the Mississippi squadron, during the war, and his death brings to light some hitherto unpub-lished history of the rebellion, and is vouched for by Captain Dan Silvus, who also served on for by Captain Dan Silvus, who also served on this vessel.

Captain Glenny, a Southerner, commanded the Rattler, and his duty was to patrol about 40 miles of the river, in the neighborhood of Jefferson Davis' plantation, to prevent the crossing of Kirby Smith, who was desirous of getting his force into Texas. Glenny leaned toward the South and a piot was arranged with his connivance whereby the Rattler, and through that, the entire Mississippi squadron, should be captured by the rebels.

One summer dav in '64 Captain Glenny ordered two boatloads of men ashore to capture two sons of Colonel James, whose plantation was near by. The young men were officers in the Southern army, and according to the Captain, were home on furlough. Nearly all the other men aboard were granted their liberty for the day and at once took advantage of it by going ashore.

> the general method is generally conceded, and it is on this account -due to the everincreasing keeness of competition-that has induced inquiries into the process.

A few weeks ago some gentlemen con nected with the Cambria Iron and Steel Company, at Johnstown, made a careful inspection of the Adams process at the experimental plant on the Black Diamone results there obtained that they had several billets shipped to their own works for further experiments. What has resulted has not been learned here. But, taken in connection with the present depressed condition of the rail markes, it is interesting to note that the Cambria Company has so far recognized the direct process as to try some of the billets in their mills. It has been said that this company contemplated putting down a direct process plant if fatisfied with the finished material made from the billets. The one thing brought forward against the process is the small output in proportion to the area occupied by the plant.

When the Allegheny Bessemer mill changed ownership at a price which it may be said was nearer $1,000,000 than $2,000,000, as reported, it was rumored that Mr. Park contemplated erecting a direct process plant in the vicinity of Duquesne, but subsequent inquiry developed that the report was at least premature.

I see by to-day's paper that President Eberhart of the Window Glass Workers, refuses to be quoted on the Jeannette matter. Now, I think that with all fairness he should have made the matter clear as far as I am concerned. While I do not want to state the cause, nor was I in any way implicated in it, only so far as I tried to effect a settlement for those who were. I think President Eberhart should have made that point clear, and not have the public believe that the trouble was caused by me, when I have nothing to do with it. I hope you will make this public in your next edition, and oblige yours.

Our Annual January Clearance Sale

BEGINS TO-DAY.

In conformity with our announcement in yesterday's papers we to-day begin to give the details of this, the greatest and grandest, as it is by all means the largest clearance sale of Dry Goods ever attempted in these cities.

The l'enn Avenue Stores never offered such vast quantities of goods at such low prices—which is to say that even an approach to this sale in magnitude, or in advantages to the Dry Goods buying population, was never attempted before in Western Pennsylvania. A few houses only in the country could make such a sale.

To-day we begin with Silk and Dress Goods,

The rivermen are expecting at least 15 feet in the river this morning and probably more. If the cold wave scheduled falls come there may possibly be a very big river. However, all are looking for the cold snap to come and that will settle the question of water snap to come and that will settle the question of water.

William Douglass, late lumberman, states that he has noticed for many years that when the gutters are not flooded in time of a thaw, it (the thaw) does not amount to much; that the "fountains of the great deep" are broken up, as it were, in time of a regular thaw, and that such is not the case at present. This view is borne out from the fact that yesterday the snow lay nearly as deep as ever on field and in forest.

Constable Best also made informations against a large number of the Huns, and warrants were served upon five of them in the afternoor. They were Mike Greway, Mike Friekel, Joe Bilink, Andrew Pardee and John Thomka. They were taken before Justice of the Peace Edwards, who committed them to jail, in default of $1,000 bait each, on a charge of riot. Constable Best brought the prisoners to jail last evening, and expected to have a unumber of others before merning.

Those who were injured were, very singularly, all Irish, and all belonged to the side of the workmen. The streets were con-Chairman William Speer wore all his fighting clothes, and he raked the police department from end to end. A part of the performance was an animated dialogue between the Chairman of the committee and Chief of Police Murphy, which was highly dramatic from the start to the finish. The roast given to Allegheny's finest was awful in the extreme. It was even stated that an Allegheny officer in any other city would be arrested as a suspicious character.

At the opening of the meeting all was erene. A number of minor bills were presented and approved. Then the Mayor's report for the last month was presented. There had been 314 arrests and the receipts were $1,993 70. With scarce a murmur Sheriff McCandless was notified to go to braddeck and last evening he went accompanied by two of his clerks, W. R. and John Brown. He saw at once that the difficulty was brought about largely through excessive drinking on the part of the Huus and he at once ordered the 15 saloons and 16 wholesale houses closed, and requested the proprietors to remain closed until the town became quiet. His next move was to swear in nearly 290 deputies. These he selected from the Edgar Thompson employes as far as practicable, and he will deputize 1,000 more this morning.

Put His Feet Down Real Hard. This was $20,000 more than last year, and Chairman Speer wanted to known the reason of the increase and he endeavored to scratch out several items by setting his feet down real hard. The claim made by the department was that 31 new officers and another patrol wagon had been added to the service during the year. Nevertheless the Chairman kicked and kicked vigorously. of the other workmen, and they certainly cannot get it now."
Coionel Thomas Cosgrove, the Superintendent of the Transportation Department, was seen, and he expressed himself in almost identically the same language.

Patrick McCartner, a friend of Quinn's, was very much displeased at the company's failure to secure anyone outside of the physicians to care for the injured. "Ie was very much put out at the fact that Quinn was sent to the lospital unattended, except by one of his friends. Father Hickey and Father Murphy, the former of whom will be remembered as the peacemaker in the difficulty of 1887, were early on the scene, and assisted the physicians in look-The fight was a hard one but the police de partment won, however, and the Chairman had only the satisfaction of telling what he thought of the Allegheny police force, both in general and particular.

The estimate presented was itemized. The amount paid to each officer was marked down. While it was being read the Chairman pulled at his whiskers until the clerk reached the part referring to patrol service operators. Here the clerk was ordered to stop, and turning to Chief Murphy he inpened to Braddock, as the entire population is in an unsettled condition.

It is intended to start banking the remaining furnaces to-day, only furnaces B and C having been banked, and it is feared that there will be more trouble, as feeling throughout the town in at white heat. The attitude of the strikers has settled their demands. The men now say the company will concede them nothing, and they have incurred the enmity of every good critizen of the town. Mr. Murphy—I don't think it is. It might have been that way once, but now the force is a good one, and the city is one of the most orderly in the country.

Mr. Speer—That is because the citizens are orderly. What you want is to get a lot of wooddo men and stand them on the corners. I think the police force is worse than ever before. If the men who are now on the force were to go into other cities they would be arrested as suspicious characters. My opinion is that the force is worse than it ever was. I will say that the Chief and front office men are all right; they have nothing to do, and they do it right up to the handle.

It was argued that the appropriation for last year was $80,000, and yet $4,000 additional had to be appropriated during the year. Against this was brought the argument that as the city was to be bonded to the extent of $500,000 this year to improve the streets, $75,000 would be sufficient for the present year for repairs. Inspector McAloese yesterday received a telegram from John Leska, of McKtesport, asking him to arrest a Hungarian whose descrip-

The fight ended in the ordinance for the latter figure being affirmatively recommended to Councils.

The committee also considered a petition of the citizens for a foot bridge over the Pittsburg. Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railroad at Fulton street and California avenue. An ordinance for the same was ordered printed for Councils.

The Gas Committee of Allegheny also metlast night and considered the ordinance granting the Star Illuminating Gas Company the right to lay pipes over the city streets. The ordinance was affirmatively returned to Councils. The ordinance fixes the price at 75 cents per 1,000 feet to citizens, and 40 per cent less than the selling price to the city.

A sub-committee was appointed to examine into the efficiency of the tower system of lighting and report to a meeting of the general committee on January 15.

Charles Hamilton, a colored laborer at Moor-head's Mill, reported to the police at the Fourteenth Ward station that he had been assaulted and beaten yesterday. About 4:30 he was on his way to work, and when passing under the Baltimore and Ohio bridge over Brady street, a crowd of half a dezen men, without any warncrowd of half a dozen men, without any warning attacked him. He was knocked down and beaten with a club until nearly insensible. One of the men kicked him in the face, nearly knocking one eye out. When his assailants finally let him go he had his miguries dressed, and started for the police station. His eye was terribly cut, and it is feared he will loose it. The attack was a purely malicious one, no attempt having been made to rob Hamilton. He did not recognize any of the men.

An nour later another man, whose name was not learned, was attacked by, it is supposed, the same gang, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Brady street. The man succeeded in getting away from his assailant by jumping on a cable car. Shorily afterward a large knife was found near the place of the trouble. It is believed to have been dropped by one of the crowd. Lieutenant Shafer has been investigating both occurrences, but as yet no arrests have been made.

The Republicans certainly won't have things their own way with Pattison as Governor, because he will veto any measure that does not suit him.

If the House and Senate pass an apportionment bill that is satisfactory to them and the Governor sits down on it he will be responsible for the failure to redistrict the State. It was on this ground that he called his famous extra session, claiming that, under the Constitution, the State should be reapportioned.

"As for the manner of grabting licenses, I do not think there will be any change in the present system. The people in the country as against the cities are well satisfied with the Brooks law and the present method of granting against the cities are well satisfied with the Brooks law and the persent method of granting licenses, and the country members will vote against any change."

"Will Brooks be elected Speaker of the House?" was asked.

"Well, I don't know. I seldom go into the House and am not posted. Thompson, of Warren, is a good man, very able, and would fill the position admirably. I think he will be supported by the Representatives from the northwestern tier of counties, and possibly many of the members in the northern counties will stand by him. This will not essentially be a farmers' Legislature, but they will have considerable weight and influence." THEY BLAME IT ON THE WEATHER.

PLAN OF THE NEXT HOUSE,

Congressman Wilson Says the Democrat Will Change the McKinley Bill. Congressman Wilson, of Missouri, was a passenger on the Eastern express, bound for Washington last evening. He thinks the Senate will hardly pass the Federal elections bill, washington last evening. He thinks the Senate will hardly pass the Federal elections bill, and if they do it will come back to the House in an amended form, and the Republicans will never geta quorum together to push it through. Many of the defeated Republicans have not been in the House since the short session opened. Mr. Wilson says it is human nature to lose interest under such circumstances.

Concerning the work of the pext Congress, he said: "About the first 'bing the Democrats will do is to tear the McKinley bill to pieces. Separate bills will be passed to cover those schedules where there is a wide discrepancy between the views of the two parties. A full coinage bill will also be passed, and the Democrats will in other respects iegislate for the best interests of the people. I am not a member of the Farmers' Alliance, but the grangers are closely allied with the Democrats. The Alliance is a non-political organization, and they will certainly not put up an independent candidate unless they revolutionize their principles. The farmers repudiated the sub-Treasury scheme, which is a ridiculous idea. The grangers will be a strong factor in politics in the future, and neither party can afford to ignare them."

KNOCKED OUT A POLICEMAN.

Officer Bagby Receives a Severe Kick From an Intextcated Man.

At 7 o'clock last night Mrs. Hugh Bulger who lives at the rear of No. 2720 Penn avenue. sent a request to the Twelfth ward station for the arrest of her husband, who, she said, was under the influence of liquor and was abusing her. Officers Bagby and Cole were sent to arrest him. When they entered the house Bul rest him. When they entered the house Bulger offered a formidable resistance, and declined to peaceably accompany the officers.

A desperate struggle ensued, in which Bulger was overpowered and arrested. In the light Officer Eagby, who is a colored policeman, was kicked in the abdomen by Bulger, and it is feared that he is injured severely. He was removed to his home on Fulton street, near Center avenue. Bulger will have a hearing before Magistrate McKenna this merning.

TWO SMALL FIRES.

A Bottling Establishment on Wylie Avenue Slightly Damaged. Shortly before 12 o'clock last night fire was discovered in the bottling house of Martin Levy, at No. 232 Wylie avenue. An alarm was sent in from station No. 51, and the blaze soon extinguished. The damage amounted to about $300, covered by insurance. No fire had been left in the place by Mr. Levy when he went home at 11 o'clock, and how it started is not home at 11 o'clock, and how it started is not known.

A still alarm was sent to Engine Company No. 14 yesterday morning for a slight fire in the stitchen of Charles Woods, on Orang street, Bellefield. The fire was caused by some grease boiling out on the floor. It was extinguished with slight damage.

AN INSANE PATIENT DEAD.

The Grim Reaper Carries Off Another Victim at the City Farm. Kate Peters, who for the past ten years has been an inmate of the insane department at the City Farm, died there on Wednesday. BAD FOR THE LUNGS.

That Is What the Doctors Say About the Present Weather. the Mississippi Squadron.

H. E. Church died at the Mercy Hospital resterday morning as the result of the explosion of an oxygen cylinder at the Red Lion on Tuesday. When taken to the hos-pital it was found necessary to amputate one leg, and he never recovered from the shock. Church was 50 years old, a widower, and has a state in Ledisanaclie. MUCH SICKNESS ALL OVER THE CITY

Typhoid Fever and Diphtheria Prevail in Various Places,

CHATS WITH WELL-KNOWN-PHYSICIANS A city without its sick is an anomally. The health of a community depends to a large extent on the weather, and . Pittsburg, during the past few weeks, has had a dose of the vilest kind, while towns East and West have comparatively escaped. Yesterday was a bad day to see physicians, as, like the barbers, they enjoy a half holiday once in awhile, and they closed their offices early, and only a tew could be found. The reports received of the health of the city at present varied. Some doctors claimed there was considerable sickness; others said that despite the weather the number of sick was not unusual. Disagreeable coughs and colds, sore throat, some typhoid fever and pneumonia prevail in almost every locality in the two cities.

All the physicians agree that the weather is responsible. Strange to say, there are no contugious diseases of any consequence, and the sore throat seldom develops into and the sore throat seldom develops into diphtheria. Any number of people are "out of fix," and men and women go around with aching bones and sharp pains, but they do not complain much and are not confined to bed. Sufferers from rheumatism and gout have their maladies aggravated by the snow and rain. But doctors will differ, and the people can take their choice.

In the East End considerable sickness is reported. Indeed, physicians say that in some places it is awful. Many of the streets are torn up and are in a frightful condition. The recent heavy snows and thaws with the rain added have not helped the streets or the health of this portion of the city. Sore throats, which the doctors playfully call follicular pharyngits, in medical parlance, with a tendency to typhoid fever, predominate. This trouble runs up the temperature of the bodyto a high degree, and it is always liable to terminate in fevers of some kind, which are dangerous. WHAT SOME OF THE DOCTORS SAY.

Dr. Ward reports numerous cases of sore throat and some typhold fever in the East End. Dr. H. B. Orr was caught on the fly at his of-fice door, and talked for a few minutes. "The health of the city at present," he said, "is in a peculiar condition. There seems to be an epidemic of surgical cases. There are any number of broken legs, dislocated ankles, and sprains, due, I suppose, to the slippery condi-tion of the streets and the fall of pedestrians on them. Then I find plenty of pneumonia and typhoid fever. These troubles are not con-fined to any part of the city, for I have patients scattered around in different sections. If you will examine the death cer-tificates, these days, you will see that pneu-monia and typhoid fever are frequently the mona and typhoid lever are irrequently the causes.

"A great many people are suffering from bronchitis and bad colds with a strong tendency to malaria, which leaves them in bad shape. Malaria is developing, and it is due, of course, to the sloppy and disagreeable weather. I meet lots of men who are not in good health. They are not in bed, but they don't feel well and are out of fix. Coughs and colds also prevail to a large extent. In fact, I think the weather is having a bad effect on the health of the city, and people can't be too careful of themselves to ward off fevers and pneumonia."

MUCH GENERAL SICKNESS. Dr. W. T. English said that since he was conand lungs he was not as well posted as he should be on the health of the city. He stated that in talking with physicians who have a general practice he learned that there was considerable sick ness, but it was not of a dangerous character. It is not confined to the Southside this time, but the East End seems to be extching it.

Diphtheria is not common, but any number of people are troubled with sore throat. It is not fatal as a rule, but is very disagreeable while it lasts, as the general effect is to run up the temperature of the body and make the patient feverish. There is some typhoid fever and pneumonia, but the Doctor said he had not heard that it prevailed to an alarming extent. Like other physicians, he holds the had weather responsible for much of the sickness. He does not believe that many cases of genuine "grip" are to be found in the city, but he says a number of people are affected with severe colds. should be on the health of the city.

FOUND BUT LITTLE TYPHOID. Drs. Blystone and Hoffman represent the Homeopathic,school. Dr. Blystone stated that Homeopathic school. Dr. Blystone stated that he did not think an unusual amount of sickness prevailed at present. He found plenty of coughs and colds, but he had no typhoid fever or pneumonia cases, and Dr. Hoffman had not told him that he had any such patients. Dr. Blystone thought the health of the city was quite good, considering the condition of the streets good, considering the condition of the streets and weather.

Dr. D. A. Hengst states that his experience has been that there is no more sickness at present than at the same time last year. The weather was mainly responsible for a great deal of trouble among people's respiratory organs, but there was nothing in the shape of an epidemic so far he knew. In his practice he knew he had not a case of typhoid fever or diphtheria, but of the lighter forms of pulmonary diseases there were plenty, due solely to the weather. People get their feet wet and there you are.

TYPHOID IN THE EAST END. Dr. E. F. Frasher, of Oakland, has a differ-Dr. E. F. Frasher, of Oakland, has a different experience. In the course of a talk yesterday he said, among other things: "I have found recently a number of typhoid cases, and they have proved more than ordinarily fatal as compared with the last few years. Most of them are down among the foreigners along Second avenue, but up on Bouquet street, above Fifth avenue, where the conditions would not be considered favorable for such diseases, there are several cases and they are just as bad as those in the low lands. I hardly know to what to attribute them.

articles and the low lands. I hardly know to what to attribute them.

"The germs of infectious diseases are no doubt held by the piles of snow along the streets. There is also a great deal of maiarial fever, but of course that is in the lower sections where the conditions are more favorable. Taking other diseases, I do not think there is any greater proportion than last year, in fact if anything, the general health is better."

Dr. A. J. Davis, of East Liberty, does not take much stock in reports of increased sickness. Ho said that he knew of no cases of typhoid fever or diphtheria. True, there were what are known as typhoid symptoms, but he knew of no cases of genuine fever. His experience did not show any increased amount of sickness except that due to the weather, sore throats and the like.

AN EXPRESS WRECKED TWICE.

A Train Collides With a Freight Engine, and the Fireman Is Hurt. The Cleveland express on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road had a serious time before it arrived in Pittsburg yesterday, six hours behind time. The train was wrecked twice. First the engine and one of the cars ran off the track on a bridge about 30 miles from Alliance. No one was hurt, and fortunately the locomotive didn't fall from the bridge. They had considerable trouble to put them on the track again, and the train had to go back to Alliance and come in over the Fort Wayne road. At Rochester the express ploughed into a freight engine and the cab of the passenger locomotive was smashed into splinters. The baggange car was also transformed into kindling wood. The engineer and fireman jumped for their lives. The engineer escaped unburt, and the fireman was pretty well bruised up, but he is not seriously lujured. The passengers were not hurt, but after this second experience were very badly scared. The Cleveland express on the Cleveland and

WOMEN IN THE CONFERENCE. A Majority of the Methodist People Favor

Their Admission.

The vote on the question of the women getting a voice in the M. E. Conference shows that a majority favor the innovation, though the matter will not be fully disposed of until the Conference itself has a vote. It will even then require a two-thirds vote. The idea seems to prevail that the Conference will concur in the action of the people at large and admit women as delegates.

The total membership in all the conferences amounts to 1,831,624. Of these, so far as heard from, 291,314 voted, and 182,281 voted in favor of admitting women to the General Conference, while 190,683 voted to keep them out. The figures show some curious facts. Many of the Eastern districts were overwhelmingly against the women, but the Western districts, where women are supposed to be scarce, turned out royally in favor of the female. Their Admissio

Considerable Attention Now Given to

THAT LITTLE AFFAIR AT JEANNETTE

A good dea! of attention is being given at present to the question of making steel by the direct process. Since G. N. Snelus and other British experts commented so favorably on the Adams process, methods for converting steel direct from the ore have been more generally inquired into by manufor the day and at once took advantage of it by going ashore.

The expedition landed, and while going through the woods, fell into an ambush of 1,400 bicked rebels massed on either side of the read. The sailor boys were outnumbered, and promptly dropped, and this resulted in some 30 rebels being shot by their friends in the cross fire. The expedition was captured, the rebels parted for their boats, killed the boatkeepers and pulled for the Battler.

Captain Glenn saw the rebels coming, but made no effort to stop them, although he could have blown them out of water. The executive officer noticed this, and suspecting treachery, ordered the Captain under arrest, and with the help of the liberty men, who came tumbling on board when they heard the firing in the woods, repelled the boarders, and the plot was foiled. Church was ordered by the executive officer to take command.

Church was ordered by the executive officer to take command.

A few days later the executive officer was relieved by a man who had been on furlough, who was a Southerner and a warm friend of Captain Glenn. A couple of nights later the newly-arrived executive officer told Captain Church that he might "turn in," and as this permission was equivalent to a command, Church obeyed. All the men on deck and the sentry guarding Captain Glenny received the same orders, and, of course, obeyed. In the morning Captain Glenn, the executive officer and a skiff were missing, and were next heard of in Vicksburg. burg.

of capitalists were "thinking" about embark-ing in the direct steel business. It is said, on very good authority, that Carnegie, Phipps & Co. have specialists engaged in investigating lost on the Southside. Henry Call, who resides at No. 123 Carson street, called at the Twenty-eighth ward police station last night, and stated that his 14-year-old son had been missing from home since 8 o'clock yesterday morning. John Bowers, a resident of the Thirty-first ward, was also searching for a lost boy. His 8-year-old son had left home a short time before 12 o'clock yesterday, and failed to show up at home in the evening.

It is also reported that Jacob Berger, a resident of the Twenty-fourth ward, was looking the merits of direct processes, with the view, of course, of adopting the method if results warrant them in doing so. Kaufmanns' china department during the holiday season can be likened only to the proverbial "Bull in a china shop." It created sad havoc with all kinds of goods. A thousand odds and ends are scattered in every direction, and no matter where you look you see some evidence of the wreck.
