BER TRADE WILL BE GREATLY HELPED

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. ELIZABETH, Dec. 21 .- The hull of the steamboat which has been in process of construction in the yards of Wiegel Bros. has been completed and is now being taken apart and loaded on cars for shipment to New York. Mr. Ingoldsby, a native of Atlegheny City, and a member of the firm, went to the Republic of Colombia, in South America, a few years ago, and since then be has spent a great deal of his time there.

This boat, he says, will be called the Vapour Enrique, Spanish for Steamer Henry, and will ply in South America or the river Magdalena, a stream emptying acto the Caribbean Sea. It is all being built in and around Pittsburg; the hull at Elizabeth and the cabin machinery, etc., at Pittsburg. It will require over 30 cars to take the steamer to New York, when it will be shipped to Barranquilia, a port near the mouth of the Magdalens. There it will be built up and lausched, and will travel between Barranquilla and tionda, which is 700 miles up the stream. The river is navigable for 200 miles further up, Nelva being the head of navigation, but the main stream has many important tributaries, making thousands of miles of navigable water.

There are now 35 steamers running on the river, most of which have been built in this ever, most of which have been built in this country. The country there is very rich in precious metals, rubber, drugs, etc., and there is little farming done as everything grows without cultivation. The company that had the best built here consists of Den Federrecco Parez Resa, a notive of Barranquilla, G. Muller, of Brenien, Germany, and F. J. Ingoldsby, of Allegheny City. They exacet to build two more boats, but are not certain just where they will be erected.

Mystery of the Disappearance of Salesman Buck Explained.

SPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCH. WHEELING, Dec. 21.-The skeleton of Isaiah Buck, surrounded by a few trinkets known to belong to him, has just been discov-ered on Greenbriar river, and another murder mystery is thereby solved. Last Aumust Buck, who was a salesman, passed up the obriar river on his way to Staunton, W. Va., where he expected to take a train for his sia, where he expected to take a train for his home in Savannah, Ga. At Demling's lumber camp he hired a man to pilot him to Yeagers, in Pocohontas county. Buck never reached Yeagers, and it was generally believed at the time that he had been murdered and robbed. This has been confirmed.

FOR BALLOT REFORM.

THE PENNSYLVANIA ASSOCIATION AP-PEALS TO THE PEOPLE.

A Bill Has Been Prepared for the Legislalature, and Popular Support is Earnestly Desired-The Features of the Adopted Australian System.

The following address is issued by the Pennsylvania Baliot Reform Association: To the Citizens of Pennsylvania;

As soon as the Legislature convenes, a bill prepared by this Association will be introduced to provide for a secret ballot by the Australian system, and for an open count. That the object of the bill may be fully under-stood, we present a brief statement of what is meant by ballot reform and the Australian

The term ballot reform includes all such changes in our present system of registration and voting, and in the laws regulating elections, as will keep illegal votes from being cast or counted, limit election expenses, prevent tions, as will keep illegal votes from being cast or counted, limit election expenses, prevent the improper use of money, and put an end to bribery and coercion by making them useless if not impossible. It means whatever will make an election the free and pure expression of the will of the people.

The Australian voting system is an effectual measure of ballot reform because it enforces a secret ballot. It was used in Australia (under universal suffrage) in 1856, and has now for years been employed by millions of freemen in Great Britain and her colonies as well as in other countries. It has everywhere produced the best results, and has never been given up in any place where it has once been used. Since its adoption in Massachusetts in 1888, it has rapidly become popular in this country, and is now in use more or less completely in 15 States. The chief features of the system as adapted to American elections are these:

First—Nominations can be legally made (as provided by simple regulations) either by party conventions or by the indorsement of a reasonable number of citizens without regard to party. The name of every legally mominated candidate must be printed on the ballots free of cost to him or his supporters.

Second—Ballots. The publication of candidates names, and the printing and distribution of ballots, are paid for by the cannites, like other election expenses. Only official ballots are used.

All candidates' names and addresses are on

the same ballot, grouped by the respective offices but marked in each case with the party Third—The voting is done inside a room, a part of which is railed off. After each voter has established his right to vote, he passes the rail. An election officer then gives him a ballot, and he goes to a standing desk which is so closed in as to screen him from observation, and makes a crossmark (X) against the name of each candidate on the ballot for whom he wishes to vote. After folding his ballet so as to conceal the marks, he goes to the box and deposits the ballot.

Fourth—Other precautions for secrecy: Before the boxes are opened, the official list of voters, or other means of identifying the parties who cast the respective ballote, must be sealed up, so that the process of counting will not violate the secrecy of the ballot, even while the present cumbrous method of numbering required by the State Constitution, remains in force. The practical results of the system, are:
First—The facility for independent nominations is a useful check upon party conventions. If the people desire other candidates than those of the party organizations, they can easily name their own candidates.
Second—All candidates, rich or poor, with or without the support of a party organization, are on the same footing as regards the official publication of their names and the enabling their supporters to vote without the heavy expense of printing and distributing ballots.
Third—The great decrease in legitimate election expenses, removes the cloak under which large sums have often been collected, ostensibly for necessary expenses, but really to buy votes with—buy votes with.

Fourth—The ballots being official, no lerally nominated candidate's name can be left off the ticket. There can be no mixed or decentive ballots by which to "trade off" or "sell out" a bailots by which to trade on the candidate.

Fifth—All ballots being alike until marked, the marking being done secretly, and the voter being prevented from showing it to anyone, the ballot is secret. This secrecy is the fundamental object of the system. When it is impossible to know how a man votes, it is useless either to buildoze or to buy him.

The open court goes hand in hand with the secret ballot. Ballots should be counted under the average of the citizens to prevent all chance.

The open court goes hand in hand with the secret ballot. Ballots should be counted under the eyes of the citizens, to prevent all chance of fraud after the polls are closed. A citizen has a right to see what is done with his ballot when the box is opened. The open count is in use in two-thirds of our States and Territories. We ask the citizens to make it clear to their representatives, that this bill should become a law in its entirety.

Further, we ask all those who wish to join the association (which is strictly non-partisan.) to send their names to the Secretary, from whom copies of the bill can be obtained. Contributions for the work are also soliced.

By order of the Executive Committee.
