Great Interest Taken in the Academy of

MORE THAN A THOUSAND CONVERTS

Music Services.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 NEW YORK, Feb. 1 .- Wonderful scenes are witnessed at the services in the Academy of Music at the close of Dr. Talmage's sermon. At the invitation of the preacher, hundreds of persons, moved by his stirring appeals, rise for prayers, and the orchestra seats are soon filled by those seeking spirittal guidance. Among the recent converts was a son of a prominent minister of the Gospel and personal friend of Dr. Talmage. Passing among them, conversing with one and another, are workers from the Young Men's Christian Association, it having become a physical impossibility for Dr. Talmage to speak individually with the

The young man of the text was a splendid nature. We fall in love with him at the first glance. He was amiable, and frank, and earnest, and educated, and refined, and respectable, and moral, and yet he was not a Christian. And so Christ addresses him in the words that I have read to you: "One thing thou lackest," I suppose that that text was no more appropriate to the young man of whom I have spoken that it is appropriate to a great multitune of people in this audience. There are many things In which you are not lacking. For instance, you are not lacking in a good home. It is per haps no more than an hour ago that you closed the door, returning to see whether it was well fastened, of one of the best homes in this city. The younger children of the house already asleen, the older ones, hearing your returning footsteps, will rush to the door to meet you. And in these winter evenings, the children at the stand with their lessons, the wife plying the needle, and you reading the book or the paper, you feel that you have a good home. Neither are you lacking in the retinements and coursesies of life. You understand the polite phraseology of invitation, regard, and apology. You have on appropriate apparel. I shall wear no better dress at the wedding than when I come to the marriage of the King's son. If I am well clothed on other occasions, I will be in religious audience. However reckies I may be about my personal appearance at other times, when I lans no more than an hour ago that you cle my personal appearance at other times, when I come into a consecrated assemblage, I shall have on the best dress I have. We all understand the proprieties of everyday life and the proprieties of Sabbath life.

One Trait of Character. Neither are you lacking in your admiration of the Christian religion. There is nothing that makes you so angry as to have a man malign Christ. You get red in the face, and you say: "Sir, I want you to understand that though I am not myself a Christian, I don't like such things as that said in my store," and the man goes off, giving you a parting saluta-tion, but you hardly answer him. You are pro-woked beyong all bounds. Many of you have been supporters of religion and have given more to the cause of Christ than some who profess His faith. There is nothing that would please you more than to see your you or daughter standing at There is nothing that would please you more than to see your son or daughter standing at the altar of Christ taking the yows of the Christian. It might be a little hard on you, and might make you nervous and agitated for a little while; but you would be man enough to say: "My child, that is right Go on. I am glad you haven't been kept back by my example. I hope some day to join you," You believe all the doctrines of religion. A man out yonder says: "I am a sinner." You respond: "So am I." Some one says: "I believe that Christ came to save the world." You say: "So do I." Looking at your character, at your surroundings, I find a thousand things about which to congratulate your and yet I must tell-where hard upon me; but I am sure God will of the me smifer. He has not taken care of me or 75 years now to let me drop out of his ands." I went into the room of an aged man his everyit nearly gone, his hearing nearly one—and what do you suppose he was talking bour? The goodness of God and the joys of clicien. He said: "I would like to go over and join my wife on the other side of the flood, and I am waiting until the Lord calls me, am happy now. I shall be happy there." What is that gave that aged man so much saits exiting age to the good of the flood, and I am waiting until the Lord calls me, am happy now. I shall be happy there." What is that gave that aged man so much saits exiting age of gold, that is brighter than it is the grace of Gold, that is brighter than unshine and that is sweeter than music. If a arpist takes a harp and finds that all the trings are broken but one string, he does not y to play upon it. Yet, here I will show you n aged man, the strings of whose joy are all coken save one, and yet he throms it with such attsfactum, such melody, that the angels of ind stop the swift stroke of their wines, and over about the place nutil the music ceases, it redigion's "ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace." And if you have and all her paths are pence." And if you have of the satisfaction that is to be found in Jesus Airist, I must tell you, with all the concen-rated emphasis of my soul: "One thing thou

Date of the Same place? It is an infinite absurdity to suppose them both in the same place. If the miser bad a harp what tuned did he play on let? O, my friends, I commend to you this religion as the only personal safety. When you die where are you going to? When we have all these soenes, upon what scenes will we enter? When we were on ship-board, and we all felt that we must go to the bottom, was I right in saying to one next met. "I wonder if we will reach Heaven if we do go down to-night." Was I wise or ûnwise in asking that question? I tell you that man is a fool who never thinks of the great future.

Not Many Persons Get Old.

But I apply this subject to the aged-not many here—not many in any assemblage. Peo-ple do not live to get old. That is the general rule. Here and there an aged man in the house, I tell you the truth. You have lived long enough in this world to know that it cannot satisfy an immortal nature. I must talk to you more reverentially than I do to these other you more reverentially than I do to these other people, while at the same time I speak with great plainness. O, father of the weary step, O, mother, bent down under the aliments of life, has thy God ever forsaken thee? Through all these years, who has been your best friend? Seventy years of food and clothing? O, how many bright mornings! How many glorious evening hours you have seen! O, father, mother, God has been very good to you. Do you feel it? Some of you have children and grandchildren; the former cheered your young life, the latter twine your gray locks in their tiny fingers. Has all the goodness that God has been making pass before you produced no change in your feelings, and must it be said of you, notwithstanding all this: "One thing thou lackest?"
Oh, if you could only feel the hand of Christ smoothing the cares out of wrinkled faces. Oh, if you could only feel the warm arm of Christ steadying your tottering steps. I lift my voice loud enough to break through the deafness of the ear while I cry out: "One thing thou lack. Dr. Talmage to speak individually with the rapidly increasing numbers who desire personal religious counsel. These are indeed solemn scenes, unprecedented within those walls. No less than 1,000 persons are said to have been led already by these services to enter on a Christian life. The text of Dr. Talmage's sermon was: "One thing thou lackets." Mark x-21.

The young man of the text was a splendid that it cannot be done by any luman work; but it is no lacket it is not personal religious counsel. If it you could only feel the warm arm of Christian steadying your tottering steps. Illift my voice loud enough to break through the deafness of loud that it cannot be done by any luman work; but God Almighty can do it by His omnipotent grace; He can bring you at the eleventh hourat half-past 11—at one minute of 12 He can bring you to the peace and the joys of the glorious Gospel.

Some Other Plain Applications.

I must make application of this subject, also, to those who are prospered. Have you, my friends, found that dollars and cents are no permanent consolation to the soul? You have large worldly resources but have you no treastres in heaven? Is an embroidered pillow all that you want to put your dying head on? You have heard people all last week talk about earthly values. Hear a plain man talk about the heavenly. Do you not know it will be worse the heavenly. Do you not know it will be worse for you, O prospered man, if you reject Christ, and reject him finally—that it will be worse for you than those who had it hard in this world, because the contrast will make the discomfiture so much more appalling? As the hart bounds for the water brooks, as the roe speeds down the hill-slide, speed thou to Christ. "Escape for thy life, look not behind thee, neither stay thou in all the plain; escape to the mountain lest thou be consumed!"

I must make my application to another class of persons—the poor. When you cannot pay your rent when it is due, have you nobody but the landlord to talk to? When the flour has gone out of the barrel, and you have not 10 cents with which to go to the bakers, and your children are tugging at your dress for some-gone out of the barrel, and you have not locents with which to go to the bakery, and your children are tugging at your dress for something to eat, have you nothing but the world's charities to appeal to? When winter comes, and there are no coals, and the ash barrels have no more cinders, who takes care of you? Have you nobody but the overseer of the poor? But I preach to you a poor man's Christ. If you do not have in the winter blankets enough the cover you in the night, I want to tell you of Him who had not where to lay His head. If you lie on the bare floor, I want to tell you of Him who had not where to lay His head. If you lie on the bare floor, I want to tell you of Him who had for a nillow a hard cross, and whose foot-bath was the streaming blood of his own heart. O you poor man! O you poor woman! Jesus understands your case altogether. Talk it right out to him to-night. Get down on your floor and say: "Lord Jesus Christ, Thou wast poor and I am poor. Help me. Thou art rich now, and bring me up to Thy riches!" Do you think God would cast you off? Will he? You might as well think that a mother would take the child that feeds on her breast and dash its life out, as to think that God would put aside reachly. the child that feeds on her breast and dash its life out, as to think that God would put aside roughly those who have fied to him for pity and compassion. Yea, the prophet says: "A woman may forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb, but I will not forget thee."

More Than the Whole Universe. My hope in Christ is not so bright as many Christians, I know; but I would not give it up for the whole universe, in one cash payment, if it were offered me. It has been so much com-L' Looking at your character, at your dings, I find a thousand things about to congratulate your and yet I must tell only it were offered me. It has been so much combe love and fear of God, and with refue to my last account: "One thing thou much srength to me when I have been ascilled, it has been so much rest tem when I have been ascilled. CHICAGO DRESSED MEAT GAINING

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH SATURDAY, Jan. 81.

Harness Leather. The January demand for harness leather has been much more active than for the corresponding month last year. "The volume of our sales in this line has exceeded any previous January," said a representative of one of the largest Allegheny tanneries. Prices are the same as they have been for several months past. Last year there was an extraordinary demand for heavy hides in the harness leather trade. Of late there has been a reaction, and medium weights are more in demand.

There is probably no department of trade in which such quick and radical changes occur as in the hide and leather industry. A few months ago the demand was all for heavy hides. Now the rage is for lighter weights. Price of harness leather is now about 2c per h higher than at this time a year ago, when prices were lower than they had een for a generation or more. In the spring 4c a B above the lowest point. Prices to-day are 2c per B better than the lowest point, and demand is active at present figures, especially for light weight harness leather. Following are prices of harness leather as furnished by James Callery & Co.:

This has been an exceptional winter for curing and shipping foreign hides, in that there is little frozen stock on the market. that there is little frozen stock on the market. Frozen hides are always more or less damaged, and hence bring lower prices. There has been no weather so far severe enough to damage stock from distant points. Low prices of light hides and calfskins have had the effect on farmers of withholding stock, as they prefer to carry over this kind of stock rather than accept present low rates. There are about 600 Chicago dressed beeves 400 sheep and lambs and 300 hogs sold weekly in this market. As there are above 2,000 live cattle sold weekly at the East Liberty and Allegheny stock yards, it would appear that three-fourths of the beeves handled in our markets are slaughtered at home. In the Diamond markets nearly one-half of the butchers are and a slaughter house in the vicinity of Pitte and a staughter house in the vicinity of Pritis-burg or Allegheny of course requires a heavy investment. Property is high and taxes ditto, but in spite of these adverse circumstances we are able so far to hold our own against dressed meat from Chicago. We are able to furnish our customers, meat that is freshly killed, whereas customers meat that is freshly killed, whereas the dressed meat dealers are compelled by the necessities of the case to furnish that which is a few days old. Whether or not we will have to yield to Chicago dressed meat remains to be seen. The latter has no doubt made great gains in recent years."

MINNEAPOLIS-The active new futures and Minneapolis—The active new futures and the higner prices they brought reacted upon the price of cash wheat. It was the activity of the general demand for spot that, added to fears of shorts, shot up futures so sharply, and the rise of the latter made a further advance in cash wheat. Sentiment favored higher prices, and, with incidental circumstances the same way, higher sales were secured. Millers bought, for they had to or shut down the mills; but as an offset flour buyers are coming more freely for supplies. Volume of trade this week has been lighter than for several months past, Speculators who banked on higher priced potatoes have been disap-pointed as markets are now 15c per bushel be-low the highest point. The consumer is evi-dently indulging less in potatoes since they came to be a luxury. Moreover, general quality is below par. High prices and poor stuff have combined to curtail demand. Fresh eggs are in good supply and demand at quota tions. Creamery butter has weakened the past week. Cheese continues firm. APPLES-$4 50@6 a barrel.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Shares Dull and Heavy and Moving Downward-Bonds Relatively More Active and Stronger—The Vanderbilts and

Goulds the Strong Points. NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The stock market to

New York, Jan. 31.—The stock market today was dull throughout and rather heavy.
Northern Pacific was the weakest point in the list still, and there is evidence that there has been realizing for the past tew days, but the loss was a small fraction only, and in all other cases, with the single exception of Jersey
Central, the fluctuations of the day were entirely insignificant.

The Granger stock, however, continued to drop, while the Vanderbilt and Gould stocks were the strong points. Union Pacific is stronger, The movements in the market call for no comment, while the general tendency was downward, owing to the mild pressure of the bears during the early hour. After the issue of the bank statement there was a firmer tone shown and the close was firm, though dull, with a promise of a stronger market next week. The final changes are in almost all cases small declines, but Jersey Central is down 1 per cent Railroad bonds were relatively more active and stronger than stocks to-day, and on transactions of 5856,000 there were a number of marked advances scored, although these were generally among the inactive issues, which have not been traded in for some days.

The exports of specie from the port of NewYork for the past week aggregated $611,195 silver and $55,567 gold. The imports of specie at the port of New York for the neat week aggregated $194,995, of which $40,534 were gold and $154,601 sliver.
