Mr. William McDonough, of No. 2 Moultrie street (Soho), city, says: "I suffered constantly for about three years and did not know what my trouble really was. My principal symptoms were a depressed, heavy feeling in my chest, with occasional sharp pains—although my appetite was good I suffered a misery and sick feeling at my stomach after eating—I slept soundly, but got up in the morning all wore out My greatest trouble, however, was with my heart. There was a tight, compressed feeling there. For a time my heart would beat rapidly and so hard I wonder it did not burst. The palpitation would be followed by a slow, irregular beating and a feeling of faintness. I went to Drs. Copeland and Blair. They told me my trouble came from catarrh of the stomach. I began their treatment. To-day my symptoms have left me. My heart is regular and I feel well generally." Office, 108 Fourth Av

A NOTED WILL CASE.

The Fight Over Fayerweather's Millions Is Fairly Opened.

SENSATIONAL THINGS HINTED AT.

General Woodford Refuses to Answer Certain Questions.

A LENGTHY STRUGGLE IN PROSPECT

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) Court to-day, was fairly begun the contest over the will of Daniel B. Fayerweather, the leather merchant, who left millions to trust for distribution, with the rest of the estate, among the colleges. Mrs. Fayerweather maintains that her busband was un duly influenced to make his executors residuary legatees. The case promises to be

Attempt at Another Will. In the cross-examination to-day of wit nesses for the will, it was hinted that Mr. Fayerweather had attempted to make another will a few days before his death, and that for that purpose, although Arnoux, Ritch and Woodford were his lawyers, he had applied to the law firm of Evarts, Choate and Beaman. The executors of the will were represented by Arnoux, Ritch and Woodford, John E. Parsons and Henry Stoddard, Frederic R. Coudert, D. J. Holden and Daniel Rollins represented the contestants, and coun-sel appeared for the beneficiary colleges and hospitals.

Mr. Arnoux called the witnesses of the will. They were Haley Fiske, Bradford W. Hitchcock and Charles L. Foster, all lawyers, and when the will was signed or October 6, 1884, they were all connected with the firm of Arnoux, Ritch and Wood-ford. Mr. Hitchcock testified that about ten years belore this will was signed, Mr. Fayweather called upon his father, the R. Dr. Roswell D. Hitchcock, to ask his advice about bequests that he wanted to make.

Arranging the College Bequests. Mr. Hlteheock did not know who made the original draft of the will, but he supposed that Mr. Fayerweather had consulted Mr. Ritch about it. Mr. Hitchcock and his father went out to lunch with Mr. Ritch a few days before the will was drawn, and the bequests to the different colleges were then discussed. The Rev. Dr. Hitchcock had suggested several changes in this list and these changes appeared in the will.

When the will had been offered in evidence, Mr. Arnoux called General Stewart L. Woodford to the stand. General Woodford was the first witness to the first codicil. He said that the will and codicils were in Mr. Fayerweather's house at the time of his death. "Some time in November, 1890, I think," said General Woodford, "Mr. Riten told me that Mr. Fayerweather had sent to our office for his will and codicits " "Did Mr. Ritch ever make more than one remark of that kind?"

thought that Mr. Ritch might have done so. General Woodford Denies It. Mr. Rollins asked if Mr. Ritch had not, on one occasion, sent the original will to Mr. Fayerweather, in which Mr. Ritch was not benefited, and if Mr. Fayerweather had not sent back a messenger demanding his whole will, and if Mr. Ritch had not said to the witness, with some trepidation, that Mr. Faverweather wanted the codicils also?

General Woodford said that that dis-"Did Mr. Ritch tell you that he had gone with the codicils to Mr. Fayerweather's

"He did not," said General Woodford. General Woodford said that he had re-vised the draft of the will and of the first and second codicils. The fourth codicil he had drawn himself. A codicil similar to the second, except that it did not exempt the executors from giving bonds, had been drawn by him and destroyed in the presence of Mr. Fayerweather, "Do you know of a codicil other than these propounded for probate that was exe-cuted in November last?" asked Mr.

General Woodford hesitated for a moment and said: "I will neither deny or affirm such knowledge. I am willing to tell the court all that I know personally, but since this action was begun some things have been told to me professionally, and I don't think I am required to divulge them." General Woodford's further examination was postponed until Wednesday morning, when the case will be continued.

A Chicago Mystery in a Fair Way to Be Solved.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.-The police have found among the effects of Salavatore Valone, now under arrest charged with the murder of Nicoli Sinnini, the peddler who was stabbed to death at Park Side a few days ago, a bloody shirt and a watch, which were the property of the murdered man.

The authorities are convinced Valone is the murderer and hope to get a confession from him. It appears that Sinnini was de-coyed to Park Side to dig for alleged treas-ure, and that while digging he was set upon

THE FEBRUARY OUTLOOK.

MANY WILDCAT VENTURES TO SHOW UP DURING THE MONTH.

The Wells in the Harmony Field Showin Remarkable Activity-Little New Work Under Way in the Petersville District Likely to Be Started.

The short month opens with nothing of special moment in the field. There is a disposition, however, to push the drill into unexplored territory, and wildcat ventures are now under way at almost every locality of the oil domain. From present indications NEW YORK, Feb. 2.-In the Surrogate's it is but fair to presume that the volume of work will be greater this month than at any other time for the past year. The objective point in Allegheny county is the fifth sand colleges, and after providing in moderation developments which have received for his wife and several of kin, made, a quite an impetus by the Palmer few hours before his death a codicil, leaving unconditionally the residue of his estate, considerably over $3,000,000 to his three executors. The executors are Thomas G. Ritch, whose law partner drew the will; Henry B. Vaughn and Justus L. Bulkley.

Since the will was made public it has been announced that the executors hold a part of this residuary estate under a private trust for distribution, with the rest of the Thise Lively at Harmony.

Things Lively at Harmony. HARMONY-The Harmony field is characte ized by activity. While at present the wells are located in blasful proximity to one another, the festive wildcatter is beginning to reach out located in blasful proximity to one another, the lestive wildcatter is beginning to reach out, and a month hence will witness considerable developed territory. While making this statement it is safe to predict that there will be more money sunk than ever will be taken out, if past history of this field goes for anything. The Christie & Sutton well which came in at a 200-barrel gait two months ago, has ceased to produce. The best well in the pool is on the Montz lot, which, according to official figures, is doing about 225 barrels a day. The next best well is on the Kretzer lot and owned by Cunningham & Latshaw, which is estimated at 125 barrels a day, and is only two weeks old. The Niece well is making about 60 barrels in 24 hours, while No. 2 Zeigier lot, has a production of 125 barrels. Of the ten wells completed the above four are producing seven-eights of the oil here. Messrs. Cunningham & Latshaw are down 600 feet with their well on the Latshawlot, while the Ellis well, on the M. Zeigler, is expected to reach the sand to-night. No. 1, on the same property, was a duster. On the Jacob Enders farm, Leisure & Co. will start the drill to-morrow, which is in advance of developments to the southwest, and is regarded as an important venture. To-morrow Scontz & Co., on the Scontz, will in all probability find the pay, while just north of this well there are three rigs building on the Jennings lots.

Little New Work at Petersville. Little New Work at Petersville.

PETERSVILLE-The Petersville pool now resents a sad contrast with its palmy days, usiness in this section of the One Hundred-Business in this section of the One Hundredfoot is very quiet, and but little new work is under way or likely to be started. The cleaning out of the old wells is mostly claiming the attention of the producer.
On the Humphrey farm Guckert & Co, are drilling the plugs out of the No. 1, which was drilled some two years ago. It will be remembered that last summer it was on this same farm they drilled No. 4, which started off at the rate of 8500 barrels a day. This company are drilling Nos. 2 and 3, Nesbit, deeper, but will not start any new work for some time. Balph & Co, are drilling an important well threefourths of a mile north of the Mount Chestnut, on the Bills farm, and will know what they havegot in about a fortnight. The old Mount Chestnut well was doing about three barrels a day, but was pulled out, drilled deeper and got a big dose of brine which they are unable to exhaust. Schlegle & Co., in advance of the Hundred-Foot field to the west, completed a good producer on the Jacob Dambach farm.
On the Wier farm, 400 feet south of the well, Root & Co. will start the drill to-morrow or next day. No. 4. Tate & Patterson, on the William Dambech farm, are drilling at 1,000 feet, while the Forest Oil Company are in the 100-foot, with No. 3 Anderson
No. 4 is 500 feet and are building a rig on the Irwin Anderson farm. Southwest of Petersville, and two miles and a half north of Harmony, Frazier & Co. have completed a well on the George Weish farm which is reporter good for 100 barrels a day.

Will words. General Woodford could not say, but

No Change in Wildwood. WILDWOOD-There is no particular change at the wells in the Wildwood field. The Ring-heisen No. 2 and Barnsdall & Kress No. 6 which were expected in to-day failed to connect. The Bowman gasser is still drilling, but the venture was not looking so well to-day as on Saturday. was not looking so well to-day as on Saturday.
The Palmer is doing 18 inches or about 30 barrels an hour to-night. J. M. Palmer & Co.'s
No. 4 McCurdy should find the pay the latter part of the week, and their No. 1 Lloyd and
No. 2 McCurdy will get in some time next

No. 2 McCuray will get in some time next week.

The negotiations, previously referred to in The Dispatch, pending between E. M. Haskill and the South Penn Oil Company for the purchase of the former's oil property in West Virginia by the latter, have finally been consummated. The property is located in Green county, Pa., and Marion and Monongabela counties, W. Va., and comprises about 20,000 acres, with 55 wells, producing in the neighborhood of 200 barrels a day, and four ordinary gas wells. The price paid is between $500,000 and $500,000.

A WOMAN WITH A HISTORY. Romance in the Life of Mrs. McKnight Who Killed Herself in Chicago. CHICAGO, Feb. 2.-Mrs. Cathurine Mc-Knight, who committed suicide by hanging vesterday, had a thrilling and romantic life. She had five husbands, and from three of them she secured divorces. During the civil war she was a spy, and many of her wild escapes are well known. She was born in New Hampshire, in 1830. Her maiden name was Catherine Williams. When but 18 years old she met Harry Wilson, a dashing young sellow, and fell in love with him. Her parents objected to the match, and the pair eloped. When war was declared her young husband hurried to the front and not many months elapsed before Mrs. Wilson joined him. She was installed in the quarters of the New Hampshire Regiment and became the "Daughter of the Regiment." During April, 1863, her husband was captured by the Confederates while on a secret mission and sent off to the Louisville prison.

She tried to secure the escape of her hus-band, but he was killed in the attempt, and band, but he was killed in the attempt, and she was sentenced to be shot. She escaped, however, and in 1870 married Patrick Dailey, a noted convict, from whom she secured a divorce in 1875. Then she married another convict, Daniel Matthews. He was sent to prison, and after that she had two other husbands, one of whom was killed and the second she was divorced from.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, Feb. 2.- Many German emigrants to Brazil have within recent times been settling in parts of the country that they have found unhealthy or otherwise undesirable, and the consequence has been unavorable to the growth of an element of the population that is highly advantageous to the country. The question has been brought under the notice of the Berlin Government by the representatives of Germany in Brazil, and the Brazilian authorities are desirous of removing all cause of complaint, Hereafter German immigrants will be encouraged to settle in two or three of those Americans to the Front. There is news at Rio Janeiro that Austria has joined the other powers of Europe in recognizing the republic of Brazil and establishing diplomatic relations with its Government. A number of enterprising American firms have recently been pushing their way into the provinces of Brazil, and their experience may be of service in New York. It is necessary that agents of American firms should fully understand the Brazilian markets before making shipments. It is not true that everything made in the United States can be sold in Brazil.

In Argentine the new tax laws have increased the financial commotion. Mon's and Boys' Suits and Overcoats at about 34 their real value. HOW TO AVERT DISASTER The result of the gas explosion in the Mammoth mine makes it the most terrible catastrophe that has ever been visited upon the mining industry of this or any country.

The disaster would never have proved so fatal, and, possibly, might not have happened had the men used safety lamps. Where there is the slightest chance of danger, by accident or disease, preventative measures should be used, especially so, when it threatens human life.

TRICKS OF TRADE.

Once in awhile certain firms will sell goods at a loss, evidently to attract trade. To make good this loss, they of course increase prices on other articles. That is not our way of doing business—the legitimate, straightforward plan suits us best. Customers have long since found out that, taken the year round, our prices are much lower than at any other house. And then the goods are always right-no shoddy handled here.

You always know what you are getting.

It's Muslin Underwear we would talk about to-day, and you'll find our talk interesting. Some of the lines have been badly broken, owing to the steady rush, but the stock is again complete. All sizes and all

Mr. Thomas Maybury's Statement in Brief.

Mr. Thomas Maybury, of No. 218 Thirty-ninth street, in the employ of the Carnegie Iron Works, says: "For 18 years I noticed more or less catarrhal trouble, but in the last year or so it became very much aggravated. I suffered almost constantly. I had about all the symptoms and in their worst form. My work was a drag on me and life a positive burden. I was in this condition, unable to find relief, when I called on Drs. Copeland and Blair. After examination, feeling that they thoroughly understood my case, and finding their charges so very reasonable. I decided to place myself under their care. I don't believe I ever made a better resolution in my life." Concludes Mr. Maybury: "I improved almost from the start under their treatment. My symptoms gradually disappeared, until now I am like a different person from what I was when I went to them. I am 100 per cent a better man than I have been for years."

Mr. W. T. Henshaw, of Prospect, Pa., says:
"For years I suffered from catarrh withoutbeing able to find relief. Drs. Copeland and Blair cured me, treating me by mail."
Mr. Henry Rose, of Eckhart's Mines, Md., says: "I suffered constantly from chronic catarrh; could get no relief. Drs. Copeland and Blair cured me entirely at home." DRS. COPELAND & BLAIR treat with success all curable cases at 66 Sixth avenue, Pittsburg, Pa. Office hours, 9 to 11 A.M., 2 to 5 P.M. and 7 to 9 P.M.
