slaughter for the killing of Anthony. City Property Committee gets control of the Allegheny Library.

24—Contracts aggregating $7,000,000 let for the founding of Charleroi; largest plate glass works in the world to be built. Annie Vanderberg tries to kill herself by jumping from a third story window on Smithfield street, while temporarily insane. Firebugs once more abroad in Oakland; attempt made to burn a house on Charles street.

25—Mrs. Annie Gray and Miss Josephine Kennedy, artists, arrested in Boggs & Buhl's store for shoplifting; their home full of drygoods. The economites celebrate the eighty-fifth anniversary of their establishment. The American cab decides to put up a big club house on Sixth street at the cost of $100,000. Ad Gumbert signs with the "Beaneaters'" new team.

26—Incendiarism the only plausible cause for Oakland fires. County Detective Langhurst after 200 speak-easies. Arbuckle gusher down to five barrels.

27—McKeesport man takes a dose of liniment in mistake. Plans to get books to fill the shelves of the new free libraries. Three-quarters of a million dollars the assessment of the new mint; it will take to run Allegheny one year. The largest order for years given to the Vulcan Tank Company. Strikers at Shoenberger's mills refuse to go back to work and defy Weihe. The initial run made on the Central Traction line.

28—Myers, Hammond & Son purchase 19 acres east of Mansfield for an iron and steel mill. President Weihe declares the places of the Shoenberger strikers vacant and advises men to take them.

29—President Harrison arrives in the city, the guest of Andrew Carnegie. Some of the old hands return to work at Shoenberger's, Agnes Taukert, aged 19 years, committed to jail charged with infanticide. Allegheny Heating Company gives its consumers choice between meters and contracts. East End painters demand an increase in wages.

30—The city of Allegheny receives Mr. Andrew Carnegie's splendid gift from his hands; President Harrison declares the new Library Hall and Music Hall open. J. H. Miller appointed master in the Bennett failure. Pittsburg Library Committee recommends the ordinance accepting Andrew Carnegie's offer.

31—Striker at Shoenberger's arrested. Local railroads organize to defeat the scheme of unloading of cars. The United Brotherhood of Carpenters vote in favor of the eight-hour law.

APRIL.

1—Twin cities celebrate George Washington's birthday; streets crowded all day. Official returns make Mayor Wyman's majority 871.

2—Sheriff McCandless receives the death warrant of Wm. H. Smith, the wife murderer. Laymen's Missionary League holds a service at Trinity Episcopal Church. J. H. Sherman has his head split open with a hatchet by John Hopkins. Weihe denies the charges of underhand work at Shoenberger's. James McEvoy shot in the breast by a watchman at Shoenberger's mills. Five thousandths against the eight-hour movement.

3—The Baltimore and Ohio takes out a charter for a road from Akron, Ohio, to Chicago. Councils action accepting the gift of $1,000,000 from Andrew Carnegie for a free library. The Court grants the injunction against Shoenberger's men.

4—Accident number one occurs at a crossing of the Central and Pittsburg Traction Company's tracks on Liberty street. Mrs. Mahood will return their property. A big kick among steel men against reducing the tariff on rails. 6,536-barrel oil well brought in on the Delmonte road. Sixty-nine acres of the Ursuline property to be sold.

5—John Agnew, prominent glass manufacturer, loudly beaten. Mayor Wyman says there cannot be any compromise; the entire property must go. The tax rate in Pittsburg for the coming year increased to 15 mills. Eleven street improvements passed by Pittsburg Councils. Ex-Sheriff Gray's bondsmen sued. The Allegheny Crosstown line begins operations. Fort Pitt Glass Works to be removed to Jeannette.

6—The Duquesne Traction Company's ordinance signed by Mayor McCallin. Mrs. Schenley withdraws the conditions attached to her gift of ten acres of land to the Institute for the Blind. Knights of Labor decide to boycott the Pittsburg Traction Company. Our No. 3, Central Traction road, smashes every switch. The Excelsior Glass Works, Grapeville, closed down.

7—Samuel S. Mason attempted suicide by cutting himself terribly with a knife. Miss Pollock, who joined the Little Sisters of the Poor, starts on her long journey to her field of labor in Africa.

8—Many accidents and a lot of inconvenience caused by the shortage of natural gas. Attempt made to get the brickmakers out of the Slack Coal Association; control the Carnegie Library and Music Hall.

9—Grand jury finds a true bill against Employers' Liability Agent Gallagher. Miss Nellie Bly delivers her lecture on Old Egypt at Old City Hall. Strike on the P. and L. E. virtually broken. Chief Brown declares war on all disorderly houses.

10—William J. Minnick, of Braddock, sent to Dixmont as insane on the certificate of two physicians. Jail delivery in the Quarter Sessions. Southside water supply short. Postmaster McKean issues an order requiring letter carriers to wear white ties and keep their buttons polished. First sleighing of the season.

11—John A. Gilleland named as postmaster of Allegheny. Draughting of Pittsburg and the liquor law. The Westinghouse Company receives an order for over 7,000 brakes. Rollers determined to oppose the increase asked by the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Lake Erie strike of switchmen about settled.

12—The Telephone Company and Second Avenue Railway at war. Six candidates for President of L. A. 300.

13—Wilmerding and Brushton file petitions asking for the incorporations of boroughs, which Provost Garland, the Board of Public School and Local Trades Council instructed to take up Legislative work. The rollers and hesters protest against the demands of the roughers and catchers.

14—Chief Brown says Pittsburg has 800 speak-easies.

15—George A. Kelly resigns as President of the Prison Board. Chamber of Commerce hold their annual election. More judgments entered against Carnegie, Phipps & Co. Company. Brickmakers' Assembly decide not to leave the K. of L. Pittsburg and Lake Erie striking switchmen and their captains ask Councils for an increase of salaries.

16—Syndicate formed to buy up real estate on the Northside. Miners in division 4 make a demand for an increase of wages. Knights of L. A. meeting. An 800-pound pressure gas well brought in in the Bellevernon field. Boilers hold their annual convention at K. of L. Hall.

17—Fidelity Title and Trust Company enter suit against the stockholders of the Lawrence Trust Company. Grand Lodge Masonic Hall arrangements for St. Patrick's Day. Miners' meeting closes. Mr. Carnegie meets the Pittsburg trustees of the Library and Music Hall project. The Benedictine Sisters cheated out of $44,000 by a shyster.

18—Judge Ewing again lectures the grand jury for their slow work. Dr. Wheeler, counsel for the defendant, asks to withdraw from the celebrated Mansell case. Gripmen of the Pittsburg Traction Company give up the use of wine while their strike, over 1,000,000 bushels of coal started southward. Pennock & Little succeed Schupp & Richards swamped by the Baeder failure.

19—True bill for embezzlement returned against W. W. Young, President, and John Hoerr, Cashier, of the defunct Manufacturers' Savings Bank. Pittsburg Traction Company takes action against the Duquesne Traction Company, alleging violation of franchise rights. Fidelity Title and Trust Company, the Real Estate Loan and Trust Company, Allegheny.

20—The sudden death of Mrs. Emily Rogers, Allegheny, alarms her relatives in Hamilton, Ont., who make some startling charges against her husband and attempt to secure his arrest on the charge of poisoning her. John C. Brosi, Pittsburg, missing, charged with forgery and embezzlement. Dr. Mansell found guilty of lying and is suspended. Jake Beckley repents and asks to be taken into the Brotherhood again. Mayor McAllister's bondsmen relieved from responsibility. Fort Pitt Glass Works to be removed to Jeannette.

21—Eleven street railroad ordinances passed by Pittsburg Councils. Mr. Schenley's bondsmen sued. The Allegheny Crosstown line begins operations. Fort Pitt Glass Works to be removed to Jeannette.

22—The Duquesne Traction Company's ordinance signed by Mayor McCallin. Mrs. Schenley withdraws the conditions attached to her gift of ten acres of land to the Institute for the Blind. Knights of Labor decide to boycott the Pittsburg Traction Company. Our No. 3, Central Traction road, smashes every switch. The Excelsior Glass Works, Grapeville, closed down.

23—Samuel S. Mason attempted suicide by cutting himself terribly with a knife. Miss Pollock, who joined the Little Sisters of the Poor, starts on her long journey to her field of labor in Africa.

24—Many accidents and a lot of inconvenience caused by the shortage of natural gas. Attempt made to get the brickmakers out of the Slack Coal Association; control the Carnegie Library and Music Hall.

25—Grand jury finds a true bill against Employers' Liability Agent Gallagher. Miss Nellie Bly delivers her lecture on Old Egypt at Old City Hall. Strike on the P. and L. E. virtually broken. Chief Brown declares war on all disorderly houses.

26—William J. Minnick, of Braddock, sent to Dixmont as insane on the certificate of two physicians. Jail delivery in the Quarter Sessions. Southside water supply short. Postmaster McKean issues an order requiring letter carriers to wear white ties and keep their buttons polished. First sleighing of the season.

27—John A. Gilleland named as postmaster of Allegheny. Draughting of Pittsburg and the liquor law. The Westinghouse Company receives an order for over 7,000 brakes. Rollers determined to oppose the increase asked by the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Lake Erie strike of switchmen about settled.

28—The Telephone Company and Second Avenue Railway at war. Six candidates for President of L. A. 300.

29—Wilmerding and Brushton file petitions asking for the incorporations of boroughs, which Provost Garland, the Board of Public School and Local Trades Council instructed to take up Legislative work. The rollers and hesters protest against the demands of the roughers and catchers.

30—Chief Brown says Pittsburg has 800 speak-easies.

MARCH.

1—Priddy defeats McClelland in the great foot race at Recreation Park; time 15:13, three miles. First trial of a new locomotive on the Pt. Wayne shows it will haul 80 cars weighing 2,500 each. The Excelsior Glass Works, Grapeville, close down.

2—Samuel S. Mason attempted suicide by cutting himself terribly with a knife. Miss Pollock, who joined the Little Sisters of the Poor, starts on her long journey to her field of labor in Africa.

3—Many accidents and a lot of inconvenience caused by the shortage of natural gas. Attempt made to get the brickmakers out of the Slack Coal Association; control the Carnegie Library and Music Hall.

4—Grand jury finds a true bill against Employers' Liability Agent Gallagher. Miss Nellie Bly delivers her lecture on Old Egypt at Old City Hall. Strike on the P. and L. E. virtually broken. Chief Brown declares war on all disorderly houses.

5—William J. Minnick, of Braddock, sent to Dixmont as insane on the certificate of two physicians. Jail delivery in the Quarter Sessions. Southside water supply short. Postmaster McKean issues an order requiring letter carriers to wear white ties and keep their buttons polished. First sleighing of the season.

6—John A. Gilleland named as postmaster of Allegheny. Draughting of Pittsburg and the liquor law. The Westinghouse Company receives an order for over 7,000 brakes. Rollers determined to oppose the increase asked by the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Lake Erie strike of switchmen about settled.

7—The Telephone Company and Second Avenue Railway at war. Six candidates for President of L. A. 300.

8—Wilmerding and Brushton file petitions asking for the incorporations of boroughs, which Provost Garland, the Board of Public School and Local Trades Council instructed to take up Legislative work. The rollers and hesters protest against the demands of the roughers and catchers.

9—Chief Brown says Pittsburg has 800 speak-easies.

10—George A. Kelly resigns as President of the Prison Board. Chamber of Commerce hold their annual election. More judgments entered against Carnegie, Phipps & Co. Company. Brickmakers' Assembly decide not to leave the K. of L. Pittsburg and Lake Erie striking switchmen and their captains ask Councils for an increase of salaries.

11—Syndicate formed to buy up real estate on the Northside. Miners in division 4 make a demand for an increase of wages. Knights of L. A. meeting. An 800-pound pressure gas well brought in in the Bellevernon field. Boilers hold their annual convention at K. of L. Hall.

12—Fidelity Title and Trust Company enter suit against the stockholders of the Lawrence Trust Company. Grand Lodge Masonic Hall arrangements for St. Patrick's Day. Miners' meeting closes. Mr. Carnegie meets the Pittsburg trustees of the Library and Music Hall project. The Benedictine Sisters cheated out of $44,000 by a shyster.

13—Judge Ewing again lectures the grand jury for their slow work. Dr. Wheeler, counsel for the defendant, asks to withdraw from the celebrated Mansell case. Gripmen of the Pittsburg Traction Company give up the use of wine while their strike, over 1,000,000 bushels of coal started southward. Pennock & Little succeed Schupp & Richards swamped by the Baeder failure.

14—True bill for embezzlement returned against W. W. Young, President, and John Hoerr, Cashier, of the defunct Manufacturers' Savings Bank. Pittsburg Traction Company takes action against the Duquesne Traction Company, alleging violation of franchise rights. Fidelity Title and Trust Company, the Real Estate Loan and Trust Company, Allegheny.

15—The sudden death of Mrs. Emily Rogers, Allegheny, alarms her relatives in Hamilton, Ont., who make some startling charges against her husband and attempt to secure his arrest on the charge of poisoning her. John C. Brosi, Pittsburg, missing, charged with forgery and embezzlement. Dr. Mansell found guilty of lying and is suspended. Jake Beckley repents and asks to be taken into the Brotherhood again. Mayor McAllister's bondsmen relieved from responsibility. Fort Pitt Glass Works to be removed to Jeannette.

16—John C. Brosi, the defaulter, still missing. Battery of 60-horse power boilers explode at the Howard street pumping station of the Allegheny Water Works. Captain William Reed, the oldest police officer in the country, celebrates his 76th birthday. Pittsburg in eighth place in the Clearing House list.

17—The State Pardon Board asked to commute murderer Smith's death sentence. Characteristic St. Patrick's Day; rival parades march under green banners. Marvin's business on the increase under a boycott. The proposed Diamond street widening found to be cheap for the city. Judges Ewing and Magee open the License Court; 66 applicants heard in a hurry.

18—Inspector McAleese admits that the police speak-easy list is not accurate; Judge Ewing scores him severely; 45 applicants disposed of in 5 hours and 15 minutes. The Monongahela Passenger rushes Dr. Ewing's name for marrying his deceased wife's sister, and admonishes Dr. Reid for tieing the knot; Dr. Ewing's resignation accepted.

19—Judge Ewing decides one person cannot hold both a wholesale and retail license.

20—W. J. Brennan files his petition in regard to the Allegheny and Pittsburg annexation in Allegheny. The Pittsburg carpenters vote against the eight-hour movement. Scandrett leaves for New York.

21—Scheme to form a new county out of parts of Allegheny, Butler, Westmoreland and Armstrong. Mr. Gilleland files his bond. The Pittsburg Bicycle Club gives $600 in two hours for the benefit of the firemen's widows at the Indianapolis catastrophe. The term of office of D. O. Barr, Surveyor of Port, expires.

22—Rivermen and those who live along the banks of the rivers very anxious about the high waters. Contractor Gallagher on the Southside agree that nine hours shall constitute a day's work. T. M. Latimer enters suit for $50,000 against Edward Grotzinger.

23—Manager Hanlon goes to New York to testify in the Ward case. More than a dozen Pittsburgers after one cadetship at West Point. Danger from the sudden and rapid rise in the rivers now past. The Glasby Orphan Asylum placed on its feet; work of building to begin at once.

24—Colonel Brennan's grandson somewhat surprises the License Court judges; nearly half the applicants were on the speak-easy list. George 'S. Oliver, Republican, superintendent of the Ninth district, gets down to work. About 1,000,000 bushels of coal get out on the rise. Pennsylvania tube workers go out to sustain non-union men. Miss Josephine Kennedy, the Buffalo star actress, dies at the American House from grieving over the loss of her parlor car.

25—Trinity Church's annual meeting of a lively night encounter. The tube workers still on strike. Creation of the Pittsburg Academy of Science and Art accomplished at the Chamber of Commerce.

26—The License Court finished its hearing of applicants from the city up to the Southside; 346 applicants so far heard examined. Trinity and St. Peter's to consolidate and Rev. Mr. Mackay to be rector. General Secretary J. W. Hays, of U. L. visits the city and thinks there will be no eight-hour trouble. Wrought iron pipe manufacturers meet and reaffirm old prices.

27—Norcross and Hart arrive to compete in the great race. The Y. M. C. A. secures a new instructor for the gymnasium. Mrs. Nan Lessle, factory ingénieuse, her to stop employment of children.

28—Local League magnates talk of sueing the Brotherhood. A Yankee girl follows her faithless lover to Pittsburg and pays their wedding expenses. Judge Ewing inaugurates a war on free coaches; numerous Southside applicants on the speak-easy list swore they never sold.

29—Manager Hanlon makes an important statement in regard to the Brotherhood. New baseball association formed at Homestead. A flag placed over Mucklerat school house by the Mechanics despite threatened objections. Equity proceedings against the Duquesne Street Railway Company. Manager Henderson, of Chicago, signs papers for the lease of the Jackman property for a first-class theater.

30—Pittsburg takes seventh place in the Clearing House race. Herr Most, anarchist, delivers two lectures in the city. The P. R. R. decides to reduce fares beyond East Liberty to meet the cable rates. Jacob Bupp engaged in making nine ropes for murderers.

31—One-sixth of an acre sold on Fifth avenue, East End, sold for $8,000, believed to be the highest price ever paid for East End property. Postmaster Gilleland takes charge of the Allegheny office. The old Marine Hospital site sold for $30,325.

APRIL.

1—Sixty applicants from Allegheny heard in the License Court; no speak-easy list produced. The old League objects to change of schedule. A Pittsburg kennel wins all the Boston Irish setter prizes. Stock quotations shut off all over the city from bucket shops.

2—Allegheny tanners against the tariff bill.

3—Speaker Reed promises to attend the American banquet. Committee of the State Board of Charities visits Dixmont. The Duquesne Traction Company lets a contract for 100 cars to the Pullman Company.

4—The License Court makes a partial return: 307 licenses granted in Pittsburg and 67 in the first four wards, Allegheny; the Police Jurisdiction of a number of its resorts and the hill district given additional saloons. The old rate of exporting coal to the lakes adopted. Jesus Christ son, Schenley Park mascot, returns home. The largest oil gusher ever brought in appears at Forest Grove, Pa.

5—John O'Hara shot and killed and Martin Fahey seriously wounded on Fifth avenue by a drunken colored man. McKeesport strengthens her police force and creates additional night officers. Rent Board in the case of the Pittsburg Traction and other companies against the Duquesne Traction Company to restrain the latter from laying its railway on certain streets.

6—Ex-Sheriff Fife appointed messenger in the Department of Public Safety. Neeb and Rutan hustling for the Senatorial nomination. Citizens of the Eighteenth ward demand that their end of Stanton avenue be repaved. W. M. Stevenson chosen Librarian of the Central Pittsburg in Allegheny. The striking tinners start a co-operative shop in Allegheny. John P. Eberhardt elected President of the Window Glass Workers' Association. The Nicholson postoffice robbery case on trial in the United States Court. Knights of Labor barred out of the Tippett & Wood Works. Werner commits suicide in Allegheny by hanging.

7—The DISPATCH Country Road Exploring Party completes its work in Beaver county. The King's Daughters give a dinner at St. Peter's Church. Old soldiers celebrate the surrender of Lee.

8—Judge Ewing became exasperated in the License Court at an attorney; the last of the retail applicants from Allegheny heard. Work on Arbuthnot, Stephenson & Co.'s large building for the Penn Bridge Company begun. Four hundred bottle house boys unite in demanding more pay. Managers of the Blind Institute accept Mrs. Schenley's donation.

9—Hardy takes first place in the big race. Clarence Burdett tries the film-flam game on J. C. Williams, a bullet-torn stone finds from the United Evangelical Protestant Church, Smithfield street. Thirteenth ward citizens petition the Court for saloon licenses.

10—Magistrate Hyndman discharges a prisoner; Officer Cross wanted held; rather remarkable scene. Gus L. Otterson, after an absence of four months, gives a complete account of his wanderings; he went alone from New York to Chicago, where he bought a ticket for Pittsburg.

11—Big strike of railroad employes brewing; vardmen want more money and fewer hours. Selling to minors begin to be an important part in the Coroner's office. Building inspectors decide the tower of the United Evangelical Protestant Church must come down. The Westinghouse Company decide to go into the electric road business.

12—Railroad switchmen of Pittsburg waiting the reply of President Harrison to the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road's appeal for less hours per day at Imperial Hall. Chief Brown moves against sidewalk obstructions.

13—Management of different railroads entering the city receive the demands of the yardmen, but refuse to entertain them, virtually ignoring the Federation. Rent Board applications from McKeesport find it a rocky road in the License Court. Bishop O'Connor, after a serious illness, leaves for home. I. N. Ross appointed Superintendent of Public Grounds and Joseph L. Evans elected Master Workman of the district. Joseph Anderson arrested at Liverpool, Ohio, and suspected of murdering Mrs. Rudert at Tarentum.

14—Railroad officials declare they will treat only with their own employes and that they would meet their men's demands. The Pittsburgers buy the Cream City Passenger Railway, Milwaukee. Petition started in Allegheny to condemn the Ridge avenue road and make it a 60-foot street to Perrysville.

15—Harry Anderson tells to the detectives a tale of his wanderings. Officers of the Second Brigade, N. G. P., pass through a severe examination.

16—The superintendents on nearly all roads leading into the city refuse the demands made to increase the wages of yardmen, but the employes claim still further concessions must be made. Nearly 9,000 people see the Pittsburg beaten by Cleveland at the Industrial Exposition Park. The National League local colts defeat the Cleveland's.

17—Strike prospects propelled that eight-hour day has come to stay. Yardmens' trouble expected to be bridged over. Firemen of the Pleasant Valley strike for higher wages and shorter hours.

18—The License Court hearing township applicants. Better inquiry and more sales in the real estate market. Pittsburg (P. L.), 5; Chicago, 2. Pittsburg (N. L.), 11; Cleveland, 9. Another day of conference in the local railroad muddle. Texas capitalists purchase Wellsville street railways.

19—Retail liquor licenses in the boroughs handed down by the Judges; the number more than double over last year. The railroad yardmen strike takes another turn by the trainmen presenting a list of grievances. Keystone strike settled.

20—Judge Ewing, in the License Court, tells how many beers will cause intemperance. The Smith estate divided.

21—Another batch of liquor licenses handed down by the Judges: 72 wholesale applicants heard. Controller Speer asked by the Court to show cause why he should not issue warrants for them. Precautions taken by the Board of Health to prevent an epidemic of smallpox. The firemen and baggagemen ask an increase.

22—Pittsburg Councils ask the Legislature with authority to decide disputes relative to the blind asylum and the public park. A big legal fight begun against the Duquesne Traction Company.

23—The Pittsburg Commisson Company closes its doors; caught by a rising market. John M. Ludwig takes the Pittsburg Traction company for sending out a worn-out engine which blew up. Attorneys prepare briefs on brewers acting as bottlers. Fire Department Chief Dalzell decides to keep tab on the water legislators.

24—Henry Hesler, 3 years old, killed by a Pleasant Valley electric car in Allegheny. Collector Warmcastle asks the Treasury Department to send a special officer to Pittsburg to look after speak-easies.

25—Strikers at McKeesport modify their demands for an eight-hour day. The Knights of L. A. in session at Carnegie Hall, Allegheny.

26—Local meat dealers object to the decision of the Supreme Court which prevents State inspection. Rev. Dr. Davis takes another pastorate of $8,000 on his theater site. Board of assessors getting returns from liquor dealers as to the number of employes they keep. The Strike at McKeesport losing the men $16,000 a day. Mayor Gourley rescinds the order requiring bail for persons arrested for minor offenses. Meeting of the first State Convention of the Daughters of Rebekah, I. O. O. F.

27—A. B. Widener says the Pittsburg Traction Company is to reduce fares to 3 cents. Henry Swindell, a well-known Alleghenian, attempts suicide by cutting his throat. General Synod of the United Presbyterian Church, of North America, convenes in Allegheny.

28—Mrs. Emma Beck arrested at McKeesport for complicity in the murder of Miss Douglass. Trial hearing in the Stayton-Wyman patent contest in Allegheny. McKeesport employes of the National Tube Works return to their work. Strike of the ironworkers ended by arbitration. At a convention of manufacturers of window glass it was determined not to cut prices. Phoebe Collins, aged 60, of 50 Kenny alley, Pittsburg, given an ovation by the indictments of larceny and receiving stolen goods.

29—A hurricane does great damage to property in Allegheny county and throughout the State. The President announces his intention of being present at the Scotch-Irish Congress.

30—Bayne's friends hold a big meeting in Allegheny. Newspaperman, who attempted to commit suicide at Altoona, arrested for complicity in the murder of Miss Douglass at McKeesport. Striking tinners dissatisfied with their organization, claiming that their troubles have not been properly handled.

31—District Master Evans protests against the action of the Pittsburg Valley Directors in discharging Knights of Labor. Rev. Samuel Maxwell, of Trinity P. E. Church, delivers his farewell sermon.

MAY.

1—Two hundred and twenty-eight new saloons in Pittsburg were reopened. The switchmen accept the proposition of the railroad committee to leave the matter in the hands of the Judges: 72 wholesale applicants heard. Controller Speer asked by the Court to show cause why he should not issue warrants for them. Precautions taken by the Board of Health to prevent an epidemic of smallpox. The firemen and baggagemen ask an increase.

2—Pittsburg Councils ask the Legislature with authority to decide disputes relative to the blind asylum and the public park. A big legal fight begun against the Duquesne Traction Company.

3—The Pittsburg Commisson Company closes its doors; caught by a rising market. John M. Ludwig takes the Pittsburg Traction company for sending out a worn-out engine which blew up. Attorneys prepare briefs on brewers acting as bottlers. Fire Department Chief Dalzell decides to keep tab on the water legislators.

4—Henry Hesler, 3 years old, killed by a Pleasant Valley electric car in Allegheny. Collector Warmcastle asks the Treasury Department to send a special officer to Pittsburg to look after speak-easies.

5—Strikers at McKeesport modify their demands for an eight-hour day. The Knights of L. A. in session at Carnegie Hall, Allegheny.

6—Local meat dealers object to the decision of the Supreme Court which prevents State inspection. Rev. Dr. Davis takes another pastorate of $8,000 on his theater site. Board of assessors getting returns from liquor dealers as to the number of employes they keep. The Strike at McKeesport losing the men $16,000 a day. Mayor Gourley rescinds the order requiring bail for persons arrested for minor offenses. Meeting of the first State Convention of the Daughters of Rebekah, I. O. O. F.

7—A. B. Widener says the Pittsburg Traction Company is to reduce fares to 3 cents. Henry Swindell, a well-known Alleghenian, attempts suicide by cutting his throat. General Synod of the United Presbyterian Church, of North America, convenes in Allegheny.

8—Mrs. Emma Beck arrested at McKeesport for complicity in the murder of Miss Douglass. Trial hearing in the Stayton-Wyman patent contest in Allegheny. McKeesport employes of the National Tube Works return to their work. Strike of the ironworkers ended by arbitration. At a convention of manufacturers of window glass it was determined not to cut prices. Phoebe Collins, aged 60, of 50 Kenny alley, Pittsburg, given an ovation by the indictments of larceny and receiving stolen goods.

9—A hurricane does great damage to property in Allegheny county and throughout the State. The President announces his intention of being present at the Scotch-Irish Congress.

10—Bayne's friends hold a big meeting in Allegheny. Newspaperman, who attempted to commit suicide at Altoona, arrested for complicity in the murder of Miss Douglass at McKeesport. Striking tinners dissatisfied with their organization, claiming that their troubles have not been properly handled.

11—District Master Evans protests against the action of the Pittsburg Valley Directors in discharging Knights of Labor. Rev. Samuel Maxwell, of Trinity P. E. Church, delivers his farewell sermon.

12—Pittsburg, through its Councils, accepts Andrew Carnegie's gift of $1,000,000 for the establishment of a free library. Officers of the Chief Elliot, of the Department of Charities, suggests the removal of the Poor Farm. Unemployed tinners say they did not go out on strike, but were locked out.

13—Boilermakers meet and demand increased wages. E. Wilson Cunningham found dead in his room at the Seventh Avenue Hotel. Knights of the Golden Eagle have a parade, followed by the National Convention of the order.

14—Meeting of the International Scotch-Irish. Hand of Mrs. Jane Turner amputated. Postmaster McKean asks for 50 additional letter carriers. Allegation that the Pittsburg Glass Company has imported foreign men from England. Iron manufacturers sign the scale. Several hundred boiler-makers quit work for shorter hours. The Tarentum Bank suspends payment. Arthur Connelly, a boy, killed by Helmhart, of Tarentum, drowned while boating on the Allegheny.

15—The Bethesda Home formally opened. Roadbed and tracks of the Squirrel Hill Electric Railway torn up to clear the Boquet street entrance to the park. Miss Hesbon dies in Allegheny from a general prostration. Allegheny expects to have 25,000 people in the semi-Centennial civic parade. George H. Sheriff dies from a gunshot wound. John Kirkpatrick, both being 14-year-old boys. The fiscal year shows a large increase in the business of the Pittsburg postoffice.

16—Prof. Eaton, for 30 years principal of the Forbes school, declines a re-election. John Reis, of Heltzhoover borough, notifies the police of his wife, after turning over to him $10,000 worth of property, elopes with a contractor.

17—United States revenue returns show that there was an increase of $622,000 made in the Twenty-third district during the past fiscal year more than in the previous year. Allen Rules and Sam Michaels arrested on the Southside for passing counterfeit money. James McDonald arrested for neglecting his 12-year-old daughter, who was dying from consumption. Effort being made by clerks to have the Saturday half-holiday adopted. A jury decides that the shooting of George Corken by Edgar Thompson was accidental.

18—Secretary William Martin, of the Amalgamated Association, refuses a re-election and Stephen Madden chosen in his place. Charles Snezel of the Southside, who leds double life, kills himself when the fact is discovered. The Pittsburg club defeated by the Germantown cricketers. Louis Wagner convicted of murder in the second degree.

19—Dr. George W. Guyitt, the well-known physician of Bellevue, while insane, leaps from a window of his residence and is instantly killed. Mrs. F. Berkoben, of 2301 Carson street, tries to kill herself with kerosene and was horribly burned. Several cases of glanders discovered in Allegheny. The Seventeenth ward school children spend the day at the Allegheny arsenal. Graduating exercises of the Pittsburg and Allegheny high schools.

20—Twenty-five thousand school children visit the Allegheny Parks. John Phillips expelled from the Knights of Labor for the part he took in the Central Trades Council investigation of the Duquesne Traction Company case.

21—Mrs. Schenley talks to a correspondent in London of her plans concerning Pittsburg. The Legislature to be asked to pass a law for tenement house supervision. Many manufacturers express dissatisfaction with the Amalgamation. McClelland defeats Nikirk in the one mile foot race at Homewood Driving Park.

22—Citizens of Allegheny discussing preparations to enter as a second class city. Colored hotel waiters form a union. Mary Stone decides that the Duquesne Company can push forward its work.

JUNE.

1—Congressman Bayne gets a majority of delegates to the Congressional Convention, while Neeb and Rutan run neck and neck. Lizzie Miller, 23 years old, of 2414 Carson, jilted by her lover, commits suicide. Mrs. M. N. Nye, jealous of her husband, kills herself with paris green. President Harrison and Governor Campbell attend the Scotch-Irish Congress. Judge Acheson declines to interfere in the Silverman case. Jordan S. Neel, the rich coal operator, gives bond in $500 to answer the charge of desertion brought by his wife.

2—Census enumerators begin their task. Rev. Dr. John Hall addresses 10,000 people in Mechanical Hall. Stonecutters ask for an increase of 4 cents per hour. John Greiger, while laboring under religious mania, hangs himself. Grand Army men attend memorial services at St. Paul's Cathedral. Bishop Phelan starts for Rome.

3—Duquesne Traction Company's line may take another route if the Supreme Court steps in. The Wage Committee of the Amalgamated Association completes its scale, and anticipates no trouble. Joseph L. Evans wants the Jeannette glass workers' case reopened.

4—The Southside Turner Hall, three dwellings, three stables and a large warehouse burned. Colonel Bayne declines a renomination, and W. A. Stone is named in his place for Congress. Congressman Dalzell renominated. Neeb nominated for Senator, and Rutan's followers bolt. Pittsburg delegates instructed for Montooth. Annual meeting of he Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers.

5—Several persons prostrated by heat and mill men refuse to work. The Duquesne Traction Co. wins its case before the Supreme Court. Mayor Wyman, of Allegheny, charged by Isaac H. Walkup with peddling without a license, pleads guilty and pays a fine of $1. Mrs. Margaret Douglass, aged 61 years, murdered near McKeesport, and her nephew, James E. Myers, arrested for the crime. John Cross found dead on a pile of logs at McKeesport, with his breast crushed in; murder suspected. Mrs. Eckert, wife of Charles Eckert, of Lawrenceville, found having fallen dead on her death-bed. The ordinance to grade California avenue causes a row in Allegheny Common Council, trouble between the Knights of Labor, on the ground that the cards of the latter are not recognized by the Federation. Chief Brown, of the Department of Public Safety, declares war on the bucket-shops as gambling concerns. In the U. S. District Court the jury in the case of the Chambers Iron Mining Company, of Campbell and William H. Slicker charged with importing labor under contract, renders a verdict of not guilty.

7—Much excitement at McKeesport over the murder of Miss Douglass. The inquest by the coroner develops the fact that John Cross, who was found dead at McKeesport, had been a wonderful Convention of the United Mine Workers decides that there will be no strike. John Weise, Augusta Wolf and Maggie Redder sent to the Penitentiary for 20,000 days for false arrest, they having been charged with shoplifting.

8—Major Stockton's friends hold an enthusiastic meeting to boom his candidacy for Governor. Controller Morrow decides that police magistrates have no right to remit fines. James Edward Kilgallen arrested on the charge of murdering his aunt Miss Douglass. John Smith a discharged workmen on the Pittsburg and Western railroad, causes the wreck of the Allegheny depot by an attack on Trainmaster Reese. John P. Eberhardt officially declared elected President of the Window Glass Workers' Association. The Nicholson postoffice robbery case on trial in the United States Court. Knights of Labor barred out of the Tippett & Wood Works. Werner commits suicide in Allegheny by hanging.

9—The DISPATCH Country Road Exploring Party completes its work in Beaver county. The King's Daughters give a dinner at St. Peter's Church. Old soldiers celebrate the surrender of Lee.

10—Judge Ewing becomes exasperated in the License Court at an attorney; the last of the retail applicants from Allegheny heard. Work on Arbuthnot, Stephenson & Bulfi's store for Penn Bridge Company begun. Four hundred bottle house boys unite in demanding more pay. Managers of the Blind Institute accept Mrs. Schenley's donation.

11—Hardy takes first place in the big race. Clarence Burdett tries the film-flam game on J. C. Williams, a bullet-torn stone finds from the United Evangelical Protestant Church, Smithfield street. Thirteenth ward citizens petition the Court for saloon licenses.

12—Magistrate Hyndman discharges a prisoner; Officer Cross wanted held; rather remarkable scene. Gus L. Otterson, after an absence of four months, gives a complete account of his wanderings; he went alone from New York to Chicago, where he bought a ticket for Pittsburg.

13—Big strike of railroad employes brewing; vardmen want more money and fewer hours. Selling to minors begin to be an important part in the Coroner's office. Building inspectors decide the tower of the United Evangelical Protestant Church must come down. The Westinghouse Company decide to go into the electric road business.

14—Railroad switchmen of Pittsburg waiting the reply of President Harrison to the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road's appeal for less hours per day at Imperial Hall. Chief Brown moves against sidewalk obstructions.

15—Management of different railroads entering the city receive the demands of the yardmen, but refuse to entertain them, virtually ignoring the Federation. Rent Board applications from McKeesport find it a rocky road in the License Court. Bishop O'Connor, after a serious illness, leaves for home. I. N. Ross appointed Superintendent of Public Grounds and Joseph L. Evans elected Master Workman of the district. Joseph Anderson arrested at Liverpool, Ohio, and suspected of murdering Mrs. Rudert at Tarentum.

16—Railroad officials declare they will treat only with their own employes and that they would meet their men's demands. The Pittsburgers buy the Cream City Passenger Railway, Milwaukee. Petition started in Allegheny to condemn the Ridge avenue road and make it a 60-foot street to Perrysville.

17—Harry Anderson tells to the detectives a tale of his wanderings. Officers of the Second Brigade, N. G. P., pass through a severe examination.

18—The superintendents on nearly all roads leading into the city refuse the demands made to increase the wages of yardmen, but the employes claim still further concessions must be made. Nearly 9,000 people see the Pittsburgs beaten by Cleveland at the Industrial Exposition Park. The National League local colts defeat the Cleveland's.

19—Strike prospects propelled that eight-hour day has come to stay. Yardmens' trouble expected to be bridged over. Firemen of the Pleasant Valley strike for higher wages and shorter hours.

20—The License Court hearing township applicants. Better inquiry and more sales in the real estate market. Pittsburg (P. L.), 5; Chicago, 2. Pittsburg (N. L.), 11; Cleveland, 9. Another day of conference in the local railroad muddle. Texas capitalists purchase Wellsville street railways.

21—Retail liquor licenses in the boroughs handed down by the Judges; the number more than double over last year. The railroad yardmen strike takes another turn by the trainmen presenting a list of grievances. Keystone strike settled.

22—Judge Ewing, in the License Court, tells how many beers will cause intemperance. The Smith estate divided.

23—Another batch of liquor licenses handed down by the Judges: 72 wholesale applicants heard. Controller Speer asked by the Court to show cause why he should not issue warrants for them. Precautions taken by the Board of Health to prevent an epidemic of smallpox. The firemen and baggagemen ask an increase.

24—Pittsburg Councils ask the Legislature with authority to decide disputes relative to the blind asylum and the public park. A big legal fight begun against the Duquesne Traction Company.

25—The Pittsburg Commisson Company closes its doors; caught by a rising market. John M. Ludwig takes the Pittsburg Traction company for sending out a worn-out engine which blew up. Attorneys prepare briefs on brewers acting as bottlers. Fire Department Chief Dalzell decides to keep tab on the water legislators.

26—Henry Hesler, 3 years old, killed by a Pleasant Valley electric car in Allegheny. Collector Warmcastle asks the Treasury Department to send a special officer to Pittsburg to look after speak-easies.

27—Strikers at McKeesport modify their demands for an eight-hour day. The Knights of L. A. in session at Carnegie Hall, Allegheny.