Talmage chose the following texts for his sermon: "Come." Genesis, vi:18. "Come."

Revelation, xxii:17. Imperial, tender and all-persuasive is tha word "Come." Six hundred and seventy-eight times is it found in the Scriptures. It stands at the front gate of the Bible as in my first text, stands at the other gate of the Bible as in my second text, inviting the post-diluvians into the ark of a Saviour's mercy, "Come" is only a word of four letters, but it is the queen of words, and nearly the entire nation of English words, and nearly the entire nation of Fagusa viscability boxs to its scepter. It is an ocean into which empties 0,000 rivers of meaning. Other words drive, but this beckons. All moods of feeling hath that word "Come." Sometimes it weeps and sometimes it laughs.

Sometimes it weaps and sometimes it laughts. Sometimes it weaps and sometimes it laughts. Sometimes it weaps and sometimes it laughts. Sometimes it ways, sometimes it laughts. Sometimes it ways, sometimes the tempts, and sometimes it ways, sometimes to the past and the almoner of the church and from the seragilos of sin, from the gates of heaven and the cates of heaven and the rates of heaven and the rates of heaven it is children. The most of the past and the almoner of most of the future. "Come!" You may pronounce it so flat all the heavens will be hea d it. Its cadences, or pronounce it is that all the heavens of time and eternity shall reverberate in its one syllable. It is on the lip of saint and predigate. It is the mightiest of all solicitants ordier for good or bad.

All the Fower of Religion.

To-day I weigh anchor, and haul in the planks, and set sail on that great word, although I am sure I will not be able to reach the further shore. I will is down the fathoming line late the world of save sinners and that you are one of them. The dictatorial and commandatory in religion is of no avail. The imperative misso is not the appropriate mood when we would have people savingly impressed. They may he coaxed, but they cannot be diven. Our hearts are like our homes: at a firefully knock the door will be opened, would land the assailant in prison. Our theological seminaries, which keep young mentage seminaries, which keep young mentage is missed to the cannot be logical seminaries, which keep young mentage in the coast and the land who has such efficiency in Christian work, and that wounan who has send efficiency in Christian work, and that wounan who has such efficiency in Christian work, and that wounan who has such efficiency in Christian work, and that wounan who has such efficiency in Christian work, and that wounan who has such e intonation and power that one word-me? That man who has such efficiency in issian work, and that woman who has such hirstan work, and that wouldn who has seen lower to persuade become to quit the wrong and begin the right, went through a series of losses, bereaveneed, persecutions and the trains of 20 or 30 years before they could make it a triumph of grace every time they uttered the word "Lome."

the word "Come."
You must remember that in many cases our "Come" has a mightier "Come" to conquer before it has any effect at all. Just give me the accurate census, the statistics, of how many are imparity, of in vice of any sort, and I will give too the accurate census or statistics of how many have been slain by the word "Come." "Come and click wine glasses with me at this ivory lar." "Come and see what we can win at this gaming table." "Come, enter with me this gountful speculation!" ever a drumkard weaned from his cups by the temperance lecturer's mimicry of staggering sice and biccough? No. It was: "Come with me to church to-day and hear our singing;" "Come and let me introduce you to a Christian man whom you will be sure to admirer." "Come with me into associations that are cheerful and good and inspiring;" "Come with me into joy such as you never before experienced."

With that word which has done so much for others I approach you to-day. Are you all right with Goo? "No," you say, "I think not; I am sometimes alarmed when I think of Him; I fear I will not be ready to meet Him in the last day; my heart is not right with God." Come then and have it made right. Through the Curist who died to save you, come! What is the trust her off you are and the deeper you are

Those who have lost their health and been consoled by religion are the ones to invite those who are upoor health. These who have had bereavements and been consoled in those bereavements are the ones to sympathize with those who have lest father or mother or companion or child or friend. What multitudes of us are alive to-day and in good health and buoyant in this journey of life, who would have been broken down or dead long ago but for the sustaining and cheering help of our holy religion! So we say—"Come!" The well is not dry. The buckets are not empty. The supply is not exhausted. There is just as much mercy and condolence and soothing power in God as before the first

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPAYOR.

BROOKLYN, Jag. 18.—Rev. Dr. Talmage preached the following sermon this morning to an overflowing congregation in the Academy of Music, this city. At night, when the service was beld in the New York Academy of Music, fully 6,000 persons were massed in the large building. Dr.

Talmage chose the following texts for his word on the formation of the strong on the morning star of our Christian faith can find their way out, or be strong enough to lead others with an all-persuasive invitation.

The Manner in Which to Come.

"But," says some one, "you Christian people keep telling us 'to come' yet you do not tell us how to come." That charge shall not be true on this occasion. Come believing! Come re-penting! Come praying! After all that God has been doing for six thousand years some-times through patriarchs and sometimes inviting antenduvians into Noah's ark, and it through prophets, and at last through the culmination of all tragedies on Golgotha, can anyone think that God will not welcome your com-ing? Will a father at vast outlay construct a mansion for his son, and lay out parks white with statues, and green with foliage, and all a-parkle with fountains, and then not allow his son to live in the house, or walk in the

Now it seems to me that in this Sabbath hour all heaven is chiming, and the voices of de-parted friends and kindred ring down the sky saying, "Come?" The angels who never fell, bending from sapphire thrones, are chanting "Come?" Yea; all the towers of heaven, tower of martyrs, tower of prophets, tower of Apos-ties, tower of evangelists, tower of the temple of the Lord God and the Lamb, are chiming, "Come! Come!" Pardon for all, and peace for all, and heaven for all who will come.

The Proper Plan for Reform.

Now we want all the world over to harness this word for good as others have harnessed it for evil, and it will draw the five continents and the seas between them, yea, it will draw the whole earth back to the God from whom it has wandered. It is that wooing and persuasive word that will lead men to give up their sins. Was sceptions were brought into love of the truth by an abadit ion of hot words against infidelity." General Produce. In the lines of general produce the week past has furnished few crumbs of com'ort to commission men. Trade has been very quiet. The testimony of commission men is uniform that the week has been one of the slowest on record. A quiet trade is expected on the heels of holidays and January settlements, but this season been more so than for years past. Light money has no doubt had much to do with the late quietness. A leading Liberty street commission merchant in an interview to lay was year amplatte, in his description. A quiet trade is expected on the heels of helidays and January settlements, but this season been more does figures touched, and with a fair exhibition of confidence, denoting expectation that something will yet be done to put them on their feet again.

nunciation of dealers who did a landoffice business in produce, without contributing their quota to the revolues of the city.
Said he: "The regular commission men have their rents, business tax, and mercantile tax to pay, which furnish nice revenues to the city.

"But dealers from New York, Michigan and lowa come along with their few carloads of stuff and are able to undersell us for the reason that they pay no rents, or license, or business tax. They sleep in the cars and make the wharves and tracks serve for warehouses.
There is a city ordinance which requires these outside dealers to nay a license, but the ordinance is not enforced, and as a result of its nonenforcement from $50,000 to $100,000 is lost to the city, and the regular dealers who are required to contribute, each from $100 to $150 business tax, and $20 to $60 mercantile tax, with the additional burden of high rents, cost of teams, etc., are placed at a great disadvantage."

Tea and Sugar. Tea and Sugar.

Low grade Oolong teas have advanced 3c to 4c per h in the past few weeks, and all teas show an upward tendency, a result partially due to the prospect of free coinage of silver. It will be seen by reference to domestic market column that sugar has been advanced 1/4c per b. The following on the sugar outlook is from a representative of one of the leading whole-sale grocer firms of the city:

McKinley Bill Once More on Sugars. This letter from E.C. Knight & Co., Philadelphia, explains the present position of sugars:
"The duty on sugar goes into effect April 1 1891. The Government has made a provision to protect the refiners for one month. They can protect the refiners for one month. They can manufacture sugars and place the same in bond from March 1 to April 1. This will enable them to run the month of March and hold their stock to dispose of April 1, getting benefit of duty off. Hence some refiners will work in March on duty-paid sugar and some work on in bond' sugar.

"The trouble comes in if too many refiners work in March on duty-paid sugars and some refiners will work on 'in bond.' If too many refiners work to bond stock, then refined for March will be scarce, and higher prices will prevail. On the other hand, if few work on bond in March, refined will be scarce and high in April. Refined sugar tuyers will have to prepare for contingency. As suggested, some speculative feeling has been about, and we feel it our duty to make some explanation of presit our duty to make some explanation of pres-

The general disposition was to discount another favorable bank statement, and buying to covershorts was most urgent in the last hour.
