THE FIRE IS NOW UNDER CONTROL

Ex-Governor Beaver Resumes the Practice of Law at His Home.

TALES OF CHILD AND BRUTE HEROISM

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. DUNBAR, Jan. 28 .- The famous Janob's Ladder at the Hill farm has at last been reached, as the fire there is now under control. The workmen now expect to drive the fire back to the water's edge, the mines having been flooded.

The Hill farm mine proper is now open and what was an apparently impassable barrier of fire is now nothing but dead nahes. Several gobs have fallen, and the wreckage must be cleared away. A brick brattice will be put up to shut off the men from what fire may yet be smouldering out of their present reach. A large pump is ready for work, and will be put in operation as soon as the wreck is cleared away. It is hoved the mine will be cleared of water and work resumed seen.

A MYSTERIOUS VIOLENT DEATH.

The Body of an Eric Man Who Had Disap peared Is Found.

OFFICIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. BEAVER FALLS, Jan. 28 .- It has been ascertained that the dead body found in Beaver river yesterday is that of James McCormick, of Erie, who has been missing since November 22. The deceased was working at New Castle as a blacksmith, and on that day drew his pay, and after paying his board bill started out with friends to visit other friends. He had but $11 friends to visit other friends. He had but $11 in his pockets. The party drank a great deal, and the friends left McCormick.

Since then he has not been seen until his dead body was fished out of the river here. His brother came here from Erie this morning and fully identified the remains, which were shipped to Erie this evening. The New Castle officers will investigate the affair fully, as the wounds on the body indicate foul play.

A LITTLE GIRL'S HEROISM.

It Saved a Babe From Death, But the Moth Burned to a Crisp.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. HUNTINGDON, W. VA., Jan. 28 .- At Gienwood yesterday Mrs, Samuel McCoy, wife of a farmer, was holding her babe before the fire. when she was attacked with heart disease and when she was attacked with heart disease and fell forward into the flames with the little one. A little daughter standing by took the bake from the fire, and it may recover. The mother was too heavy for the child, however, and she was burned to a crisp when the husband returned. He found the babe and girl lying unconscious on the floor, and the house filled with smoke. The brave little girl who rescued the child was burned, but not fatally.

THE CONNECTICUT MUDDLE

The House Finds That Only One State Officer Is Legally Elected. THARTFORD, Jan. 28.—The House met this morning and received the report of the committee appointed to canvass the vote for Stat officers. The committee finds that 1,289 ballots were rejected for insufficient cause, and that in many towns the number of votes returned exmany towns the number of votes returned exceeds the total number of votes cast.

The committee states that it is unable to determine that any person was legally chosen to fill any of the State offices, except the Controller, to which the face of the returns indicates that Nicholas Straub (Dem.) was elected. The House accepted the report and adopted resolutions offering to join with the Senate in a general recount of the vote of the State. The eral recount of the vote of the State. The minority of the committee presented a report recommending that the House pass the Senate resolution declaring the Democratic State candidates re-elected. In the House, after the presentation of the two reports, a general debate was opened which bids fair to continue for a day or two.

of Agriculture. GOVERNOR PATTISON PRESIDES.

FROM

Fully Discussed by the State Board

Danger Seen in the Recent Supreme Court Decision

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR THE YEAR HARRISBURG, Jan. 28 .- Governor Pattison presided at a well-attended meeting of the State Board of Agriculture to-day. The principal theme of discussion was the effect of the recent decision of the courts that oleomargarine was legally saleable in Pennsylvania in original packages, and declaring the act passed six years ago in contravention of the inter-State commerce law, so far as it is applied to the manufacture of the article in other States.

Esstburn Reeder, of Bucks county, read a paper, in which he asserted that a fresh danger threatened the dairy interests of the State on account of this judicial deliverance. Its result had been preparations among manufacturers of oleo in the West to flood the markets of Pennsylvania with it, and the price of butter had already decreased. Eastburn Reeder, of Bucks county, read and the price of butter had already decreased in consequence of the decision, and unless speedy and energetic action was taken the entire dairy interest of the State would be prostrated.

No Relief From the State.

Luther Lauffman, of Lancaster, as the representative of the dairymen, said that unless the sale of imitation butter was prohibited the people for whom he spoke in Pennsylvania would lose millions of dollars. No relief could be expected from State legislation, and the remedy for the wiping out of cleomargarine lay in the passage of Senator Hiscock's bill, now before the Congress of the United States. Each member of the Board of Agriculture was advised to write a letter to Senators Cameron and Quay and the member of Congress in his district and urge them to support the measure. At this request a resolution was passed asking for the passage of the pending legislation.

In his annual report Secretary Edge, in referring to agricultural institutes, suggested the adoption of a plan to limit speakers and essayists to the exact topics included in the programme, and prevent the improper introduction of semi-political subjects leading to acrimonious discussion.

Speaking of the legalized movement to hibited the people for whom he spoke in monious discussion.

Speaking of the legalized movement to prevent the spread of contagious diseases among cattle, he said demands were often made for assistance when the grievance was of the most trivial character, and no danger to surrounding stock existed. The law authorising herds to be pinced in quarantine until all danger from an outbreak had disappeared had worked satisfactorily.

A Libel on the State. Last year 29 horses had been killed at the expense of the State, in addition to other live stock killed at a considerable loss to the own-ers. In trying to stamp out pleuro-pneumonia othing hindered the State officers so much as the disposition of the national surgeons to perthe disposition of the national surgeons to per-sistently drag every case into newspaper noto-riety. The impression was thus given that our State was overrun with the disease, and that our live stock was especially dangerous, when Pennsylvania had very little of the disease and a very much smaller percentage than the sur-rounding States, from which it had received nearly all of the infection prevailing for six or seven years.

nearly all of the infection prevaiing for the viseren years.

Officers for the current year were elected as follows: First Vice President, Eastburn Reeder, Bucks; Second Vice President, R. S. Searle, Susquebanaa: Third Vice President, J. Riddle, Butier; Secretary Edge was re-elected. Herr, of Clinton; Woodward, of Center; Downey, of Winchester, and Reeder, of Bucks, in essays, discussed farmers' institutes in their various ramifications. To-night Prof. Cochran, the microscopist of the board, discussed "Milk Adulteration and the Detection."

Certainly they do. We have no alternative. Perhaps you don't believe a dealer when he tells you that he will give you more than your money's worth.

You are scarcely to be blamed for being incredulous. It does not look reasonable, does it? Men go into business for their own benefit and not for anybody else's benefit, you will say. So they do, but there comes a time when it is cheaper to sell below

cost than to wait for another season. You can readily understand that even if you are not in the clothing line. That's what's the matter with our business just now-

we must clear off our stock. We want to sell

at a sacrifice because it will pay us better than to keep our capital tied up.

Under any other circumstances such prices as

these would be ruinous:

Think of it! $8 will buy

one of our elegant Overcoats, worth $12; $10

now for a handsome

Cheviot or Kersey Overcoat worth $15; $12 for an Overcoat that is made

and trimmed in princely style and well worth $18.

$15 will give you choice

of the grandest line of

custom tailor-made Overcoats. Most of the above

coats can be worn in spring

20 Per Cent Discount.

We like to make a fair profit on our Clothing. It's just, It gives us an impulse to make the best ready-made in the country. It gives us the success of a big trade. But at present, for a good reason, we can't. We have given you the reason, and we will state it again. We had to make our stock of Clothing months ago, and we made half a million too True, we could let it grow old, as some other dealers do, we give you a clear, clean cut of 20 per cent discount on Ready-Made and Made-to-Measure Clothing. Every garment in the house of interest to those who
