SOCIAL CALLS CUT A SMALL FIGURE

TEROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT, 1 WASHINGTON, Jan. 1 .- A very worthy young man accidentally shot through the heart while the midnight bells and whistles were ringing and blowing in the new year; a lively prize fight between Slugger Brooks, of New York, and Slugger Holcomb, of house, occupied by Millionaire Leiter, of Chicago: a fee so thick that one could not see across the street; official receptions and miscellaneous New Year calls in rain, fog and slush, such as are rarely seen in combination in Washington, made a somewhat notable advent of 1891 in the Capital City, Not for long years have Ne ' Year receptions been so sparsely attended and society calls so small, and not within the memory of the oldest society dude have the fashionables and others looked so bedraggled and forlorn on a gala day. All sorts of vehicles were in demand at the highest prices, and so far as is known the cabbies are the only ellows who are ahead of the game. The Capitol was deserted. A member now and then straggled into one chamber or the other only to seek assistance, or to get the fog out of his throat.

The President's Brilliant Reception.

The President's reception was of course the social feature of the day. The historic White House, which has been the scene of so many brilliant spectacles, never looked prettier than it did to-day. Special pains were taken with the decorations, and everything was done to make the mansion as attractive as possible. The Government conservatories and hothouses were taxed to their utmost espacity for flowers and plants. and the supply being inadequate to meet the President's desire recourse was had to private dealers. In fact, it was found necessary to go to New York and Philadelphia for some of the flowers used in the devices. These were all of a patriotic character, being fac similes of the flag of the Union and the national coat of arms, both of which were prominently dislaved in the different parts of the house e reception began at 11 o'clock, the receiving party taking their places in the Bine Parlor at that hour to the familiar strains of "Hail to the Chief," played by the full Marine Band, which was stationed in the vestibule just inside the main entrance. Vice President Morton and Mrs. Morton and all the members of the Cabinet with the ladies of their families, with the excep-tion of Mrs. Blaine, had previously joined the President and Mrs. Harrison, and followed them downstairs to the reception room. The receiving party ten formed a line be-tween the entrance and exit doors. The mem-bers of the diplomatic corps were first received. They were nearly all present. All wore full court continue, which, in many cases, natable court costume which, in many cases, notably the Russian, German, Austrian, French and Chinese Ministers, was of the most gergeous description. They were presented by Secretary Blaine and Assistant Secretary Wharion, and made a brilliant spectacle, with their glittering jewels, gold braids and clanking swords. Very Distinguished Procession.

Baron Favia, of Italy, who is dean of the corps, by virtue of seniority of service, led the procession and was followed by Senor Romero of Mexico. Nearly all the diplomats were ac of Mexico. Nearly all the diplomats were accomparied by ladies. Accompanying the corps were the usembers of the International Monetary Conference and the members of the American International Railway Conference. They were followed soon after by the Chief Justice and the Associated Justices of the United States Supreme Court, the Judges of the United States Court of Claims and the Judiciary of the District of Columbia.

The other official receptions were largely at tenued, most of the people who visited the White House calling on the Vice President and the members of the Cabinet, all the latter, ex-cept Secretary Tracy, keeping open house. Some Other Notable Events.

Secretary Blaine gave the Diplomatic Corps: breakfast immediately after the reception of the corps at the White House, and afterward received the public. Miss Blaine assisted him. Senator Hoar was only visible at the President's reception, where he shook Mr. Harrison's hand, each looking the other in the eye in a melancholy way, and both evidently thinking of the elections bill. UNCLE SAM'S FLEET IN ALASKAN WATERS TO BE INCREASED.

Seven Additional Vessels to Be Sent to Behring Sea, Heavily Armed-Trouble May Follow Any Attempt to Retake Captured British Sealing Craft.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.-It is rumored that the Treasury Department is preparing to augment the revenue cutter fleet in Behring Sea for the coming spring by seven vessels. It is not known as yet from where the seven vessels will be obtained. It is inferred, however, that they will be made up of chartered steam whalers and small coastwise steamers. Should the above rumor prove correct, over 40 officers will be required to be sent from the East to man the ships. A detail of 40 revenue marine officers will draw upon the complements of every revenue cutter now in the commission on the Atlantic and Guif coasts. The chartered vessels, to be made efficient, as well as the revenue cutters, Bear, Itasis, Corwin and Wolcott, now on the Pacific ceast, will have to be armed with serviceable runs, and nothing short of six-pounder. Whatever trouble arises in the North Pacific will be caused, it is feared, by British warships endeavoring to retake captured British sealing vessels.

The American naval force now in the Pacific consists of the flagship Charleston, Rear Admiral George Brown, Captain G. C. Remey, Iroquou, Commander Joshua Bishon; Mohican, Commander E. M. Shepard, and Saratoga, Commander E. M. Shepard, and Saratoga, Commander L. J. Reed. The flagship Charleston, in point of speed and fighting efficiency, is superior to all the British warships in the Pacific with the one exception of the Warspite. The speed of the Warspite, however, is inferior to that of the Charleston. The former vessel cannot do over 16,75 knots per hour. The Charleston is an 18-knot ship. The Warspite's battery consists of four 9.2-inch and six 6-inch breach-loading rifles.

THE TRIVIAL QUARREL THAT LED TO MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Two Young Men Fall Out and One Kills the Other--The Murderer Then Blows His Own Brains Out-A Sad New Year's Day.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE.] BAXLEY, GA., Jan. 1 .- New Year's Day dawned upon two grief-stricken families, relatives of Willie Pace and kinsfolk of Nat Ashley, two prominent young men of Hazleturst. Last night a party was given at the residence of Mr. Girlman, near Hazlehurst. These young men were clerking in stores in that town and were firm friends. Both desired to Washington, as twilight dawned on the new year; the burning of Secretary Blaine's house, occupied by Millionaire Leiter of Pace would go out to the party and return immediately for Nat. He went and staved for some time, partaking in the festivities. He then returned for Nat, whom he found preparing to go to the party, and apparently fretted because Pace had not returned earlier.

A hackman had just arrived to take them when Pace returned. Pace and Ashely commenced quarreling about the matter, both walking into the store. It was about 9:30 o'clock, and no persons were in or about the store except themselves and the hackman.

9:30 o'clock, and no persons were in or about the store except them-elves and the hackman. Pace was heard to call Ashley a liar, and a sharp report followed. In a few moments Ashley stepped to the door and called to the hackman, and said. "Tell Mr. Pace to come here, I have killed his son." The frightened hackman, instead of going to Mr. Pace as requested, ran to another store a short distance a way and informed who was there.

store a short distance away and informed who was there.

At that moment another report was heard, Mr. Middleton and others rashed to the store and as they entered a horrible scene greeted them. Ashley and Pace were both lying dead, one behind the counter and the other in front; one shot in the eye, the other in the temple. Upon investigation was discovered that a small Remington rifle in a gan case behind the counter had been discharged and replaced, and that Pace's pistol was lying near Ashley, and that the ball that entered Pace's eye corresponded with the caliber of the rifle and the responded with the caliber of the rifle and the ball in Ashley's temple with the caliber of the pistol.

It is supposed that both young men had their weapons drawn; that Ashley shot Pace with the rifle, killing him, and when he realized that he killed his friend, seized his pistol and killed himself. Both young men were about 20 years old and highly connected, and had been warm friends for years.

Parnell Reported to Be Ready to Retire in O'Brien's Favor.

AWAITING A REPLY FROM DILLON

BY CABLE TO THE DISPATCHA

LONDON, Jan. 1.-The English papers are discussing Patrick Ford's reply to William O'Brien, as it appears in the Irish World, and are agreed that the latter has decidedly the worst of it in the dispute. The Globe says: "O'Brien's confusion of mind simply means that he is trying to look in two different ways with two different faces, one for the Gladstonist, who likes only verbal explosives, and the other for Ford's clients, who find dollars on their faith of promised explosions that are not to be merely verbal. The Feud Bursts Forth Again. A dispatch from Cork says: The fend existing between the Archbishops and the Parnellites, which has been slumbering since the election in North Kilkenny, burst forth flercely to-day, and the most bitter feeling prevails on both sides. Mayor Horgan, an carnest supporter of Parnell, and one of the gentlemen who is said to have been prominent in getting up the recent letter to Mr. O'Brien, signed by the Mayor and five ex-Mayors, was installed at the town hall as Mayor of Cork to-day amid a scene of intense enthusiasm on the day amid a scene of intense enthusiasm on the part of the Parnellites.

On the other hand the anti-Parnellites wer conspicuous by their absence. This absence of Parnell's opponents from the installation cere monies did not in any way tend to dampen the enthusiasm of the Parnellites, who were out in strong force, owing, in addition to the fact that they designed to honor Horgan, to a rumor circulated early in the day that there was trouble brewing for the Parnellite Mayor.

Refused Entrance to the Church. This trouble manifested itself when the ar angements were being made during the morn ing for the customary installation ceremony at the Catholic Cathedral, which has always ormed part of the day's proceedings. The Parnellites were then informed, first by rumor and afterward as a positive fact, that the installation ceremonies at the cathedral must be abandoned, as the Bishop, the Rt. Rev. T. A. O'Callahan, D. D., refused to receive the Parallite Marcor.

Delite Mayor.

This information was greeted with many signs of extreme indignation by the Parnellites, who are now convinced that the battle with the priesthood is only in its early stages, and that a long and desperate struggle for suprement party party are the second price of the priesthood is only in its early stages, and that a long and desperate struggle for suprement have patterns the second priests can be a second priest and the priests can be a second priest and the priests can be a second priest can be a second pr acy between themselves and the priests can be looked forward to throughout Ireland, if Par-nell remains at the head of his faction of the Irish party.

Parnell Willing to Retire.

It is understood in Dublin that William O'Brien has cabled John Dillon, now in New York, that Parnell consents to retire if Mr. York, that Parnell consents to retire if Mr. O'Brien is made leader of the Irish party. It is further understood that the Boulogne conference adjourned in order to await Dillon's reply to this cable message. It is also reported that Dillon is consulting with several prominent friends of Ireland who reside in the United States, previous to answering the important question put to him after the close of the conference.

The Insuppressible, the organ of the Mc-Carthyite faction of the Irish party, says: "Mr. Parnell wants no vindication resulting in the annulment of the O'Shea divorce. He intends to marry Mrs. O'Shea when the divorce is made absolute." absolute."

Lord Mayor Meade was installed in Dublin to-day amid a scene of considerable excitement. Sexton and Healy were roundly hissed by the crowds present, and the mention of Parnell's name was cheered to the echo.

Bill for the Benefit of Employes and Employers. PARIS, Jan. 1 .- The law promulgated to-day to prevent coercion and unjust dismissal of workmen, was originally prepared soon after the banquet given in honor of Gambetta by the nor servants of the railway companies in France. When Gambetta was Prime Ministe of France he decided that an engineer who had saved a train at the risk of his own life should be awarded the cross of the Legion of Honor. The Senate, however, felt differently, and thought that the bill which has now been promulgated and was presented at the same time as was the suggestion of the award, was too radical.

But since then strikes have been so frequent in France and other countries as to alarm the Moderates and Conservatives into this act. The bill secures advantages to the employers and the employers, and provides that workmen must give some notice before quitting work, as employers must give before discharging them.

Commissioner Smith has published a reply to General Booth, in which he asserts that he undertook the work as set forth in the book, "In Darkest England," with the understanding that the scheme was to be directed by a separate department. He resigned his position, he says, because he found that the Shratton Army officials had decided that the financial and property departments of the army should be transacted by other departments, which he believed were already fully occupied.

Two Years Separated by a Disagreeable and Very Quiet Day. READY FOR A FORWARD MOVEMENT

Why Judicious Home-Seekers Are So Rapidly Flocking to the Suburbs,

GOOD CHANCES FOR INVESTMENT

The new year came in with the disagree able accompaniment of a rain that lasted nearly all day. Nearly everybody stayed at home. The usual clatter of street traffic was missing, and the few shops that were open were slimly patronized. It was a good day for rest and retrospection, and also for taking a look ahead. This morning will present a different scene. All the activities will be in full blast. Bankers and brokers will assemble in their accustomed places and keep a sharp lookout for customers. Real estate brokers will skurry around for property or in pursuit of buyers. Mer-chants will make their usual fine display. Mills and factories that shut down for the holi-days will take a fresh start. Every citizen should exert himself to give the year a good send-off.

Payment of Dividends

The Allegheny Bridge Company yesterda declared the usual annual dividend of $2 a share, payable forthwith. Other corporations will promptly follow. Business was so good the past year as to make the stockholders in nearly all local congerns feel happy. It is believed that in no case where dividends are usually paid will they be passed. In some cases the rate will be increased over last year.

Must Go Forward. The opening of the year finds nearly all of the great interests of Pittsburg in active operation, such difficulties as exist being incident to the season and not chargeable to an apathetic feeling or to fears of coming troffele. Business will soon be so adjusted to the change from the old to the new year as to move smoothly and with increased velocity. There is nothing ahead to justify whistling down the brakes. Steam is up and the ponderous machine must move on Pittsburg's Rural Homes. Frequent allusion has been made in this col umn to the prosperous condition of the sub-urbs. No picture of them has been overdrawn. This is not the season to see them at their best, but, environed as they are by leafless trees and meadows brown and sere, they are very attractive, presenting a wildering maze of as comfortable homes as can be found on either side of the ocean. Everything in and about them denotes thrift and progress. The rural homes of Pittsburg will soon be as renowned as her manufactures.

Opportunities for Investment. It is probable that a large amount of money which will be released by the annual settle-ments will seek investment in local securities and real estate. As the stocks of about 200 corporations are listed, there is a wide field in which to operate. As to real estate, every investor knows that it is perfectly safe. With such opportunities to make money at home it is almost a crime to take it away to enrich outsiders. Protect and patronize home interests should be the motto of every business man.

Homes for Miners. The men employed in the mines at Maynard, W. Va., belonging to the Pittsburg and Wheeling Coal Company, have engaged in a new scheme for acquiring homes, and in this project they are backed by the company. The men formed an association and purchased a farm located near the mines. This farm they will lay off in lots, which are to be purchased by the lay off it lots, which are to be purchased by the members of the association at cost. To further the enterprise arrangements have been made by which the company will assist the men in building houses. The main object of the company in extending this assistance to the miners is to get a steady and permanent set of men who may be depended on.

Movements in Realty. Byers & Co. sold a property on Thomas street, First ward, Allegheny City, being two frame houses with 11 and four rooms respectively, with lot 25x150, for $3,300. The pur chaser was Frederick Meng.

Interest on the following bonds is payable at the Fidelity Title and Trust Company on or after January 1: Pittsburg and West End Passenger Railroad Company, Wiftia Bridge Company, New York and Cleveland Bridge Company, New York and Cleveland Gas; Coal Company, McKeesport and Belle Vernon Railroad Company, Federal Street and Pleasant Valley Railway Company, H. NEW YEAR'S BUSINESS

Is Taking a Rest Preparatory to the Good Times Coming.

A few of the produce commission merchants opened up for a few hours on New Year's morning to dispose of poultry that had been delayed by snow blockades, but with this exception trade was altogether suspended. The supply of turker failed to come up to demand and prices advanced sharply over the rates of Christmas turkey. There was plenty on the way, as ship-pers have large faith in Pittsbur's absorbing power in this line, in holiday times, but large quantities failed to reach their destination in

As a result of these vexatious delays the New Year's turkey was 5c to 7c per pound more expensive than that eaten at Christmas. For the balance of the week prospects are for cheap poultry, especially if the weather continues mild. The last week of 1889 proved one of the best of the year to produce and live stock dealers. Cereals and groceries have been quiet. The leading jobbing houses are spending the New Year in stock taking.

SEWER-PIPE OPTIONS EXTENDED.

The Monetary Stringency in England Holding Back Negotiations. ISPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATOR 1

EAST LIVERPOOL, Jan. 1.—The time of the option of the English syndicate to buy the option of the English syndrate to only inc mine sewer-pipe works in the Ohio valley, one of which is located at the east end of this city, the immense plant of Knowles, Taylor & An-derson, has been extended indefinitely, owing to the present stringency in the money market in Europe.

MILLIONAIRES IN LITIGATION.

The Wife of One Sued for Slander Damages of $100,000. CHICAGO, Jan. 1 .- Mrs. Peter Smith, whose husband is a millionaire, was sued for slander to-day by Mrs. Elizabeth McMahon, Sr. Louis, Jan. 1.—John W. Falvie, a laborer, 50 years of age, was shot through the heart and instantly killed by John T. Greavey, at an early hour this morning, at his home. Greavey was who lays her damages at $100,000. This is the outcome of an extended litigation growing out of the appointment of Peter Smith as guardian of Mrs. McManon's young son, at the instigation of her husband's, Edward McMahon's parents, who are also wealthy. A CRITICAL SITUATION.

The Coke Market Is in a Depressing Con dition-Furnacemen Making It Worse by Shutting Down-Reduction in Prices

ISPACIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE.1 SCOTTDALE, Jan. 1.—The coke market can be fittingly described as depressed. The situa-tion is really critical—such that prompt meas-ures of relief have been taken. Trade is totbe fittingly described as depressed. The situation is really critical—such that prompt measures of relief have been taken. Trade is tottering along in the same channel as mentioned in the last report, with the exception that a further decline in the volume of business was noticeable the past week. The demand has apparently assumed a drosping tendency. The outlook, which is usually encouraging at this juncture of the year, prior to the formation of a new annual labor contract, is exceeding poor. At this stage of last year there was a booming demand and almost unprecedented activity in the region. The cause which has hastened the lethargic condition of the market is mainly attributable to the downward tendency and poor prices ruling in the pig iron market. The indications at this writing are that trade will be further embarrassed and harassed by the banking of 23 furnaces in the Mahoning and Shenango Valleys, which consumed Connellsville coke entirely. It was asserted that this difficulty was abrideed by the H. C. Frick, the leading company, granting a reduction of 25 cents on the ton. This does not seem to have inally satisfied the furnacemen, though, and their mad desire is seemingly for whole hog or mone. While the furnacemen may or may not be a unit in their efforts to obtain a 45-cent reduction in prices, it can be dotted down as a verity that coke producers are likewise a unit in their opposition and any further requests for consideration of their grievances will, undoubtedly, be peremptorily declined.

The operators are thoroughly convinced that they have contributed their share toward the extrication of the furnacemen from their dilemma. The concession of the 25-cent reduction is regarded as quite liberal, and few of the producers are dissatisfied with it. That the operators have decided to refuse any further concessions, as previously overs as tollows: 164 at Kylet: 29 at Leith: 100 at Leisenering No. 2: 39 at Leisenering No. 3: 50 at Trotter: 250 at Adelaide; 33 at Foundry: 116 at White; 100 at Valley; pensions, and the fact that over 25 per cent of all the ovens in the region are already extinct, has increased the fear that business will become stagnant.

Conversing on the situation, an operator said to-day: "So the furnacemen disregard our efforts to assist them, do they? Wel, as a matter, of course, we would be sorry to witness the dampening of their furnaces, but I cannot see, truly, how we can render any further help. I am sure we would willingly do so, if we could see our way clear. I believe that present prices will be maintained for the balance of the year, anyhow. To make another reduction, as demanded, would result in operating our works at a loss. I, for one, am opposed to it."

There was a decided decrease in shipments last week. The violent snow storms which visited the region, and the numerous railroad blockades which attended it, were serious drawbacks to business. The railroad companies had a sufficient car supply, but could not reach all the works. Many works were unable to make, full time, losing as high as three days on account of the storm, while others stocked their enure production on the yards by the consequent shortage of cars. The interposition of a noliday also had a perceptible effect, as all companies observed it. Works will also iny off one day this week. There are still over 4,000 cold ovens in the region, which will be increased to over 5,000 by the banking of the ovens above mentioned. The active list still foots up to 11,700 nearly. The United blant of 300 ovens is cold on account of a fire in the mine. The Charlotte plant here is also idle for the same reason.

Shipments last week averaged 818 cars per day as against 887 cars of the previous week. The decrease was 250 cars for the week. Following is the record of the preceding week: To points west of Pittsburg, 2,475 cars; to pittsburg and river tipples, 1,400 cars; to points east of Pittsburg, 1,075 cars; total 5,200 cars. Since the reduction of 25 cents in coke prices the following is given as the quotations: Furnace coke, Cold Wave in the West and a Warm One East.

(PREPARED FOR THE DISPATCH.) The storm that was in Colorado on Wednesday moved eastward rapidly, and was central yesterday morning, slightly west of Lake Michigan. It had increased in energy, and it caused high northeasterly winds to blow in the upper lake region. Rain was falling in the Mississippi and Central valleys, eastward to the Atlantic coast, and as far north as Connecticut. Snow fell in most of the New England States." In the upper lake region, also, and in Minnesota there there was snow. The dense fog moved eastward to the Atlantic coast, without ceasing to prevail over the lakes. A cold wave appeared in Minnesota and the Dakotas, where the temperature fell 20° or 20°. The lowest was 6° below zero at Moorehead. The cold wave was attended by fair weather and westerly winds. The warm wave in the Ohio Valley caused a decided rise in temperature in all the States east to Massachusetts.

L-The Commercial printer to-day the report of oil operations in the Ohio field during the mouth of December, and also a recapitulation of operations in the field for the year just closed. The field comprises the a recapitulation of operations in the field for the year just closed. The field comprises the counties of Wood, Hancock, Allen, Au Glaize and Sandusky. The new production for December is 8,424 barrels daily, as against 13,779 for November. One hundred and ninety-two wells were completed during the month, as against 243 for November; Ill are driffing, as against 243 for November; Ill are driffing, as against 148; 109 rigs are up and building, against 149 for the previous month. The outlook for the next year is very bright, and work@will be actively resumed soon after this month. Operations in the Ohlo field have been more active during the past year than during any previous year of development in this field.

The bulk of the operations, and, in fact, all but a few straggling experiments, has been confined to the foregoing counties. In all branches of development Wood county leads the list. July, August, September and October witnessed the greatest activity in the field, and it is a notable fact that, when Buckeye oil was certificated the drill was busiest when the product was lowest on the exchanges. At the same time, however, the Buckeye nibe line was paying 20 cents more than the exchange quotations. The decrease in operations in December is owing to the practical suspension of work during cold weather, and the large increase in dry holes is due to the fact that the reports in gilt-edge territory have been pretty thefoughly punctured, and considerable experiment or testing has been done in unknown tetritory. The following is the recapitalistion for 1809.
