SPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCH. NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 12 .- Not since the great fight between Sullivan and Kilrain has there been such a gathering of sporting men from all parts of the United States as throng the corridors of the hotels to-night and make gay the many brilliant resorts of the Crescent City. Everybody is talking fight, and Wednesday evening can hardly come too soon to please these enthusiasts, many of whom have traveled 2,000 miles to see Dempsey, the Nonpareil, battle with Pitzsimmons, the Antipodean, for the purse of $12,000, and the halo that accompanies it in the shape of the middle-weight championship. The whole city is alive with interest, which increases hourly now that Dempsey is within its gates and Fitzsimmons is but 50 and landed his left forearm on Conley three times. Conley looked was and so was Doe's. This was a fighting round and no mistake. The buts landed on each man so often it was hard to note them. Doe improved, however, that a cleverer man than his opponent would have taken advantage of. This was O'Connel's round and Conley looked winded.

In rounds four and five Doe improved his chances by hitting and coming away according to Jimmy Carroll's instructions. The Doctor got into Conley looked like he must certainly win. Howe Hodgkin and Jim Corbett rubbed down and made so presentable an appearance and make gay the many brilliant resorts of is within its gates and Fitzsimmons is but 50 miles away, and will be here within 24 hours. The betting, which was rather in favor of Fitzsiumons up to three or four days ago, has taken a veer now that

The Nonparcil's Devoted Followers here are eager to plank their ducats on the great middle-weight, whose fame is unsmirched save by the single defeat at the hands of La blanche, for which his friends are ever ready to furnish an excuse, and a plausible one at that, as everybody conversant with the facts must acknowledge. To night there is plenty of talk. out little money is changing bands, the great anything like eve: money. Firzsimmons' fel-lowers, who are few just now, want $100 to $-0 or better, and nobody cares to bet at these figures. Bud Renaud says that he has $50 000 or betier, and nobody cares to bet at these figures. Bud Renand says that he has $50.00 to back Dembsey at anything like respectable odds, and Morse Ganse, of San Francisco, is here loaded down with greenbacks for a similar purpose. All the Eastern sports are strong Dempseyites notwithstanding the fact that they have never seen Fitzsimmons. They are content to abide by the records of the two men, and cannot figure out how Jack can be defeated, despite the fact that the Zealander has the best of everything, height, weight, reach and gloves.

Will Bet His Last Dollar.

Will Bet His Last Dollar. Gause told some friends of his this evening that Dempsey would carry every dollar that he could raise, as he had had his friend Josephs, the Australian bookmaker, bunt up Fitzsimnons' record in his own country, and he was assured that he had never whipped anybody near Dempsey's class. Ganse is also authority for the story that Jimmy Carroll, who is training Fitzsimmons, knows in his neart that his ing Fitzsimmons, knows in his heart that his protege has no business with the Nonpareil, but the cunning Carroll is going to back Dempsey, and thus make a sure winner, bestides getting a percentage over and above $20,000 taken in at the gate. This is highly improbable, as Carroll is devoted to his man and has worked like a shave to have him fit to battle for a kingdom, Morse Ganse at a lace hour set Major McLaughlin, of California, $1,000 to $800 on Dempsey. William Walton Norton, an Australian, who is here, says that Fitzsimmons is a very clever man, but that he is outclassed by Dempsey. The California delegation almost to clever man, but that he is outclassed by Demp-sey. The California delegration atmost to a man are with Dempsey, Jim Cornett being the most notable exception, the heavy-weight from the slope holding the opinion that it will be a hot fight, but that Fitzsimmons will surprise folks under the existing conditions. Peter Jackson, who is at Hot Springs to-day tele-graphed $250 to put on Fitzsimmons.

A GREAT POOL MATCH.

Kuntzch and Clearwater to Play in This City for $200 a Side.

There is likely to be an exciting pool match in this city within the next three weeks between two such well-known experts as George N. Kuntzeh, of Syracuse, and W. H. Clearwater, the Ohio champion. The former wired this paper last evening that he is forwarding his check for $50, as a fortest, to THE PITTS

BURG DISPATCH in acceptance of the chal-lenge recently issued by Clearwater for a pool match for $200 a side.

The game, if Clearwater covers the forfeit, is to be 600 balls, three nights, 200 balls a night, and is to be played in Pittsburg within three weeks. The contest will certainly be one of very great interest, as the contestants are ranked among the best in the country.

Carroll's Protege, O'Connell, Defeats Conley for the Welter-Weight Championship. NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 12.-There was a fight at the rooms of the Auguben Association to-night between Doc O'Connell and Eddie Con-ley, of Boston, Mass., for a $1,000 purse and the welter-weight championship left vacant by the death of Paddy Duffy, of Boston. James Sweeney was chosen referee, and James Cor-bett and Howe Hodglins, of Boston, were behind Conley, while James F. Carroll and a fel-low chum looked after Doc's interests.

low chum looked after Doc's interests.

Time was called promptly at 9 o'clock, and the men came together pleasantly, but it was an easy one. Dock felt his way and landed his left. O'Connell attempted to cross counter, but missed. A good exchange followed, wherein both landed—O'Connell on the face and Conley on the neck. O'Connell feinted and fooled Conley, and then landed a straight left on the face. Doc landed a good left, but got a smash on the ear that sent him backward. Carroll coached him to be cautious and he was, but Conley, who was also ably seconded, landed a strong right, and Doc went backward. This was Eddie Conley's round beyond a doubt.

In round two a rapid exchange and straight lefts showed the determination of both men not to waste time. Conley knocked Doc down and it looked all up with Carroll's protege. Not so, however. Carroll coached him well and he menued rapidly and ducked nearly out of Conley's sevre hitting. Doc was groggy from the heavy punching he had received and Conley, good and strong, seemed a winner, barring accidents. In round the Doc looked better ley, good and strong, seemed a winner, barring accidents. In round three Doc looked better and landed his left forearm on Conley three down and made so presentable an appearance of Conley for the sixth round, however, that many knowing ones said it was not over yet. This was a good round and Doc improved his chances greatly by straight left facers and beautiful body rights, which must have troubled his adversary greatly. Conley went to Doc for the seventh round and the Doctor to Doc for the seventh round and the Doctor pelted him into a corner and with a right hand counter knocked Conley down and out. After falling, Conley rolled over, and as seven was counted aloud he attempted to rise, but his legs were gone, and down he went, completely beaten. He was pronounced a brave and nice little tellow by nearly all who saw him battle against Doc's superior science. It was a hard fight.

DYING IN SILENCE

Pitiful Pictures of the Terrible Distress in London.

HORRIFYING TALE OF A WIDOW. The Pathetic Death of One Unfortunate

in a Policeman's Arms. RAVENOUS MEN FIGHTING FOR RELIEF.

IBY DUNLAP'S CABLE COMPANY. LONDON, Jan. 12,-In consequence of the revelations which have lately been made, with regard to the urgent need of the poorer classes, the charitably disposed have come orward during the last few days, and the poor boxes of the police courts have been replenished, so that the sitting magistrates are now able to meet the pressure of urgent appeals. In all the churches of the metropolis, strong appeals were made and large sums were realized.

In spite of all this endeavor, instances of distress are crowding in upon the notice of the authorities. Some of them are pitiful in the extreme, and horrifying, too. Thus a woman, appealing to a magistrate to-day for aid, told him that her husband and one of her children were lying dead from starvation at her lodgings. She asked for assistance to enable her to pay the landlord, and prevent him turning her into the street until she had five other children, who were with-out clothing and without food. On Saturout clothing and without food. On Saturday night a policeman tried to assist a thinly-clad man to the workhouse, and the unfortunate creature died in his arms.

Another cause of distress is due to the blocking of the harbors on the coast of Holland, as well as Trieste and Odessa, with masses of ice. This causes a great deal of delay in the arrival of ships sailing from these ports, and the slippiness of the wharves, caused by the ice floes in the river, has caused many fatal accidents.

The Scotch strike, too, has caused an immense amount of derangement in the shipping between London and Glasgow. Hundreds of men are suffering and even dying in silence, but the scores of revenors men fighting for but the scenes of ravenous men fighting for relief tickets at the depots in the East End, tells the true tale of the distress that prevails. A welcome thaw set in this afternoon.

On the occasion mentioned, Mr. Fait provided special trains for the visitors. He explained the general working, pumping, venti-lating and other arrangements of the tunnel under the Mersey.

He had been superintendent ever since the opening of the tunnel in 1886, and his age was 43. The cause of death was a severe chill, which developed into pneumonia.

TELEGRAPHERS TO STRIKE.

Aid Asked for the Railroad Operators on the Milwaukee Line. TOLEDO, Jan. 12.-The Commercial to-m w will publish a circular issued by Chief A. D. Thurston to the Order of Railway Telegraphers, asking contributions to support the operators on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway in their contemplated strike. It is dated Vinton, Ia., January 9, and recites that about December 10, that road issued an order reducing salaries of about one-fourth of their station agents and operators to meet the increase grapted conductors and trainmen.

An agreement was being circulated among the men for signatures, specifying that those out should decline to accept the reduction, a committee should await upon the officials asking a restoration of wages, failing which every signer was to tender his resignation. Before this had been circulated over the entire system that division superintendents informed every signer was to tender his resignation. Before this had been circulated over the entire system the division superintendents informed every signer that he must withdraw his name or be discharged. The committee of operators met on January 7 and decided that to yield would merely put off the evil day, and that the signers would be marked men to be removed as soon as possible, and that the men should stand firm and resist the reduction.

Chief Operator Thurston explained that the men who signed the agreement did so as employes of the Chicago, Milwankge and St. Paul road, and not as members of the order, and that a majority of them are not members; but that the order should take up the cause of "men who have so manfully asserted their principles in resisting such flagrant injustice." Hence he calls upon members of the movement will be more than the men involved can stand. The circular is signed by A. L. Thurston, Chief Operator, and S. O. Fox, Grand Secretary and Treasurer.

"The publication of the forged paper by Mr. Halstead, long before election, is conclusive to my mind that he was thoroughly deceived and believed it to be genuine, and when he found that he was mistaken he at once published over his own signature the most complete retraction. Three Reports on Ohio's Ballot Box Case Made to Congress.

FORAKER EXONERATED BY MASON.

demn Him and Halstead IN THE MOST UNMEASURED TERMS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 .- The report of the House Ballot Box Committee, which last session made an extensive investigation into Ohio political affairs, in connection with alleged subscriptions by members of Congress of stock in a patent ballot box, was to-day presented to the House by Mr. Mason, of Illinois, the Chairman of the investigating committee. The main report, which is signed by all the members of the committee, says:

"In response to the first inquiry directed by the resolution, vis.; 'By whom said alleged contract was prepared, and whether the several signatures appended thereto are forged or genuine,' we find that said alleged contract was dictated (prepared) by Richard G. Wood, and that all the signatures thereto are forged. "In response to the second inquiry di-what person or persons, if any, were directly or indirectly aiding, abetting, assisting, or knowingly consenting to the preparation and uttering of said forgery, and for what purpose?" we find that Richard G. Wood, Frank and L. Milward, and Frank S. Davis were the only persons directly or in-directly aiding, abetting, assisting, or knowingly consenting to the preparation of said orgery with knowledge of its character.

Foraker and Halstead's Connection. Milward and Davis were without evil intent in the part they took in the transaction and had no other purpose than to accommo-date R. G. Wood, and at Wood's request; and said Wood uttered said forgery for the purpose of procuring Governor Forsker's recommendation of himself to the Mayor of purpose of procuring Governor Foraker's recommendation of himself to the Mayor of Cincinnati, O., for appointment to an office of that city designated in the evidence as "Smoke Inspector."

We further find that J. B. Foraker and Murat Halstead aided in uttering said forgery, Mr. Foraker by exhibiting the paper to several persons and thereafter delivering it to Mr. Halstead, and Mr. Halstead aided in uttering said forgery by publishing the forged paper on October 4, 1889, in the Commercial Gazette; but we find that neither of said parties, Foraker and Halstead, in uttering said paper, knew the same was a forgery.

In response to the third inquiry directed by the resolution, vis., whether any of the members whose names appeared on said alleged contract had or have, either directly or indirectly, any unlawful, corrupt or improper connection with, or interest in, the ballot boxes that were the subject matter of said alleged contract, we find that no one person whose name appears on said alleged contract had or has, either directly or indirectly, any unlawful, corrupt or improper, or any other connection with, or interest in, the ballot boxes which are said to be the subject of said alleged contract; and that there never was any other contract relating to said ballot boxes in which either of these persons, alone or jointly with others, was in any way interested.

Both Messrs. Halstead and Foraker have furnished all the evidence within their power to this committee, even submitting their private and personal correspondence, that everything could be shown to the committee.

"Being deceived is the only offense of Messrs. Halstead and Foraker. They each have made reputation and character equal, perhaps, to any of the gentlemen who were outraged by the forgery. Since they found they were deceived they have done all in their power as honorable men to make amends. To ask more seems to me to be most urgust, and believing, as I do, that the evidence does not warrant the censure indulged in by my associates on the committee in the above additional findings against such additional findings I most respectfully but most earnestly protest."

THE MILLER-HORNER WEDDING.

A Brilliant Society Event Taking Place at Christ M. E. Church. The Miller-Horner wedding was solemnized in a brilliant manner in Christ M. E. Church last evening. The sanctuary was filled with last evening. The sanctuary was filled with guests representing the wealthy and cultured circles of which both the bride and groom are popular members, and was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The bridal party was announced by the wedding march, and, preceded by the four ushers, traversed the aisle to the tropic-laden altar. The bride was attended by Miss Lilly Palmer and Miss McClure as maids, and cunning httle Helen Witherow as maid of honor. Mr. Miller was supported by E. E. Little as best man. The ushers were Messrs, Albert Long, Thornton Orr, Frank E. Richardson and S. Raymond Horner.

Miss Horner was attired in white corded silk, fashioned to display the grace of her petite fig-

Miss Horner was attired in white corded silk, fashioned to display the grace of her petite figure, and wore a veil that partly concealed the beauty of her girlish face. The groom was handsome and manly enough to be the hero in an ideal marriage. Mr. Miller's good looks, however, are not all the gentleman has to recommend him. He is equally fortunate in mental possessions and attainments, and his long-continued illness has been productive of universal sympathy. The church ceremonies were followed by a reception at the home of the bride, on Stockton avenue, at which only relatives were present, but where the brightness and charm of the bride's manner was particularly noticeable. An Eastern wedding trip will be taken.

FOUR LADY MACBETHS

To Be Seen at an Amateur Performance at

The play of "Macbeth" will be presented at a matinee performance, on the afternoon of the 6th of February, in the Bijou Theater, under the direction of Prof. Byron W. King. The cast will be composed of the students who so creditably presented "Romeo and Juliet" at the same theater last season, reinforced by others equally as talented. Prof. King will not appear personally in the cast, the character of Macbeth being assumed by Ed Laugner.

Lady Macbeth will be a composite character, composed of Misses Mattie Kennedy, Clara Dawes, Marcella Browniey and Theo. Marshall, a young lady from Osage City, Kan., at present in the city for a course of elecution ander Prof. King. The sectional feature of Lady Macbeth's character is rather unique, and will permit four young ladies to star for a longer or shorter period of time, instead of one. The performance is to be given with all the appointments and scenic effects of a professional presentation. The costumes are to be magnificent and historically correct. The play of "Macbeth" will be presented at a
