NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

The Year of 1891 in the Oil Business Starts Off With Quite a LARGE INCREASE OF PRODUCTION.

Points of the Field Which Are Now of Particular Interest.

THE FACTS AND FIGURES IN DETAIL

The first monthly report of the new year presents a bearish aspect as to new production. The new work, however, is rather bullish, but the decline is in the northern and middle fields. Jaduary, without question, has been invested with more interest and importance than at any other time since the beginning of the petroleum industry. While the field situation is an important factor in this conclusion, the commercial interest in the great staple overshadows all S. other considerations. During the month the independent element of the producing fraternity have organized one of the most powerful and stable combination in the history of the trade. This combination has been formed with a view of establishing better prices, but just what the outcome of the reorganization of the old P. P. A. will amount to remains for time to develop. The producers have not only organized themselves into one compact body, but have sought relief through legislation, by which they hope to areliorate their condition. For the past 30 days there are a few changes to be noted in the field situation. Wildwood, one of the most prollife white sand pools ever opened up, practically remains unchanged. The Southwest still continues to yield producers of the first magnitude, while, en the other hand, the old gushers are fast declining and the territory is showing drainage. Some interest was manifested on the north line by the good showing of the Bowman gaser, and for a time-it was thought that this section of the pool would develop into big territory. Subsequent events have not borne out this premature conclusion, and we venture the opinion unless all signs tail that this locality of the Wildwood field will never have a comparison with the Southwest end of the field. The McCardy pool is as yet an unknown quantity. The Palmer well coming in at 1,000 barrels a day would seem to demonstrate the existence of a considerable body of oil. Yet its proximity to the old McCardy well does not indicate there has been territory to any extent opened up. While there has been one dry hole on the Linton and another nearly so on the Tidball, but a liberal use of glycerine converged it into a small producer.

The Butler county situation appears about as follows. There is a stantod in the way of new the independent element of the producing hole on the Linton and another nearly so on the Tidball, but a liberal use of glycerine converged it into a small producer.

The Butler county situation appears about as follows: There is a standoff in the way of new rigs and drilling wells, Harmony, Callery and Jefferson Center having sufficient new work to offset the decline in the old portion of the One Hundred-Foot district, which seems to no longer he "in it." At Callery most of the work is on the town lots and is launched. Several wells have come in large, but have been short lived, notably the Bartley & Co., which made 1.500 barrels in the first 24 hours, and is now down to 50 barrels. The same may be said of Harmony. Several dry holes have been drilled at the latter place, nearly encircling the little pool. There is a possibility of an extension to the west, which appears to be the only loophole of escape. At Jefferson Center T. W. Phillips brought in a well on January 17 that has produced over 10,000 barrels and is still making 25 barrels per hour. There is apparently quite a pool of oil lying between this well and Herman. Mr. Phillips has about all the territory and can develop it at his leisure. The new production for the month will exceed that of last month by at least 500 barrels, leaving new work and drilling wells about the same as January 1.

The total increase of new production in the 15 pools of the southwest district over last month is 5,124 barrels. Wildwood is mainly responsible for the increase, yet it must be remembered that Mannington was also an important factor in contributing to this result. The report for the same section also shows an increase in new work, there being 190 wells drilling, 85 rigs, making a total of 275, while in December there were 188 drilling wells, 72 rigs, a total of 280, which is an increase of 16. From the appended summary of the entire oil field it will be seen that the new production is a solal of 229, which is an increase of 15.

From the appended summary of the entire oil field it will be seen that the new production is 13,380 barrels, an increase of 4,968 barrels.

There were 308 wells completed, 407 wells drilling and 233 rigs up and building.

Following is the work in detail of the important southwest pools.

ODE TO THE SPRUDEL

Sacred font: flow on forever, Health on mankind still bestow; If a virgin woo thee-give her Rosy cheeks and beauty's glow.

If an old man, make him younger, Suffering mortal soothe and save, Happier send them home and

All who quaff thy fervid wave.

Labkowitz, the great Bohemian Poet, and were translated from the Latin by Lord Alvanel They were inscribed upon a bronze tablet, and placed in a conspicuous position to be seen by the multitude who visit Carlsbad. It glorifies the virtue of the Sprudel Spring, from which the celebrated Sprudel Salt is obtained, in glowing terms. Goethe, Schiller, Herder, and nearly all poets have written in prose and rhyme of the great virtues of the Spring, and many had reasons to be truly thankful. Goethe especially, whose life was prolonged by a considerable time by the use of the waters.

To obtain the genuine Carlsbad Sprudel Salt (powder form) see that it bears the signature of Eisner & Mendelson Co., Sole Agents, 6 Barclay st., New York, on the THE LATEST DISCOVERY.

What the Greatest of All Modern Scientist Has to Say Upon the Most Important of All

Subjects. Professor Koch, the great German physician who discovered the microbes which cause cholera, claims to have discovered a way of curing consumption, by vaccination. As more than half of all the deaths which occur every year are caused by consumption, if Dr. Koch's claim is true, it is the greatest discovery of the nineteenth century. But there seems to be some doubt as to whether it can be made practicable in all cases, while in every case it is certain to be a very expensive cure and one that can only be indulged in by the very wealth-that can only be indulged in by the very wealthiest.

In the course of his remarks upon the subject, however, Professor Koch makes a most wonderful statement, which is as follows: "Alcohol is a food in consumption." He does not say that it is a temporary aid, but an absolute food, sustaining the life, building up the strength, and restoring the health. This is a most important statement and proves beyond question the great value of alcohol in the treatment of disease. It should be remembered, however, that alcohol is never taken in its natural form and that whiskey is the finest manner in which alcohol is ever combined. Even then, it must be pure beyond question, or it injures instead of aids. It is the possession of this quality of purity and its medicinal power which has made Duffy's Pure Mait Whiskey so immeasurably superior to any other known whiskey in the world. It has saved the lives of many men and women who were on the downward road to consumption, and it will check the first stages of consumption or prevent pneumonia in every case. Great care should be exercised to secure only the genuine, and no dealer, however unscrupulous, should be allowed to substitute inferior and perhaps injurious whiskey.
