and energy which characterized it during the spring and fall months. This is the season of the year for taking in sail in all lines of trade preparatory to the annual reckoning, and real estate is no exception. But it should not be argued from this that it is flat on its back. Sales reported from day to day disprove this. The fact is that the market in comparison with former years at the same season is decidedly active.

The lull, if such it may be called, which has settled down upon the real estate market, is not due to want of confidence or diminished.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

France, all of which made the foreigners sellers at the opening this morning. Domestic operators were also sellers of stocks bought in the expectation that the announcement of the re-sult of the Presidents' meeting would create a boom in securities, and as all wanted to sell at once and the market seemed utterly devoid of support, prices yielded easily, and the day was one of continuous decline from the opening to Many stop orders were uncovered and covered; the narrowness of the market was still its most conspicuous feature, and duliness its most conspicuous feature, and duliness marked the trading during most of the afternoon. The downward movement made fair progress, and the losses at the lowest prices extended to about 3 per cent. Lackawanna was the only stock that gave evidence of any support at all, and that for only a short time in the afternoon. The close was steady after a slight rally from the lowest figures.

The final losses are material among the active stocks, and Burlington and Union Pacific are each down 2½ per cent; Louisville and Nashville, 2½; Rock Island, 2½; Atchison, St. Paul and Missouri Pacific, each 2½; Canada Southern and Pacific Mail, each 1½; Northwestern, 1½; Northern Pacific preferred, 1½; New England, 1½; Chicago Gas, 1; and others, fractional amounts.

New England, 15; Chicago Gas, 1; and others, fractional amounts.

Railroad bonds were more quiet than usual, the sales reaching only $1.070.00, but did not sympathize with the weakness in shares. The final changes are evenly divided between gains and losses,

The Post says: The selling of stocks for London account also strengthened the Exchange market here, and, as at present rates there is no profit in the importation of gold, it is not expected that any further amounts will come, at least for the present. So far as the money market here is concerned, it is rapidly getting back to a normal condition. We hear of a number of time loans made to-day on stock collaterals for 60 days, and some for six months at 6 per cent.
