I have cured more people of chronic catarrh, scrofula, stom-ach, liver and kidney troubles, blood taints, eczema, rheumatism, male and female weak-ness than all other doctors combined. New York Maguates Will Select Their Team for the Year To-Day.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 -- Messrs, J. W. Spalding Day, Talcott and McAlpin have been appointed to select the New York team to-morrow for next season. There have been many guesses regarding the makeup of the team, but it is likely that the following players will wear the Grants' uniform:

Tim Keefe, Mickey Welch, Amos Rusie, Jack Sharrott, pitchers; Buck Ewing, Buckley and Clarke, catchers; Connor, first base; Richardson, second base; Denny, third; Glasscock short stop: Gore, Johnston, Tiernan and Slattery, outfielders. An informant says that Jim O'Rourke will not be retained because he is not popular with certain players in the club. If this array of players is chosen, it will throw Borkett, Whitney, Hatfield, O'Rourke and Pat Murphy will find plenty of clubs in need of their services. The expected trauble by some individuals is in the placing of Glasscock, benny, Rusie, and Backlev upon the same team with the old Erotherbood players. The owners of the New York club, however, say that those players who are disposed to create ill feeling, and who do net work for the club's interests all the time, will be immediately relieved of their positions. In taiking to a Brotherbood player recently it was learned that while there was considera-ble feeling among Brotherbood men against the so-called deserters who stuck by the National League, there was also a tendency to forget the past and play hall for the good of the game. While at the start some of the Brotherbood men in the New York club may feel a little hot under the collar when they walk out upon the held with their old comrades who stuck by then it Bay there is never possibilite there held with their old contrades who should be John B. Day, there is every possibility that time will work a change in their demeanor. What New York wants is a ball team composed of winning, hard-working players, who care lit-tio for sentiment and personal feelings, but who are ever analous to land New York in the leading position of the National League race.

the Cunard steamer Umbria, which leaves the Mersey to-day, there is no doubt as to which will be the one to receive the most admiration and attention from the rest of the travelers "who are going down to the sea," and will brave the winds and waves of a midwinter trans-Atlantic passage. The admiration of every-body who had the pleasure of seeing him has been unbounded and been openly expressed, for his record has been an unbroken series of success, but it has not made his head swell, not success, but it has not made his head swell, not given him a look of supreme importance. The reason is simply he is not human. He is the famous St. Bernard dog, Sir Bedi-vere, the finest specimen of his breed ever seen. Since his advent two years ago his ca-reer upon the show bench has been one unvary-ing round of success, and he has never been beaten; and he has taken every prize in the va-rious exhibitions. On his first appearance as a puppy the large sum of £1.600 was offered for him, but it was refused. It was afterward ad-vanced 50 per cent, and the would-be purchaser made his bid £1.500, but his owner, Mr. Green, of Wallasey, in Cheshire, would not sell him. of Wallasey, in Cheshire, would not sell him. It is stated that in order to tempt him to part with this splendid animal a blank check was with this splendid animal a blank check was presented to him with the understanding that he should fill it in for any sum up to £2,000, but this produced no more effect than the offer of £1,500. But as seems to be the almost universal custom newadays, everything good in Europe has to succumb to the omnipresent potentiality of the American dollar, and what English gold was unable to accomplish Yankee greenbacks has achieved, for Mr. E.
