A BIG CONVENTION NEXT WEEK,

Which Will be Attended by a Number of Prominent Workers.

INTERVIEWS WITH LOCAL LEADERS

A convention of the International Christian Alliance is to be held in the city next week. Monday and Tuesday they will convene at the place known as Bethany, 113 Center avenue, opened some years ago by Miss Mary Moorhead, to teach the doctrine of "Divine healing." Wednesday and Thursday the convention will hold its meeting at Carnegie Hall, in Allegheny, morning, afternoon and evening.

A talk with Bev. John Morrow, at Bethany, elicited the facts that the Christian Alliance "is not an ecclesiastic body, but a traternal union of believers from nearly all evangelical churches whose object is to bear testimony to full salvation through Jesus Christ as our Savior, Sanctifier, Healer and coming King."
"In your teachings, to which of these points do you give the greatest prom-

"Christ as our coming king."
"When do you expect the return of Christ?"

"We have no stated time, but know it will be in the present century. We also place sanctification before healing, believing health of the body. By sanctification we mean Christ living in us. That is the same spirit that abode in Jesus while on earth dwelling in us now—the Holy Spirit."

Mr. Morrow said they often had instantaneous healings. In answer to the question if they believed in the laying on of hands, the reply was: "In some cases. When guided to." "Do you mean by that when you have an

"Not a human impulse, but a divine one. The difference between those two caunot be explained; can only be felt spiritually. There have been many wonderful healings in the Home lately, but the greater number of persons have lived at a distance and are now away from here. Within our own city in the last few months a young girl, Miss Belle Hacket, was healed from insanity. Mrs. Yost, of Lawrenceville, came here on crutches from a spinal disease that physi-Mrs. Yost, of Lawrenceville, came here on crutches from a spinal disease that physicians in Wheeling, at a consultation, had pronounced incurable. In a few days she threw aside her crutches and in a month's time was able to leave for home periectly well. Mrs. Mair and Mrs. Devore, both daughters of Dr. J. W. Sykes, of Penn avenue, were also healed from the teachings

Cancer Healed by Prayer. In an interview with Mrs. Mair, she said she had been healed from internal cancer in answer to prayer. The healing had been in-stantaneous, although the disappearance of the sore was gradual.

"Before this it had been cut away by physicians," she said, "but grew again. I was healed a year ago this month, and there is not the least sign of it now. I never suffer any pain there, and am stronger physically than I ever was before my illness. I am able now to run a sewing machine for hours at a time and feel no harmin leffers. Iron it at a time and feel no harmful effects from it.

I speak of that because it is something I could never do before for any length of time. But greater than my healing or that of Mrs. Devore is the cure of epilepsy of a younger sister, Miss Sykes. She had no mind of her own to claim healing, but Mrs. Devere and I united our faith for her, and it is nearly a year since she has been healed. It was gradual in her case, as in that of Mrs. Devore, who had been afflicted with exemin that has entirely disappeared."

Mrs. Dunhom, of 38 Race street, Allegheny, was remarkably healed from typhoidpneumonia. She took no medicine whatever. Prayer was offered over her bed by three ladies who believe with her, one annointing her with oil in the name of Christ. Mr. James Hong, a merchant on Federal street, Allegheny, was healed from insom-nia, from which he had suffered for ten

"Do you think that this life of the indwelling Christ helps you in a business way?" was asked.

Will Solve All Perplexities.

Yes, a prayer offered to God will solve wisely, all the little perplexities of the life of a business man, so freeing one from the heavy responsibilities we ordinarily feel pressing upon us. My business is more prosperous financially by so doing. I make wiser investments."

The house adjoining Bethany, that used to be the home of Judge Ewing, but was purchased last year by Miss Mary Moorhead as a home for Bethany mission workers and the pupils of their Bible school, is pre-sided over by Mrs. Smails. There are 15 mmates, those who are able to do so paying a small sum for board, but the greater number receive all gratuitously.

"Who supports the house since the small amount received for board would not be sufficient."

"The Lord alone. People often say, 'Oh, Miss Moorhead is behind it all,' but that is not so. She gives us the home. We trust God to in some way provide all else by our faith. It always comes in an unexpected way. Often I have started the day with the last penny gone from my purse and an almost empty larder, but I offer a prayer to God and before night I have always had plenty of food and money. Sometimes I call the household together and we unite in prayer. Remember, there are 15 healthy, hungry men and women to provide for be-sides the shelter we give to many poor fellows from the Mission on Grant street, who are sent to us often on the verge of delirium tremens. One night when I was alone in the house with the exception of one or two of the girls, the bell was rung. I opened the door and a poor fellow staggered in crying, 'For God's sake take me in. I have no place else to go.' We took him in. He is a man well-known among the business people in the city as an expert accountant when he is not intoxicated, but

That Night Was the Climax. of a prolonged spree. He could not find entrance to any of the hospitals for they all knew him as an old and desperate case. He was shaking from head to foot from his shattered nerves and soon began to call out for liquor or chloral. I told him when he came in here he had shut out all possibility of getting any drag. He cried so piteously for something, declaring that he was going into a spasm that I left the room and went by myself to pray. I told God to give me an assurance that the man would have no spasm, but that he would quiet him. All fear left me after the prayer and the peace that came was my answer. I went back to the man and told him what had taken place. He quieted right down and though he was a frightfully sick person, and an awful sight to look upon, in five days from that time he was able to be about well. He has been converted since and has now a lucrative position as traveling accountant for the cracker syndicate. That is only one ordimary sample of the cases that come to us, most of them sent from the mission in connection with this work." Talking with some of the mission workers, it was found that the services of all were given without compensation, some of them having left salaried positions to devote themselves to labor, "believing the Lord called them to it, and would provide the means for their support through their prayers."

Trusting Entirely to Providence. Miss Sarah Lindsey has rented a room on Welle avenue, near Grant street. "When I went out from Bethany," she said, "I had no one to depend on, but I took the room trusting in God. I have had all my needs supplied, the help nearly always coming in an unexpected way. To-day I can say I am on business.

better off financially than ever before. We visit and help those in destitution of every kind, from those in spiritual need in beautiful homes to those without food in hovels."

Miss Isabella Soley has a room on the same principle on Second arenue. She holds meetings to teach women on Tuesdays and Fridays, and many unfortunate women have been rescued through her.

Miss Mattie Arnold, who worked for a time in this mission, said: "Have I had all my needs supplied without asking any person for help? I should think I had! The severest trial I ever endured was at first. One morning when I started out on my mission rounds among the alleys and counts about the Point, I had eaten my last supplied meal. I was going with the Superintendent of the mission, and the evil one said to me, you are not trusting in the Lord for your next meal, for you know Mr. Whiteside will ask you to dine with himself and wife. I just answered back, I'll not go with him, nor did I. I had nothing to eat all that day, nor the next morning, but I was perfectly happy and did not suffer a particle, trusting all the time that God would supply my needs. That noon when I went back to my room the table was piled with packages of food. I have a mother, invalld brother and a little sister elsewhere dependent upon me, too, yet I never lack of the means for them while I devote my life to doing God's work."

doing God's work."
Some of the Rescued Ones. Some of the Rescued Ones.

Mr. Whiteside says at many of the people reformed at the ...ission are men of fine education and bright intellect, who have squandered fortunes, or dissipated opportunities through drink. He has certain knowledge that the larger per cent of those converted are thoroughly reformed. Some of them have taken positions as common laborers to support themselves until they can work their way back to the trust of their former friends. Many passing through the city, stop there for a meeting or two and are converted. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Conley are much interested in this part of the charitable work, and it is by them that most of the music is supplied.

Among the speakers to be present at the convention is Rev. A. L. Hussey, of Mt. Pleasant, who has relatives in the East End.

Among the speakers to be present at the convention is Rev. A. L. Hussey, of Mt. Pleasant, who has relatives in the East End. It is said this gentleman has had many persons healed through his prayers and the laying on of his hands. Another speaker well known in this city is Captain R. Kelso Carter, of Boston, who was at one time instructor in the military academy of Theodore Hyatt, at Chester. Many of his old pupils live here. Among them is Mr. Frank Paulson. Miss Sarah Grier Beck, who has a home like Bethany in Philadelphia, will also be present. She is a daughter of Chief Justice Beck.

It was through her teaching Miss Mary Moorhead was healed. The latter lady was in Chicago when the writer called to interview her. She, however is well known throughout the city for her works of benevolence and sympathetic heart. Miss Moorhead is a daughter of General J. K. Moorhead, and during the time of the war lefther luxurious home to endure the hardships of camp.

LILLIAN SPENCER almost knocked down the King of Italy the other day. In THE DISPATCH to-morrow she will tell all about an exciting episode in Naples.

A PLEASING ENTERTAINMENT.

fiss Lizzie Gleason as a Render at Curry Hall Last Evening.

Hall Last Evening.

The audience at Curry Hall last evening to greet Miss Lizzie Gleason, the Boston elocutionist, was composed principally of students and professionals in the elocutionary line. The young lady was exceedingly pleasing in appearance—decidedly Jenness-Millery in dress and physique, showing rigid physical discipline with her rounded arms, throat and waist. Her brilliant black eyes and hair accentuated the clearness of her skin, all of which was effectively brought out by a robe of buttercup yellow with gold trimmings. Miss Gleason, in her programme, was unfortunate in selecting recitations that have long since lost their flavor of freshness in this city, and in fact were quite passe, but they served to show the ability of the reader in a pleasing manner.

Misses Nannie Hammer and Carrie Terrant with Prof. Simeon Bissel assisted with vocal numbers in making the entertainment one of enjoyment, the vocal duet, "L'Addiv," by Mr. Bissel and Miss Terrant, being especially pretty, as also was "The Mariner's Mother's Prayer," by Miss Hammer.

WORLD'S FAIR MATTERS

A Washington Lady Has an Interesting His torical Relic to Sell. CHICAGO, Jan. 9.-Director General Daves of the World's Fair, telegraphed from Washington to day for a succinct statement of Chicago's facilities in the matter of seaboard Chicago's facilities in the matter of seaboard railways. The request is made in compliance with a request from the State Department, and when it is completed it is to be embodied in the data to be sent to foreign exhibitors. Angusta da Costa. Secretary of the Brazilian legation at Washington, informed the officials that there was no truth in the statement that Brazil will hold a World's Fair in 1892.

Miss Virginia Patterson, of Washington, has a family belifoom which she wants to sell to the Exposition. It is the original pass given by Benedict Arnold to Major Andre. It fell into Miss Anderson's possession through her two great-grand uncles, who were in the Andre court martial.

PEOPLE WHO COME AND GO.

-Dominick McCaffrey returned to New York last evening, after burying his father in this city. He said his sympathies were with Demysey and he would like to see him win, but he is afraid he is over-matched in fighting Firstimmons. He thinks Demysey has seen his best days.

-J. B. Jamieson, a land owner of North Dakota, is registered at the Duquesne. He says that the number of small freeholders in his section is increasing rapidly, and new towns are rising up in every direction. The Indian affair is too remote from his section to cause uneasi-

-Dr. L. H. Murdoch, of Bradford, is spending a forced vocation with P. M. Shan-non, in the East End. Mr. Murdoch came to Pittsburg a few days ago to visit friends, and shortly after his arrival was taken dangerously ill, but is now on the road to recovery.

-Colonel William A. Stone, accompanied by his ware, left for Fortress Monroe, last even ing to take a short rest before the new Congres begins. He thinks it improves Republican chances for the Presidency that the next House will be Democratic.

—T. W. Phillips, of New Castle, registered at the Duquesne last evening. Mr. Phillips says he is out of politics and is not taking an active interest in his business. He has reached the point where he can afford to take life easy.

-John Wells, a young cow-boy from Albany, was at the East Liberty stock yards yes-terday, going home. He ran away a year ago, and says he saw Sitting Bull killed. He is tired of the West and the Indians.

-L. Z. Leiter, formerly a partner of Marshall Field was a west-bound passenger for Chicago yesterday. He is now interested in real estate and mining.

-Philip G. Roeder, of Cleveland, will sail for South America and the West Indias on the 17th or 24th, in the interest of a Cleve land house.

—Mr. and Mrs. T. Longstreet, and Misa Clem Longstreet, are guests at the Anderson. Mr. Longstreet is a large real estate man of Columbus.

-Brainard Rorison, an electric light man from Ft. Wayne, and F. G. Haviland, of Toledo, are stopping at the Anderson. -James B. Wently, of Boise City, and

W. H. Markland, of Altoona, are registered at the Seventh Avenue Hotel. -Samuel Duncan, of the Aliegheny Light Company, returned from the East on the limited, last evening.

-P. B. Crosby, of Butler, and H. P. Me Gregor, of Wheeling, are at the Monougabels

-W. P. Black, of Titusville, is in the city looking after his oil interests in the South--Mrs. M. B. Williams, of Bradford, is among the guests at the Schlosser. -J. C. Crawford, ex-Prothonotary of Venango county, is in the city.

—I. S. Gibson, of Oil City, is in the city.

CHICAGO JUSTICE TOO FAST. and Disorderlies Must Be Tried

by Jury, Says a Judge. CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Judge Altegeld, of the CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Judge Altegeld, of the Superior Court, to-day rendered a decision which, if sustained, will materially interfere with the rapid transaction of business in the police and justice courts of the city. It has been the custom to hear cases of disorderly conduct and vagrancy without juries, greatly accelerating business in that way.

On a hearing under a writ of habeas corpus to-day, a prisoner thus tried and sent to the house of corection was released by the Judge, who pointed out that courts of record could not abrogate the right of trial by jury; therefore, much less could justice's courts.

JOAQUIN MILLER'S story, "The City in the Desert," is attracting great attention. Second installment, with a synopsis of the first, in THE DISPATCH to-morrow.

ments for the Social Features of the Press Club Convention. The social feature of the International Convention of Press Clubs in Pittsburg this month will be noteworthy. The Committee on Arrangements has prepared an elaborate pro-gramme, and in addition a committe of the wives and sisters of newspaper publishers and editors will see that the stay in Pittsburg of the lady delegates to the convention is pleasant.

The delegates will be the most noted of women writers. Mrs. C. I. Wade is at the head of the committee.

THAT'S THE QUESTION.

And if not, let us ask why not? We have declared a big dividend to all customers who patronize us this week by making immense reductions in every department of our estalishment. True, there's NOT MUCH money in such a sale for us, but we're not after money now, we're after you. Profit isn't the only thing to be sought in business; friends and permanent patrons are even more necessary.

There are different ways by which to endeavor to stir up trade. One is to whoop it up with a sale of out-of-date and inferior line of goods on which a good profit can be made, although the price is low—the quality being low also. Another way is to offer the best of goods at a low price, with-little or no profit. We keep our door-knows bright by the latter method.

In the goods we now offer you, whether you select Clothing, Furnishings, Hats or Shoes, there is Fashion's highest reach in style and honest quality in the goods. All this week the way to our store is as smooth as asphalt to the seeker after genuine bargains. We'll not quote prices to-day, but let the goods speak on their own behalf. They're well able to.
