When the news of the dangerous position in which the inhabitants of Sebdon were placed reached the military authorities of Tlemeen, they immediately sent a quantity of provisions, under the escort of a cetachment of troops from the garrison of Tlemcen, to the relief of the sufferers at Sebdon. Unhappily, the conwoy a day or so later was snowed up in the Talterney pass, and it was some time before the authorities at became aware of the danger to which the convoy was exposed. An additional force of troops was then sent out from Tlemcen, with instructions to push on at all hazards to the relief of the snowed-up troops, and after ward, it possible, to assist the convoy in pushing on to Sebdon. The second detach-ment of troops managed to reach Talterney Pass, and on January 15 it was announced that the convoy had been extricated from its perilous position, and that the road over which they were passing was then open to upon it were not ready for its attention. The report says:

Your committee are of the decided opinion that the Fair cannot well be conflucted to a successful termination under the dual management which is now in operation in consequence of the construction placed upon the law by the World's Columbian Commission.

The Commission has exceeded its powers by the appointment of officers and committees to conduct the management of the Fair in executive details. In our opinion of the laws relating to the World's Columbian Exposition and its officers, the Commission was given a quasiveto power, and not that of taking charge of the execution of plans for the Fair.

Commissioners' Duties Advisory Only.

Commissioners' Duties Advisory Only. From the fact that the Commission is hor orary and without salary, the conclusion is reasonable that their duties were not intended to be exacting or continuous, so that they would seriously interfere with their private business. The duties of the Commission may be classed as affirmative and negative, nations and international, preliminary and continuou. The committee tried to impress upon bot organizations, while in Chicago, its views of the matter of jurisdiction, and it is pleased treport that their efforts met with some degree of success.

Allotment of Government Exhibits. In the allotment of the Government appropriation to the various departments which are expected to furnish exhibits, it became necessary for the board, the report says, to assume a definite sum as the aggregate of the expenditures, in order that the heads of bureaus and divisions, which were expected to become contributors, might be informed of the extent to which they were at liberty to formulate their detailed plans. In the appropriation of $1,500,000 for the purpose of the exhibition, it was assumed that it was the intention of Congress to provide $1,000,000 for the purpose mentioned above, and the board was guided to the conclusion primarily by the fact that $400,000 had been fixed by Congress as heitling.

The board has determined upon a satis-factory scheme of allotment to the several branches to be represented, based upon their relative importance, but entirely upon the availability of their functions for illustration in an exposition of the character pro-The Board Submits a Resolution.
