ouncils Not Likely to Consider the Appro riation Ordinance Before the Middle of March-Supreme Court Decisions the Cause-Schemes to Avoid Entanglement

The appropriation ordinance will, in all probability, not be presented to Councils before the middle of March, although last year the ordinance was before Councils by the This year there is a multitude of reasons for keeping it back. The recent and much lamented Supreme Court decision on the street keeping it back. The recent and much lamented Supreme Court decision on the street act was cited yesterday by Chief Bigelow as the greatest cause of delay. The hopes of all the city officials are pinned on curative legislation to take care of the $1,500,000 of debt which the city is now asked to assume. Although there is not much doubt that all the money spent for new street improvements will be paid by the owners of the property fronting thereon, but in order to provide against any further surprises from the Supreme Bench, it is considered advisable not to pass an appropriation ordinance until curative legislation has been passed and tested before the higher court. By this method it will be known what deficit, if any, will have to be made up by the city. In order to make everything perfectly clear and avoid all danger of future entanglements, it may be possible that the ordinance will be withheld until the new street bill, to take the place of the deceased acts of 1857 and 1858, is passed.

Mr. Bigelow said yesterday that the new street bill would probably not be completed for a month, although he now had a copy of a bill which would be used in case no better one could be made.

It is also understood that Mr. Film is still offering "flyers" in the Senate in order to hold places on the calendar. Three different street ollis will be offered, so that if two of them are lost the city will still be able to fall back on the third, in which the features deemed objectionable will be eliminated.

ALLEGHENY WARD DIVISION.

The Councils Committee Anxiously Waiting on the Supreme Court. The Special Committee of Allegheny Councils on the redivision of the City into wards held a Chairman Lare stated that the meeting had been called to discuss the situation, as of course they could do nothing unti-the Supreme Court had rendered its decision. the Supreme Court had rendered its decision.

After some desultory discussion the City Engineer was instructed to prepare small maps for the use of members showing the ward boundaries. In reply to a question Mr. Lare said it was expected that the decision of the Supreme Court would be received next week. Mr. Cochran was of opinion that if the division was to be made under the law of 1874 known as the Wallace act, it would require fully a year. Chairman Lare was in doubt as to whether as a second-class city Allegheny could still work under the old charter. If so then the councils could go ahead and divide the wards. The question as to this right would hardly come before the Court because it was not raised in the mandamus. The Committee adjourned to meet at the call of the Chairman, which will be when the decision of the Court is received.

FIGHT FOR A CORPSE.

R. E. Actor Charges His Sister-in-Law With Stealing a Coffin.

PARENTS DISPUTE FOR A CHILD. Mother and Wife Struggling for a Man's

Life Insurance. ALL THE NEWS OF THE COUNTY COURTS

In the Criminal Court yesterday William Black, Mary Bottomly, Thomas Wiley and William Dearle were tried for violating a sepulcher, and stealing a coffin containing the body of Mrs. Robert E. Actor, the sister of Mary Bottomly, one of the defendants.

Mrs. Actor was buried in Mt. Vernon Cemetery at Boston, a hamlet on the Youghiogheny river, some two years ago. The sister wished the body to be interred in the cemetery at McKeesport, and wrote her brother-in-law, the husband of Mrs. Actor, to that effect. He, however, refused to comply with her desire, and, after making the request a second time, and getting no reply, she otified him she would have the body removed. cordingly, she secured the services of an andertaker, and, together with her relatives, had the body taken out of the grave, with the consent of the cemetery authorities, and re-interred in the cemetery at McKeesport.

The husband then brought suit for larceny of the casket, as well as violation of the act prohibiting the removal of bodies from cemeteries. After hearing the evidence, Judge Stowe, in his charge to the jury, said the defendant could not be said to have violated the cemetery act as it relates only to cases where secreey and surreptition is practiced, and in this case such did not appear, but on the other hand, the act was committed openly. The specification of larceny was likewise faulty in that the prin-cipal defendants had a partial right and owner-ship in the premises. The Judge intimated, however, that the case was not so much one for ship in the premises. The Judge intimated, however, that the case was not so much one for the Criminal as the Common Pleas Court, and said the verdict would not debar an action The jury found a verdict of not guilty, but put the costs on the defendants.

A MOTHER'S VICTORY.

The Courts Virtually Decide That She Is Entitled to Her Son's Insurance.

A verdict for the defendant was given yester-day in the suit of Mrs. Clara B. Beatty against the Supreme Commandery of the United Order of the Golden Cross of the World. The suit was to recover the amount of an in-surance policy on the life of Mrs. Beatty's hus-band. He had taken out a policy payable to her, but shortly before his death be transferred it to the name of his mother without his wife's knowledge. She claimed the transfer was not valid and brought suit for the amount, but the verdict yesterday practically decides the case in favor of the mother.
