How Grease Is Foisted Onto East Enders for Family Butter.

The opportunities for fiand in butter are The opportunities for fraud in butter are great, A thief in farmer's garb has been around in the East End with an 18-pound creck of fancy country butter, of late, proffering to sell at 25 cents per pound. When fancy country butter is worth 35 to 40 cents per pound, as at the present time, there are usually victums to be caught with the bait of 25 cents per pound. be caught with the bait of 25 cents per pound. A farmer-like looking individual victimized one at least with an 18-pound crock of the very hest country butter at 25 cents per pound. On the top of the crock was a two-inch layer of the very best butter that could be made. Under-neath was a mass of grease, worth about two cents per pound. It is safe to say the crock will not be called for. The victim is disposed to say little concerning the butter deal. When choice country butter is selling at 35 to 40 cents per pound, the fellow who can sell it at 25 cents has some trick on tap by which to take in strangers. How many victims were taken in by the but-ter trick no man can teil, but one reiall grocer of the East End was certainly victimized to the extent of $5 within a few days.

For example, I made a man an offer of $30,000 cash for a prop-erty, which he refused. All he ever asked for it was $33,000. I made another man an offer of $10,000 cash for a property which he held at $11,500. It cost him $9,000 a short time ago. There was no news of a kind to tayorady affect the stock beyond the positionement of the Cam-eron suit. The day began with all the conditions favor-able, the reduction of its rate of discount from 5 to 4 per cent by the Bank of England being one of the most influential. The opening prices were, therefore, fractionally higher, and with the coal stocks in the lead further advances were made all along the line in the foremoon. The fluctuations outside of the stocks before mentioned, however, were slight, and while a firm tone prevailed there was hitle vim in the market. Duliness became the ruling feature, and continued so until the close. The trading element was inclined to take advantage of this apathy to hammer stocks, their operations re-sulting in a partial loss of the early gains.
