Billiard koom Keepers Meet and Discuss the Prospects of the State Tournament.

PLENTY OF MONEY CAN BE RAISED.

The Great Event to Be Held in This City During February Under Championship Conditions.

BLUE OUTLOOK FOR TOLEDO'S CLUR.

A Sweeping Challenge to Lightweight Puglists-General Sporting News of the Day.

Local billiard room keepers held an important meeting yesterday at the office of George Meyer, the agent of the Brunswick & Balke Company, to discuss the desirability of holding a State championship billiard tournament in this city. As a result it is very probable that a tournament will be held during the middle of next February. Those present at the meeting were: Messrs. Meyers, Harry Davis, Ed Morris, William Dodds, Murphy, of the Seventh avenue, and Stofft, of the Mononganela House.

The most important question was that relating to the ways and means. It was out that $1,000 would be required as cizes for the players, and their expenses would rave to be paid, together with other necessary expenses. The following sums were then guaranteed at the meeting: Six entries at $50 each, Brunswick & Balke, $200; Harry 1-avis, $100; William Dodds, $50; Morris & Kuehne, $25, making a total of $675. Messrs. Murphy and Stoff; stated that the proprietors of their rooms would likely contribute $25 for each room. It is also thought that Brooks & McCall will subscribe $100; that Graff & Co., of the Collender Company, will denate $50. This would make a refinitely decide to hold the tournament. Alt. Meyers stated that he had every confidence of securing all the money requisite. The leading business men will be visited.

It was further agreed that the game to be played be the H-inch balke line. This condition was necessary to make the event one of a championship kind. Mr. Meyers pointed out that there will be plenty of time for intending contestants to practice between now and the middle of February. The games will be played on a 5x10 table, and a building has not yet been secured. The tournament will consist of 16 games, and will last from the Monday afternoon until the Saturday evening. Two games per day will be played during the birst three days and three games per day during the balance of the week.

Speaking of the project Mr. Meyers said: "I think the tournament will be a go and it will be a success. McLaughin, Cline and Burris will come from the eastern part of the State, and I think they will bring more entries with them. Messrs. Dodds, Walker and Bushart will represent our city, and without doubt the affert will be exceedingly interesting. I am as anxious as anybody to see who is our best player, and when that is proven we can give credit to our recognized champion. Depend upon it a tournamen will do a great deal of good in Pittsburg because there are lots of players here." Another meeting will be held in a few days,

Pinisted, Ross and Largan Start Their Series of Races in Lively Style.

It was exactly 47 minutes ofter I o'clock vesterday afternoon when the carsmen, Wallace Ross, Fred Plaisted and John Largan got into bear land boats at Harry Davis' Fifth Avenue Museum and waited the word for the start in their six days' series of races. The light steel built machines were ranged on a long platform one behind the other. Wallace Rees represenchampionship of America and over his floated the flag of the United States. him waved the harp of Erin.

'All ready' said the starte; and each man grasped his oars. 'Go' he shouted. There was a whirl of wheels and the did indicated for the first two minutes that China's champion was in the lead, then Wallace Ross was indexed as the winner, but Ireland's champion had still a few indexed to the winner to the control of the champion had still a few indexed to the control of the control had still a few links of power in reserve and in the last three minutes of the race the index hand of his dim indicated he was in the lead. They finished with Largan the winner, Ross second and Platsted last. At this unexpected result the assisence applauded liberally. The next race one hour later was won by Plaisted nd the last race of the afternoon by Largan, the close of the day at 10 o'clock fast night, a had two beats. Plaisted one and Largan

The Killing of Indian Women and Children to He Investigated-Some of the Officer's Comrades Say That He Could Not Have Prevented It.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The report of the relief of Colonel Forsythe of his command of the Seventh Cavalry by General Miles, which has been telegraphed East from an unofficial source, is confirmed at the War Department to-day. The officials, however, show a decided disinclination to talk about the matter. Neither Secretary Proctor nor General Scho field is willim; to say very much on the sub ect, although both practically admit that General Miles did not act entirely upon his ject, although both practically admit that General Miles did not act entirely upon his own responsibility.

Secretary Proctor said to a reporter: "General Miles did it. It is a very much mixed up matter, and I may explain it later."

General Schofield was rather more communicative, He said: "There is not much that I can say about it just now, but I am willing to explain as far as I can. It had been suggested by a person whom I cannot mention that it would be well to look into the matter of the fight on Wonned Knee creek the other day, as the reports stated that several Indian women and children were killed. Accordingly General Miles, at a suggestion from here, relieved Colonel Forsythe of his command, pending an investigation of the circumstances of that fight, which investigation is probably now being conducted by General Miles. Yes, the general management of the fight is also to be looked into, too, but the narticular point in question is the death of the women and children."

Considerable criticism against Colonel Forsythe's suspension is heard in the War Department. It seems to be directed against the policy of relieving an officer during the progress of a campaign, instead of waiting until the troubles are settled. As to the charge that Colonel Forsytheallowed his men to kill women and children, it is asserted that it would be impossible in the hurry and confusion of an unexpected fight, and the subsequent stampede and pursuit, to detect the sex of the Sioux. One officer remarked:

It is preposterous to say that it is necessary in an Indian skirmish to stop firing long enough to find out just what sort of an Indian you are shooting at. The women and the men look very much alike in their blanket costume, and the former are quite as flerce fighters as the men. A Sioux squaw is as had an enemy as a buck at times.

SECRETARY NOBLE TALKS.

He Thinks His Indian Policy Has Been the Proper One.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Secretary Noble was questioned to-day as to what action had been taken on the recommendation of General Miles that the Indian agents of the South Dakota agencies be relieved from further duty and that their places be filled by military officers. The Secretary said he did not care to discuss the matter further than to say that the subject had not been mentioned to him by any one with authority to act in the matter. It is one with authority to act in the matter. It is believed, however, that should General Miles' recommendation be submitted to him by the President for his views, the Secretary would strongly oppose the transfer.

The Secretary spoke with some earnestness of the reports that have been in circulation recently to the effect that the Indians were in a starving condition, and that the pending trouble graw out of the fact that the Government had not kept its agreement with the Sionx, but on the contrary had already begun to cut down the rations supplied to them in violation of all treaty obligations. The Secretary denounced these statements as unqualifiedly false. It was time, the Secretary thought, that these people should be compelled to do something, and he had lost patience with those who upheld the Indians is their idleness. He sincerely regretted that the recent action of the military had resulted in bloodshed, and he congratulated himself that his department was in no sense responsible for it.

from the Sitting Bull affair.

Agent McLaughlin's interference disturbed the cherished plans of the Department of the Missouri and hastened, if it did not cause, the recent trouble. It is alleged that there were improper motives behind the killing. The charges against McLaughlin and other Indian agents will be preferred by army officers who are satisfied that the Indian agents are responsible for the outbreak. Interviews with a number of army officers are then given. Colonel Carbin said:

"I am positive that General Miles has never "I am positive that General Miles has never been given any official report of the killing of Sitting Bull. Until the Department is apprised of all the circumstances in the case it would be unwise to express any hasty criticism of the action which has led up to the present complication. I know that General Miles has been very auxious to learn the truth of the Sitting Bull affair. Agent McLaughlin's report may have been delayed for very good reasons, but at the same time this delay has caused much annoyance to the Department.
