THOMAS COX ADMITS THE KILLING.

He Claims He Either Had to De Up Enright or Be Done Up by Him.

Thomas Cox, Patrick Cox and Timothy Scanlon, the latter a police officer, were placed on trial in the Criminal Court yes terday, for the murder of James Enright, Sunday, November 23. The murder was the outcome of a quarrel over a keg of beer.

Thomas M. Marshall, Sr., and Thomas M. Marshall, Jr., are counsel for the defense, and District Attorney Johnston is conducting the prosecution. The morning spent in the selection of a jury, and nearly the entire panel was exhausted before the requisite number was accepted. The jury is as follows: H. E. Beilington, James Graham, Charles H. Spencer, Frederick Dietz, Edward Riddle, Peter Brant, Frank Snyder, William Ahlers, John Aul, Daniel O. Barr, John Logan and J. B. Griggs.

In opening the case, District Attorney Johnston said the Commonwealth would make no claim for first degree murder, but thought it would be able to prove that the murder was of second degree.

Drs. T. R. Evans, James McCann and Graham were called and testified to having held the post mortem. The bullet entered the left temple, and lodged in the brain, causing death after a few hours. The deceased was physically a very stout, wellbuilt man.

Grant Miller, Coroner's Clerk, identified the clothing taken from the deceased, and the bullet taken from the brain of the deceased by the physicians who held the post

The Origin of the Fatal Quarrel. Henry Grant, an employe of Carnegie, Phipps & Co,'s Thirty third Street Mill, lived on Thirty-third street, and knew James Enright, having worked with him. About 1 o'clock on the morning of November 23, while passing along Ligonier street, he saw James Eurisht standing on the porch back of the Cox house. The deceased invited him in to have a drink, and he accepted. When the witness went into the Kitchen, Thomas Cox, Tim Scan-len and Mrz. Cox. were there, and everybody lon and Mrs. Cox were there, and everybody was sobot and talking in a pleasant manner. After taking a drink, Enright said "Pil 'get' now, and take this keg." Thomas Cox said he would not take it, as it belonged to him, and Enright remarked: "We'll soon see," and pleking up the keg of beer, threw it cut of the door. Cox and Enright got hold of each other, but were separated, and Enright was pushed out of the house. Enright rushed into the house again and grasped Tom Cox by the throat. Both men fell, and Enright struck his eye against the stair rail. Mrs. Cox and Miss Nora Cox came down then, and Miss Cox released Enright's hold on her brother's tureat. Enright was shoved out into the yard by Mrs. Cox and Tim Scanlon. When the men had hold of each other Cox cried out: "You are biting me, you son of a gun."

son of a gun."

The witness started to go home, and when near the door some one burst the door in, and shortly afterward the witness heard a report like a pistol shot, but did not go back into the bouse. He couldn't tell who pushed the door in. On cross-examination witness said that when Enright had Cox by the throat he heard him say something that sounded like: "I'll cut your insides out." When Enright was put out of the house, Cox did not follow him.

John Carr, who passed the house shortly after the shooting saw Enright lying on the floor in the Cox house. Mrs. Cox and Nora Cox were in the room at the time.

Andrew Weinstel, a police officer, went to the house shortly after the shooting, and found Euright lying on the floor. Witness searched the house and found all the beds but one occupied. In the room with the unoccupied bed was a policeman's uniform. While up stairs, witness met Scaulon, who said he knew nothing of the affair; shat he had been in bed. The bed in Scaulon's room looked as though it had not been occupied. About a week afterward witness found a revolver on top of a cupboard on the porch. One chamber contained an empty shell, the other five being loaded.

Lieutenant Orth and Officer Burlbaugh corroborated the witness.

Officer Jacob Schwartz testified that he sold the revolver, found on top of the cupboard, to Scanlon last August. He identified the revolver by marks upon it.

Coroner McDowell identified the revolver as the one given him at the inquest.

Captain Richard Brophy testified that he brought Thomas Cox here from Chicago, where he had been arrested. Detendant came without requisition papers, and refused to make a statement of the shooting saying he was not reacy to do so.

ready to do so, Testimony for the Defense.

This closed the case for the Commonwealth, and Thomas M. Marshall, Sr., opened for the defense. He said they would be able to prove that the shooting had been done in self-defense, and that when Euright was shot he had a and that when Enright was shot he had a pistol in his hand; also, that Scaulon and Patrick Cox in no way added in the killing.

Mrs. Bridget Cox, the mether of Thomas Cox, was the first witness for the defense. On the night of the shooting she retired to hed at 10 o'clock. Shortly after 10 o'clock she was awakened. On going downstairs she saw Enright holding Thomas Cox by the throat, choking him. Her daughter, Nora, released Enright's hold, and witness, with others, put him out. Deceased forced the door open, and the only other thing she could remember was findonly other thing she could remember was find-ing Euright lying on the floor. She did not hear a pistol shot at any time. Nora Cox corroborated her mother's testi-

Edward Scanlon swore that Enright boarded Edward Scanlon swore that Enright bearded with him. On the night of the shooting Enright showed witness two revolvers. One of these was an old-fashioned one, which the deceased said he got from a greenhorn, and that it had done good work "on the other side." Enright was a very large man and very rough when in liquor. Deceased always carried a revolver.

Confession of Thomas Cox.

After supper Thomas Cox, the principal defeudant, was placed on the stand. He said he shot Enright, and gave his story of the affair. shot Euright, and gave his story of the affair. The party was collected in the house of Cox and were drinking beer. The quarrel over the beer keg resulted, and was detailed by Cox as by the other witnesses. He said that when Enright burst open the door and came into the house the third time Enright drew a revolver and pointed it at him. He then fired the shot that killed Enright, fearing for his life. After shooting Enright, fearing for his life. After shooting Enright he placed his revolver on top of the cupboard, where it was afterward found, and left the house. He took a freight train and went to Rodlester and from there to Chicago where he was arrested. The revolver in evidence he identified as the one with which he shot Enright.

Patrick Cox, one of the defendants, was called next. He testified as to the assault on his cousin, Thomas Cox. After Enright had been shot and was lying on the floor he saw a revolver lying by his side. He did not pick it up and did not know what became of it. On cross-examination he said he could not say whether Faright had a weapon in his hand when he came in the door.

Timothy Scanlon, the third defendant, was placed on the stand. He testified as to the first two assaults by Enright on Cox. The men were struggling and he separated them and pushed Enright out of the door, locking the door after him. He then went upstairs and a few minutes later heard the shot. He had not seen a weapon in Edright's hands. He gave the police no information about the case until the next day.

Judge Stowe charged the jury briefly, defining to them in a clear and concise manner the destinction between cases that would constitute manslaughter or a case of self-defense.

At 10:30 the jury took the case and retired, and court adjourned until this morning.

OVER THE OIL FIELDS.

McGuffy & Co.'s Well Does Not Show I'm & Nicely-Harmony's Decline Illustrated by the Young & Co, Duster of Last Satur-

WILDWOOD, Feb. 9.-The poor showing of J. M. Guffy & Co.'s Ringo No. 3 does not surround the west line of the field with a roseate appearance. The well has been drilled through the sand, of which there was only 35 feet. The well in its present stage will make a light producer, but most likely will be shot. The experimental well on the Shaw farm at Glenshaw, owned by Griffith & McBride, is drilling at 1,800 feet, and by the middle of next week should find

The New Well at Moon. Hervey Brothers and others on the Jame E. McCutcheon farm, about one mile southwest of this place. The well is in the sand and the result should be known to-day. This well is about 120 rods due south of the well completed about two months since on the J. J. Goss farm and which has proved a small pumper. These wells are located three miles almost due west from the developments in Coraopolis or Finnigan field. F. E. Beden & Co. have been prospecting in this field for some months, and have several hundred acres of territory under lease. They completed a well on the P. H. Stevenson farm, 120 rods north and a little west of the Goss well, about a year ago, and found a little oil with a good flow of gas. Territory in this locality has been in active demand recently, and good bonuses have been paid. Many operators are figuring this as an extension of the Coraopolis or Finnigan field, but the drill alone will determine this. Boden & Co. have started a well on the farm of Samuel Stevenson's heirs, northeast of the Goss well, and F. S. Drake & Co. have a rig up on the Onstott farm, one mile east of the Goss well, and are also drilling a well on the Goss well, and are also drilling a well on the Goss well, and are also drilling a well on the Before-mentioned well on the James E, McCutcheon farm.

Increased Production Expected.

Increased Production Expected. JEFFERSON CENTER-The Jefferson Center annex pool at presen, is looked upon favorably for both an extension of territory and increase of production. T. W. Phillips' Fisher No. 1 of production. T. W. Phillips' Fasher No. 2 still has a production of 450 barrels a day, while Hartman & Son's No. 6 is good for 100 barrels a day, and No. 5 is making about 75 barrels in 24 hours. On the Kontz property, Christie, Younkins & Co. to-day are 27 feet in the sand with the hole full of oil: it is showing for a 12 or 15 harrel producer. Nearly midwa: between the Jefferson Center field and Rough Run, Alf Smith & Co. have just completed a dry in all formations; the casing has been pulled and the hole abandoned.

It Was Only a Dryer. WATRES-The Webber & Co. well on the Graham farm, of which mention was made in THE DISPATCH several days ago, has since been drilled through the 100-foot and dry.
They will drill the well down to the lower sand.
On the Martin farm Lupher Bros. & Clark are 16 feet in the 100-foot sand and will most likely reach the pay to-morrow if there is one. Miller & Co. has made a location on the Dunbar farm.

In the Chartiers Sand. CHARTIERS—The Bear Creek Refining Oil Company No. 2 Shaffer and the Royal Gas Company No. 2 Johnson farm are both in the sand, with indications for fair wells. Feeley & Gartland on the Thorn farm are also in the sand, with 400 or 500 feet of oil in the hole.

Hanging in the Balance. McCurdy-The McCurdy pool is still hang-

No. 5 Kerr through the sand, which will only make a light well. The venture is located 500 make a light well. The venture is located 500 feet north from Kerr No. 3. The same party has a well drilling at 1,800 feet on the Cassiday farm, and J. M. Patterson & Co. have another on the Patterson down about the same depth with a fishing job on hand. The Watson lot well completed Friday, at Coraopolis, is pumping 28 barrels a day, and Patterson & Co. have made a location on the Watson lot three acres. Emerson & Black, on the Jolly, are spudding in No. 3, are down 1.160 feet on the Snowhite, 1,000 feet on the Curry, and 400 feet on the Rider.

had no bounds and a city of derricks sprang up as if by magic. Now the ardor of the festive producer has been dampened by dry noise and diminutive pumpers, and it will only be a few days until Harmony, like many of its predecessors, will pass into history as one of the exciting fields of the Southwest. Root & Co. on the lot ajoining the one on which the duster is located have a rig up, but are now halting between two opinions, and it is a question whether they will ever drill the well. Messrs. Shaffer & Co. are in about the same boat. They have a rig up in the immediate vicinity of the Young failure and to-day decided it would be suicidal to squander their money in drilling the well.

HOME TREATMENT.

Nearly everyone is this part of the country is more or less acquainted with the great National Tube Works, or, as it is often called, the New Butt Mill. It is probably the heaviest industry in this section, employing from four to five thousand men. It is from among this multitude of workers that the subject of the following sketch is taken—Mr. Peter Elder, a tester. In a recont interview with Mr. Elder, among other things he spoke very enthusiastically of his recent successful treatment with Drs. Copeland and Blair for an aggravated catarrhal trouble.

Mr. Peter Elder, McKeesport, Pa. Mr. Peter Elder, McKeesport, Pa.

In concluding, Mr. Elder said: "My trouble had existed in bad form for about four years, ever since I recovered from an attack of typhoid fever. My head and nose were stopped up. I had very severe headaches over the eyes and through the temples. There was a constant buzzing and roaring in my ears. An aggravating cough bothered me. The matter would drop back into my threat, causing me to hawk and raise to clear it. My worst trouble, though, was in my stomach. My appetite was anything but regular. After eating I would suffer horribly, and especially at night when I would lie down, with a miserable distress at my stomach as if a hand were inside gripping and drawing me all up in a knot, then letting go again, when I would feel faint and dizzy. This misery kept me awake nights, and I would get up in the morning all worn out.
