KILLED BY LACK OF ATTENTION.

He Says That Patients in the Hospital at the Riverside Penitentiary Are Starving.

THE WARDEN DEFIED BY A PRISONER

A Verdict Rendered Exonerating the Officials From Any Blame.

"You can't choke me; I'll tell 'em all l know, Warden Wright," was the startling and emphatic statement made by a convict witness at a Coroner's inquest in the penitentiary last night.

Coroner McDowell was notified vesterday afternoon that William J. McCabe had died in the penitentiary shortly after 1 o'clock. McCabe, who was 28 years old, was received at the Western Penitentiary from Butler county on December 13, 1888. He was committed for two years and six months for lar-In accordance with a State law, which Porter, convicted of conspir-Captain John Robinson, who killed John Hopkins at Chartiers; Jeff Jones, who shot at but failed to kill ex-Chief of Police Simon Kirschler, of Allegheny, and Messrs. C. R. O'Brien and R. F. Bigham and Grant Miller.

As soon as Coroner McDowell reached the penitentiary he was handed a note from William Geiger, a prisoner from Allegheny county, in which he expressed an earnest desire to be present and testify at the in-

Startled the Penitentiary at Midnight, A number of penitentiary officers were first examined as to the cause of McCabe's death. McCabe was sent to the hospital department on October 2, suffering apparently from rheumatism. He was treated for that disease until December 5, when, at his own request, he was returned to his cell and placed at work. McCabe was apparently doing well until January 3, when, about midnight, the inmates of the institution were aroused and startled by awful shricks and yells from McCabe's cell. John Eisley, Captain of the Night

Watch, rushed to the cell and found Me-Cabe engaged in wrecking the lew articles of furniture allowed each prisoner. Me-Cabe refused to explain his conduct, but contented himself by demanding that he be placed in the dangeon. Word was sent to Warden Wright, who arose from his bed sisted that he be placed in the dungeon. The Warden ordered the man sent to the hospital ered that McCabe was suffering from a deepseated and painful disease, and Dr. Rankin, the penitentiary physician, immediately ordered remedies to allay the man's agony.

His Sentence Commuted by Death. As soon as McCabe's spasms were relieved, he suffered from prostration, and only the most beroic methods sufficed to keep him live. Under the directions of Dr. Rankin monia juleo and milk and whisky, but on Thursday night he began to sink rapidly, and the physician realized that he had been outgeneraled by death. At 1 P. M. yesterday the grisly conquerer claimed another subject, and McCabe's sentence was commuted without the aid of the Board of William Geiger was brought before the Coroner, sworn and asked te make his statement, which he prefaced by saying: "You ean't choke me; I'll tell 'em all I know, Warden Wright." Geiger is not a pleasant looking person, as he is suffering from a fear-ful running sore on his head, which, Dr. Rankin states, will eat into the brain within a short time, and may carry him off with perhaps not a moment's warning.

"I came into the penitentiary on March 20 the disappearance of his wife and money until of last year," said Geiger. "I was put in the hospital on April 20, and became acquainted with McCabe and talked to him. When he was ordered out of the hospital he was not fit to go.

Geiger's Charges of Neglect. "For ten days McCabe was left to starve. He was given one-third of a pint of milk at each meal, and the milk we get in the hospital is nearly all water. The cook did not prepare anything for him or give him any extra food, which he required. No flaxseed poultices were applied to him because there was no flaxseed in the institu-tion. McCabe asked for little things several times, but his requests were unheeded. I have a painful sore on my head, which has been running since last April. It has been poulticed with common bran because there was no flaxseed. In my opinion McCabe was not properly treated. Only to-day, when Hospital Steward Hosack was sent for to attend a sick man, he refused to come up. When he did come up he heard us all talling about the testimony we intended to give at the inquest. I am not getting enough food; in fact, I am starving."

Coroner McDowell called a number of other prisoners to testify, but none of them corroborated Geiger's testimony. The three prisoners on the jury stated that they had been in the hospital on several occasions and were always well treated.

After the jury had heard all the evidence they returned a verdict to the effect that McCabe's death was caused by gangrene resulting from an abscess, exoperated the management of the penitentiary from any blame, and held that the deceased had received proper treatment. Geiger was convicted of several charges by Inspector McAleese, and is regarded by the police as a bard case. ONE DEAD, TWO INJURED.

A Broken Crane at Carnegie's Twenty-Ninth Street Mill. .

A serious accident occurred last evening at Carnegie's Twenty-ninth street mill, in which one man was killed and two other men were injured. At 8 o'clock Andrew Kunmuir, Joseph Neuch and John Miller, employes at the mill, were raising a large mold. The crane broke and the mold tell knocking the three men down. Kunmuir suffered a compound fracture of the skull; Miller had his left leg broken below the knee, and Neuch escaped with only a slight injury to one of his legs.

Kunmuir was removed to the West Penn Hospital, where he died an hour later. He was a married man, 44 years of age, and re-sided on Forty-fourth street. The other men were taken to their homes in the Twelfth ward, where they received medical attention. An inquest will be held on the body of Kunmuir this morning.

CHEAPER TELEPHONE SERVICE. J. Guise, of Philadelphia, Agitating the Passage of a Measure Controlling the Local Companies—Much Discrimination Exists in Rates. A. J. Guise, a Philadelphia lawver, who is occupied in promoting the agitation against discriminations in price which the telephone company is alleged to make, said last night that he expected strong support for the bill which would be introduced before the Legislature to regulate such charges. Hon, A. Worth Spates, who was Governor of Wyoming Territory, under the Hayes administration, had charge of the legal end of the business.

Mr. Guise says that only in Pitt-burg, Allegheny and Philadelphia were exorbitant charges made for the service. In small towns the rates run from $30 to $50 per annum, but not less than $60 and $80 and up to $150 yearly was demanded in the cities mentioned. There was no act in force which specifically regulated the operations of telephone companies, and they could practically do as they pleased. In this city he found that patrons were charged from $60 ta $120 for the same service and the country of the same service. vice, and the greatest discrimination was charged. For instance, he found, in the neighborhood of Thirty-sixth street and Fifth avenue, that subscribers were paying $84 now where they had previously paid $150. The reduction had been allowed them because they had made a joint kick on the price. Yet, many blocks nearer the Ex-change, in one office at 481 Fifth avenue, be ascertained that the owner of the instrument was paying $120 a year. Mr. Mellon, the banker, told him that he was paying $60 a year for one instrument; further down the street he found a man who was paying $120 a year each for two instruments.

Mr. Guise argues that the company would rentals of the instruments, and he places the increase in three years at 5,000 new sub scribers if a cheaper rate were made.

The bill proposed to be introduced will seek to place the rent at $3 a month for one telephone and $2 50 a month where more than one instrument is in use in one estab lishment. It will also regulate the price of public instruments at 15 cents for the first five minutes and 5 cents for every succeed-

Mr. Guise says that the local company, in a good many instances, receives double rent for an instrument in an office where several people do business together. It charges the original renter $80, and if another man wants his name in the book it will cost him $60 for the privilege of using the same instrument. He finds a general desire on the part of subscribers to unport any aguitable. part of subscribers to support any agitation which will tend to bring the company to better terms. He is here canvassing subscribers, and has been, so far, very successful. As a result of his inquiries, he finds that the telephone service here is about as bad as it can be. The receivers are of old pattern, and conversation can be heard more distinctly between Philadelphia and New York than between Pittsburg and Allegheny.

BRIGHTER PROSPECTS

Now in Sight for the Affairs of the Westinghouse Interests.

PHILADELPHIA COMPANY MEETING Resolution to Apply the Last Quarter's Earnings on the Debts.

RUMORS OF AN EXECUTION PROVE PALSE

Affairs of the Westinghouse companies assumed a more cheer ul shape yesterday, and no more suits were entered, the creditors evidently preferring to await the return of Mr. Westinghouse before making any move that would precipitate a crisis in his business interests.

On the street and in financial circles everywhere, while the matter is still a fruittul topic of conversation and as much interest is manifested in the condition of affairs as ever, there seemed yesterday to be an easier feeling, and it is now believed that, though the business may not survive under its present management, a change can be made, if necessary, without pinebing or even burting any of its creditors or members of the company. The hope everywhere was that Mr. Westinghouse may return to-day, enforced by enough Eastern capital to put ham on his feet and assist him In straightening out his interests so the business can be put on a paying basis.

No one doubts but that with the proper management the business would rapidly develop into a good paying concern. Even now, with its extravagant features eliminated, the company is thought to be in better condition than before this trouble was forced on it by the premature explosion of the damaging reports. While all the creditors before knew the state of affairs they had no fear so long as it was kept quiet. When the whole matter was thrown onen it made it look very serious, but through the united action of the local creditors a calamity has so far been averted and they hope to help the companies out, at the same time guarding themselves against loss.

Why the Trust Money Was Returned. On account of the severe criticism made against the Advisory Committee for returning the trust fund, several members of that committee came out yesterday and told why they took such action. They declare that Mr. Westinghouse and other members of the company were given two weeks' notice of the action to be taken. Mr. Walker, Chairman of the committee, declares that he believes that under proper management the business could easily be put on a paying basis. Other members of the committee expressed the same confidence.

Secretary Uptergraff, of the Philadelphia Company, said yesterday that he was sure Mr. Westinghouse did not expect such action and was not prepared for it. He understood that the committee was to hold off until they saw how successful the Eastern mission might be. So far Mr. Westing-house has not advised his associates here what action he will take, and as a consequence they are as much in the dark as the public, except that it is understood that he has been quite successful in his efforts to secure Eastern capital.

The return of Mr. Westinghouse to-day, combined with the meeting of the creditors of the company to be held this afternoon, promises some interesting developments and the outcome is looked forward to with interest by all friends of the company and others interested. The creditors' committee has been at work preparing to give a report at the meeting to-day and it will doubtless make some recommendations. It is the idea of those on the committee to do as much as possible toward belping the company out of the difficulties and, if possible, keep the vast interests intact to be counted among Pittsare's industries.

The Philadelphia Company's Statement. At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Philadelphia Company, yesterday, as a matter of course, everybody was excluded but the members of the board. That there was very little discussion is evident from the fact that but little more than half an hour was consumed in the meeting. The chief business was the adoption of the fol-lowing resolution, which was done without

Resolved. That the regular quarterly divi-dend be omitted, and that the treasurer be directed to publish a statement of the earnings and expenses for the past quarter, which, though showing a profit more than sufficient to pay the regular dividend, yet the Board of Directors deem it expedient to apply the money to the payment and decrease of the company's liabilities.

The statement of Treasurer John Caldwell showing the earnings and expenses in detail will be found in another column of THE DISPATCH this morning. The gross earnings for the three months ending on December 31, were $753,516 20; the total expenses were $448,978 68, making the net arnings $304,537 52.

At the close of the meeting each member of the board as he appeared was interrogated as to the action taken, but all rejused to say anything, each in turn reserving the reporter to the secretary or treasurer. Mr. Caldwell would say nothing, but gave out the above statements. Secretary Uptergraff teclared that he preferred not to talk.

"The passage of the resolution you have already seen was the only business trans-acted. The bylaws were adopted on the 9th, and the statement that they were to have been adopted to-day was simply an error. I expect Mr. Westinghouse will return to Pittsburg to-day, but no meeting of this company is expected to be held on that account, as all the business has been transacted and everything is in good condition.

A Damaging Rumor Proves Groundless A rumor coming from the Court House resterday afternoon that executions amounting to $9,000 had been issued against the Chartiers Gas Company, which is connected with the Westinghouse interests, caused a great deal of discussion. A DISPATCH man immediately proceeded to follow up the statement, but he was not compelled to go far as it was stopped short by Sheriff Mc-Cleary.

"I know nothing of it," said the official.
"The only case against that company or any other gas company vesterday was brought by a woman. The only paper that was seen at the Sheriff's office was a summons to be issued on the Chartiers company. I don't know what the amount was, but it was on suit in a right of way dispute. I had heard the other rumor and for that reason inquired into the matter, and found it un-

The entire matter will be governed by the action of Mr. Westinghouse when he arrives in the city to-day. Nothing very definite can be learned of his success, but it seems to have been very good, and his asso-ciates here seem confident that he will re-turn prepared to li t the veil of doubt and place the affairs of the company at rights.

C. W. Payne and Joseph Seep, of Titus-ville, two prominent members of the Stand-ard Oil Company, registered at the Monongahela House last evening. They came here to attend the annual meeting of the Metric Metal Company at Beaver Falls to-day. In speaking of the oil situation Mr. Payne said: "I look for a decline in pro-duction during the next few months and a slight increase in prices, but it won't be much of an advance. There is a woful lack of buyers. The speculative market, not only in Pittsburg but everywhere, has been killed. Many of the old buyers of oil have either quit the business or they have become producers.

The last time Colonel Swords was here he made a report which re-sulted in the removal of ex-Architect Malone. He inquired particularly about him last evening.

"I think," he said, "discussing politics,
"that Harrison will be renominated. This is the conclusion I have arrived at a ter considering all the facts received from inside sources. Blaine is a strong man, but I do not think he will make the riffle. President Harrison has been a very acceptable executive officer. Cleveland will be the Democratic candidate in my opinion. He is the strongest man in their party to-day," and then the Colonel jokingly added to please a Democratic reporter that he thought Cleve-land would be elected.

President Felton Thinks the Prospects fo a Good Year Are Bright.

A private car of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia road was attached to the Eastern express last evening. In it were President S. M. Felton, Jr., Henry Fink, Vice President, and L. P. Brown, Secretary of the road, who had been inspecting the line. This road is a part of the Queen and Crescent system, and is one of the principal lines in the South. Mr. Felton said they had found everything in good shape, and the indications for plenty of traffic and a good year were very bright.

Secretary Brown claimed he never had more faith in railroads and railroad securities than at present. He said not only his line, but other Southern roads were being line. A private car of the East Tennessee, Vir-

The details had not been worked out. Mr. Blanchard was thankful that in the West they had few theorists in the business, and that the railroads were now being con-ducted on a hard-pan basis. There is a strong tendency to maintain rates, and he looked for a good year's traffic with fair net earnings for the roads,

The indications are that within the next six weeks the Knights of Labor will include

There has been considerable rash talk ately about one or two assemblies being on the verge of withdrawing from the organization because they were opposed to the policy of their chief executive officer. It turns out now that there is a peculiar fight about to be made which will force the men in the six non-union factories in the

Mr. Wright went to the Southside yesterday to inquire into the difficulty at Ihmsen by Mr. Hays, I. N. Ross, George Dovey and J. L. Evans. The firm reported that the reason they had not settled the trouble was because they had no right to deal with a local committee. JOHN LATZ, JOHN LATZ, JOHN MUENZE. Difficulties to Be Settled in Summer. Mr. Ihmsen also stated that their employes, who are members of L. A. 300, signed an agreement that when they went to work once they would complete the fire, and any difficulty that may arise during the fire ould be settled during the summer shutdown. Messrs. Hays and Wright informed the firm that the General Executive Board of the K. of L., of which L. A. 300 forms a part, had jurisdiction over that organization and could order a strike at any time despi the agreement, and if a strike were ordered the members of L. A. 300 would be bound to obey the order. The matter was settled temporarily by the firm agreeing to call a meeting of their stockholders for the purpose of discussing the situation and arranging matters satis-factorily if possible. Mr. Wright will lay the matter before the Executive Board in Philadelphia in a few days, where he will be instructed as to what course to pursue. The matter will be permanently set-tled when Mr. Wright returns on January 28. MASTER PLUMBERS MEET.

They Talked Over the Trade and How Could Be Improved. The Master Plumbers' Association, of Pittsburg, held a secret meeting at the Anderson yesterday to discuss the condition of trade and how it can be improved. The supply men were invited to be present. Allen McFadden is President of the organization, but he did not attend yesterday's meeting. The association has about 100 members, but some of the leading men in the business do not belong to it. The plumbers were very reticent. One of them claimed that nothing had been done. Prices were not touched, neither did they talk combination, nor have they a schedulof rates which all are required to maintain. Each one is at liberty to get what price he can. This is their dull season, and some of them complained that there were too many men in the business in Pittsburg. The rela-tions of the manufacturers and plumbers are very harmonious. NO CONFERENCE YET.

The Pennsylvania Grievance Commi Unable to Find Mr. Wood. Several members of the General Grievane Committee of the Pennsylvania lines, west of Pittsburg, called at the office of General Manager Wood yesterday for the purpose of holding a conference on the present diffi-culty, but found that gentleman still ab-sent from the city.

One of the members of the committee said last night that he thought it very peculiar Mr. Wood should be absent from the city every time the committee comes to see him. But they are here this time to stay until they secure a hearing with the manager. Threaten to Withdraw Southside grocers are thinking about leaving the association and forming an organization of their own in case they fail to agree with the labor committees and form the combination. It was reported that a conference was to have been held last night, but it does t occur until next Thursday. Closed Till After the Funeral The Porkhouse mill at Woods' Run, Allegheny, has been closed until after the funcation James K. Verner, of the firm, which occurred yesterday, but the mill will not resume until Monday.

ONLY THE BEGINNING.

General Move for More Wages by the Miners of Four States—The Monongahela Strike Approved and the Advance Will Be Insisted Upon-President Rae Talks. President J. B. Rae and Patrick Mc-Bryde, of the United Mine Worders, came to this city yesterday and held a conference with the river operators, but without any satisfactory results being reached. On the contrary, the prospects for a settlement of the difficulty are far from being as bright as they were several days ago. Besides show-ing mining differences between the river and railroad districts the operators advanced tonnage and competitive figures in lower districts as arguments against the advance

From the conference came the information that the scale next year in river and rail-road mines will be 90 cents per ton, and that this price will be insisted upon. President Rea was seen at the Home Hotel in the evening, where he said:

"I think the best thing the operators can a seen at the Home Hotel in the evening." do is to grant the demands. They claim the strike was precipitated without the sanction of the Executive Board. I want to say that the demands have been approved, and I have just placed the matter in Mr. Me-Bryde's hands for future action. I will say further, that the Monongahela strike is only the beginning of a general movement in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Iudiana and Illinois

From the conference came the information for the same advance.

"The statement of the operators that railroad miners are working in the same vein for less money is not just, for, while they may work in the same vein, their product is not shipped to the some market, and there is quite a difference in the price. The advance of 1/4 cent has been granted in Virginia and West Virginia in order to allow the river miners here to compete, and it will be insisted upon here. I think the miners are in factories organized. When asked for the a position to stay out until the demands are granted, and the indications are favorable.

"I believe it would be an advantage to the operators to grant the advance now, and then if they have a grievance, let them bring it up at the conference when the scale for next year is settled." facts in the case both Messrs. Hays and

In regard to the Clearfield difficulty Mr. Rse said a strike had been ordered, but the matter will be arbitrated next Thursday. The men there have asked 5-cents a ton in advance of present wages. Generally speak-ing, Mr. Rae said the miners' interests were in a good condition except in Alabama and Pennsylvania. He will return immediately to Columbus to prepare for the scale co vention, which takes place February 10. Mr. McBryde, who is a member of the Executive Board of the United Mine Workers, has just returned from Alabama, where the big strike is on among his craftsmen. He says if the miners can only hold out, it will not be long until there will be a uniform rate of wages for miners all over the country. The manufacturers, he says, can produce pig iron at $8 11 a ton, and they have given orders to the Northern agents to sell at any price so as to attract orders. This, he thinks, is the reason for the low price of pig iron in the North.

FUNDS FOR THE STRIKERS.

Local Telegraphers Raising Money for Their Western Brethren. A subscription paper was circulated yesterday among the local telegraphers to raise funds for the strikers on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad. It was stated in railroad circles yesterday that there were only a few men on strike, and that the affair did not give promise of amounting to much, but word was received last night that the men on ten divisions, numbering in all 344 operators are out for an advance.

It was also stated that the engineers along the road have refused to obey orders issued by the students which the company has placed in charge of the offices along the road.

APPROVED THE SCALE.

The Executive Board of D. A. 3 Takes Hand in the Corkworkers' Strike. The Executive Board of D. A. 3 met last night and considered the corkworkers' diffi culty. Their scale was ap Fine Wraps all Sacrificed!

support of the board was pledged to the em-ployes of Armstrong Bros. & Co. Frank Vincent, George Brothers and J. L. Evans were appointed as a sub-commit-tee to go with a committee of the workmen to-day to consult the firm in regard to the matter, and a general strike will not be ordered unless it is impossible to deal otherwise. It is said four employes, one man and three women, had been discharged without cause. This will also be looked into.

READY TO MAKE IRON.

Florence Furnace Men Are Figuring on Southern Markets. Judge William A. Hudson, of the Flor ence Cotton and Iron Company, returned to the Duquesne yesterday from Philadelphia, where he attended the annual meeting. The Judge says they can make a ton of iron for $10 79 and deliver it in St. Louis for $12 25 by water transportation. He thinks they will be ready to start their furnaces next month. He said they would not undertake to sell Southern iron in this territory, but expected to find a good mar-ket in St. Louis and along the Atlantic coast. He is pleased with their prospects. LANDLORDS TO PAY TAXES.

Subject of an Address to Be Made to Single Taxers. An address will be made before the Single Tax League, at its rooms at No. 64 Fourth avenue, at 7:30 to-morrow evening, on the subject: "Rent is added to the cost of the article sold, but the tax upon rent cannot be shifted, but must be paid by the landlord." In other words the landlord cannot advance the rent so as to recoup himself fo the tax. THEY HAD A DISORDERLY BALL. farchi Adomski in Jail for Stealing An-

Managers of the Iron City Athletic Club The masquerade ball given by the Iron City Athletic Club on the night of January 9 had its wind up last evening in the Twenty-eighth ward station house. The ball bad aught yesterday at Washington, Pa., and been stopped by the police on account of its disorderly character and the managers were arrested. Last night they were given a hearing by Alderman Succep.

James Gildernew was fined $50 and costs, and Crate Swoger, William Stewart and Joseph Norris, who were his assistants, were each fined $10 and costs. for abducting Kraurmavoski's little City Printing Bids.

The Mayor yesterday afternoon opened the house, and about four months ago cloped with the saloon keeper's wife. The pair came to Allegheny. The deceived husband closel out his business, and finally heard his wife was living with Adomski in the lewer part of Allegheny. He arrived in Pittsburg last week with his little girl. He met his wife on Federal street, Allegheny. She pretended to be repentant, and while the party was in the Ft. Wavne depot the wife sent her husband on an errand. When he returned both bids for city printing, which were as follows: Times, 16-000; DISPATCH, 2345-10000; Volksblatt, 12-100; Press, 15-100; Post, 50-100; Freiheits Freund, 60-100; Leader, 20-100; Commercial Gazette, 23-100. The Dis-PATCH bid was practically the same as that of three years ago, under which the existing contract was awarded, making allowance for increase of its circulation since. Some of the other bids were lower than those at the previous bidding, and others higher. The Mayor has not yet made the award, but will do so within a few days. The Press, Times, Volksblatt and Leader are the lowest bidders for city printing on yesterday's ex-hibit, out of which three are to be chosen.
